Dear Mr. Editor:— There should not be a vacant seat in the Opera House [illegible] Dale Carnagey showing of the British campaign and occupation of the Holy Land with its objective—the Holy City.

The Examiner deserves praise for its enterprise and influence in bringing these extraordinary pictures [illegible]

The usual education is worth a thousand times the price of admission and besides it gives one a new conception and [illegible] realization of what the British forces did in Palestine and Arabia and [illegible] what Great Britain stands [illegible] has fought such an event. The visit of this spectacular exposition of General Allenby's campaign in the Holy Land and [illegible] Opera House [illegible] thankfully.

Ryerson Ritchie.

To the Editor:—

As a teacher, especially as teacher of history, I wish to recommend to my pupils the "Travelogues" being delivered this week under your auspices. No teacher could present so vividly or so interesting General Allenby's campaign in the Near East as I saw it presented to-day. As an object-lesson in the value of pictures when used for educative purposes [illegible] thanking you for your efforts in bringing these pictures to Peterbo[illegible]

TEARS AND PEALS OF LAUGHTER PUNCTUATE THE TRAVELOGUE NOW BEING SHOWN AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Last night a large audience witnessed the first production of the Carnagey-Thomas travelogues in this city. The London and New York papers have praised these travelogues in the strongest superlatives that the English language permits of. Those who witnessed last night's performance of General Allenby's Campaign in the Holy Land were charmed and amused and entertained beyond their fondest hopes. The London press with its plethora of praise has not expressed the beauty and delight of these travelogues; it is impossible to convey the mystic charm of it all.

One might expect an illustrated travelogue of the English campaign in Palestine to be a rather prosy affair, but the very opposite is the case. The loud and frequent laughter heard that swept over the audience last night would have led one to believe that he was witnessing an Al Woods comedy rather than a travelogue.

Authorities on the theatre maintain that the public wants its emotions stirred, that it goes to the playhouse to laugh, to be thrilled and to have its feelings played upon. At one time during last night's performance, the writer saw tears, heard gasps of amazement and peals of laughter from the same people in less than two minutes. If that record has ever been beaten it has never been our delight to witness it.

These travelogues are exquisitely colored and motion pictures of General Allenby's campaign in the land of veiled women, romance, deserts mystery and harems. Dale Carnagey stands beside the screen and for almost two hours he entertains his hearers with a vivid, humorous and [illegible] comment upon the pictures on the screen. Mr. Carnagey possesses a large supply of that elusive and much coveted quality known as personality. He makes his audience seem to forget that it is in the theatre. He places them on a magic carpet and whisks them away from all the hum drum cares of the day to the land of camels, history and a million forgotten yesterdays. No better or more entertaining speaker than Mr. Carnagey has ever been heard in Canada.

The audience is taken on a personally conducted tour of the Near East all the way from the Suez canal to Aleppo. Many of the scenes are taken from an aeroplane. The shimmering desert sweltering in an East-of-Suez summer is shown in a riot of color. One sees the great camel caravans that were ever assembled treking across the desert with water for General Allenby's twenty century crusaders. The audience visits Beersheba, Hebron, Gaza, Jaffa, does a spinning nose dive over Bethlehem, and gasps with amazement when it is shown the star in the floor of the Church of Nativity and is told that soldiers are kept on guard here to keep the Christians who worship here from fighting over the possession of this sacred place.

The audience is shown the surrender of the most fought for city in the world, the Holy City, Jerusalem. It is taken to the Mount of Olives and explores the former palace of the German Kaiser built on the mountain where Christ ascended into Heaven. It is shown here a painting of the Kaiser and Christ dressed alike and seated side by side.

In the last part of the travelogue, the most beautiful cavalry pictures that have ever been filmed flash on the screen; as far as the eye can reach across the desert, vast unending hordes of cavalry are seen sweeping North into Nazreth, Damascus and Aleppo.

The Examiner considers these travelogues to be the best entertainment ever seen in the city. They have been endorsed both by the British and Dominion governments. One of the London papers recently declared that it would be a national misfortune to have these travelogues taken from London. It will be a decided personal misfortune for any man, woman or child in Peterborough who permits Friday and Saturday nights to pass without seeing these travelogues.

Music lovers will be infinitely pleased with the musical effects that accompany these travelogues. Miss Victoria Stares, who has been christened "The Canadian Nightengale," sings at each performance. She is the sister of Lt. H. A. Stares whose band delighted thousands of people in this city a short time ago. Miss Stares has a voice full of color and expression and appealingness. Her part of the program alone is worth the nominal cost of admission.

There are only two of these travelogues in existence. One is being exhibited in London, England for as much as $2 per seat. The other one is in our city and orchestra seats may be purchased for fifty cents by using the coupon found in The Examiner advertisement.

On Saturday afternoon and night, there will be an entire change of program. On those two last performances, the audience will be taken down into the unexplored regions of the mystic land of the Arabian Nights. This travelogue is like an adventure in fairyland. No one who has seen the Palestine travelogue would think of missing this tour of Arabia which contains a larger unexplored portion of the earth than any other part of the globe.

Ald. McIntyre told the Examiner this afternoon that he had not decided whether he would ask for a recount or not. This is a procedure that devolves upon the County Judge.

Peterborough went to bed last night bewildered by the election results and especially that the one chance in a million had happened in a tie vote for the mayoralty. The telephone returns to the City Hall last night had finally given the candidates 1480 votes each, and had to-day's tabulation by the City Clerk produced the same totals he would have had to cast a deciding

ROUNDING UP THE REDS

(Special to The Examiner.)

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 2. — Two hundred men and women had been taken into custody to-day in the campaign started under the direction of Maclay Hoyne, States Attorney, to rid Chicago of the Reds.

The raids continued throughout the night. Homes and meeting places of alleged revolutionists were broken into and the leaders taken to jail.

Among those arrested were: James C. Rowely, secretary of the Chicago branch of the Socialist party, George Andreytchine, who served a sentence in Leavenworth prison for objecting to military duty, and Annie Grodarsky, known as "the litle rebel."

VIEWS ON THE LOCAL ELECTION RESULTS

THE RESULTS WERE A SURPRISE TO ALD. GAINEY—RYERSON RITCHIE.

"The results were certainly a surprise to me," was Ald. Gainey's comment to-day. "I thought that organized Labour might succeed in electing its entire slate, and I was confident that at least two would be returned for the Council. Speaking for myself, I hope that the new Council will work in the fullest harmony. The representatives of Labour will give their support to every measure that will make for a better city. All we have and all that the workingmen have is right here. I trust that the Council as a whole will be fair in whatever dealings we may have with the men who have to work hard for a living. They have the largest families and they are hardest pressed by the cost of living that is certainly not decreasing. Consideration and manly sympathy for their interests will make for a happier, a brighter and busier city, and that's what we are all working for."

"The best New Year's Day Peterborough ever had.

"The results of the election prove that our people are broad-minded and public-spirited; that we can have faith that they will back up sound principles of city government and that they want prosperity for the masses as well as the class.

"The bugaboos of class or sectarian dictatorship are 'busted.' The welfare of the whole city was undoubtedly dominant in our minds yesterday. Now, those who are good sports can really get together and work wholeheartedly for an all-round development of Peterborough.

Taking up and acting upon the spirit shown yesterday, Peterborough can double her population within the decade just entered, and can become the best city in Canada as a place to work and live in."

NEW YEAR SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

HOUSE PARTY FOR A TORONTO VISITOR BELMONT CLUB HELD A DANCE OLD FOLKS ENTERTAINED.

One of the most pleasant of the recent Christmas festivities was the party given by Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Winch, Churleigh Hall, on Tuesday evening for Miss Marvin, who is a visitor in the city from Toronto. Progressive games were played and the prizes were won by Miss G. Rush and Miss M. Poole. Music and dancing occupied the balance of the evening, and the entertainment will always be remembered as a most happy occasion by those present.

BELMONT CLUB.

On New Year's Eve the Belmont Club entertained at a most successful dance in their club-rooms, and varied the proceedings in a most unusual and fascinating manner by turning the latter half of the evening into a Leap Year dance, to which the girls responded nobly, and a thoroughly enjoyable time was spent by all present. Supper, which was especially good, was served by Mr. C. D. Carlyle, of Toronto, formerly of New York. Dainty refreshments were served.

Among some of those present were: Misses Emma and Kathleen Vincent, Misses Mae Lynn, Marguerite Fanning, Vera Knox, I. Scott, B. McDonald, H. Davidson, H. Fanning, L. Shearer, Est. Cuffe, L. Jobbitt, G. Cuffe, E. Lawless, H. Head, H. Maude, E. Jackson, O. Hawes, J. Girard, H. Henry, D. Stocker, G. Patterson, A. Knapman, Mr. and Mrs. J. Macdonald, Mr. and Mrs. F. Sedgwick, Mr. and Mrs. S. OLD FOLKS ENTERTAINED.

On Wednesday afternoon, December 24th, a most enjoyable entertainment was given to the inmates of the Peterborough Protestant Home, the music furnished by Mr. and Mrs. George King, choirmaster and soloist of Trinity Methodist Church, assisted by Mrs. W. A. Greenslade. Interesting addresses were given by Rev. F. E. Malott and Mr. J. A. Aylmer, a recitation by Miss Marguerite Mason and a song by Miss Helen and Master Walter Collins. During the afternoon each of the old people received some suitable remembrance from a brilliantly decorated and lighted Christmas tree, the work of wiring of which was done gratuitously by Mr. Roy Fowell, who also loaned the bulbs used on the tree.

Donations Received.

Miss C. Dickson, dozen pairs of women's hose; the Otonabee Chapter I.O.D.E., 25 pairs of men's socks; Mr. [illegible] Kennedy, Christmas tree; Mrs. Duncan Kennedy, candy and oranges; Mrs. T. PRESENTATION TO REV. JOHN GALT

ANNUAL SUNDAY SCHOOL TEA AND CONCERT

A very interesting event took place at the C.P.R. freight offices on New Year's Eve when Mr. John McDonald, the freight foreman, who has been with the C.P.R. [illegible] years, was presented with a handsome [illegible] by the staff. The presentation was made by Mr. [illegible] to Mr. McDonald's long service, and expressed the wish that he would be long spared.

Mr. McDonald was completely taken by surprise, but expressed his thanks for kind words and splendid gift of his fellow-employees.

WHY DO WE GET A BUMP WHEN WE KNOCK OUR HEADS INSTEAD OF A DENT.

When you knock your head against a sharp corner, or if someone hits you on the head with anything with a sharp edge, you do not receive a dent in your head, but it does not last. In other words, the head has one of the qualities of a rubber ball. You can press your fingers against the sides of a rubber ball and push it in, but when you take your fingers off the ball resumes its shape—just so with your head—it resumes its shape after a blow.

After doing this, however, a bump or lump is formed. I will endeavor to tell you how the bump is formed or rather what caused it to form. You cannot knock your head against anything that is harder than your head without causing some injury to the part which received the bump. Now, what happens then is just what happens to any other part of the body when it is injured, whether as a result of a bump, a cut or a bee or mosquito sting.

As soon as the injury occurs the brain starts the "repair crew" to work. The result is that first a great supply of blood is rushed to the injured part, with the result that the blood vessels are filled up and extended with blood. Certain parts of the blood cells find their way through the walls of the blood vessels at the part of the injury, and other fluids of the body are piled up there, so to speak to form congestion. This "piling up or congestion" distends the skin and raises the bump. On the head, where the layer of muscular structure is thinner and where there is less space between the bones of the skull and the outside skin, the bump will be larger and more noticeable, because a good deal of blood and other fluids are piled up in a comparatively small space, and so the skin gets pressed out further to accommodate this great congestion, whereas in other parts of the body the [illegible] quite [illegible] the [illegible].

MR. SISSON'S ELECTION.

In winning ... has become [illegible] over such ... long candidates as Mayors Bigern and Dr... Ald Edgar, Chas. ... ly elected member of the Public Commission ... ored a repetition of her success, and Mr. Sisson, a newcomer to municipal affairs, has ... feel grateful ... the confidence ... him by his fellow citizens in electing him over ... doughty opponents. Sisson brings with him to the Public Commission ... only a splendid reputation as a ... but a knowledge of an engineer's professional ... ence and knowledge should be ... able assets to the Commission ... he has youthful enthusiasm on ... side.

THE NEW ALDERMEN.

The City Council gained some promising material as a result of yesterday's election. Ald-elect ... who headed the list and polled ... remarkable vote. Ald Phelan and Ald-elect Jones are no novices ... cipal affairs, all having had ... experience on the council. ... elect Russell Copping and Frank Whitehouse are the newcomers ... the aldermanic board, but they bring with them an atmosphere of youth and activity and an excellent reputation as live, energetic citizens. With the addition of these ... to the Council, there is every reason to look for a business-like administration of the city's affairs and for a ... minded and up-to-the-minute policy. There is much important work before the new Council, many big issues that will have to be dealt with ... the year that has just opened ... the newly-elected aldermen will have many opportunities to show ... calibre.

A GRATIFYING RESULT.

The substantial ... by which the by-laws to aid the Canadian Aladdin Company and ... authorize the purchase of Riverside Park and the adjacent property ... carried yesterday, must be ... to every citizen who has the interests of Peterborough at heart. The Canadian Aladdin by-law ... the city a most promising ... secured on easy terms, while the ... ing of the Park by-law preserves ... tion of the water front for the ... gives the athletes of the city ... splendid field, makes possible a ... park, and prevents the paying ... of from $10,000 to $10,000 in ... damages. THE SCHOOL BOARD.

Neal is to be congratulated ... the fine vote of 1,402 which put him at the head of the polls, and the re-election of Messrs J. W. Worth, G. O. Cameron and E. G. Patterson is not only a proof of the satisfaction of the people at the work of the Board of Education, but as a tribute to their own ability and character.

EMPHATIC ANSWER.

The press will find little to cheer about ... significent total rolled up by ... Gordon, who not only held the polls in the aldermanic race, ... succeeded in polling more votes ... any candidate who faced the voters in any of the contests yesterday. The Review's attempt to drag ... political red herring across the trail ... its equally unsuccessful ... dead ... to injure Mr. Gordon in the eyes ... the labor voters, were answered by the electors who gave Mr. Gordon the huge total of 2,194 votes, ... 00 more than the mayoralty candidate received. His support, it is ... cent, was drawn from all classes ... the city's population and no attention was paid to the clumsy efforts ... the Hunter street oracle to throw ... into the eyes of the citizens. The figures speak for themselves.

THE OTTAWA SITUATION.

The announcement ... Ottawa ... the Union Government is not in ... to appeal to the country until ... 2 or perhaps ... of 1921, has not, perhaps, occasioned much surprise, for it has long been evident that the present administration intends to hold on just as long as is possible but it has resulted in a vigorous expression of dissatisfaction in the press throughout the country. The tone of the articles appearing in many newspapers will not be pleasant reading to Cabinet ministers, but they are hardened to criticism and will endure any amount of it in preference to trusting their political fate to the risk of a general election. Of the result of an appeal to the country there does not seem to be the shadow of a doubt, and the certainty of the verdict of the country has intensified the determination of the cabinet to dodge an election until their term has expired.

"This deliberate decision of the Government of Unpopularity to hang on to the last minute of its legal term rather than face the electorate, discloses more than a realization that it does not possess the public confidence," declares the Toronto Globe. "There is displayed in this action an appetite for 'the sweats of office' not at all in keeping with the high ideals professed by the men who formed the Union Government for the expressed idea of winning the war. It was on that appeal, and none other, that the country supported the Government. The war has been won; most of the essential reconstruction plans have been provided for and are well on their way. But the Government formed and sustained for war purposes only is not, in the minds of the people, capable of dealing intelligently and honestly with the problems nearer home."

THE LESSON OF YESTERDAY.

The lesson to be gained from the defeat of the straight labor candidates in yesterday's municipal elections should be apparent to everyone. It is simply that the majority of the citizens of Peterborough, as the majority of people everywhere, resent an attempt by any one faction to run the affairs of the city. The result yesterday should not be read as hostility to labor, but as an inevitable development of organized labor's ambitions to gain control of civic affairs. In spite of the published statement that organized labor represents 85 per cent. of the citizens, the nominees of the Trades and Labor Council were beaten, which is conclusive proof that among many citizens who could not by any means be described as being in the capitalistic class, there was a disinclination to place the representatives of one section of the city's population in control. The knowledge that the labor vote would go only to labor's nominees led other citizens to vote solidly for the candidates who were not Trades and Labor Council candidates and to the defeat of the latter.

The candidates who were elected yesterday should not misinterpret the verdict. They were chosen by the electors on a platform of justice, and a square deal to the citizens generally. They will be expected to live up to that promise and to give organized labor a fair chance and fair treatment. The citizens who supported them will look to them to govern in the interests of the whole city and to discriminate in favor of or against no faction nor interest. Otherwise there will be a day of reckoning.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The "Junta" seems to have delivered the goods.

Beating two two-term mayors and a four-term alderman is a pretty good start for a novice in municipal politics.

Toronto has not had enough of Tommy Church. And the Star notwithstanding, he will continue to "carry on."

Ald. Copping polled 2,034 votes, the second highest total secured by any of yesterday's candidates.

It is easier to break the will of a dead man than it is to break the will of a live woman.

MANY GREEKS GO HOME.

12,000 Have Arrived There From America Since June.

While America was formerly the Mecca of the working classes of many of the European countries, conditions have changed since the signing of the armistice, and large numbers of America's foreign population are now turning their eyes towards their native lands.

The immigrants who chiefly composed the foreign labouring class in this country have earned unprecedented wages during the war period, and now many of these, having accumulated what to them are considerable sums, are anxious to return to their native heath and enjoy there the fruits of their labour in America.

Consul General Alexander W. Weddell at Athens reports that Greeks are returning home in astonishing numbers in spite of the excessive steamship fares and the difficulties experienced in obtaining passports.

Although the entire number of the Greeks who have returned is not yet known, obtainable figures show that nearly 12,000 have arrived home since June on vessels plying between New York and Patras and the Piraeus.

Large amounts of money have been taken into Greece by these travellers, and postal money orders representing over 130,000,000 drachmas (more than ... at normal exchange) have ... admitted into Greece from the ... country ... during ... ...ber ... ...ited States since 1st January, 1919, the form of drafts and bank notes

NEW YEAR WISHES.

I wish for you delightful things
Each fair as any bud that flings
Its fragrance o'er the morning dew;
That flowers, not shattered hopes, may strew
The coming year your wanderings.

The honey of life without its stings,
Yes, every blessing fortune brings,
Beneath a sky of cloudless blue,
I wish for you.

That in your slumbers fairy wings
May waft you sweet imaginings;
That you may trip a whole year through,
The brightest one you ever knew—
In brief, all that the Blue-bird sings
I wish for you.

...STINGS ...WS OF INTEREST

HASTINGS, Dec. 31.—At the nomination on Monday there were proposed for Reeve: Dr. Hess, W. M. Foulds, Dr. Wilson, and A. Chapman. The last two have withdrawn, leaving the two first-mentioned to contest the Reeveship. A large number were proposed for the Council, but several have withdrawn.

As usual, the Christmas entertainment under the auspices of the Methodist Sunday School, which was held in the Town Hall at Christmas night, was a grand success. A very interesting programme, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, drills, and a pantomime, "Abide with Me," which was much enjoyed. The readings of Miss Alice Storry, the gifted elocutionist of Markham, very materially added to the success of the entertainment. Miss Storry held the attention of the audience throughout her several selections, which were loudly encored, and to which she amiably responded. Altogether the entertainment was a success, and the committee in charge deserve great credit. The proceeds were in aid of the Sunday School.

The Great Wall of Modern Science —Sickness Prevention

The Great Wall of China is centuries old, but its basic idea is sound—it is better to keep your enemies out than to fight them after they have entered.

The plan of modern medical science is the same. Anti-toxins and serums are even more important in preventing the spread of disease than in curing it, and in its fight for sickness prevention science has now found a treatment for the condition which is the root of evil of over 90% of all disease—constipation.

This is the Nujol treatment.

Constipation is such a dangerous force in itself because by reducing the body's power of resistance it makes it easier for sickness to develop. Nujol by relieving constipation prevents the absorption of the poisons which otherwise would be taken into the blood and undermine and infect the whole system.

Nujol softens the food waste and encourages the intestinal muscles to act naturally, thus removing the cause of constipation and self-poisoning. Nujol helps Nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world. Get a bottle from your druggist today.

For valuable health booklet—"Thirty Feet of Danger"—free, write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 B'way, New York.

THE DYING YEAR.

Mark to the solemn dirge, and knell,
Tolled slowly by the passing bell;
The year is gone—farewell, farewell!
It seems to say,
In mournful accents, sad and low,
It grieves our hearts to see you go,

Yes, dear old friend, full well we know
You must away.

'Tis folly, too idle and vain,
To beg or urge you to remain—
You may not grant, 'tis very plain,
Our rash request.
Ah, sooth, regretfully we own
That when life's useful hours are flown,
And age advances, chill and lone,
To go is best.

When first we viewed your smiling face,
Radiant it was with youthful grace;
But days and months stole on apace,
Alas, till now
The ruthless ravages of time
Have spoiled you of fresh, joyous prime;
Decrepit age and death's chill rime
Are on your brow.

Yet deem us not cold and ungrate,
For this is but the common fate—
That all things earthly, soon or late,
Sink to decay.
The fairest castles reared in air,
Youth, hope, love's dream, or beauty rare,
Grim tyrant Time deigns not to spare;
All are his prey.

Now, for beyond Time's swing gate
You've passed, full laden with a freight
Of good and ill, a ponderous weight,
Which heaped by,
Perchance may seal our final doom—
To regions of tartarean gloom,
Or passport to bright mansion room
Prepared on high.

The Japanese Give Good Example

What is it that makes our Canadian women often pale, sallow-faced, with dark circles under the eyes, and very often old at forty-five when they should be in their prime?

Women suffer in girlhood from backache, headache and breathlessness followed by nervousness and as a result diseases of the womanly organs are more frequent than any one but a physician in active practice could suppose.

After long experience in the treatment of women's diseases, Dr. Pierce evolved a vegetable tonic and corrective which he called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is a purely vegetable preparation, without a particle of alcohol contained in it.

When a woman complains of backache, dizziness or pain—when everything looks black before her eyes—a dragging feeling, with nervousness, she should turn to this "temperance" herbal tonic. It can be obtained in almost every drug store in the land and the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper. Put up in tablets or liquid. Dr. Pierce, of Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., will send a trial size of the tablets for ten cents.

LIVE SAVING GUARD'S TEA.

The Peterborough II Life Saving Guards of the Salvation Army met on New Year's Day at the home of the guard leader, Clara Barnes, for their annual treat. After an enjoyable supper a short programme was given by some of the guards and games were played. Then the Guards presented their leader with a linen sideboard cover, and after a most pleasant evening the party broke up, voting their leader a splendid hostess.

Electric Light.

The basic discovery of the possibility of electric light was made by Sir Humphry Davy in 1810, but for the next fifty years the developments were solely scientific and no practical use was made of them. In 1862, however, an arc light was installed in a lighthouse at Dungeness, and this is generally believed to be the first electric lamp in regular service.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

THE WEDDING AND HONEYMOON

CHAPTER X.

I was married at home. We had promised the living room prettily with autumn leaves and flowers. The pastor of the church we always had attended married us. The same one who had christened me.

I felt awfully solemn. I almost broke down and cried. I had to swallow a lump in my throat every time I made the replies. And I am sure no one a foot away could hear when I promised to love and obey Everett—yes, that was in the service when I was married.

But it was over at last and everyone was kissing me, calling me Mrs. Graham. Then we had refreshments. Just chicken salad and dainty refreshments, cakes and coffee. Afterwards I changed into my blue serge tailor suit, and the next thing that I knew we were on the train. The reason I did not realize anything much until then was that I was crying so hard at leaving mother, dad and the boys that I did not know what happened.

"Dry your tears now," Everett said as he helped me off with my hat and then turned on the spigot for me. We had the drawing room so no one saw my red eyes—no one but Everett.

After I had bathed my face we talked a little, then it was dinner time. I wanted awfully to go into the dining car. I never had eaten on the train. But when I timidly suggested it, he paid no attention but ordered it served in the drawing room.

After dinner he was real nice and kind, but he didn't say much about being happy because I belonged to him, or about loving me. I hardly spoke. I felt strangely embarrassed—I thought perhaps he did also. Although he shouldn't. He had been on a wedding trip before and I had not.

We went to a lovely hotel in New York. I was perfectly delighted with everything. Yet sometimes my pleasure was just a little spoiled because Everett would correct me for showing my feelings too plain, or because he in a way ignored me.

One evening we remained in the hotel. Everett had a slight cold, so had ordered dinner served in his room. We had been to a play the night before and had shopped all day. Everett had bought me loads of pretty things to wear, dresses wraps and hats. I knew that he was ashamed of my country-made trousseau, although he did not say so. I did not see where I was going to wear all the pretty things that he gave me, but he told me not to worry about that.

I was also tired from our strenuous shopping and had to stay quietly in the room with him, but I was excited and wanted to talk of what we had bought, of the wonderful shops, etc. When Everett settled himself in a big arm chair after the waiter had taken the dinner table things away, I climbed upon his lap.

"Don't be undignified, Sandra," Everett said.

"Don't you want me to sit on your lap?" I felt the tears coming.

"Not particularly. I wish to read. Neither do I wish to see you cry. Run over and swallow those eyes and you will be more attractive to a man."

I drew my breath in little sharp gasps. His tone more than his words had seemed to stab me. It hurt me so. The tears dropped in spite of all I could do to hold them back. As I rose unsteadily from his lap one fell on the back of his hand. He brushed it off angrily.

"For heaven's sake, Sandra, stop crying. If there is one thing I hate more than another it is a crybaby. When you feel that you must shed tears please take yourself where I cannot see you." He unfolded his paper and began to read.

In all my eighteen years I never had been spoken to so harshly. I tried most desperately not to cry but I could not hold back the tears and sobbing aloud I rushed into the bedroom and closed the door. I thought Everett would come in and try and comfort me when he saw how terribly I felt but he did not come near me. I had made him too angry. I was asleep when he came to bed. But I had heard the clock strike twelve before I sobbed myself to sleep.

To-morrow: Everett is Unreasonable.

Elliot. It is altogether likely that Mr. Armstrong was anxious that this predicament would not confront him, and as the official count disclosed, he escaped by just one vote.

Never in the history of this city has there been an election to equal the closeness of the mayoralty contest yesterday. Apathy reigned in the public spirit all day, but when the polling booths began to send in their reports last night it quickly became apparent that the McIntyre-Taylor race was going to write itself into the annals, the first volumes of which Mr. F. H. Dobbin has laboriously and interestingly prepared. They opened a new page yesterday that will stand out as a rubric for another generation or two.

How the Returns Came In.

The first returns in the mayoralty contest came in from No. 8 in the Centre Ward, where Felix Brownscombe was in charge. It gave McIntyre 26 and Taylor 34. Considered as a first round, this was slightly in favour of Taylor.

From Nelson Routley's store in the West Ward came the second count, with 75 for McIntyre and 68 for Taylor. This brought them practically on an even footing, Taylor having a majority of one single vote. At the time like it left a lasting impression that McIntyre was strong over in the west.

This opinion was quickly dissipated by the third figures coming from Frank Merritt's house on Babbs' Lane, where Taylor polled 179 to McIntyre's 57, making their respective totals 281 and 158, with Taylor's majority 123.

Braund's store in the North broke in next with McIntyre 60 and Taylor 97, and the totals 218 and 378. Taylor's lead was thus increased to 160.

Lynch's store in the West-end registered McIntyre 79 and Taylor 57, with totals of 297 and 435. This was a McIntyre gain for 22, but Taylor was well out in front with 138 to the good.

The South-End, where McIntyre was expected to count in big figures, was heard from next, when the Canadian Packer Limited store gave McIntyre 76 and Taylor 181, and brought the totals to 373 and 536, with Taylor's majority up to 163.

The Co-operative Store in the South Ward gave Taylor a majority of six, with the vote 54 to 60.

The Tide Turned.

The tide then turned toward McIntyre. Three more polls produced the standing of 644 to 733, with Taylor leading by 89. With the returns in from twelve places, Taylor's lead was cut down to 54. Freeburn's store, in the South Ward, was the eleventh, giving McIntyre 116 and Taylor 73. With seven polling places to hear from, the vote stood 997 to 1046, Taylor leading by 49, which was increased to 78 when nineteen of the twenty-two booths had given up their counts.

The first total the telephone had told was 1,470 for McIntyre and 1,474 for Taylor. Then the amendments began.

The Canadian Packers store fanned the excitement by changing their figures, giving three more for McIntyre and one for Taylor. This brought a tie of 1,475.

Firth's store on Water street reported that they had found two Taylor ballots in the by-laws box. This made the standing 1,475 to 1,477.

Halpin's store down in the South Ward was the next to check up its report. McIntyre got an extra one there and Taylor two. Thus as eight o'clock chimed, Taylor was leading by three, and the figures stood 1,476 to 1,479.

Kennedy's, in the North, next announced an error in their total, and revising it gave McIntyre two and Taylor one, with the standing 1,478 to 1,480.

The Vote Tied.

That seemed like the last possible variation, and many of the citizens, including some of the candidates—the victors with the vanquished—had departed, in the belief that Ald. Taylor had won by a nose at the barrier.

Uptown the reports credited Ald. Taylor with a narrow success, on the face of the reports from the booths, but at 8.30 Swanston's in Ashburnham came through with two more for McIntyre, and the mayoralty race was declared a dead heat, pending the official count on the morrow.

The tension that had pervaded the committee room at the City Hall began to slacken after that, especially when all the returning officers had brought in their boxes without further alterations to their figures.

Ald. McIntyre arrived about that time.

"Well, I guess I'm licked," he remarked with a rather tight smile to the corps of gratified electors who remained, scarcely crediting the precedent they helped to create, and that the all but impossible had happened—that until the count was officially revised Ald. McIntyre and Taylor had hung up a tie for a conspicuous place in the city's history.

"You've got a fighting chance yet," Ald. McIntyre was informed. "You are both even; so it's fifty-fifty."

How the Wards Voted.

Scanning the tabulated returns as they were finally compiled last night, it was noted that the two mayoralty candidates had broke even in the number of their majorities. At the twenty-two polling booths, each secured majorities at ten. At the other two they drew ties—60-60 at the Council Chamber and 46-46 at Hooper's in the North.

Taylor carried off three of the wards—the Centre, West, and North. McIntyre took the South and East. The West-end saved the day for Taylor and McIntyre showed a somewhat unexpected strength in the Centre, while the South was rather a disappointment. At least, it was generally thought that the Labour Ward to the South would give McIntyre a long lead, and that the business centre might pass him up.

The South did fairly well, but some of the workers there reported that not fifty per cent. of the electors voted. And in the centre Taylor had a bare 28. He also made a good showing in the North.

The following statement affords a comparison:

	McIntyre	Taylor
South	423	276
Centre	164	192
North	300	361
West	364	396
East	220	155

Many Were Indifferent.

These figures are, of course, taken from last night's list, and are subject to any alteration that may result from the afternoon's recount. They tell an interesting story that may be unwound to whatever length one wishes to follow the facts and possibilities of the election. Briefly, out all over it is the indifference of more than half the qualified electors to perform their duties as citizens at the polls. And conspicuous among the absentees were labour men, the working men of the shops and factories and outside occupations.

One worker in the South said he had driven all day, and to the best of his knowledge had drawn perhaps ten voters.

"The rest told me it was too cold, or to come around in the afternoon. Some women told me their husbands were sleeping. That's the way it went."

Ald. McIntyre related last night that he had gone to one terrace, knowing that not one of the men dwelling there had voted. He told them that it was to their interests to go out and vote. Two of them gave him some promise that they would, but he wasn't sure that they did.

WITNESSED HANGING.

(United Press.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Two hundred prisoners in the Cook county jail today witnessed the hanging of Raffalo Durrage. The men stood in their cells with windows facing on a court, and saw Durrage go to his death, as a "moral lesson."

MINISTERS STILL WITHOUT SEATS

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Jan. 2.—Ontario Legislature will not likely meet until late in March, according to rumor. Premier E. C. Drury, Hon. Manning Doherty and Hon. W. E. Raney are yet without seats in prospect. J. J. Morrison, convenor of committee of party which is to secure seats for ministers, stated to-day that there was nothing decided on. Mr. Morrison goes to Winnipeg shortly to attend the Canadian Council of Agriculture, and will not be back until the middle of the month. Until his return it is probable that the committee will not announce when or where by-elections may be. Writs have to be issued three weeks before nominations, so elections cannot be held until the middle of February.

CANNINGTON HERE MONDAY FOR THE FIRST O.H.A. GAME

The Peterborough intermediate O.H.A. team will open their O.H.A. campaign to-night, when they journey to Cannington for the first schedule game.

The Cannington team is headed by Hopkins, who played here last year, and on their own rink will undoubtedly prove an awkward proposition. The Petes have taken the lesson they learned on Tuesday night to heart and promise to give a much better account of themselves to-night, realizing that team work is necessary. They will leave for Cannington at 5.30 o'clock.

The return game will be played here on Monday night at Brock street rink. The first local O.H.A. game of the season will undoubtedly attract a big crowd of fans and promises to be a real battle. Hockey enthusiasts expect the Petes to wipe out Tuesday's showing by winning the Cannington fixture. On Wednesday night they invade Lindsay for a battle with their old rivals, thus making three games for the Petes in five days, a strenuous programme.

The junior O.H.A. team will practice at Brock street rink to-night between 6.30 and 7.30 o'clock. A full turn-out of players is expected. The juniors play their first game here on Wednesday night against Lindsay juniors.

COOL IN RING BUT HE HAS DIFFERENT TEMPERAMENT THAN DEMPSEY.

NEW YORK. — There is a strong impression in this country that Georges Carpentier will not stand up well under fire. A fighter who cannot take it never wins any plaudits in America. The same holds true in England, yet Georges is admired almost as much in England as he is in France, which seems to be indication that there is something seriously wrong with Carpentier's gameness.

The fighter who does his best work under fire is the one that is most popular with the crowd. To see an apparently hopelessly beaten fighter come from behind and win out appeals to the dramatic sense of the spectators. The ability to retain good form under severe punishment is the true test of a real fighter's calibre, and only the very few have it.

One of the main reasons why Bob Fitzsimmons was so greatly admired by ring followers was that the Cornishman was even more dangerous when hurt than when things were going along soothly for him. He not only retained his nerve, but his brain worked keenly so that he was able to trap his over-confident opponent into making a mistake.

Leach Cross, although anything but a clever boxer, was one of the most interesting of fighters because Leach's brain worked all the faster when he was in trouble. Cress won many a fight that was going against him, because he never lost hope or ceased to figure how he would eventually win, and when the opening presented itself he was ready for it.

Dempsey is Game.

Years ago fighters who thrived under punishment were more plentiful than at present. It required more gameness and steadiness to fight 20 round battles than to spring through ten or less. When fighting in long distance affairs the man who lost his nerve when hurt did not get very far.

Jack Dempsey probably is thoroughly game. In the early days when he was fighting his way to the top he showed that he would not only take punishment without quitting, but that he would fight just as hard and intelligently when hurt as when he was on the winning end from the start.

Carpentier may be a game fighter, but he is no bulldog. Carpentier has done one or two things in the ring that an American boxer who prides himself on his gameness would not think of doing. The Frenchman's actions in his battle with Gunboat Smith were in direct contrast to those of Dempsey when the American was in a similar situation. However, it may be that the course the Frenchman took was simply in line with his Latin temperament and that in his own way he is game.

Of late it seems to be the general idea that Gunboat was winning when he was disqualified for fouling. That is all wrong according to the cabled stories of the fight at the time and the statements of Americans at the ringside. Carpentier really was beating Smith hands down and making him look like a raw novice.

Smith did not knock Carpentier down. The Frenchman missed with a terrific swing and lost his balance, falling on his hands and knees. While Carpentier was in that position the groggy Smith let fly one of his overhead rights that barely grazed the top of the Frenchman's head. It was a technical foul, but an American fighter would have passed it over and insisted upon going on so as to score the knockout. But Carpentier and his manager did a little play acting and created such a fuss that the referee disqualified Smith.

When Dempsey fought the hulking Carl Morris at Buffalo the first time Morris began to foul as soon as he found he was in for a beating. The Sapulpa giant wrestled, butted, used his elbows and finally struck low. Dempsey was in real danger of serious injury, yet when the referee wanted to disqualify Morris and stop the bout Dempsey refused to let him do so. Dempsey wanted to score a knockout and he refused to let anything interfere with his intentions.

Nerves Well Under Control.

However, Carpentier is no Fred. Fulton or Al Reich. He has plenty of nerve and is not subject to stage fright. Carpentier's recent victory over Joe Beckett shows that he can think quickly and clearly in the ring. Although Beckett turned out to be a false alarm, the occasion was a try-ing one for Carpentier. England and France had gone mad over the battle and Carpentier must have been under a great strain because so much was expected of him by his admiring countrymen.

Yet Carpentier must have been absolutely cool and unflustered as he entered the ring for the battle that would make or break him, for he lost no time in planning how to bring about the clumsy Englishman's downfall and his execution was perfect, showing that the Frenchman's nerves were under perfect control.

Many a famous fighting man has shown less control of his nerves under similar trying conditions. Jack Munroe collapsed from stagefright when about to climb into the ring with Jeffries and later Jeffries in turn worried himself into a mental wreck at Reno. When the giant Fulton met Jack Dempsey in the ring at Harriston, Fulton was so weak from fright that he did not have strength enough to hold his hands up.

If Fulton could have controlled his shaky nerves the result of the bout might have been entirely different, for the big plasterer was the more experienced fighter of the two, was more clever and a great hitter.

CHANGES IN THE CABINET

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 2.—In a shake-up in the Dominion Cabinet, Major-General Mewburn resigns from January 15. A. L. Sifton Brown becomes Secretary of State, and Martin Burrell becomes Minister of Customs.

OLIVE THOMAS AS A "BABY VAMP"

CHARMING, VIVACIOUS STAR IS COMING TO EMPIRE THEATRE JANUARY 5, 6, 7.

Olive Thomas, the charming the vivacious Selznick star, will be seen in the first of her series of Selznick pictures, "Upstairs and Down," as a delightful little "baby vamp." No man misses her flirtatious eye and each falls a victim to her entrancing smiles. To her, man is life and flirtations food. It makes no difference who the man is, as long as he is willing to fall a victim to her charms. She loves them all—fat, lean, tall and short.

She is a harmless little body, but a mischevious one. She is happiest when she is busy getting in or out of some scrape. She's a game little person, for no matter how big the risk, she'll take it if there's any fun in it.

For the "baby vamp," life is one merry, mad merry-go-round. She looks through rose-coloured glasses and the sun is always shining. When trouble comes she merrily throws it over her shoulder with a shrug and a smile. Nothing can fezze her.

Olive Thomas with her gaity, vivacity and "pep" is particularly adapted for such a role. She gives the character life and feeling. The delightful story of the irresistible "baby vamp" can be seen on January 5, 6, 7, at the Empire Theatre. "Upstairs and Down" is distributed by Select Pictures Corporation.

SCHOLES OF TORONTO WINS HAMILTON RACE

HAMILTON, Jan. 2.—The Y.M.C.A. race to Dundas and return, revived this year for the first time since the war, was won by Scholes of Toronto in 54.40. He was two minutes ahead of Ellis of Hamilton, who finished second. Phillips of Peterborough and Bellow of Toronto, were third and fourth respectively.

There were twenty-one entries for the race, and of these eighteen started and sixteen finished. The time was fairly good considering that the runners had to face a strong wind, which was very cold, though the road was fast except at a few spots. Phillips led to the hill going out. There Scholes overtook him and kept the lead until the finish.

Phillips is on the staff of the local Bank of Commerce and is to be congratulated on the good battle he put up.

MORE CHANGES IN THE CABINET

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 2. — Sir Robert Borden leaves Ottawa this afternoon for a prolonged rest. He expects to be absent three or four months. His destination was not announced.

There was a further change in the Cabinet portfolios to-day. The Department of Mines, which for the last two years has been under the direction of the Secretary of State, is being transferred back to the Department of the Interior, and the Hon. Arthur Meighen will be sworn in as Minister of Mines.

The transfer was made on account of the health of the new State Secretary, Hon. Arthur Sifton.

MANAGER AND SUPERINTENDENT GIVES PRESENTATION.

Employees of Campbell Milling Co. Give Mr. Holland and Mr. Feir Club Bag.

As evidence of the good relations between the employees of the mill and the executive of the Campbell Milling Co., the men asked Mr. Daniel Holland manager and Mr. J. A. Feir to meet them at five o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when Mr. Dolan read an address, and a presenation of a handsome club bag was made to each of the gentlemen.

Both Mr. Holland and Mr. Feir made appropriate replies. At the conclusion of which Mr. Wilfrid Boorman led the gathering in the singing of "For they are jolly good fellows," and dispersed, carrying with them the best wishes for a happy New Year.

To the Electors from A. A. McIntyre

Permit me to thank the Electorate for the very generous support they accorded me in yesterday's Election. While it appears that I have been defeated by the minimum majority of one vote, a recount might change the issue. I have not decided whether I will take this course. Should I accept the issue as it stands, I will retire from public life, believing that I have endeavoured to serve the city to the best of my ability. I have had the co-operation of a host of friends, whom I desire to thank for their help and support.

PARTY AT THE CONSERVATORY

The most charming social event of the season was the dance given on New Year's night in the Conservatory of Music Hall by Judge and Mrs. E. S. C. Huycke in honor of their daughter, Miss Rosamond Huycke. The entrance to the Hall where Judge and Mrs. Huycke and Miss Huycke received was a bower of roses; gifts to the lovely little debutante from admiring friends. Mrs. Huycke wore an extremely handsome gown of black net over satin with jet trimmings, Miss Rosamond Huycke a beautiful Parisian gown of white satin with drape shading from midnight to the palest blue and carried a huge bouquet of pink roses and pink feather fan, Miss Audrey Huycke looked very pretty in white satin with net overdress. The hall presented a most alluring picture with the three hundred and fifty guests circling about beneath the shaded lights.

DISCUSSED THE PEACE TREATY

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Republican and Democratic leaders of the Senate gave attention again to-day to negotiations for peace treaty compromise, conferring with various members of their respective parties. Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader, sent for Senator McNary, Oregon leader of the mild reservation Republican group, and discussed with him how far the Republicans could go in modifying reservations approved by the Senate majority at the last session of Congress. On the Democratic side Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, party leader, conferred with Senator Swanson, of Virginia, a consistent supporter of the administraiton in the treaty fight, and Senator King, of Utah, who voted for the reservations in the last session. It was understood that article ten of the reservation was given the greater share of attention by members of both parties, and that so far neither side had advanced a solution which the other would consider favorably.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT THE TEMPLE.

The services for the week-end at the S. A. Temple will be of a special character, as they will be conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Williams and their family. They have just arrived from England, and as Mr. and Mrs. Williams have been Salvation Army officers in the Old Country, they have had a long experience in Army work, and an unusually interesting time is to be expected over the week-end. Commencing with the Saturday night service, the services will be in their hands, and the public is cordially invited. Come and bring a friend.

DOGS POISONED WITH STRYCHNINE.

Complaints have been heard from the Indian Village about the poisoning of the hunters' hounds by the farmers laying strychnine for the foxes, which, it is alleged, is a criminal offence. Already three good dogs have been poisoned by the strychnine, and naturally the Indians want the practice stopped or the matter will be turned over to the police.

THERE IS DANGER IN TENDER GUMS

To preserve healthy teeth the ordinary tooth-paste is futile. You must first care for the gums, on which tooth health depends.

How many people think of this? Yet four out of five people over forty suffer from gum-decay, or Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease).

At first the gums become tender, though actual gum-shrinkage is imperceptible. But in time receding gums will surely loosen your teeth, and then only a dentist can save them. The tender, bleeding gums of Pyorrhea also act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's (For the Gums) prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. This means that it prevents gum-shrinkage, gum-tenderness, gum-bleeding. So, automatically, Forhan's prevents tooth loosening.

Brush your teeth with it. It scientifically cleans the teeth—keeps them white and clean.

If gum shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for treatment.

MRS. M. PECK HAS GAINED 25 POUNDS

NINE YEARS TROUBLE ENDS AND SHE IS WELL AND HAPPY, NOW.

"I have gained twenty-five pounds since I commenced taking Tanlac, and the troubles that have been making life miserable for me for nine years have been completely overcome," said Mrs. Minnie Peck, who lives at 9874-82nd Ave, Edmonton, the other day.

"When I commenced taking Tanlac," continued Mrs. Peck, "I was so weak and run down that I was hardly able to get about. Everything I ate disagreed with me, and I would suffer for two or three hours after every meal on account of gas forming and bloating me up. I would have severe cramping pains in the pit of my stomach. I was very nervous, so much that that the slamming of a door would upset me terribly, and a good night's sleep was out of the question for me. I would actually get out of bed every morning feeling more tired and worn out than I did the night before. This condition just kept getting worse all the time until I got to where I was compelled to stay in bed most of the time.

"Then I decided to give Tanlac a trial, and it's the honest truth, I commenced to feel better before I had finished my first bottle of this wonderful medicine, and my condition just kept getting better until I am now as well as I ever was in my life. I never have a sign of stomach trouble now, and I have a fine appetite and eat just anything I want. I have gotten back all my strength and can easily do all my housework. My nerves are in perfect condition, and I sleep like a child every night. It is simply wonderful the way I have gained in weight, and in fact, I just feel fine all the time. Yes, sir, Tanlac is a wonderful medicine and as long as I live I will never lose an opportunity to say a good word for it."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

WRECKAGE IS WASHED ASHORE

TWENTY-SIX LIVES LOST IN AN OTHER WRECK.

(Canadian Press.)

HALIFAX, Jan 2.—C. H. Harvey, Marine and Fisheries agent, received word this morning from Kentville that some wreckage had come ashore at Harborville from the schooner A. W. Allan, which is presumed to have broken up at sea, following her loss, with eight passengers and the crew of eighteen.

The wreckage included a cask of oil and some clothing.

It is understood that the St. John branch of the Marine and Fisheries Department, which controls the lighthouse in the Bay of Fundy, is making arrangements to send an officer to take charge of any property that may be washed ashore.

HEALTH OFFICIALS ON THE WARPATH

Crusade is Being Started Against Violent Sneezing in Public.

The epidemic of colds which is now sweeping the country has led health officials to start an educational campaign showing the dangerous effects of violent sneezing in public.

"Check your Sneezes"—"Every public sneeze is a public danger"—"Think twice before sneezing once" — are slogans which are being emphasized in the effort to check the epidemic and the results it threatens.

A prominent feature of the campaign is the education of the public to the necessity of treating every case of cold in the head promptly. If taken at once it is declared that simple treatment will give relief in a single night, and the patient can remain steadily at work.

The treatment recommended for colds is a compound of Aspirin, Phenacetine, Quinine, Salol, Caffein Citrate, Cascara and Camphor Monobromate. This is now offered the public under the name of Reid's Grip Fix. Every home should have a box on hand while the epidemic of colds prevails. It comes in capsule form and acts quickly. Two capsules, taken two hours apart, over a period of six hours gives effective results with one capsule at a time thereafter to complete the work.

Grip Fix is not a patent medicine, but when getting it to be sure to ask for Raid's Grip Fix as there is no home treatment for colds which equals it. On sale at 35 cents per box at all druggists.

"THE EVENING EXAMINER"

PRESENTS

GEN. ALLENBY'S BRITISH CAMPAIGN IN THE HOLY LAND

TO-NIGHT, SATURDAY MATINEE AND EVENING

LONDON PRESS INTENSELY ENTHUSIASTIC.

London Daily Telegraph:

"What is modestly and prosaicly described as an 'illustrated travelogue' of the British campaigns in Palestine and Arabia is in reality an heroic epic capable of inspiring a dozen modern emulators of Homer or Plutarch. It is a triumphal vindication of the power of moving pictures to drive home a lesson, and simultaneously to charm the eye, entertain the spirit, and move to its very depths the soul of the spectator.

"Though it has already been exhibited at Covent Garden Royal Opera House over a hundred times, the big theatre continues to be packed twice a day. . . . It seems almost a nation's misfortune that this series of wonderfully speaking pictures will have to be withdrawn from the Opera House in a few more days."

London Daily Mail:

"One of the strangest sights to be seen by the Londoner at present is a large queue waiting in the vestibule of the Royal Opera House, Covent Garden, to buy seats. Such an event is beyond imagination—the reason is that Mr. Lowell Thomas and Dale Carnagey give an amazingly graphic account of these campaigns which freed the Holy Land.

"These pictures should be seen They are vividly real. The entertainment is delightful, perfect."

London News of the World:

"These travelogues are a brilliant success. The speaker rivetted the attention of the house as he told the great story of the liberation of Palestine. He has a keen sense of the picturesque and the humorous, and made telling use of the historical associations of the regions through which he passed.

"These travelogues should be seen by everyone to whom the British Empire is something more than a geographical expression.

London Morning Post:

"Splendid story — exceptionally fine pictures."

London Times:

"The serious and humorous were so skilfully blended that it was almost impossible to realise that Mr. Carnagey had been addressing for almost two hours an audience which filled Covent Garden to overflowing—unique—an extraordinary picture."

Westminster Gazette:

"The Carnagey-Thomas travelogue is a fine story; listened to with rapt attention. . . . It is sincerely to be hoped that many thousands of British people in all parts of the world will take the opportunity when afforded them of making acquaintance in the pleasantest possible way, with the conditions of one of the very great adventures in the war, and with the countries and peoples concerned."

London Evening Standard:

"Entrancing entertainment. . . . No audience could have been more enthralled."

London Morning Advertiser:

"The most wonderful film ever seen in London. All London is talking about it."

The Tatler:

YOU can ride a camel through the home of the Arabian Nights with a mysterious young Englishman whose story is more absorbing than Robinson Crusoe's.

YOU can meet the fascinating desert Arabs—nomads who have never heard of railroads, moving pictures, telephones, America.

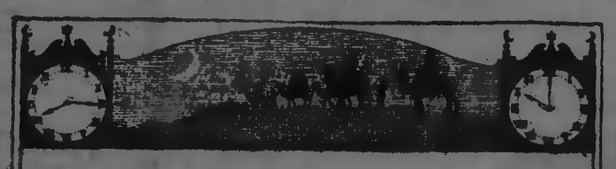
YOU can visit Mecca, the forbidden city, which less than a dozen Christian adventurers have reached.



To-Night, Saturday Matinee and Evening You Can tour with sixty thousand camels the memory-laden and mystical Land of Milk and Honey.

YOU can ride with the Australian Light Horse as it sweeps across the plains of Armageddon, conquers Beersheba, Jericho, Damascus, and Nazareth.

YOU can see the surrender of the most fought-for city in the world—the Holy City—Jerusalem.

YOU can hear DALE CARNAGEY tell the most fascinating of human stories.

YOU can see what the London papers have declared to be the most wonderful motion and coloured picture travelogue ever seen in England.

DELIGHTED NEW YORK.

These pictures ran longer in New York than any other travelogues ever given in that city. The New York Globe declared them to be the finest travel talks and pictures that had even been shown in America. Many people went to see them several times. Jacob Schiff, an eminent New Yorker, was so delighted with this entertainment that he sent a check to Messrs. Carnagey and Thomas, requesting them to give away tickets to people who could not afford to attend this enchanting and engrossing entertainment.

In certain cities in the United States, the public schools were dismissed and attendance at this entertainment was obligatory—a regular part of the school's schedule.

In Springfield, Massachusetts, the door sale for this entertainment was greater than the door sale for Caruso, Melba or any of the world renowned artists with the exception of Paderewski.

Big Opportunity.

These travelogues will remain in Peterborough Thursday, Friday and Saturday matinee and night. Readers of The Examiner Dailies will be able to see this entertainment at a merely nominal price by clipping the discount coupon that will appear in The Examiner each day. By presenting these coupons at the box office, a special reduction is made from the price of each seat.

This travelogue has been shown in the United States and in London at $1.50 per seat. Examiner readers will be able to see this Arabian Nights entertainment for prices ranging from twenty-five to seventy-five cents. A limited number of excellent orchestra seats at the Grand theatre may be secured for fifty cents by those who attend to the matter at once.

Get Seats Early.

On several occasions these travelogues have been delayed from thirty minutes to an hour by the great line of patrons who procrastinated getting their seats until shortly before the performance. Seats for all performances are on sale so that patrons may secure their seats without a tiresome waiting in line.

The London News of the World said on August 42: "This illustrated travelogue should be seen by everyone of whom the British Empire is something more than a geographical expression." The Examiner has brought this attraction to Peterborough at great expense as a community service. The public cannot get enough of this sort of thing. The chance to see these spectacular pictures of General Allenby's Camel Corps and Light Horse sweeping over the places that have been familiar to all of us since the days of our Sunday School lessons, is an opportunity as rare as pigeon blood rubies. It is sure to be appreciated by all who take advantage of it, and before the end of the week all Peterborough, like London, will be talking of little else than the marvelous illustrated travelogue on General Allenby's romatic campaigns in the fascinating Near East.

Destroyers Guarded Them.

The British Government prized these pictures so highly that a destroyer was sent across the Mediterranean in war time to protect them from the submarines on their journey home. From a historical and educational point of view as well as from an entertainment standpoint, these pictures are priceless.

Greatest Round-up Ever Recorded in the United States

THREE THOUSAND "REDS" HAVE BEEN GATHERED INTO THE NET AND THE WORK IS STILL PROGRESSING.

HOUSECLEANING

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—More than 650 men and women were under arrest here to-day in the nation-wide round-up of members of the Communist and Communist Labour parties, which already had resulted in three thousand persons being taken into custody in fifty cities.

The raids were still being conducted by the operatives of the Department of Justice.

"I believe I have succeeded in breaking the backbone of the Radical Revolutionary Movement in the United States," William J. Flynn, the Chief of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice, who directed the raids here, declared early to-day. These raids mark the beginning of the end of the organized rabid revolutionaries in this country. "We planned this move very carefully, and the results exceeded our expectations."

In cities adjacent to New York, the following arrests were reported: Newark, N.J., 150; Bayonne, N.J., 75; Passaic, N.J., 50; and Jersey City, N.J., 25.

Eight hundred and eighty warrants were issued in New York alone, and operatives were confident that practically the entire number would be served before the evening.

The raids in the Eastern cities began promptly at nine o'clock last night, and by midnight the majority of warrants had been served. Although sporadic raids were still going on at daybreak.

Forty federal operatives, assisted by 75 policemen in plain clothes, every known headquarters of the Communist and Communist Labour parties was pounced down upon. About fifty women ranging in age from 16 to 65, were arrested.

A man who gave his name as Julius Codlend, and said he was employed in the city tax department, said he was elected secretary of the Harlem branch of the Communist Party only yesterday.

Sweeping Drive.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3. — In a sweeping drive against radicalism, Department of Justice agents were completing to-day a nation-wide raids against the Communist organization, in which several thousand radicals were taken into custody with a view to deportation. Early this morning the number of arrests had risen to the highest figure of any similar raid in the history the country. The government has to another "Soviet ark" and sent across the Atlantic where they will be permitted to rejoin kith and kin in Bolshevik Russia. Officials made three thousand "undesirables" could be caught in the dragnet and their deportation it was believed, would be a blow to the cause of radicalism will be Incomplete figures show revolutionaries city, forty-four in New York co, while eighteen in San Francisco, were made thousand arrests described as pit and Chicago, movement. HIGH WAGES A DRAWING CARD

THE LABOUR SHORTAGE HAD ANOTHER BUSY DAY.

Applications for with the Department of Railways and Canals at Port Colbourne being rapidly filed at the Employment Bureau and five men have been shipped to work there number will follow on Monday night schedule of wages, 70 cents per hour, has proved a big drawing but the fact that most of the applicants have families which decide to move, blocks several days.

During the week five applications were received for work, thirty-nine men were sent to 153 vacancies were reported. The female department still active, but few applications being received.

LABOUR INTERESTS WILL HOLD CONFERENCE TO DISCUSS STATUS

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., January 3.—The National Conference of delegates representing both factions of labour in Canada, is to be held in the latter part of this month. The purpose, according to Robinson, secretary of the Winnipeg Trades and Labour Council, who announced it, is for labour to ascertain exactly what are rights in Canada.

Meetings of "Internationals" and "O. B. U. adherents" were held on Wednesday again on Friday to arrange for sending invitations throughout the country to attend the Convention.

It is the intention of the instigators of the movement to have some of the constitutional lawyers in the country appear at the Convention and explain labour's legal status, in the light of the conviction of R. B. Russell, the strike leader, and the charge of Justice Metcalfe to the jury.

VISIT MYSTERIOUS ARABIA WITH DALE CARNAGEY TONIGHT

Second of Pictorial Travelogues in the Grand Opera House Promises a Series of Exceedingly Beautiful Pictures—A Rare Opportunity

To-night at the Grand Opera House The Examiner will present the second in its series of travelogues. To-night the audience will be wafted away on a magic carpet to the mysterious and romantic land of the Arabian Nights. Some of the names pronounced the Arabian tongue are even more appealing than the General Allenby's campaign in Palestine.

Destiny played her strangest pranks when she picked out a 26-year-old and made him leader of the nomadic tribes of mysterious and forbidden Arabia. The story of this young Englishman sounds like an Arabian Night's tale. It will be told in coloured and motion pictures to-night's performance, one of the most picturesque and fascinating stories of the whole world war.

To-night's travelogue opens by taking the audience 1,500 miles down the Nile to the gateway of the African jungles. From here the spectators are whirled across the Nubian desert to the Red Sea. There they board an old tramp steamer and sail across to Jedda, the seaport of the most mysterious city in the world—Mecca.

The auditors are taken on a trip to this city; a spot that not a dozen Christians ever beheld and lived to tell the tale.

Lost Petra, City Beautiful.

Arabian camels carry the audience over the parching seething sands of the desert to the homes of some of the strangest people living in the world; people who have no way of counting time; people who never heard of chairs, newspapers or Canada. The army that this mysterious young Englishman banded together out in that land of romance was unquestionably the most picturesque and amusing army of the entire world war.

At one time in to-night's travels, the audience will tour Petra, the most beautiful city ever built by man. A city which has been uninhabited and lost to history for more than 1,500 years. The audience fairly gasps when it hears the story of this mysterious city that was the Paris of the world in the heydey of Nineveh and Babylon. Only a handful of adventurers have ever reached this "rose-red city half as old as time." You would not be able to travel there without a military escort even though you had a million dollars; the fanatical Arabian nomads cut the throats of ambitious Europeans or Americans who attempt to invade their desert habitats. But you can journey to Petra and all thorugh forbidden Arabia to-night in comfort and at nominal expense by clipping a coupon from an advertisement in any issue of The Examiner and presenting it at the Grand box office.

MONTREAL DRY IN NEW FORM

WATERWORKS EMPLOYEES GO ON STRIKE WITH SERIOUS RESULTS.

MONTREAL, Jan. 2.—Despite the efforts of McGill University students to keep the city waterworks pump in operation the water pressure was very low to-night. Three of the pumps were in operation this morning, but shortly before noon a 30,000 gallon turbine broke down.

The "upper level" of the city, all the section between Sherbrooke street and the mountain, was without water, though attempts were being made to get the pumps supplying that section of the city under operation.

J. J. Joubert's milk plant and other plants in the city having private pumping stations were besieged by throngs of people carrying pails, pitchers, cans and all imaginable sorts of vessels capable of holding water. Brewery trucks were doing thir utmost to supply thirsty citizens with a substitute for water.

The citizens of Montreal are highly indignant at the striking waterworks employees and due to fear of the results if a conflagration should break out there is much discussion of the feasibility of bringing criminal action against them.

INCREASED SCALE FOR RAILWAYMEN

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The railroad workers seem to have won important concessions from the Government in the negotiations preliminary to a tentative settlement of the wage dispute.

Details of the agreement show that the men of the lowest grade will receive a minimum of forty shillings per week, with the other grades running up to seventy-five shillings, according to the Herald, the Labourite organ.

Decreases under a sliding scale were agreed upon, but they cannot reduce the wages below a minimum agreed upon, which is one hundred per cent. above the rates prevailing before the war.

The Government's offer will be laid before a meeting of the railwaymen's delegates on Wednesday next.

MARKET SENTIMENT SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

FINANCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL INTERESTS SEE A REVIVAL.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—In the financial district the passing of the Old Year and the advent of the New Year was attended by a pronounced improvement of sentiment, this feeling being shared by the most conservative interests among experienced leaders of finance and general business.

The New Year was hailed with encouragement, although it was broadly recognized that some of the uncertain elements of the past few months are likely to continue for an indefinite period.

The long sustained money tension and speculative outlook are being subordinated to such important questions as financing of foreign trade and the restoration of formal domestic industrial conditions.

Almost the greatest problem which now confronts the banking world, aside from the readjustment of foreign exchange has to do with the attitude of the average investor towards foreign securities.

The past week witnessed a marked revival of interest in industrial shares, with steels and related issues again in the lead. Their activity was predicted on the strong position of those industries and the enormous demand which already has congested the operations at some of the larger mills.

Rails were only slightly benefited by the decision of the Government to return them to private operation some two months hence and many November statements of earnings by leading systems, merely accentuated the doubtful status of these properties.

HAS BEEN MISSING FOR SOME TIME

FORMER OWNER OF PETERBORO THEATRE HAS NOT BEEN HEARD OF.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Jan. 3. — Ambrose J. Small, the millionaire theatrical manager, has been missing for several weeks and some fears are expressed as to his safety.

Your correspondent interviewed Mr. E. W. M. Flock, of London, Ont., by long distance telephone this morning and received the following statement: "I left Mr. Small in his office about 5.30 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 2nd, and further than that I know nothing about him. He had closed up the sale of his Grand Opera circuit, six theatres in all, on Monday, to the Trans-Canada Theatres Ltd. He [illegible] as his solicitor. On Tuesday he received the initial payment, which was a large sum of money, on Monday, and deposited it on Tuesday.

"I was with Mr. Small about twenty minutes and during the interview absolutely nothing happened which would indicate that he intended to disappear either voluntarily or involuntarily. He was never more pleasant or genial in his life and was full of pep and vim. I told him that I might be down to see him the following week. I have been down to Toronto two or three times since then, but have been told that he was not at his office.

"I don't wish to say anything inimical to the interests of my client when he returns, but as in a case of this kind the newspapers are invaluable in locating a man. I see no reason why I should not tell you what I have."

ACCIDENT OCCURRED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

An accident occurred at the corner of Stewart and Wolfe streets yesterday afternoon, when one of Matthews-Blackwell trucks, going east on Wolfe street, ran into a horse and buggy, owned by Dr. Robinson, and driven by Wilfrid Gosselin, at the corner. The horse was cut about the left side of the face and Dr. Rogers had to be called. Gosselin said he would see the driver about the damage.

COUNTRY FLOODED.

Canadian Press.

PARIS, Jan. 3. — Scores of villages in the lowlands throughout the country are suffering from floods and people living near the streams have been forced to vacate their houses. Parts of Meaux, Meziores and Chalons have been flooded. The Sur-Marne has overflowed and many miles of river bottom between Sedan and Charleville are under water. No loss of life is reported as yet, but the property damage will probably be heavy.

Most skirts are twelve inches from the ground.

Church Services.

Rev. Veals conducted the service in the Baptist church yesterday. He made the announcement regarding a Memorial Mounment, that had already been made in the Presbyterian and Anglican churches.

Rev. Hugh Brown conducted the services in the Presbyterian church. His morning text was Ps. 78:7. He pointed out that everyone had received blessings, that the memory of the goodness of God in the past, was good cause to hope for good to come. Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be held next Sabbath Morning. At this service there is a special collection for the budget of the church. Mr. Brown urged on each member to do his share se a week from each one for the budget would be ample to do all they are asked to. The preparatory service is on Friday evening, and the minister urged a large attendance.

The annual meeting of the Congregation will be held on the evening of Wednesday, Jan. 14, 1920, in the church.

Rev. Dr. Archibald conducted the service in the Anglican church which was prettily decorated. During the Offertory, Mrs. Fred Bell sang "Carol, Sweetly Carol." Dr. Archibald used as his text Ps. 54:3, and preached a Christmas sermon, just before the benediction he asked the people to be seated, and reminded them that before they met in that church again another year would be finished and sealed. A new year would be begun. He felt he must urge the people to begin the new year as a year devoted to the service of God, and in that way and only in that way he wished each one a Happy and Prosperous New Year. Holy Communion will be celebrated at the service next Sunday.

Ball Was Success.

The ball given by the bachelors and benedicts on Friday evening was a great success. Nearly 200 people were present, $80.00 were taken in. Music was provided by Warsaw Orchestra, floor manager was Mr. Wm. Bell. Lunch was provided by ladies. The committee were D. Munro, M.D., Messrs. V. A. Douglas, J. S. Selkirk, W. J. Cook, M. G. E. Choate All present seemed to enjoy themselves very much. These balls are being given to get money to put the skating rink in order.

The King's Daughter's Girls' Club, will meet at the home of Mrs. Robert on Friday afternoon, Jan. 9. The girls will kindly remember about the material for the baby quilts for the Sick Children's Hospital. It is hoped that during the winter months there will be a regular and prompt attendance.

The Warsaw Woman's Institute will meet in Mr. Calder's Hall on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 8th. Mr. R. Lees, Inspector of Public schools, is expected to be there, and give a talk on "Consolidated Schools." Mrs. Wallace Anderson, who attended the U.O. convention, will give a few points that apply equally to Women's Institues and to U.F.W.O.

The Elections.

There will be municipal elections at Warsaw next Monday for Dummer Council, as Mr. Albert Webster is running against the Reeve of this year, Mr. John Darling. All the old councillors are running, also Mr. Nathan Bell. Most of the speeches by the councillors and new candidates were short.

Health Report.

Dr. Munro gave the health report. While there had been quite a lot of sickness there had been no contagious disease, except a few very mild cases of 'flu' last winter. He warned the people that there may be trouble ahead, as he had been called to see one case of smallpox within a mile of the municipality.

The doctor also spoke of the Memorial Fund, for which subscription lists are now opened and that while every member of the committee strongly objected to begging for the money by canvassing, it is hoped that everyone will contribute what they feel they can, and should, be it only $100 or even less. There are quite a few whose taxes are quite low. They might feel they should contribute more largely. Whatever is not contributed will be made up by taxes. Money need not be paid until end of March. When paid in subscriptions will be marked paid.

Mr. Ernest MacDonald, U. F. O. member for East Peterborough, was there also. His speech was short but to the point. He spoke of consolidated schools, advanced work in Public schools, the good roads system and the Hydro-Electric.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 3RD, 1919.

THE MAYORALTY RESULT

The most striking feature in connection with the Mayoralty contest in Peterboro was of course the closeness of the race which resulted in victory for Ald. W. H. Taylor by the smallest possible margin. Another outstanding feature however, was the apathy displayed by many of the electors, over half of whom failed to exercise their franchise and to indicate their choice between the two candidates. Hundreds of voters whether they were dissatisfied with the qualifications of both aspirants or whether they were merely indifferent did not take advantage of the privilege of the franchise and it is significant that Ald.-Elect Gordon who headed the polls in the aldermanic race secured a third more votes than either of the mayoralty candidates, Mayor-Elect Taylor's majority reached the minimum but it is sufficient to win the election and Ald. McIntyre is removed from public life after ten years' service in the Council, for this year at least.

The new Mayor has an apparently strong and capable council to preside over and he should not lack assistance in carrying out the duties of his position as chief magistrate of the city.

A HEALTHY SIGN.

That the full labor vote was not registered in Thursday's election is a statement that is undoubtedly true; a large proportion of the voters on the lists did not exercise their franchise and naturally among the number were many who if they had gone to the polling booths would have voted the labor ticket. But a more important factor in the defeat of the Trades and Labor candidates was the support that numbers of labor men undoubtedly gave to other candidates. There is a significance in that fact that should not escape attention. It is a healthy sign, an evidence that they appreciate the necessity of voting for strong candidates to such an extent that they were ready to support men who had not the endorsation of the Trades and Labor Council. In other words they voted as citizens, with an eye to the welfare of Peterborough. The plea fitness should be the test in deciding upon whom to support in the aldermanic race was apparently acted upon and candidates like Ald.-elect Gordon and Copping undoubtedly received the votes of a large number of labor men.

AN ATHLETIC CLUB.

The organization of a Peterboro Athletic Club to control and interest itself in all branches of athletic sports is being suggested by a number of citizens who believe that such a movement would be opportune at the present time when the Riverside Park property is to pass into the hands of the city and to be available for outdoor sports. The suggestion is an admirable one and no doubt many citizens would be glad to assist in the organization of such an Association in Peterboro, believing that it would do much to place sports upon a sound footing and promote interest in all forms of manly games. In 1914 the preliminary work for the launching of an Athletic Club was carried out in Peterboro and received enthusiastic support from the athletes of the city but the out-break of the war put an end to the movement. The present seems an opportune time for a revival of the enterprise and the Examiner will be glad to assist by throwing its columns open for a discussion of the matter by those who have favoured the organization of a general Athletic Association, if they care to avail themselves of the opportunity.

A MAKE-SHIFT CABINET.

The latest changes in the Federal Cabinet serve to furnish another illustration that the present administration is falling to pieces and that it is high time that the people were given a change to man the ship of state with a new crew. There is little unity left except it be a very firm determination to remain united to office," points out the Toronto Globe, and with that statement there will be general agreement. The retirement of General Mewburn, Minister of Militia, removes another of the Liberals who in 1917 allied themselves with the Borden government. Mr. Carvell has already gone, and other Liberal ministers are contemplating a similar step. The cab-

...it exists at present is a make-shift arrangement, with several ministers who have not demonstrated their ability to look after one department now in charge of two and with the premier himself shortly to leave the "grubs," to borrow a phrase from the sporting page, to look after themselves. With so many national problems that must be dealt with in the near future, it is far from reassuring to know that the Federal cabinet is not only under-manned, but lacking in ability, energy and foresight. How the present inadequate administration can be made to hang on until 1923 without an appeal to the country is beyond the imagination of the average Canadian to conceive.

ANTI-STRIKE LEGISLATION.

Various organizations of American railway workers have served notice upon congress that they will not obey the anti-strike provision of the Cummins bill if it be enacted into law. It would not be surprising, seeing that the railway labor organizations are international, if the Canadian railway workers were to take the same stand. In fact, they have more than once disobeyed the Lemieux act, which merely forbids strikes until the matters in dispute are submitted to a board of conciliation and investigation.

Now that the greater part of the Canadian railway system is to be operated as well as owned by the people or in their behalf, this question of the right of workers employed in necessary public services to enforce their demands by striking is one which must be faced and settled. For it is a vital question—vital to the public welfare.

Under ordinary circumstances, in almost all industrial operations, the right of the workers to strike in order to secure the removal of intolerable conditions or to enforce their demands for better pay, is a right which ought not to be interfered with. To deprive them of that right would be to put them in the power of unjust employers. But when the public is the employer and the service in which the workers are employed is a service necessary to the safety and convenience of the general public, the case is different. The welfare of the majority of the people should be the first consideration—the test by which the merits of any dispute should be judged. The sudden tying up of the people's railway system or any part of it would be distinctly injurious to the public welfare. Legislation which has for its object the prevention of such a calamity is justified, even if it were necessary to make strikes of railway workers illegal.

But if such legislation were passed, it would be only fair to accompany it with supplementary legislation which would guarantee to the railway workers a less expensive and not less certain means of obtaining redress of grievances than the strike. Such a means could be easily devised. A permanent board of arbitration, with ample representation of the workers on it, the decisions of the board to be final, ought to be a satisfactory solution of the problem. All disputes between the workers and the railway officials could be referred to this board for adjustment.

Should such a substitute for the strike be made, it need not be difficult to ensure enforcement of the law. Fine and imprisonment for its violation would not be expedient. Disfranchisement of those who violate it would be a more appropriate penalty, and if that proved insufficient, then the penalty of outlawry. Those who deliberately conspire to defy the law and persist in that attitude, cannot reasonably complain if the protection of the law were to be withdrawn from them.—Hamilton Herald.

PIUS IDLERS

(BY J. E. MIDDLETON)

"More church members!" said a missionary enthusiast regarding the objectives of the Forward Movement. "What right have we to ask for more church members until we use the ones we have?"

There is point in the criticism. Too many church members are in a state of pious idleness rather than Christian activity. The leaders in the Sunday School are found also in the Young Peoples' Societies, the organized classes, and the various church guilds, while the majority of members merely sit back in peace, waiting for the minister to coddle them or defer to them.

The chief aim of the Forward Movement is to stir the interest of the entire membership. From a church of three hundred members, it ought not to be difficult to find one hundred and fifty active workers. Now, twenty-five is about the outside limit.

If anyone still doubts the miraculous origin of the church, or its miraculous course through the ages, let him bear in mind that all its achievements represent only a twenty per cent. efficiency. What could not be done for the benefit of Canada and for the advancement of the world if the whole Church would harness and apply its great personality.

Twelve earnest men spread the teachings of Christ throughout the Roman world. Over one million communicants are found in the five Canadian denominations associated in the United National Campaign. What would happen if these began suddenly to take their responsibilities seriously?

The Church is an industrial plant not a convalescent home. The minister is a general manager, not a male nurse. If the Forward Movement can hammer home that fact, it will do much good.

INSIST ON PASTEURIZED MILK

No epidemic of disease has ever been traced to PASTEURIZED MILK.

What, then, is the difference between PASTEURIZED MILK and RAW MILK?

Answer: PASTEURIZED MILK has been heated to a temperature of 145 F. and kept at that temperature 30 minutes. By this heating process any disease producing sediment, dirt, or pus, that gets into the Milk, is destroyed and makes the Milk Safe, without destroying any of its nutritive properties.

PURE MILK is just the Unclarified Milk that comes from the cow, with whatever impurities that may get mixed into it. See the difference?

BAL POUDRE WAS A BIG SUCCESS

The 'bal poudre' given last evening in the Conservatory of Music under the auspices of the Kings Daughters broke all previous records. It was considered by the hundred and fifteen couples present to be the brightest and gayest of the public dances held this year. The music provided by Mahon and Fitzgerald four piece orchestra left nothing to be desired both from a point of the quality and generosity in the encores given. A spirit of conviviality and joviality pervades the entire dance, so much so that those who dropped in with the intention of remaining for a few minutes remained until the National Anthem was played at 2 o'clock. Some novel features were introduced into the dances during the evening including a confetti dance, a promenade led by Mr. J. G. Campazzi, and a dance in which each of 100 couples who handed a number. As the number each couple held was called the coupe dropped out until when Mr. Otto Glidden and Miss Winger held the floor alone their number, 96, being the last called the orchestra struck up the wedding march. In addition to these features in the earlier part of the evening each of the gentlemen were handed a carnival cap.

(Canadian Press.)

QUEBEC, Jan. 2.—The Canadian Spinner, of the Canadian Government Marine fleet, which has been drifting for over two weeks, and which yesterday was a bare four miles off the coast of Cape Magdalene, was to-day pushed two miles further out to sea by a shift in the wind.

While the ice has broken the open gulf, the Canadian Spinner is not yet out of her predicament. She is still caught in the thick ice fields, but there is clear water to the north, and with a strong ferry on the way from Prince Edward Island to break a channel through the ice, the boat is now near safety.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

EVERETT IS UNREASONAB E

CHAPTER XI.

One afternoon when shopping we ran into a man whom Everett knew. He was younger than Everett, fine looking,—although not so handsome as my husband,—and with a very prosperous air.

"Sandra allow me to introduce Mr. Halliday, my wife, Mrs. Graham."

"I am charmed," Mr. Halliday raised his hat, while his eyes flashed a look of admiration upon me. I flushed a little, but he only stopped a moment, and I hoped it had passed unnoticed.

"How nice your friend is," I remarked more for the sake of making conversation than for any other reason. Everet was inclined to walk blocks sometimes without speaking.

"He's like dozens of City men. He likes to play around with married women. He thinks them safer for a bachelor."

"Why—What?" I never had heard anyone express such a sentiment. I scarcely understood his meaning.

"They might get roped into marrying the girls; while they can flirt with a married woman with perfect safety to themselves." The bitterness in his tone caused me to look at him in surprise. "See that you make them keep their distance," he finished harshly.

If only Everet—I caught myself—I must not be always wishing he would be different. Then I said:

"But if you introduce them to me they are nice men, aren't they?"

"Nice men, as you call them, sometimes do strange things." His enigmatic reply worried me, but I dared say nothing more, he looked so forbidding.

I expect I was hopelessly bromidic in those first days of my married life; and also often exasperating.

One day Everett had a business appointment—so he said, and he left me alone. He had said nothing about my remaining at the hotel, so I dressed and started out to take a walk, and look in the shop windows, an ever increasing delight to me.

I remained out about an hour. When I opened the door of our sitting room, Everett was looking from the window. He was watching for me. He turned as I came in.

"Where have you been?" he demanded harshly. He seemed strangely agitated. His face was flushed, his eyes angry and hot looking.

"What is the matter, Everett? What has happened?" I was frightened at his appearance.

"Where have you been—who with?"

"I went for a walk, and—to look in the windows. I was lonely."

"Did I tell you might go out?"—"No—but I thought—I thought you—might be gone a—long time. Was it wrong for me to go out?"

My manner may have disarmed him a little, for he spoke more gently when he replied:

"No—I don't say it was wrong. But a man likes to know where his wife is. He also likes to find her when he comes in. Put on another gown and we will go to some restaurant for dinner. I'm tired of the food here."

I had been puzzled, distressed, unhappy by Everett's manner. Had I known he wanted me to remain in the hotel I certainly should have done so; but he said nothing about it, and what I had done had been so innocent.

I was glad for a chance to be alone. I bathed, did my hair and dressed. When I finished I asked if I would do, and he seemed quite himself again as he answered:

"You look very nice. I like that dress. Sapphire is your color. Your hair and eyes call for it. I shall buy you some new jewelry."

"Oh, I have plenty now! I would n't know what to do with it any more!"

"You aren't obliged to wear everything at once, simply because you have it. Now come on. I'm hungry."

Everett thought a great deal of his comfort. I had already found that out. He was fastidious to an extreme, and impatient of anything which gave him the slightest annoyance. Yet occasionally he could be so charming, so interesting, that he seemed almost like two personalities.

NEWS HAPPENINGS AT NOGIE'S CREEK

NOGIE'S CREEK, Jan. 2. — Mr. Ernest Crowe, of Haliburton, and late of the West, is in this neighbourhood visiting friends.

Mr. Eddie Parker, who has been some years in the West, is home visiting his father and brother.

Mr. P. Graham, one of our councillors, has been ill for three or four weeks, and Mrs. Graham, his mother, is also suffering from a sore knee. It is thought that she will be obliged to go to Toronto to have an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McL. Oliver spent Christmas at Lakehurst with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. T. Elliot.

The children's concert at the closing of the school was very interesting and did credit to Miss McGahey, our teacher, and her pupils.

Cedar Wylde was the scene of a happy Christmas reunion, when the family of Mr. and Mrs. N. Crowe met to take Christmas dinner with their parents. Seventeen grandchildren were present. Two sons and their families were absent owing to their homes being too far distant to make it convenient for them to be present. About thiryt sat down to dinner at 7 o'clock in the evening, and afterwards a very pleasant evening was spent.

OBITUARY

R. A. DEYELL.

Robert Archibald Deyell, the subject of this sketch, was born on Maple Leaf Farm, Otonabee, seventy-nine years ago, and died at his home on Crystal Stream Farm, in the same township, on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 27th, 1919.

This excellent character was converted to God in early manhood, united with the Bible Christian Church in the year 1862, conformed to the "Union" later, and joined the Methodist church of Canada, of which he remained a faithful and worthy member and official until a few days ago, when he passed up to the church triumphant beyond.

In the year 1870 he was united in marriage to Miss Letitia Stewart, daughter of Mr. Richard Stewart, of Otonabee, and this happy union was blessed by a family of twelve sons and daughters, seven of whom, with the sorrowing widow, survive him. The following members of this family mourn his demise: Mrs. James Chambers of Peterborough, Mrs. Wm. Hanbridge, Mrs. Bruce Herd, and Mr. Ward Deyell, of Otonabee, Mrs. Fred Deyell, Mrs. Bert McPhimie, and Mr. Roland Deyell, of Frobisher, Saskatchewan. Two brothers and two sisters also survive him, namely: Mrs. Robert Hanbridge of Otonabee, Mrs. Jas. Ruth and Mr. Samuel Deyell, of Peterborough, and Mr. Wm. Deyell of Lindsay.

Robert Deyell was one of the most widely known and highly respected citizens in the county of Peterborough. His voice, like a trumpet, ever rang out clear and strong against evil of all kinds. We do not know his politics, but his principles were well known to all who knew him. He was a giant for truth, temperance, righteousness and peace. He was true, fearless, transparent and kind, and to know him was to esteem and trust him. This model of sterling integrity died in the harness. Worshipping in the house of God on Sabbath, with his soul on fire with holy unction; becoming seriously ill on the following Thursday night, and closing his eyes in death on Saturday afternoon. It is true he was frail in body, but his mental and spiritual [illegible] was with full-orbed glory [illegible] that last, and he passed away in the triumphs of faith.

The funeral service, held at his late residence on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 30th, was largely attended, and the remains of him who was and is one of "God's noblemen" sleeps in Little Lake cemetery, awaiting the summons that shall call the sleeping dust of mortality back to reanimation and eternal life.

The mortal shall rest by the river to-night;
The immortal watch from the portals of light,
And beckon you coming, and linger, and wait
To meet you, and greet you by yon pearly gate.

—Rev. G. E. Rose.

You May Find It In Stocking

Cincinnati authority says your troublesome corns just loosen and fall off

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes just loosen in their sockets and fall off the next day if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of a drug called freezone, says a Cincinnat authority.

You merely put a drop or two of this freezone on the tender, touchy corn to-day and instantly the corn stops hurting, then to-morrow sometime you may find the old tortuous pest somewhere in your stocking, having fallen off entirely without a particle of soreness, pain or irritation. The skin surrounding and beneath the former corn will be as healthy, pink and smooth as the palm of your hand.

A quarter ounce of freezone is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn and callus, and any druggist will charge but a few cents for it. It is a compound made from ether.

CAMPINES AND CO. AT THE MARKET HALL 3 DAYS NEXT WEEK

The Chantecler chorus of the Campines and Company will be heard at the Market Hall next Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, in a more or less continuous performance, under the direction of Harry Lush. Joe Kelly, Archie Brault, George Buller, and the rest of the committee of management who stage this annual attraction.

The attendance will probably fall in hundreds below the crowds that swarm a motor show, but the fact that the high cost of "ham and" affects immeasurably more families than does the latest model "Elegant Eight," should arouse the expectation that throngs will visit next week's exhibition.

The company referred to includes the choicest of those little producers of national wealth, who have been "laying off" for weeks past, with results that prompt those protests at the Market when eggs soar to 80 cents, and only the profiteers can meet the price without feeling a keen pain in the pocketbook.

If you desire to produce your own eggs, to start, at least, the poultry adjunct of the farm in your own back yard, you will find inspiration at the annual exhibition of the Peterborough Poultry Exhibition. The best birds of this entire district, including many counties, will be all preened to arouse your envy, if you are a helpless, hopeless mere consumer.

The poultrymen put themselves to all the trouble of setting up coops and showing their firstlings of the feathered flocks with the object of inducing other citizens to go in for this profitable hobby; at least, it must be profitable under prevailing prices. But if you are still satisfied to let somebody else's hens lay the eggs you eat, you might visit the show for the purpose of encouraging the hens by your presence to get back on the laying job, for the cold storage stocks are beginning to run low. And the hens should understand that the cold storage houses must be kept filled for the benefit of —the public, of course.

Among the different seats that have been offered three of the members of the new Provincial Cabinet, Mr. E. N. Mr. McDonald expects definite information in a few days as to whether his offer will be accepted.

THE AFTERMATH OF THE FLU EPIDEMIC

REAPPEARANCE OF MANY CASES LEADS TO DISCUSSION ON SUBJECT.

The reappearance of "flu" at many points brings up the old question as to whether it is a new disease or a new form of some very common ailment. The general consensus of medical opinion is that it is a germ disease of a virulent type which first attacks the membranes of the nose and throat and then spreads to some vital organ where it develops very quickly and does fearful work.

The symptoms of "flu" are about the same as those of a cold in the head, and for that reason it is now positively unsafe to allow a cold to go without attention. Treatment should be started as soon as the head starts closing up, the nose start running or the sufferer starts sneezing. Let these conditions run for 24 hours and acute trouble is liable to develop, possibly resulting in an attack of pleurisy, pneumonia or kindred ailments.

If Grip Fix is taken when the cold is starting relief may be expected in a single night. Even if the cold has reached the grippe stage, 48 hours' treatment is usually effective. Grip Fix contains nothing but the drugs your physician would order, a full list of which is given on every box. It comes in capsule form, and in a night will relieve the closed up condition of the head, overcome the fever, allay the muscular soreness and tone up the system.

Be prepared. Have Grip Fix in the house. Be sure to get the original Laid's Grip Fix. It's on sale at all druggists at 35c. per box. Vancouver Drug Co., Limited, Special Agents. (Advt.)

THE WEATHER

Another cold night. Lowest last night 11 degrees below zero. At day break it had moderated a little, but it was still very sharp. Recent investigations have shown that 1919 had the highest average daily temperature for the year of any year since 1840. This was due not so much to the warm weather of last summer as to the mildness of the previous winter. There were also more hours of sunshine during the year than the average, and it is believed that a record was broken along this line.—W. P.

PRESENTATION TO REV. JOHN GALT

ANNUAL SUNDAY SCHOOL TEA AND CONCERT.

The annual Sunday School tea and concert of Gilmour Memorial Church was held on the evening of 30th December, 1919, and proved a great success. One of the interesting items of the programme was the reading of the appended address by Mr. C. E. Moore to Rev. John Galt, and a presentation of a purse by Mr. T. H. Graham:

Rev. John Galt—
Dear Pastor and Friend,

At this our annual Sunday School entertainment, we gather tonight with mingled feelings of joy and sorrow. We rejoice that your four years of ministry unto us has been for the general improvement of our church and Sunday School, and with the aim constantly in view of having the whole church in the Sunday School and the Sunday School in the church. We sorrow that your pastorate with us is so near an end, and that you have deemed it wise to accept a call to distant field of labour. Our relations as pastor and people have been of the happiest and most friendly, and we also feel that we have been greatly helped and blessed in our spiritual life by your teaching. We have enjoyed prosperity in the church in all its branches, under your faithful leadership, and we were looking forward to a helpful time during the winter when we would have you to superintend our special efforts for the great Forward Movement. But we believe that you are making the change conscientiously, feeling that it will be to the glory of God and to the advancement of His kingdom.

As a token of our love and esteem, we ask you to accept this purse, accompanied by the very best wishes of Gilmour Memorial Church, both for you and your estimable wife and daughter.

Our prayers will follow you that you may be used of God to the greater prosperity of His cause and kingdom in your new charge.

PRESENTATION FOR MR. JOHN M'DONALD

HAS BEEN SUPERANNUATED BY C. P. R. AFTER LONG AND FAITHFUL SERVICE.

A most interesting event took place at the C. P. R. Freight Offices on New Year's Eve, when Mr. John McDonald, the freight shed foreman, who has been superannuated by the C. P. R. after long and faithful service, was presented with a very handsome leather arm-chair from the freight office and freight shed employees as a testimony to the esteem in which he is held by them. Mr. McDonald has for thirty-three years been in the employ of the C.P.R. here, serving under five station agents.

The presentation on New Year's Eve was made by Mr. J. W. Buyers, of the car service department, on behalf of the employees. Mr. Buyers, who has been associated with Mr. McDonald for twenty-five years, referred to Mr. McDonald's long service, and expressed the wish that he would be long spared.

Mr. McDonald was completely taken by surprise, but expressed his thanks for kind words and splendid gift of his fellow-employees.

In making the presentation to Mr. McDonald, Mr. J. W. Buyers, who officiated in the unavoidable absence of Mr. W. S. Dodd, station agent, spoke as follows:

"In your life and mine there has been a good many milestones, some of which are fraught with pleasant memories and some otherwise. You have reached a milestone to-day and the C. P. R. Company, for which you have worked so long and faithfully, considering that you have done your duty, are about to reward you with a retiring allowance.

This event brings to my memory other pleasant associations of the past, not only with myself and you, but with other employees who have come to the employment of the company since you and I were working together. Your fellow-employees do not wish to let this event pass without some recognition of the worth and esteem in which you have been held.

On behalf of the employees here present, and those who are unable to be present, I present you with this easy chair and wish you many years of life to enjoy a well-earned rest.

In conclusion, I extend the best wishes of the C. P. R. staff to you and Mrs. McDonald, for a happy New Year.

NEW YEAR'S GIFT FOR REV. ARCHBOLD

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 3.—New Year's Eve was the occasion of a very successful "shower" at the rectory of St. John the Baptist Church. The affair was conducted under the auspices of the A. Y. P. A., and generously contributed to by the entire parish, and was a complete surprise to Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Archbold and their little daughter.

Some of the kind donors delivered their gifts at the Rectory, but the bulk of the good things were assembled at the Sunday School and there classified, and augmented by the members of the A. Y. P. A., who likewise planned a unique method of delivery. Messrs. Spence & Sons kindly loaned their sleigh, upon which the "shower" was loaded, and then with the male members in possession of the shafts and the gentler sex lending their assistance in the rear, a speed record was made up the street to the Rectory. Mr. Gerdon Fairbairn preceded the "shower" contingent in order to make sure that the Archbolds were at home, so that not a hitch occurred in the plans, which gave pleasure to so many.

The "shower" consisted of vegetables, groceries, fresh fruit, preserved fruit, candy, meat, fowl, butter, eggs, flour, money, etc., in most enormous quantity—in fact, everything that could be thought of that would contribute to good cheer and a well-filled larder. One contribution had a note attached stating that a load of wood would follow. So the "shower" seems to be hardly over yet.

Dr. and Mrs. Archbold, though overwhelmed with surprise and gratitude, acknowledged the gifts in their usual happy and sincere way, and the young people withdrew with an exchange of New Year good wishes, and glad that they were entrusted by the parish with the consummation of such a joyous event.

DOWNEYVILLE CORRESPONDENCE

DOWNEYVILLE, January 3. —The sudden death of Mr. John Smith was a shock to the community. Up until about a year ago he resided here, prior to moving to Ennismore. About a month ago he went to the lumber camps from where a few days ago he was removed to the hospital in Sudbury. He was suffering from inward fractures from lifting. He died there on Sunday. His funeral took place on Tuesday morning in Sudbury. He was well known in this community, and was highly respected.

Messrs. Eugene O'Neil and Walter Carroll, who have been working in Oshawa, returned home for Christmas.

Mr. William Carroll was renewing old acquaintances east of Downeyville here on Sunday last.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2, and get better than cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex ($0 cents worth); then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the bottle. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you 16 ounces of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for $2.50.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF RHEUMATISM

Entirely Well After Six Weeks' Treatment With "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. AMEDEE GARCEAU

82 Hickory St., Ottawa, Ont.

"I was for many years a victim of that terrible disease, Rheumatism. In 1913, I was laid up for four months with Rheumatism in the joints of the knees, hips and shoulders and was prevented from following my work, that of Electrician.

I tried many remedies and was under the care of a physician; but nothing did me any good. Then I began to take 'Fruit-a-tives' and in a week I was easier, and in six weeks I was so well I went to work again.

I look upon this fruit medicine, 'Fruit-a-tives', as simply marvellous in the cure of Rheumatism, and strongly advise everyone suffering with Rheumatism to give 'Fruit-a-tives' a trial."

Marie, was the recipient of an address and presentation from the Sanctuary Boys of St. Mary's church, Lindsay. Rev. Father O'Leary thanked the boys for the gift as well as the good wishes and kindly sentiments expressed in the address.

Monsignor Casey also delivered a brief address.

Peel Off the Old Skin; Bring Out the New

You know that beneath that muddy, over-red or blotchy complexion you have a skin that's clear, soft and white. If you could only have this more beautiful skin exposed to view instead of the horrid old skin you now behold in your mirror! You can—and by a very simple, harmless process which you can use yourself. Get an ounce of common mercolised wax at your druggist's and this evening spread a thin coating of it over your face. Tomorrow morning wash it off with warm water. Small powder-like particles of the lifeless top skin will come off with the wax. Repeat this daily until all the worn-out scarf skin has been absorbed. Then you'll have a lovelier, healthier looking complexion than you now think possible. Chaps, pimples, spots, freckles or other surface disfigurements are of course removed with the skin itself.

MR. HERBERT C. TREENER AT ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

The many friends of Mr. Herbert C. Treener, the blind musician, who occupied the position of organist of St. Andrew's church so acceptably for eight years, is in the city, and will give an organ recital at the close of the evening service to-morrow commencing at eight o'clock.

This service will also be the first of a series of special services to be held in this church during the next eight days, in which the minister will be assisted by the Rev. A. H. McConnachie, M. A. Young people will find these services very attractive. The friendly church.

PETES ANXIOUS TO SHOW FANS AN IMPROVED TEAM IN O.H.A. GAME MONDAY

Although Cannington were beaten on their own ice last night it was their first game of the season, and they expect to do much better in the return game at Brock street rink on Monday night, especially as there will be several changes in the line-up. The return to form of the Petes, as shown by their fine work in Cannington last night, is gratifying to the local fans, who will be out in large numbers on Monday night to give them a good send-off in the local opening of the O. H.A. season. Another win on Monday night and a victory in Lindsay on Wednesday would give the Petes a great lead in the group race and afford a chance to weld the excellent material that is available into a winning machine. The squad played much better hockey last night than in the game with Belleville, and should show consistent improvement from now on. The fans will find them a different aggregation in the game here on Monday and will be convinced that they are an aggregation that are deserving of the support of the hockey enthusiasts. Good ice is promised for Monday's fixture. It is not yet known who will referee.

PETERBORO WON BY 18-7 IN GAME AT CANNINGTON

The Peterborough intermediate O. H.A. team showed a great reversal of form in their game at Cannington last night, beating Hodgins and company on their own ice by 18 to 7. They led by 6 to 2 at the end of the first period and by 11 to 4 at the close of the second, their speed and combination being too much for the Cannington crew. The Petes profited by the Belleville defeat and discarded individual tactics, combining splendidly for their goals. The result was a team that was 100 per cent. better than that which met Belleville. They played clean hockey too, having only two penalties, Lawson Whitehead, of Toronto, handled the game splendidly. The Petes lined up as follows:

LINDSAY JUNIORS HERE ON WEDNESDAY

Lindsay Warder: Lindsay juniors will open the season at Peterborough on Wednesday night next and from all appearances will put up a fast and brilliant game. The youngsters (for they are all in the strictly junior class) are showing up well. At every practice they show signs of improvement, and the difficulty will be to pick a team. However, during the season the boys will all have a chance to win their spurs.

Sutton, Bell, Green, Chambers and the rest of the lads will stack up against Peterborough juniors at Peterborough a week from Wednesday, and should give a good account of themselves.

LINDSAY WORKING HARD TO GET IN SHAPE FOR PETES

Lindsay Warder: Lindsay Intermediates had a gruelling work-out last night and for one solid hour took their bumps and got wise to each other's style of play. It was the best workout the Intermediates have had this season, and they shaped up like a real team.

O'Loughlig, Richmas and Flavelle formed a strong defence, while a number of the boys warmed up on the forward line.

Coombs was going strong, and young Green, a brother of Green, the junior player, showed up well.

"Lefty" McElroy and "Chuck" Carew, the pair that made the Lindsay Midgets famous a few years ago, worked together in centre and showed their old-time skill. Carew is working harder than ever this year. "Moose" Carew from Varsity, was also on the job last night and worked out with the boys. Lipsett and Ryckman tore off some fast hockey and Griffis was also on the job.

"FIDDLERS THREE" IS COMING TO GRAND

"Fiddlers Three," John Cort's new musical comedy that is said to possess unusual melodic happiness, and was one of the most popular attractions in New York during the first part of the season, will come to the Grand Opera House for one night only, Wednesday, 14th January.

The original cast, with Tavie Belge, the Belgian prima donna, whose voice has caused a sensation in musical circles, is the featured member of a distinctive cast that has the mark of excellence. They are Tom Dingle, Edna Morn, Thomas Conkey, Horace Sinclair, Katherine Clare Ward, Ethel Dwyer, Marius Rogati, and a chorus of thirty young and beautiful women that have been criticised as being "able to sing and dance."

"THE MIRACLE MAN" RANKS WITH GREAT FILM MASTERPIECES

FINE BIG STORY IN PARAMOUNT ARTCRAFT PICTURE WILL GRIP AUDIENCE.

Published originally as a novel in Munsey's Magazine, written by Frank L. Packard, and later dramatised by George M. Cohan, and presented with phenomenal success on Broadway, the Paramount-Artcraft picture, "The Miracle Man," comes to the Grand Theatre on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday next.

As a motion picture this absorbing story has been hailed by the critics as one of the finest productions ever seen on the screen. With scenes laid in the haunts of criminals in New York's Chinatown, in a little village on the side of a giant mountain and on the shore of a roaring ocean, the opportunity for wonderful photographic effects has been realised to the limit.

But the chief interest is in the striking story, which centres about the venerable figure of an old patriarch, who is credited with the power to heal the sick and make the crippled limbs whole again. To him come Tom Burke and his band of crooks from New York's Chinatown with the idea of cashing in on his powers. But it doesn't work out as they calculated, for hidden away in each of them is a leaven of good, which slowly comes to the surface under the influence of their wholesome environment. In a most marvellous way the criminals are reclaimed from the paths of crime.

A cast of unusual ability selects the important roles in the picture, headed by Thomas Meighen, a well-known leading man, and including Elmer Fair, Betty Compson, Joseph J. Dowling, Lon Chaney, W. Lawson Butt, I. M. Dumont, Lucille Hutton, and F. A. Turner.

From notices in Japan and China Minnehaha the Japanese Empress about 25,000,000 tons of coal annually.

Golden Rule Has Place In Trade

Has Been Found To Be Good Business Policy Both for Buyer and Seller

Obligation Not One-Sided

Consumer Gains As Much By Being Fair With Merchant as Latter does by Being Square & Honest

Some cynical persons have remarked that the Golden Rule has no place in business. They have taken the position that instead of doing unto others as you would have them do unto you, the only safe and sane plan is to do others before they have a chance to do you.

It has been proven repeatedly that even in business it pays to practice the Golden Rule, just as it has been proven repeatedly that "honesty is the best policy." It not only makes a man feel better down in his heart when he employs the principle of the Golden Rule, but he finds that it is good business. This applies not only to the man who stands behind the counter and gives a full pound of sugar to the man who asks for a pound, but also to the man who stands on the other side of the counter and pays his money for the pound of sugar.

Does Consumer Do His Part?

The consumer expects the merchant to be honest and square and give him his money's worth for every penny that he spends with him, but how often does the consumer stop and ask himself the question, "Am I being as fair and honest with the merchant as he is being with me?" The consumer not only expects the merchant to give him honest weight and full measure at the lowest possible price, but he expects a world of other things at the same time. Nine times out of ten he expects the merchant to give him credit, and nine nine times out of ten the merchant does it. Many times he expects the merchant to "carry" him for three or four months before he pays for what he buys, and as many times the merchant does it. He expects the merchant to pay for advertising space in the church programme which he is getting up, and the merchant does it. He expects the merchant to "kick in" most liberally when he is raising a fund for the benefit of the town band, and the merchant does it.

He expects the merchant to provide the bonus which is to be paid to obtain a new factory which will benefit the working man, the clerk and everybody else in the town, and the merchant does it. He expects the merchant to "come across" with a donation to help the poor family which otherwise would become a charge upon the common funds of the community and the merchant does.

Another Side to Picture.

Now, look on the other side of the picture. Mr. Consumer decides that he needs a new suit of clothes, or Mrs. Consumer decides that she wants a new kitchen range, or some of the little Consumers express a desire for a train of cars or a bobsled. Mr. Consumer picks up the big mail-order catalogue which the mail order house has printed with his money or that of others like him, and he look it over until he finds a picture that strikes his eye. It's a picture of a "nifty" looking suit of clothes. Of course, he can't feel the picture or see whether the cloth is as good as it looks; he can't look the mail-order man in the eye and ask him whether he will guarantee it to wear for at least a month or six weeks; he can't tell the mail-order man that he will drop in the first of the month and settle for it; he can't tell the mail-order man that he would like to have a little of his business or a chance to do a little carpenter work or painting or plumbing work for him, as long as he is buying his goods from him, for the mail-order man hasn't any business or work to give him. But this picture is a pretty one, so Mr. Consumer digs out his hard-earned cash, goes down to the post office, buys a money order and sends it to the mail-order man.

After a week or ten days, or possibly two weeks, the suit arrives. It may be nothing like the picture. The cloth may be of poor quality. The chances are that it doesn't fit at all. But there is nothing for Mr. Consumer to do but put the suit and wear it. He can't get his money back. He might send the suit back and the mail-order man might send another in its place, but the chances are that it wouldn't be any better than the first and Mr. Consumer would only be out the additional express charges.

Found Golden Rule Pays.

Mr. Consumer found that it pays to remember the Golden Rule in business. If he had done unto the merchant as he would like the merchant to do unto him, he would have got more for his money and he would have aided in making it possible for the merchant to help him and his town when they needed help.

The world has discovered that the Golden Rule is not for use only on Sundays, but that it is value to every day of the week.

Now Is the Time to Buy Your Fruits for Canning. We have a fresh stock every day and can furnish you the finest line of Fruits on the market. We handle all kinds of Fish and Oysters and Canned Goods. It will pay to deal here.

Voice Of The People

Mr. Editor:

I read Mr. Frank Dobbin's letter, in the Examiner of Dec. 31st, with interest and must say there was a good deal of sound logic in it, but cannot understand what he means when he refers to calls as red herrings across the trail to carry the votes away from the real issue, especially he calls on Protestants, I presume he is a Protestant, to go to the polls and cast their ballots as they jolly well see fit. He gives the impression that there was influence brought on Protestants to vote in bloc. Now as a Protestant I protest against this insinuation and would like an explanation from Mr. Dobbin. Never has there been an attempt to influence or interfere with my personal liberty in such matters as he refers to nor would I allow it. As Protestants, we believe in equal right to all, special privileges to none. Thanking you Mr. Editor,

I remain,
J. J. Cunningham.

TORONTO BUTTER MARKET FIRM.

The supply of butter on the Toronto market is still very short, and consequently is quite firm. Most of the wholesale firms are using their storage supplies. No lowering change is anticipated by any of the Toronto wholesale firms after the holidays, but all reports say that the trade is very quiet.

To the Electors:

It is gratifying to find that the principle for which I stood in the recent Election—the co-operation of men and women on the Board of Education—has been so splendidly upheld by the Electors.

The returns show that this principle was heartily endorsed in all sections of the community.

I shall endeavour to faithfully carry out the responsibility entrusted to me.

Sincerely yours,

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. E. Honey. They were attended by Miss Mabel Brown, sister of the bride, and Mr Edward Woodcock, cousin of the groom. STEWART—BUCK

Buck in Norwood, Wednesday at high noon, when their youngest daughter, Ella May, was united in marriage to Mr. Roy Finlay Stewart, only son of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] A. Stewart, of Salem, Oregon, late of Swift Current Sask. The Rev. A. J. Terrill, B.A. B.D., was the officiating clergyman.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very winsome in a dress of white charmeuse with white georgette and silver trimming. She wore the customary bridal veil and carried a large bouquet of ophelia roses. Miss Stella Burgess was bridesmaid and was attired in maize colored georgette crepe and carried a large bouquet of American beauty roses. Lohengrin's wedding march was played by Miss Grace Reynolds. The groom was attended by Mr. H. Errol Buck.

The present from the groom to the bride was a beautiful necklace.

Following congratulations, a dainty wedding breakfast was partaken of. The tables were adorned with carnations and the rooms decorated with Yuletide evergreens and emblems.

OBITUARY

PERCY TRIPP MASTIN

The death occurred at 9.10 this morning at St. Joseph's Hospital, of Percy Tripp Mastin, aged twenty-three, of Belleville.

The late Mr. Mastin and his wife, who was formerly Miss Laura Flute of this city, were visiting his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arza Flute, of 9 Cricket Place, during the holidays. Mr. Mastin had not been feeling well for some time, but was feeling better last week and on Monday last was out walking with his father-in-law. That night a fever set in and his condition grew rapidly worse and during the last two days he had been unconscious, passing away this morning.

The young man was an automobile mechanic in Belleville and a great favourite among his associates. In June last he was married to Miss Laura Flute. Mr. Mastin attended the Methodist church.

Besides his sorrowing wife he leaves his mother, two brothers and four sisters to mourn his loss.

The remains will be sent to Belleville on the [illegible] o'clock train for interment.

WET GOODS MOVING.

Deliveries of wet goods were begun in Windsor yesterday, and several Detroiters who crossed the river fell foul of the police.

CAPTAIN HUBBS IS HOME AGAIN

SAW CONSIDERABLE ACTIVE SERVICE ON THE RUSSIAN FRONT.

Captain F. S. Hubbs has returned to the city after one year's service in Russia, where he served in the capacity of transportation officer for the British mission in Siberia. Captain Hubbs originally enlisted in the 8th C. M. R., and subsequently became machine gun officer in the 4th C. M. R., Captain Hubbs was taken prisoner by the Germans in June, 1916, and following his release re-enlisted for active service in Russia. Captain Hubbs sees little hope of an immediate resumption of normal conditions in Russia. He describes economic conditions at a very low ebb. The salvation of Russia lies in its reclamation by the better elements of the anti-Bolsheviks. Captain Hubbs saw considerable fighting on the Russian front.

ONE REASON FOR THE HIGH PRICES

One argument why Canadian consumers should purchase Canadian manufactured goods instead of going into the American markets is illustrated by a price list received by Mr E. F. Mason in which one line of canned goods manufactured in the United States is quoted one dollar and over per dozen cans. This of necessity means a considerable increase to the consumer which could be avoided by the purchase of Canadian made goods. One excuse for the increase above noted is the exchange situation.

OLD AGE MORE COMMON NOW THAN IN OLD DAYS

Paris, Jan. 2.—Light diet, sobriety, considerable muscular exercise and continence were given as means by which old age may be attained by Professor Widal in a discussion before the academy of sciences of Professor E. Cassagne's "treatise on old age."

The speaker asserted old age was more common today than in other times, pointing out that while men rarely reached the three score mark during the mid-dle ages there were 1,000 centenarians reported in statistics issued during the past year.

DECISION IS REVERSED IN LOEW'S THEATRE CASE

MONTREAL, Jan. 3.—By a majority decision rendered by the Court of Appeals, the proprietor of a theatre has the right to seat spectators where he wishes within the limits of the place corresponding to the price the spectator has paid for his ticket of admission.

The judgment is a reversal of a decision Mr. Justice Fortin rendered in the Superior Court on March 4 last maintaining an action which Sol Reynolds, a colored man, entered against Loew's Theatre, claiming damages for alleged breach of contract in refusing him a seat he demanded in the theatre after he had purchased his ticket.

Loew's Theatre appealed on the question of principle involved in the case, and on that appeal they succeeded by a majority judgment.

WAS DEFEATED.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proved.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. AGENTS RUSHED TO MEXICAN AND CANADIAN BORDERS

EFFORT WILL BE MADE TO PREVENT "REDS" FROM SLIPPING THROUGH SECRET SERVICE NET INTO THIS COUNTRY

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.— The Communist round-up, which has resulted in the arrest of more than 3,000 radicals throughout the United States since Friday night, has only begun, according to Wm. J. Flynn, Chief of the Department of Justice's Bureau of Investigation. "We are not anywhere near through with our work." Flynn, who is in charge of the nation-wide raids said. "So we are going ahead. We are just resting up now so that we can tackle the job with renewed vigor."

It is understood that a strong force of agents has been rushed to the Canadian and Mexican borders to check a rush of aliens seeking evasion of deportation orders. Other agents have been hurried to Atlantic and Pacific ports of entry to watch for radicals attempting to ship on out-going vessels as sailors.

BIG SCENES IN ROUGH RIDING ROMANCE

Tom Mix makes good in "Rough Riding Romance", at the Allen Theatre. This is a delightful story, gripping in heart interest, and yet so crammed with perilous stunts that it surpasses in this phase anything that Mix heretofore has done. When Tom Mix lassoes a train in true cowboy fashion and climbs aboard; when he makes a death defying dash, horseback, up and down a high stairway and up a fire escape to rescue a lovely princess, it seems there could be nothing more exciting left to do: but the rest of the play is so filled with feats of similar quality by the intrepid Mix that it is certainly a record breaker.

As a simple cowboy Mix saves from conspirators a fugitive Balkan king and princess, with the not unnatural result that the Princess loses her heart to this knight of the west at the end of a wuaintly fascinating story. Miss Juanita Hansen, as the princess, gives a delightful performance and is a figure at once [illegible] and courageous.

BLOW FOR THE GOVERNMENT IN GREAT BRITAIN

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 5.— Great Britain's coalition government suffered the worst blow as yet dealt it, in the election of Tom Myers, Laborite, over Sir John Simon, Liberal, in the Spen Valley bye-election, according to the newspapers opposing the cabinet.

Even the Daily News, although it supports official Liberals, urges that Liberal candidates be eliminated in contests where a Laborite success seems probable.

REEVE F. J. BULLIED

Reeve F. J. Bullied, of Chandos, who was elected, with his Council, by acclamation on Nomination Day.

The people of Chandos showed their appreciation of the splendid work accomplished by Mr. F. J. Bullied and his Council by electing them to office for the coming year by acclamation.

Mr. Brooks, when nominating the Reeve, stated that his record during the past five years was beyond criticism, and also further stated that the municipality never was in better condition, and that he would recommend keeping the same Council for 1920.

Mr. Wheeler was a ready seconder, and the election was carried by acclamation.

Reeve Bullied expressed his satisfaction at being returned to the Reeveship for the sixth term, and stated that for the coming year he would continue to further the interests of Chandos in every possible way. As he was about to resume his seat, the assembly began to sing "For he's a jolly good fellow."

The Clerk then declared the Council elected for 1920.

Methodists—Messrs. J. H. Sherin and W. Harper.

Presbyterians—Messrs. A. Fairbairn and J. A. Porter.

Mr. W. M. Graham was elected chairman of the committee, which will meet on Friday evenings during the month.

A strong effort is being put forth for a rally of the men, and if the committee receive the support of their respective churches, it will mean a step Forward in earnest. The church calls as loudly for men as did the country for four long years, and if the response is as good, it will be indeed a successful campaign.

6th January, Tuesday—At the Methodist Church.

The Baptist Sunday School held their Christmas entertainment on Friday, 26th December, when a splendid programme was rendered by the young people. Mr. J. Riddel, the superintendent, made an ideal chairman.

After the programme, the prizes and other good things were taken from the tree and distributed to the pupils, who were delighted to be remembered in that way.

A free tea to the Sunday School preceded the programme, to which all did justice.

THE PEACE COVENANT

DEMAND FOR REPARATION HAS BEEN REDUCED—FINAL TERMS.

PEACE WITH TURKEY

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 5. — The Supreme Council this morning finally decided on the wording of the note to the German delegation confirming the verbal statement regarding the indemnity for the Scapa Flow sinkings made to Baron Kurt von Lersner by Secretary Dutasta of the Peace Conference.

It is understood that this note virtually reduces the demand for reparation from 400,000 tons to about 275,000 tons of dock and harbour materials.

This note will be delivered at the same time that the Protocol is signed.

The signing of the Protocol and the exchange of the ratifications of the Peace Treaty now depends, it is stated, upon the answer of the Berlin Government to the German delegates here on the questions concerning the arrangements for the plebiscites provided for by the Treaty.

It appears certain, therefore, that these important formalities cannot take place to-morrow, as had been originally intended.

The question of the commercial relations between Turkey and the Central Powers after the exchange of the ratifications of the Treaty of Versailles was discussed by the Council at the morning session, and it was decided that the statutes created by the armistice should continue until Peace was signed with Turkey.

The armistice terms prohibit such relations.

A $10,000 FIRE ON YONGE ST

TORONTO, Jan. 5.— Fire of unknown origin, did over $10,000 damage to the premises of J. S. Simmons and Sons, florists, 350 Yonge street, at the corner of Yonge and Elm streets to-day. The blaze was discovered about 8.30. The fire occurred at an hour when Yonge street traffic is at its height during the morning rush citywards of the crowded street cars and automobiles, and immediately after the arrival of the fire equipment, the street was closed to traffic.

PRICE OF BREAD JUMPS TWO CENTS A SMALL LOAF

TRADES COUNCIL ENTER A PROTEST

(Special to The Examiner.)

CALGARY, Jan. 5.—Calgary Trades and Labour Council passed a resolution, introduced by Alex. Ross, M.P.P., on Friday evening in favour of a national protest against the conviction of Russell, which, he claimed, was a knock against the principle of a sympathetic strike, which Labourites affiliated with the International organisations could not accept.

ADVANCE IN SYMPATHY WITH LAST WEEK'S INCREASE IN PRICE OF FLOUR AND WHEAT —IS NOW 26 CENTS A LARGE LOAF.

BUNS ARE 18 CENTS

Following the recent advance of $2.25 a barrel in the price of flour, the bakers this morning announced an increase of two cents a small loaf in the price of bread, from eleven to thirteen cents.

Buns are up to eighteen cents a dozen, graham bread is thirteen cents and the fruit loaves are three cents higher.

Several bakers explained this morning that the new high level of prices was necessitated by last week's advance of $1.30 a cwt. for wheat and the resultant effect on the price of flour, which, in sympathy with the increased cost of the raw material, took the long spread of $2.25 a barrel.

The bakers report that the Canadian consumers are better off than those in the United States, where bread is selling at fifteen cents a loaf, that varies in weight from twelve to sixteen ounces, and has been at that level for six months.

"Our overhead cost has been steadily mounting since the war ended," said one baker. "Everything that enters into the cost of production is higher, even horse-shoeing, just to mention one of what might be considered the lesser items. Under the present conditions, I can see no possibility of declines. The primary costs must drop first."

THREE CASES OF DREAD DISEASE

TWO DEATHS IN KINGSTON FROM ANTHRAX.

(Special to the Examiner)

KINGSTON, Jan. 5.—No concern is felt here because three causes of anthrax have been treated during the past month, two of which died. The first case was that of Everett C. Ireland, a young Smithfield school teacher, who was infected with this animal disease through a shaving brush. The other two cases were men employed in a tannery here, and it is supposed that they became infected through handling hides. Both received the infection in the cheek or neck through a scratch from shaving, one of these men died after a short illness The second one, John Baggs, now in the General Hospital, will recover. From none of the cases has there been any spread of the disease, as the utmost care was taken by those in attendance.

ALADDIN FACTORY TO BE READY MARCH 1ST

According to the plans of the Aladdin Company, they expected to have their factory erected and ready for operations by March 1st, City Clerk Armstrong, who is also Industrial Commissioner, informed the Examiner this morning. He has not yet received a reply from the company to the official notification of the ratepayers' endorsation of the by-law at the polls last Thursday. Definite information is therefore lacking as to when the company will begin work on their buildings which, if constructed during the winter months, will entail special methods to avoid the frost, especially in the pouring of concrete over a large surface to form the floor.

The Nashua Gum and Coated Paper Company are to take over the renovated cordage factory at once, but City Clerk Armstrong has not had any communication from them yet this year. Their representtaives are expected here this week.

FIRST MEETING OF THE NEW COUNCIL NEXT MONDAY MORNING AT 11 O'CLOCK

MEMBERS ELECT WILL TAKE OATH OF OFFICE AND COMMITTEES WILL BE ORGANIZED—MAYOR'S ADDRESS WILL PROBABLY OUTLINE YEAR'S POLICY.

The inaugural meeting of the new Council will be held next Monday at 11 a.m. with the usual formalities, following the taking of the oath of office by the members elect. In his address Mayor Taylor will doubtless discuss the year's work, the undertakings that were begun and planned last year and inscribed at the top of the new page the city turned over last Thursday and the problems that cast their shadows across the path of the new Council.

The striking of the committees and appointment of their chairmen will be the principal item for next Monday's preliminary business. In the organization for the year's activities the Council has eight experienced aldermen to choose from. There is no dearth of material in selecting chairmen. The difficulty will rather be one of elimination, of picking the best [illegible] placing them in the positions for which they appear to be best qualified.

If Mayor-elect Taylor fulfills his promise of pursuing the street railway question with renewed vigor, and the determination of securing the extensions that have been proposed for or three years, the Railway committee should assume a new importance. Last year's chairman, Ald. Edgar also bequeathed the Union station idea, which was revived toward the close of the year.

There is also an opening in the Finance committee which ex-Ald. Taylor held, and in ex-Ald. McIntyre's Manufacturing committee. Of course, all the committees are open for reconstitution, but these three are cut off from last year's connection as a result of the New Year's turnover.

A forecast of the Council's selections in its 1920 chairman is too great a hazzard. Ald. Phelan and Ald. Morrison will both be candidates for the committees they had charge of last year. Aldermen Hamilton and Turner may be prepared to assume a heavier responsibility than their committees carried. Aldermen Gainey and Crowe may be willing to take a chairmanship. Aldermen Gordon and Jones returning to the Council circle, are also looked upon as contenders, and Aldermen Copping and Whitehouse, coming in near the top of the polls, are regarded as capable councillors. The entire Aldermanic Board is not without general qualifications that recommend them for the various vacant chairs, and from the present outlook the committees should be well directed this year.

FARM BUILDINGS

How and When to Paint Them Efficiently.

In the Fall the Buildings, Like Machinery, should Be in Thoroughly Overhauled and Labor Conditions Permit—Broken Windows Should Be Repaired. Dust and Cobwebs Cleaned Away and the Premises Brightened by Cleaning and Whitewash.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

EVERY farmer should care for his farm buildings in such a way as to maintain them in good serviceable condition and so conserve his resources generally. On most farms there are many details in themselves of minor importance, but in the aggregate of tremendous influence. Carelessness of the exterior of buildings is an indication, generally, of the conditions existing in their interior. Slovenly surroundings and general run-down conditions are the tell-marks of inaptitude and mismanagement.

The farmer may not be able to change the location of his farm, but to a great extent he can control its appearance and general conditions by seeing that the roofs are in good repair and weather tight, the fences in place, gates in order and painted, on hinges, not sagging or dragging on the ground, the latches and hinges of all doors and gates greased and operating freely; no broken lights in the window sashes of the various buildings; the stable fixtures in order, the stanchions and partitions in place, and the mangers and floor in good repair, giving to the whole place the impression that it receives prudent care and regular attention.

Investigations have disclosed the fact that concrete is an ideal material for repairing and making in the hands of a resourceful person on the farm. Publications issued by cement manufacturers as to tools and materials used, aggregates, proportioning the mixture, how to mix, how to plan forms, reinforcement, etc., may be obtained for the asking.

Doors—The ordinary stable door construction of two thicknesses of matched lumber is not satisfactory, because the effect of the warm moist air of the stable on the inside ply of lumber causes it to swell, while the outer lumber, being less affected, causes the door to spring out top and bottom. A panelled door is less affected because the expansion and contraction resulting from atmospheric conditions is taken up by the panels.

To hang a door hold it up against the jambs and mark round with a pencil. Then cut down to these lines. Make it ⅛ narrower and ¾ shorter. The hinges should be placed about six inches from the top and the lower one ten inches from the floor. The thickness of the casing should be taken from the total width of the hinge, the balance, divided by two, gives the distance the hinge is to set back from the face side of the door. In all cases the hinge should be wide enough to reach across two-thirds of the thickness of the door. Heavy doors should have three hinges. The mortise for the hinge of the door should bevel slightly toward the front, so that the hinge will not strike the jamb.

Setting locks for the door — Rim locks are those that are simply screwed on to the face of the door. Mortise locks are those set into a mortise in the door itself. The rim lock is held in position and marked for keyhole, knob-bar hole, and screw holes. The first two are cut and the last are bored and the lock screwed into place. The escutcheon and knob plates are put on, and the keeper is then put on to the jamb.

The mortise lock is set into the mortise cut in the door just wide and deep enough to admit it, the face plate of the lock being set flush with the face of the edge of the door. Mark for the knob-bar and keyhole holes. Set the lock and fasten in; the knob plates and escutcheon set, and knobs adjusted. The keeper is then mortised into its proper place, flush with the edge of the jamb.

Roof.—See that the roof is tight. Remember that there are shingles and shingles. The old standard size 16 inches long—five butts together to equal 3½ inches — are superior in several ways to the present method of cutting them to 16 inches long, six butts of two inches. Much depends on the way the shingle is manufactured. A roughly cut shingle will not give good service because of its tendency to draw the water up under the weather line by capillary attraction, and the "fuzz" harbors dust, making good hold for moss to start growing. The edging should be smooth and carefully done so that the butts are slightly narrower than the points so as to allow any debris to pass through the joints and not accumulate and start a rot.

Cattle Ties and Mangers. — The comfort of the cattle is of great importance as it affects the milk production and their feeding qualities. Whatever type of manger is used simplicity of construction, convenience of feeding and cleaning should be considered.

The swivel of the chain cow-tie should be examined to see if it works freely. In any case apply a little grease to it. Any weak or broken links may be neatly and effectually secured by using a slit-link or a wire link made out of two or three turns of fence wire through the links, allowing the ends long enough to be crossed and, wound round the strands in opposite direction after the manner of the lineman's splice. The stanchions, links and swivels should be attended to in similar way. —Prof. John Brans, O. A. College, Guelph.

TOO MUCH BRIGHTNESS.

Plate Glass Said to Fade Under Exposure of Sun.

Several years ago a contract was taken to supply a vertical installation of prisms in a store front of a publisher in the main business thoroughfare of Indianapolis, Ind. To install the prisms properly it was necessary to cut off five feet from the top part of the plate glass, which had been in position for a number of years and exposed to the sun's rays during much of the time.

After the prisms had been installed the five-foot piece of plate glass salvaged was thoroughly cleaned and polished and consigned to stock for resale. In the course of time this salvaged piece of glass was sold, to be used in a front window of a new residence in one of the principal streets in the fashionable residence section. The house was completed and the owner having taken possession, was thoroughly enjoying the sensations of the new home, when the family began to receive telephone calls of a rather puzzling and perplexing nature, asking the price and how quickly delivery could be effected in various quantities of shirts made to order. A certain wag in the community called up the owner, complaining that he, the owner, had made a mistake in building a shirt factory in that neighborhood, and that if he persisted in operating a factory in his residence, in all fairness and consideration to his new neighbors, he should at least remove all advertising from his front window.

The daughter of the house becoming thoroughly aggravated and annoyed at what she had presumed was a practical joke of some sort, proceeded to make an investigation on her own account, which resulted in the writer being requested to call at the house. He was greeted at the front door by Mr. Owner and asked whether the plate glass furnished was really first grade or second handed? To the reply that, from a close inspection at that moment, it was a beautifully polished high grade piece of plate, and to all appearances, absolutely without blemish, he assumed a peculiar knowing smile and asked me to walk down the street with him a short distance; turning abruptly at perhaps fifty paces, he asked me to look at the window. To my astonishment plainly legible at the particular angle, at which we stood, were the words: "John Doe—Shirts Made to Order."

What seemed to be a phenomenon was easily explained. Previous to the plate glass being removed from the show window of the haberdasher, there had been pasted white enameled letters, "John Doe—Shirts Made to Order." These letters being subjected to the direct rays of the sun for a period of years had prevented the fading of the glass (originally green) to a clear white as was the case with that portion which was not immediately back of the opaque enameled letters. The unfaded portion consequently stood out in contrast in its original green, but was not discernable, except at a certain angle.—Scientific American.

Gifted Idiots.

Idiots have been known whose memory for names and words was so retentive that they could repeat verbatim and indicate where the preacher blew his nose and coughed in his delivery. Dr. Moffat, the distinguished African missionary and father-in-law of Dr. Livingstone, once preached a long sermon to a crowd of negroes. Shortly after he had finished he saw a number of negroes gather about a simple minded young savage. He went to them and discovered that the savage was preaching his sermon over again. Not only was he reproducing the precise words, but imitating the manner and gestures of the white preacher.—London Tit-Bits.

Voice Of The People

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir: Now our council will in a few days be entering on their year's work. I wish to call attention to what to do with the old iron bridge over the river on Hunter street, which is now being taken down.

It has been suggested to erect it at the end of London street on the up-stream side of the bridge at the power house dam.

This site has no street connections on the east side of the river, nor any street that might be made would not accommodate the traffic.

If erected at the south end of the street car line where it reaches the river, it would facilitate a heavy traffic both ways to and from town more so when the sewage plant is completed.

I have thus early called public attention to the sites that they may be fully investigated.

John Riddell.

Monday, Jan. 5th, 1920.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Some time ago I read in the Examiner that the Council was going to keep open all winter the skating rink at Little Lake. Everyone that read this announcement was greatly pleased with the idea, especially the south end skaters. Some even bought skates and boots that otherwise would not have done so this year.

Everyone cannot go to Brock street rink. If everyone with skates that wanted to skate, went to Brock street rink, no one would be able to skate; they wouldn't even be able to move, so large is the skating public.

Why cannot the Council see that the Little Lake skating rink is kept open? Now that we have a young man for mayor, let's hope he is a skater and a sport and study the health of the people, and see that something is done to keep open this rink at once. There's plenty of ice and plenty of water in the lake. All it wants is a little attention to prevent people breaking their legs in the holes and carcks that somehow get in unattended rinks.

On every side one hears the remark, how is the skating on the lake, and the answer generally is rotten, it's all holes. How much nicer it would be if the answer could be, instead, it's grand.

The people will object to see any money item in the estimates for looking after the rink, for all that has been so far. It would be far better to spend a little money on an outdoor sport of this kind and have a healthy people, than to have to spend the money on a sanitarium for consumptives through staying in the house, billiard rooms and picture shows all the time. Those things are all right for a change. You have only to watch the children on the street with their little sleighs, and their happy healthy looks, no matter how cold the day, compared with a child kept muffled up in the house, sickly looking. If this is so with children so it is with grown-ups.

If the Council consider the expense too great to keep open the rink, there is no more sporty a crowd than a skating crowd, and would be willing to pay a little to have a good skate. All they want is an opportunity.

Also why not open the bathing house or some such shelter, and charge another nickel for comfort to take off our skates and boots and mend our clothes and boots while skating, and give some pensioner a chance to earn a living by attending to it. Nature has been good to Peterborough, with a lake at its door. Why then not allow the people to use it.

This town could have a first and second class skating rink on the lake, the first class one to be illuminated and a band playing, and charge for a couple as for a dance. The second class rink for children and people whose pockets couldn't afford the grand rink, or for beginners to practise on. I hope the new mayor will read this letter, as it's a fine chance for him to do something that other mayors have neglected. As this is his first year of office, let us remember it as the man who made Little Lake a God-send. Nature has given us the lake; let us make use of it.

I hope the Examiner will give this letter prominence, and also write an editorial on th esubject, as the voice of the south end, and skating public, also the health of the people, demand it.

Thanking you for space in your valuable paper, I remain,

Your sanxiously waiting.

W. P. F.,

On Behalf ohe South End Sports.

Editor, The Examiner:

Sir,—Mr. Cunningham asks a question. I am most cheerfully willing to oblige.

The trouble is that Mr. Cunningham does not know his English. Otherwise he would not take a plain common noun, tack on to it a capital "P," and lending to it an entirely different meaning.

As the English language is of a composite chaarcter, made up of very liberal borrowings from many other languages, we find many words, spelled and pronounced the same, with entirely different meanings, depending on the connection in which used. This word "protestant," is one of the large number.

It applies, for instance, in the case of one who objects, protests; demurs or asseverates against any line of action or of statement. By his action in objecting he becomes a protestant, especially if he be one of a number holding the same view and acting together. The term is much used in legal and other formal statements, as a general definition.

Curiously, and as the word is used, he may be found protesting either for or against, and the word defines in both cases. Then we have the definition as to a certain line of action. In this case it is written or printed as "Protestant," and is applicable in general acceptance to a member of any of those bodies of Christians that protest against the spiritual supremacy of the Church of Rome. Originally one of the party who adhered to Luther after the Second Diet of Speyers, 1529. By the continuous action of the protestants they became known as "Protestants" and have so remained.

Mr. Cunningham, when he quotes from any written or printed statement should not mangle the context. He added the capital "P" of his own volition and with his own object in view, and assumed, I suppose, that intention existed where there was none. Assuming that an appeal had been, or was being made, to people of a religious belief where no such appeal existed.

Respectfully,

F. H. DOBBIN.

ROB EDITOR OF $30,000 IN GEMS

Burglars Make Big Sweep in Home of Publisher of U S. Magazine.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 5.—Burglars entered the Indian Village home of Griffith Ellis, publisher of The American Boy Magazine, New Year's morning and stole jewels worth $25,000 to $30,000.

The family was absent attending a New Year's Eve party. The Ellis home is at 555 Iroquois avenue, in the midst of one of the most exclusive residential sections of Detroit.

The missing gems include a rare pearl necklace, which has been the property of the Ellis family for generations, and estimated to be worth $20,000. The necklace was insured.

Access to the Ellis home was gained through the window of Mrs. Ellis' bedroom, and the police are acting on the belief that the thieves were well acquainted with the layout of the house.

FIND TRAIN ON SIDING

Cars and Guards Waited Fourteen Months for Orders in France.

PARIS, —At Le Mans, an important junction, the French military authorities have just discovered a lost ambulance train with its guard of two soldiers. The whole outfit had been forgotten for fourteen months. What led to the revelation was the fact that the general commanding the district recently found an order awaiting his signature for a half ton of coal and a barrel of wine for the use of ambulance train No. X. He made inquiries as to what train this might be, and finding that no one knew anything about it, went to the siding himself.

"How long have you been here?" he asked.

"Since August, 1918," was the reply "The train was detailed for the offensive of that month, and afterwards was transferred to several stations in turn till at last it reached this siding We have been waiting orders ever since."

THE CLAMOUR.

The children play with endless noise and clamour
Now shouts of joy arise; now shrieks of anger
Inform the universe of their dissession;
Nearby the mother sits unmoved,
Well knowing how swift their changing mood,
How fleet their passions, how short their little day.
And how the evening
Will bring them all, forgeting to her bosom.
If I were called to sit among the mighty
With all this poor distracted world about me,
I'd pray very humbly for a mother's comprehension

COMMENT ON THE ELECTIONS

By JOSEPH WEARING

No municipal election for years here occasioned so many surprises, pleasant and otherwise, as that of Thursday. Did anyone think it possible, after last year's showing, that not a single Labour man would be elected? Or did anyone suppose that the Citizens' Welfare Committee would be able to elect its entire slate? Did the Review, for instance, suppose that Mr. G. N. Gordon would poll more votes than any candidate in the city? Who for a moment dreamed that a young man like Russel Copping would make a clean-up of the city? Or did many people really think that Charlie Sisson would beat two such ex-Mayors as W. H. Bradburn and J. J. Duffus by a handsome majority? I leave these questions with those who voted with the minority in each case.

Some results carry with them a fairly easy explanation. For example, the defeat of the Labour men is no doubt partly due to a reaction from their success of last year, and partly due also to a feeling within their own ranks that moderation is the best policy. Scores of Labour men refused to vote at all at this election. The success of those endorsed by the Citizens' Welfare Committee was apparently due to a feeling among a large body of citizens that this committee had no axe to grind, and were anxious only for the city's welfare. For this reason they were ready to accept the candidates endorsed by the committee en bloc. The one lone Independent made a very poor showing, although his very independence showed a strength of character which is most commendable. The election of Mr. Sisson was no doubt the result of a widespread opinion that a high-class engineer would make a valuable addition to the Commission. Mr. Sisson's election is certain proof that the electors had on their thinking caps. One particularly interesting feature of the election was the showing made by Mr. G. N. Gordon, and it is a clear indication of his strength in the city. He is one man that the masses have faith in, and he cannot be either ignored or damned with faint praise. As for criticism, he seems to thrive on it. The wonderful showing made by Mr. Copping looks like a willingness on the part of all classes to give an ambitious young man, who has many friends and no enemies, an opportunity to make good.

Peterborough does not slam the door of opportunity shut; instead, it opens the door wide open, inviting good men and true to come right in and get busy.

The election to the Board of Education carried with it some notable features. The most pronounced is the continued confidence in Dr. F. C. Neal. Electors apparently vote for him first. Another thing that strikes the observer is the growing strength of Mr. J. W. Worth. People have the opinion that he is right on the job all the time and not afraid of taking an unpopular side, and speaking right out in meeting. The election of Mrs. W. R Morris was not unexpected. There was a growing feeling that women had as much right as men to be represented on the Board.

It will be extremely interesting now to watch developments in certain quarters. Will the Labour men now in the Council seek the endorsation of the Trades and Labour Council or the Citizens' Welfare League at the next election? Will Mr. Patterson advertise the next time he seeks re-election? Will there be any resignations from the Board of Education as promised now that there is a woman on the Board? Will Mr. A. A. McIntyre demand a recount? As Mr. Ascuith says, we must "wait and see."

One feels urged to throw out a little advice. To the Council we would say: Do not try to smother the Labour members. This would be poor work and poorer policy. To the lady member of the Board of Education we would advise that she be prepared to take her "knocks" just as a man would. And to the Mayor-elect, we would suggest a little real practice in the art of oratory.

POINCARE MAY BECOME PARISIAN JOURNALIST

PARIS, Jan. 5.—There is a strong rumor that M. Poincare, when he leaves the presidency of the republic will return, in part, at least, to his early occupation of journalism. He is said to intend to follow the example of President Wilson in this respect, and The Figaro, the chief Conservative and society organ, is mentioned as the newspaper to which he will contribute.

President Poincare takes a keen personal interest in the fraternity of Paris journalists. He helped more than anyone to establish the "Maison des Journalistes," the new Paris press club, the work upon which building began when the shells of Big Bertha were falling in the French capital.

THE DELUGE.

The deluge of liquor into Ontario as a result of the suspension by the Dominion government of the order-in-council prohibiting importation, threatens to undo much of the good that has been accomplished by the temperance regulations. The sooner the Ontario Legislature can meet and pass a resolution calling upon the Federal government to take a referendum in Ontario upon the question of importation the better it will be for the province. In the meantime, however, the flood of spirits will continue at the rate of 150,000 quarts a day, the wealthy will fill their cellars in anticipation of the coming dry spell, and the poor man will endeavor to do the same, with the difference in his case that the money he sends to Montreal for liquid refreshment represents many of the necessities of life that his family will have to do without. The Federal government has announced the necessity of retaining in effect a number of the orders-in-council passed during the war. The order regarding the importation of liquor was one that could with great advantage to the country have been allowed to stand.

A WAR MEMORIAL.

One of the matters that should engage the early attention of the new Council is the question of a war memorial in Peterborough to commemorate the hundreds of brave lads from Peterborough who gave their lives for the Empire in the world war and who lie sleeping beneath wooden crosses in France and Belgium. The subject has several times been discussed, but the second year of peace finds Peterborough with nothing accomplished and with no plans in sight. During the war, whenever the question of a memorial came to the front, is was usually dismissed with the admonition to wait until the conflict was over. And so the matter has been allowed to drag while many other communities have already erected suitable memorials for their war heroes. Although the different organizations of the city, including the Board of Trade, the War Veterans, the Red Cross and the various Chapters of the Daughters of the Empire, and the Local Council of Women would undoubtedly be eager and willing to assist in this matter, the people have the right to look to the City Council for leadership, and the aldermanic body should include the question of a memorial in its programme for 1920.

"If ye break faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep though poppies grow
In Flanders Fields."

THE RELIEF FUNDS.

There are complaints by a number of returned soldiers in regard to the distribution of the government's emergency relief fund that there is a needless amount of red tape involved in the matter. However, if there are genuine cases in which help is needed that have not been relieved, the fault is not to be charged so much against those who are administering the fund as it is against the small percentage of returned men who, by their anxiety to get something for nothing, are interfering with the deserving veterans who really need assistance. Peterborough has not been very much inflicted with this type of ex-service man, but in the larger cities there are unfortunately too many of these "lead swingers," as the soldiers call them, who see in the relief fund an opportunity to beg a little easy money. In Toronto there have been a number of cases where men who had employment quit work in order to get some of the unemployment fund, and others who refused all offers of work. As a result it has been necessary to put in force restrictions to keep the men who have no intention of working if they can help it from loafing at the expense of the country, and naturally these restrictions are a hardship to the men who really are playing the game, who are unable to get positions at work they can do, and who are in need of assistance. There would be no necessity for such precautions were it not for the few wastrels who do not want employment if there is the least chance of getting money without work.

A "BOOZE" BULLETIN SERVICE.

During the period after the armistice, when Canada's soldiers were returning in large numbers from overseas, in Kingston and other military centres the public were kept informed of the movement of troop trains by the posting of bulletins at central locations. "Troop special No. 22 with 2nd Battalion on board arrives at Montreal at 2 p.m. Leaves for west at 2.30," was the style of notices generally used and they were appreciated by the public. A facetious citizen, struck by the unusual anxiety of many people over the movement of trains from Montreal, and anxiety that has become epidemic since New Year's Day, suggests that a similar bulletin service might be inaugurated at the present time. It would undoubtedly ease the minds of many thirsty citizens, he suggests. If at half a dozen points notices such as the following could be posted: 'Booze special No. 22, with 300 cases for Peterborough, due at Toronto at 4.15. List of consignees will be telegraphed later." Needless to say the suggestion has not the approval of either the Referendum committee or the W.C.T.U. At that the "booze" special would probably get a more enthusiastic reception than some of the returned soldiers received at many points.

DANCING.

Speaking on the question of dancing in St. John's church yesterday, Rev. Canon Davidson urged the desirability of commencing social functions at an earlier hour in the evening and terminating them before the small hours of the morning. The rector of St. John's has touched upon a subject which has doubtless occupied the minds of many Peterborough parents. This city, like other centres caught in the joyful reaction that followed the end of the war, has become "dance-mad." This winter so far has been marked by function after function, and it has been noticeable that these dances are becoming later and later in starting, and consequently the good-night dance is not reached until a very early hour. Canon Davidson, appreciating the fact that the majority of the young people who are in attendance at these social affairs, have to earn their own living, and that late hours are therefore neither good for them nor fair to their employers, impressed upon his congregation last evening the need of considering this question and of beginning dances earlier than is at present deemed fashionable. Why it should be necessary to wait until 9.30 or 10 o'clock to go to a dance, when all other amusements such as skating or the theatre, begin at 8 or 8.15, is by no means clear, and there could be just as much enjoyment and just as much dancing if it could be arranged to commence about 8 o'clock and wind up around midnight. Unfortunately, however, if it is a conflict between health and common sense on one side and fashion on the other, the odds are that in spite of Canon Davidson's wise suggestion, and in spite of the weariness of the day after, Peterborough's social functions will continue to start late and to terminate early—in the morning.

THE BOOKS OF OUR ENEMIES.

It is Count von Bernstorff who says that "all these books that are coming out now"—the stories told by Hindenburg, Ludendorff, Tirpitz, and Bethmann Hollweg of their part in the war—"are so much propaganda." The former Ambassador to the United States has an ambition to write history. He is waiting for more tranquil times, when his mind can function impartially. He would like to have the last word in his controversy with the German war lords, who have charged him with bungling in his diplomacy and with having failed to keep the United States out of the conflict. In their morbid judgment it was Von Bernstorff who lost the war for Germany. He will doubtless revenge himself for their insults at the investigation in Berlin when he comes to write history.

Propaganda is a much perverted term. It would be hard to define propaganda to-day. At the outbreak of the war it meant falsification and deception for a purpose wholly bad in the opinion of those against whom it was employed; for a legitimate purpose in the minds of those who resorted to it. The Germans always acted upon the principle that everything was fair in war. Lying became a virtue, and sticking to the lie was meritorious. Of late a blanket meaning has been given to propaganda, which originally, long before the late conflict, signified "the spread of certain tenets and principles," possibly for a worthy object. Nowadays propaganda is supposed to be the organised publication of any statements designed to undermine Governments, mislead peoples, and destroy the existing social system, or to do anything else injurious to the general welfare. In fact, any suspicious publication, or one that baffles analysis and looks sinister, is propaganda. Ordinary lying about any cause or movement is spoken of as propaganda.

In what sense Count von Bernstorff used the word in speaking of the books of his military and civilian enemies is open to conjecture. He probably meant that their aim was to rehabilitate their battered reputations and justify the conduct of the junkers and the militarists who really lost the war. But to most people outside of Germany the memoirs of Ludendorff and Tirpitz, which are best known, are extenuations and personal apologies for failure. Odium has been heaped upon them, and they struck back with spirit and force. They have not made a clean breast of their own acts and motives, and they have not always been fair to German diplomacy. Tirpitz in particular rails against "our diplomatic preparations for the World War." He writes that "our great number of intelligence departments were proving themselves worse than useless, and the same was to be said of many of our embassies." Nor is the Admiral always respectful to the members of his august master.

Ludendorff wields a trenchant pen. A man of dour temper and iron resolution, he does not hesitate to be caustic at the expense of others, and he insinuates that the people at home lost their morale first and infected the army. On the whole, Ludendorff and Tirpitz must have written very much as they felt and believed. Ludendorff's statements may sometimes be vulnerable, but he is frank enough to make damaging admissions against German troops and German leadership. "August 8," he says, "was the black day of the German Army in the history of the war. This was the worst experience that I had to go through, except for the events that, from September 15 onward, took place on the Bulgarian front and sealed the fate of the Quadruple Alliance." On August 8, six German divisions failed to make a stand against the French and British between the Somme and the Luce. The German divisions which Ludendorff had regarded as "effective" were, in his own words, "completely broken." This cannot be "propaganda" in any sense.

That the strategist and the Admiral wrote their books to sell as well as to make contributions to the history of the war may be assumed. In a despatch from Berlin Ludendorff is credited with having reaped a harvest of 3,500,000 marks, and the profits of Tirpitz are given as 900,000 marks. It is calculated that Hindenburg, the most famous of the three, will make 4,000,000 marks out of his book. As a measure of value the mark is not what it was, but if the return of these apologists are to be as large as reported, the war will have its compensation prizes for them.—New York Times.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The man who said this was going to be a mild winter must have meant mild in comparison to the North Pole brand.

There is always the consolation for Peterborough people that no matter how low the thermometer drops, it is always twenty-five degrees colder in White River.

The disappointing showing of Col. J. G. Wright, soldier candidate for the Toronto Board of Control, should be an object lesson to Veterans' Societies that entrance into politics with the membership divided as at present would be a step doomed to failure.

Ex-Ald. McIntyre has proved himself a much better loser than his press agent.

"I don't know where I'm going, but I'm on my way," seems to be Premier Borden's favorite song just now.

The "booze" trains from Montreal are spoiling the joke that Ontario would be so dry this winter that the cold would not be felt.

MR. AND MRS. GABRIEL SWITZER CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

CONNECTIONS AND FRIENDS GATHER TOGETHER IN HONOUR OF ESTEEMED EMILY COUPLE.

On the 22nd of December, 1919, Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Switzer celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage at their home, "The Maples," East Emily.

It was a beautiful day for the occasion, and their brothers and sisters or representatives of the family, together with their sons and daughters and grandchildren, and Rev. H. B. Herington, pastor of Bethel Church, and his wife, were there to do honour to a couple of Emily's most esteemed citizens.

Mr. Roy, photographer, of Peterborough, was present, and secured some photographs of the guests and of the worthy couple themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Switzer have always taken the lead in everything pertaining to the welfare of the church and state, and the community in which they reside, and are staunch supporters of the Methodist Church.

Mr. Switzer held the office of superintendent of the Bethel Sunday School for twenty-six years.

Three years ago he resigned this position, and the executive of the school unanimously conferred the honour upon his youngest son Eugene, who is efficiently leading what is claimed to be one of the best country Sunday Schools in the Bay of Quinte Conference.

Mr. Switzer has attained the age of 76 years, and Mrs. Switzer 75 years. They are both enjoying comparatively good health, and are still taking part in the activities of life. Their family consists of two sons, Sayward and Eugene, both of whom are in the neighbourhood of the home farm; and five daughters, Mrs. Moose Ruth, next farm to the home of the parents, Mrs. James H. and Mrs. Lewis E. Jones, of Port McNichol, and Misses Ida and Ella at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Switzer were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents in gold, and also of the congratulations of their many friends in having attained fifty years of wedded life.

Their many friends and acquaintances join in wishing Mr. and Mrs Switzer many more years of health happiness and prosperity.

SANDRA DINES WITH MR. HALLIDAY

CHAPTER XII.

We went to a very attractive restaurant for dinner. We had not been long seated when Mr. Halliday came in. To my surprise Everett asked him to join us; which he did with profuse thanks for the invitation.

Why did Everett ask him to join us after the way he had spoken of him? It seemed strange to me and I expect I was more than a little absorbed in trying to adjust things in my mind, and so was not a very interesting companion. Because the first thing I knew Everett and his guest were talking of people of whom—I admire the way she kept her own counsel. I never have heard that she ever made a complaint."

"Oh, she is a game sport all right.' They then changed the subject and talked of the stock market and of business in which I had no interest. I wondered idly who this Irma Barton was and where she lived and if she was as pretty as Mr. Halliday seemed to think. I longed to know some of Everetts friends, and had no doubt that when we were settled in our new home that they would also be my friends.

I was really anxious to reach Hendon. I knew from what Everett had said that he must have a nice home, and it was to be my home. I knew I should miss nothing of shops and theatres in going to Hendon and in addition I should be in my wonderful home and be able to write Rose all about it.

Several days afterward when Everett went out in the morning, he remarked casually:

"I shall be engaged all day so don't expect me to luncheon."

"I may go for a walk, mayn't I?" I asked.

"Yes—I guess you will know enough to find your way back."

"Of course I will," and I kissed him rather enthusiastically.

I had walked for over an hour and was standing in front of a most attractive store window when I heard a voice say:

"I am in luck indeed. Won't you take pity on me and lunch with me, Mrs. Graham?" and Mr. Halliday, Everett's friend smiled down on me.

I was wholly unprepared for this invitation and flushed and hesitated. I tried to formulate a graceful answer to his invitation but the words would not come. I found myself being piloted along the street for a few steps and into the door of a prominent restaurant.

Even after I was seated I was still confused and had it not been for the tactful way in which Mr. Halliday ignored me and gave the order, so I had never heard.

"She is lovelier than ever," Mr. Halliday said.

"Yes — she has improved wonderfully and yet there seemed little room for improvement," Everett replied slowly; "she is one of the most charming women I know."

"Barton drank himself to death, I heard."

"I don't know as to that; but Irma certainly had a lot to stand from him giving me time to recover myself, I think I should have run from the table. But with the first course, luscious oysters, I felt more at ease; after all he was Everett's friend, why should I be so nervous about lunching with him; so I bashfully tried to tel him that I had never been in a public place without Everett and that was the reason that I hesitated.

"Oh, Graham won' care—at least what is sauce for the goose is, or should be sauce for the gander. And it is not secret that he does not hesitate to lunch with whom he pleases."

"But he is married now — he will—"

"Go right on doing as he pleases. You are not to live in a country town little lady. Morals in New York and in Lakeville are entirely a different affair. Then he went on to tell me of several people he knew, their mode of living, etc.

Absorbed, I leaned forward. Had I been older, more accustomed to the world, I should have taken his chatter for what it was worth, and nothing more. But I had just asked him about Irma Burton, when he said:

"What did I tell you?"

I looked up just in time to see Everett and another man walk to a corner table and sit down, his broad back toward me.

HEART SO BAD

WAS NOT SAFE TO LEAVE HER ALONE

Miss Eva P. Yateman, Krugersdorf, Ont., writes: "I feel that I must write and tell you of the great benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. About four years ago I was taken terribly bad with my heart, nerves and fainting spells, and was down in bed for about six months. I doctored with two different doctors and seemed to get better although the fainting spells would not leave me. I would take such terrible falls wherever I was, that it was not safe to leave me alone at any time. At last I decided to resort to proprietary medicines, and took several different kinds but seemed to receive but little benefit from them. One day noticing the advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I decided to try them. Before I had taken more than two boxes I could see that they were helping me. I have taken about ten boxes and am almost cured of those terrible spells. I sincerely feel that your medicine has proved a blessing to me and I advise anyone troubled with their heart to try them as I am confident they will find relief."

THIRTEEN CENTS NOW FOR BREAD IN OTTAWA

OTTAWA, Jan. 5.—Another rise in the cost of livinf occurs to-day, when the bakers of Ottawa increased the price of bread two cents a loaf.

Several of the capital's largest bakery owners when interviewed last night, stated that the increase was the natural outcome of the recent order of the Canada wheat board increasing the price of wheat at Fort William from $2.30 to $2.80 per bushel.

Bread will from now on cost 13 cents for unwrapped bread. A corresponding increase will be made in the price of fancy bread and cakes.

APPLES FOR ONTARIO

Some Varieties Recommended for Home Orchards.

Early Bearers and Annual Producers Desirable — Also Varieties Not Easily Liable to Disease—Hardiness Also a Good Quality—Keep Potato Rot From Spreading.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

THE home orchard should provide high-class dessert and cooking apples throughout the entire apple season, or from the middle of July until the following spring. It is quite easy to select varieties for any part of old Ontario which will do this satisfactorily. The varieties selected should come into bearing early, should produce annually, and should be as free as possible from diseases of all kinds, so that they may be handled with a minimum of expense and care. Throughout this article the varieties mentioned are listed in the order of their season of use, so that intending planters may be guided in making a selection to cover the season.

In order to simplify the selection of varieties for any given district a classification of the most desirable varieties is given herewith based on their relative hardiness, which is their ability to withstand cold winters successfully.

Hardiest:—Transparent, Duchess, Dudley, McIntosh, Hibernal, Crabs. These are hardy as far north as Parry Sound, and can be grown successfully even further north.

Third Hardiest:—Blenheim, Tolman, Spy.

Fourth Hardiest:—Gravenstein, Wagner, Stark, Greening, Ben Davis.

Fifth Hardiest:—These varieties are more or less tender and thrive best south of a line drawn from Hamilton to Brantford and Goderich—Canada, Ribston, Hubbardston, Grimes, Ontario.

Sixth Hardiest.—These varieties are tender and thrive best in the Lake Erie counties, although they are not entirely satisfactory even there—Jonathan Winesap, Spitzenberg, Newtown.

King and Baldwin are omitted from the above classification for the reason that their inclusion would probably be misleading. It is true that these varieties were formerly listed in about the fourth grade for hardiness, but intending planters would do well to make careful note of the fact that they have winter killed badly of recent years, even in the most southerly counties of Ontario.

The varieties which come into bearing earliest (about five or six years) are Duchess, Wealthy, Milwaukee, Wagner and Ontario. Most of the other varieties listed should begin bearing at about seven or eight years, but Blenheim and Spy are notorious exceptions to this, and frequently do not produce fruit until they reach fifteen to eighteen years of age.

The varieties which are least subject to apple scab are Duchess, Ribston, Blenheim, Hibernal, Baldwin and Rhode.—Prof. J. W. Crew, O. A. College, Guelph.

Keep Potato Rot From Spreading.

When harvesting potatoes, more especially in damp seasons, it is essential to pick them over and discard any specimens that are diseased, particularly those that show any indication of rot. If this is not done, the disease is liable to spread through the whole mass during storage. If wilt or dry rot (Fusarium) or black leg and wet rot (B. phytosaprus) or late blight (Phytophthora infestans) has been noticed in the growing crop, it may be taken for granted that a percentage of the tubers will be infected. These diseases may be found in all stages of development in the tubers produced by an affected plant. These are the diseases most liable to spread to a greater or less extent through a pile or bag of stored tubers if any of them are noticed at the time they are stored away. Consequently, the greatest care should be taken when harvesting a crop that has shown diseases when growing in the field.

These diseases show themselves on the tubers, either as a dry moldy rot or a wet slimy rot, or as brown or blackish discolorations. On some tubers the diseased condition may be fairly well advanced and consequently easily noticed. On other tubers the disease may be of recent development and not easily seen.

Where practicable it is desirable to pick out all tubers in which the disease is readily seen and then to wash the remainder either in a tub of water or by turning a hose on to them. This washing not only removes any soil that may be sticking on, but it intensifies the discolorations produced by the disease, and so makes it a comparatively easy matter to pick out those tubers which are only lightly affected. After washing, the undesirable specimens should be removed and the remainder thrown out in a thin layer to dry before being stored away.—Prof. D. H. Jones, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

Fertile Soils for Alfalfa.

Alfalfa will not thrive on poor land, or that which is deficient in lime. Even soils that are moderately fertile and produce good average grain crops will not produce profitable crops of alfalfa unless first limed and then planted in sweet clover, which should be turned under while it is green and juicy in the fall or late summer.

Cost of Mail Tunics.

These are in the smart shops some interesting tunics made of a fabric resembling coat of mail—chain armor, really. These tunics are worn with skirts usually the same color but in a different fabric, one of the heavy silks. The fabric is in silver and gold, and the tunics are made with short sleeves, a plain neckline and a narrow belt to hold in the waistline a little. The tunics drop well over the hips.

I believe the Compound will cure any female trouble."—Mrs. Alice Heller, Christopher, Ill.

If complications exist, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for suggestions in regard to your ailment. The result of its long experience is at your service.

WOMAN'S ART ASSOCIATION HELD A MEETING SATURDAY

MRS. ALICE ROGER COLLINS OUTLINED AIMS AND OBJECT OF ORGANIZATION—NEW MEMBERS JOIN THE ASSOCIATION.

On Saturday afternoon the splendid new Art rooms of the Woman's Art Association, at the Conservatory of Music, were formally opened by a charming and most successful tea and musicale; the programme for the latter having been cleverly arranged by Mrs. Alice Roger Collins.

The entertainment was opened by a few words by Mrs. Sherwood, the president of the Art Association, who outlined the aims and objects of the Association, which is to encourage and stimulate an appreciation of Art. To this end a series of art exhibitions, musicales, etc., will be held in Peterboro.

The Programme.

The diferent numbers of the programme were enthusiastically encored by the large audience who keenly appreciated the discrimination shown by Mrs. Collins in arranging the numbers. Mrs. Collins herself gave some piano solos which justified the reputation she had already gained as an artist. While the city claims her as a daughter her appearances in Peterboro are regretably few and her every appearance is greeted with sincere enthusiasm. Miss Ina Allen who recently came to the city to reside, delighted those present with her solo, "Land of Long Ago," which was the opening number of the programme. Miss Allen is a valuable addition to the musical talent of Peterboro.

SMALLPOX BREAKS OUT IN PARIS

(Canadian Press)

PARIS, Jan. 5.—Small pox situation in this town is more serious, one case was recently removed to Brantford Isolation Hospital and to-day an appeal was made to provide accommodation for three new cases, said to be of serious type, but this had to be refused owing to lack of accommodation.

ESKIMOS FIRST SETTLED IN NEW YORK STATE REGION.

Eskimos were the first settlers of New York, according to evidence offered by about 12,000 relics recently presented to the New York State Museum. In the collection are many implements used by this people, among them a semi-lunar knife, having near its top a natural inclusion of calcite, which spreads out in ornamental form like some strange Mongolian symbol. It is said that it is not improbable that it dates from more than 10,000 years ago.

The route southward by these ancient Eskimos seems to have been across the St. Lawrence, skirting the east shore of Lake Ontario, and thence south and westerly. These same people ranged in other directions, notably in the Champlain basin and the headwaters of the Hudson, where many more of their implements found.

Archaeologists identify in the collections relics of the next period left by the early Algonquins. Still later follow the mound builders.

HEAVY MEAT EATERS HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have Bladder trouble.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatisms, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

UNABLE TO WORK FOR EIGHT MONTHS

FOR FOUR YEARS CONDUCTOR COULD ONLY WORK HALF TIMES NEVER MISSES AN HOUR NOW.

The remarkable results being obtained from Tanlac is further evidenced in the case of Albert Burgess, a popular conductor on the Winnipeg Electric Railway, who lives at 453 Stradbrook Avenue, Fort Rouge. Mr. Burgess called at Liggett's Drug Store for his fifth bottle of Tanlac recently, and made the following statement:

"I have been so wonderfully benefited by Tanlac that I will never stop praising it," said Mr. Burgess. "For the past four years I have not been able to work but about three days a week, and have had to spend a good part of my wages trying to get my health back. For eight months I was unable to hit a lick of work and was just barely able to get about. I suffered with awful pains through my forehead all the time and also had spells of dizziness, when I would have to catch hold of something to keep from falling. My stomach finally got in such a bad shape that I could scarcely eat a thing and barely enough to keep me alive. That little I did eat soured on my stomach, and I suffered terribly from gas and bloating. I took all kinds of medicines, but still I suffered and could not get myself in shape to work more than half time. I would go for weeks at a time without getting more than an hour's sleep at night. My condition was awful, and I didn't know what to do for relief.

"At last a friend begged me to try Tanlac, and now I wish I had known it long ago, for it has really made me feel like a brand new man. I used to suffer with a dreadful hurting in the pit of the stomach, but after taking Tanlac a short while this trouble disappeared, and now my stomach is in such a good shape that I can eat just anything I want, and never suffer a bit with gas or pain, and my appetite is so big that I can hardly get enough to eat. The pains have not only left my head, but all my misery is gone, and I have not missed an hour from my work since shortly after I began taking Tanlac. I have also gained several pounds in weight, but what I was after was relief, and thanks to Tanlac I have found it. I can now handle my work as well as when I first got my run seven years ago. It certainly was lucky for me that I got Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd.; in Havelock by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Fowlers Corner by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert by A. J. Scott; in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

FIRST WHISKEY SHIPMENTS REACHES TORONTO ON FIRE

TORONTO, Jan. 5.—The first carload of whiskey shipped into Toronto from Montreal, arrived over the Canadian National Railway line Saturday afternoon. The car caught fire and part of the contents, said to be Scotch whiskey and other brands valued at $35 a dozen, was destroyed. How the car caught fire was not made known. When the fire was discovered the cases were hurriedly unloaded on a siding on the Esplanade near Church street, and what was not destroyed hauled over to the railway warehouse. C.N.R. officials admitted the car was on fire, but refused to give out details.

MUSIC YESTERDAY AT KNOX CHURCH

The music at Knox Church yesterday was of an interesting character.

The contralto solo, "Consider and hear me" (Pfleuger), was admirably sung by Mrs. W. McKee Bingham. Mrs. Bingham possesses a contralto voice of unusual range and volume, while her interpretation is excellent.

Miss M. C. Hay, also a contralto, of Montreal, sang a setting of "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" at the morning service, which pleased the congregation very much.

The choir sang an unaccompanied number at each service—"Come Unto Me" (Bowles) in the morning, and "The Friend in the Homeland" in the evening.

POOLROOM WAS RAIDED SATURDAY NIGHT BY POLICE

CASE HEARD IN POLICE COURT THIS MORNING AND JUDGMENT DEFERRED.

In this morning's police court Garret Spencer, who conducts a barber shop, tobacco store and pool room, at 58 Hunter street East, was charged with keeping a disorderly house, namely a gaming house.

Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for the defendant and pleaded not guilty.

Detective George Cookman was the first witness called and stated that he had been detailed about the 1st of December to watch the place, and on different nights since then, had noticed through the west window at the back the men playing the game called "live pool." I have seen from 6 to 12 men playing at one time I noticed money thrown on the table by the players from time to time. One man would pick it up, and make change and then hand over some money to Mr. Spencer or Mr. Primeau who works for Spencer, before the game was over.

On New Years' Eve I could see through the glass better because it wasn't frosted, and saw two bills given to a man in a brown sweater evidently the winner.

Magistrate—"Did you see many games played?"

"Yes; a great many."

Questioned on the raid, Cookman said it took place shortly after nine o'clock on Saturday evening and ten were playing the game at the time. The men paid 15c a cue; 5c going to Spencer and 10c into the "pot."

Game of Skill.

Mr. Gordon cross-examined Cookman and brought out the evidence that it was a skilful game and that when a man made an unsuccessful play he went out of the game.

Constable Boyd gave evidence. He stated that he had watched the pool room several times at night and had seen them playing the game through the back window and throwing the money on the table. The constable described the game as well as he could. Each man took one of the balls and then one man placed his ball at the centre of the table at one end another shot at it. The object seemed to be to pocket the other man's ball. If a man loses his ball he loses one life out of the three that he has. Each man shoots at the ball of the man who shot previously.

Magistrate—"Is the winner the last survivor?"

"Yes."

"What do you know about the reputation of that place?"

"It has the reputation of being a gaming house."

Mr. Gordon—"How do you know it was a gaming house?"

"I have heard it in different pool rooms."

Constable Boyd could not say just who it was that told him.

Mr. Gordon—"Did Spencer know anything about the pot?" "No."

"Why did you go to Spencer's?"

"To spend the evening. When the others started playing live pool, I joined in too." Mr. Halpin said it was a very skilful game.

Mr. Garret Spencer, the accused gave evidence for the defence. He stated that it was a skilful game and that skill predominated over chance "I warned them not to play for money."

Mr. Gordon—"You charged five cents a cue?" "Yes."

"Did you get anything more than that?" "No."

"Has any gambling ever taken place in your place?" "No never."

Spencer said that the only time he had ever been summoned to the Police Court was when he sold some tobacco to a minor.

Mr. Hatton—"How long have you had this table?" "About two months."

"Is it used exclusively for that game?" "No, it is used for other games, too."

"About December 1 I warned them not to throw money on the table to pay me for it cut the cloth.

"You don't know whether they collected more than 5c a cue?" "No—I don't; they didn't while I was there."

"You had no knowledge of them paying 15c?" "No, not until after the raid."

John Guerin was called, and stated that he had never in five years heard a word against the reputation of Spencer's. He said that he never remembered Spencer being in whn thv weer playing for money.

Magistrate—"Did you ever win the pot?" "Once or twice."

After the magistrate had heard the defence and the Crown Attorney he deferred judgment until January 13th.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured by B.B.B.

Rheumatism is a constitutional disease, caused by the uric acid in the blood. It manifests itself by pain and lameness attacking the muscles and joints of the body, which often swell and become hot and inflamed.

Anyone who has suffered months after months, and perhaps year after year, with rheumatism, and who has tried remedy after remedy in the hope of relief, and without success, should not give up hope.

Burdock Blood Bitters, by invigorating the digestive organs and eliminating the uric acid from the system, will give prompt and permanent relief.

Mrs. D. Barry, Purlbrook, Ont., writes:—"I feel it my duty to let you know of the great benefit my husband derived from using your Burdock Blood Bitters. He had been suffering for the past two years with inflammatory rehumatism. He tried many medicines but got no better. A friend advised him to take B. B. B. He did so, and after taking five bottles he felt like a new man, and was able to go to work the same as ever."

ISSUED WRIT FOR $1,000 AGAINST H. MATTHEWS

Mr. G. N. Gordon has issued a writ for $1,000 against Mr. Howard Matthew for alleged slanderous statements during the municipal elections campaign. Mr. Matthews, is a printer employed by the Review Printing Company and is a representative of the Typographical Union on the Trades and Labour Council. He has been prominent in the affairs of the Trades Council and is also a member of the Independent Labour party. Mr. Gordon confirmed the report, but did not give any particulars.

You have no idea how big the other fellow's troubles are.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS TRY BITRO-PHOSPHATE

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals, it is a well-known fact that the lack of phosphorous in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition.

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorous may now be met by the use of Bitro-Phosphate, which can be obtained from any good druggist in convenient tablet form.

In many instances the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue soon produces a welcome change—nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy and the whole body loses its ugly hollows and abrupt angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing.

CAUTION:— White Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

MONTREAL, Jan. 5.—Many of the Protestant public schools closed this morning one hour after opening on account of the situation precipitated by the strike of the civic water employees.

WOOD ALCOHOL ARRESTS LIKELY SOLVE MYSTERY

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Two arrests, which the Federal officials believe will solve the mystery as to the source of the wood alcohol which caused one hundred deaths in this city, Newark and New Jersey, were announced to-day by Harold B. Dobbs, revenue agent. They were Cosimo D'Ambrosia, Brooklyn chaffeur, who was taken into custody on Saturday in a farmhouse in Catskills, at Kiskat, N. Y., where he is alleged to have been in hiding, and William Woller, Brooklyn, garage keeper and printer.

Charges aginst the men have not been made public, but Joseph F. Mul-Queen, Assistant United States' Attorney, announced that he would ask that they be required to furnish fifty thousand bail each when arraigned.

CHANGE THE FORMULA.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 5.—Hugh C. Wallace, American Ambassador, was reported yesterday to have asked the Supreme Council of the Peace Conference to change the formula referring to the power participating in the Council from "Allied and Associated Powers" to "Allied Powers." This report was not strictly correct, it was learned today. Ambassador Wallace, it is stated, has not asked for abandonment of terms "Allied and Associated Powers," but merely requested that, when questions arose which involved the United States, this formula including the United States, be not used in documents until he has time to get a decision from Washington on such questions.

O.H.A. SEASON OPENS TO-NIGHT WITH INTERMEDIATE GAME IN LOCAL RINK

The Petes are in good shape for their O.H.A. game with Cannington to-night at Brock street rink, and are anxious to show the home fans that they were miles below their real form in the exhibition game against Belleville last week. They hope to beat Cannington to-night, and by handing Lindsay a dose of the same medicine in Bowmanville on Wednesday, secure a commanding lead in the district race. To-night's game will start at 8.30 sharp, and although the Petes won in Cannington the other night, the villagers expect to do much better here as the game gave them a chance to size up their material and to select a faster line-up for to-night's fixture. The ice of course is the best of the season, and if the Petes do not give a good exhibition of hockey, the disappointment of those who saw the game in Cannington will be great, for the green shirts sure travelled at a dizzy clip in that battle. A big crowd of fans should see the start of the 1920 O.H.A. season.

FIRST JUNIOR BATTLE HERE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The first junior O.H.A. game of the season will be staged at Brock street rink on Wednesday night when the Peterborough juniors will clash with their old rivals, the Lindsay Midgets. It should be a rattling good game. The local squad starts out this year with not a player in the line-up who has ever played O.H.A. hockey before, which is a record for junior hockey here for many years. The only regular of last year's junior who was still available for this year's team was Roy Cherrett, who is with the intermediate squad. However, the kids have shaken down into a very promising aggregation, who are liabel to spring a surprise on the cocky Lindsay gang here on Wednesday. Lindsay have a number of last year's team in line, including Oliver, the clever goalkeeper, and Garnet the big defence man, and Geo. Bell and Stoddard who performed on the forward line.

There is a double schedule in the junior group and the fans should see some good hockey as a result.

FARMERS' CO-OPERATIVE COMPANY'S STORE

EXPECTED TO OPEN FOR BUSINESS THE END OF THIS WEEK.

The new business premises to be occupied by the Farmers' Co operative Company, Limited, will be opened the latter end of this week. The situation is quite central, although off the main thoroughfare, and occupies Nos. 176-178 Simcoe street, in what was formerly known a the Snowden block. The work of fitting up these premises to suit the special requirements of the Farmers' Co-operative Headheadquarters has been in progress for a month past, and last week was sufficiently completed to permit of the stocks being placed and the general arrangement for business carried out. The two stores have been conveniently located for business purposes the accommodation being commodious enough for handling well filled stocks of the leading lines usually carried by large first class grocery stores. The interior and front of the twin stores have been decorated with a clear, strong white paint; giving a distinct contrasting appearance to these premises from other stores in the block. The manager in charge is Mr. Coburn who has been identified with similar branches for this company in other centres. He has also done service for the cause of the allies in the recent war, and is a young man pleasantly sociable and possessing good business traits.

On enquiry it was ascertained that the business of the Farmers' Co-operative Stores will not be confined to farmers' trade solely, but for the benefit of the general public as well.

MUCH CHEESE HELD ON MONTREAL MARKET.

The cheese market at Montreal is quiet, but there is a better feeling in the market, and probably more activity will develop in the near future. The stock of cheese there is large for the season of the year, of which considerable of it is held for foreign account, but there is also a fair quantity held by local houses that has not been sold yet.

CHEESE AT NEW YORK.

All the dull features incident to the holiday season were displayed on the New York cheese market. Local demand is very tame, but dealers are not pressing sales at the expense of concessions. The price is slightly firmer in the lower spread, and now covers a range of 29c to 32½c per pound.

THE CHURCHES UNITED EFFORT

A number of the congregations of the city have fallen in line with a suggestion made by the general committee in charge of the Forward Movement to begin the year 1920 with a series of special meetings of a nature calculated to deepen the spiritual life, quicken faith and enlist in an effective way the loyalties of Christian people to the Christian cause. These meetings will commence to-night and the people are cordially invited to be present and enter into this opportunity for fellowship and vision. A clear vision of God, which we are not likely to get without witing upon Him, will make for a clearer view of all the associations of life, and help us to achieve the better things which are stirring at this season of the year. The following is a brief report of the services as held in the different churches yesterday, and the programme for the present week:

St. Andrew's Church.

The meetings in St. Andrew's will be held in the school room and the minister will be assisted by Rev. A. H. McConnachie, M.A., who gave an inspiring message last evening to a large congregation. Mr. McConnachie, in speaking of the meetings to be held this week, said:

"There is a bit of the mystic in all of us and the human soul hungers for seasons of quiet waiting upon God, for a communion with the unseen and a sound of the still small voice."

Judging from last night's address, Mr. McConnachie's messages will be earnest, sympathetic and virile. The meetings will begin sharp at eight o'clock. A meeting of the session will be held at the close. Young and old are cordially invited to be present.

Park Street Baptist Church

The Rev. J. B. McCormach of Norwood, preached yesterday morning and evening in the Park street Baptist church. His subject in the morning was "Partakers with Christ" in the evening "The Impossible made Possible." Both addresses were in the interest of the Forward Movement and were much enjoyed by all.

Park street will observe the Week of Prayer by a series of special prayer services. The young people are holding themselves responsible for the meeting to-night and an earnest request is made for a full attendance at this evening's meeting; that it may be a fitting example for the remainder of the week. The pastor and deacons urge that every member of the church and congregation will meet for prayer and praise.

Trinity Church.

At the opening meeting of the Week of Prayer in Trinity Church, Colonel Duncan Walker, principal of the Normal School, will give an address to-night in the church at eight o'clock. Captain Maurice Park will sing. The whole congregation is expected to be present but a special appeal is made to the young people of the congregation to come out.

The following is the programme for the remainder of the week:

Tuesday night: Cottage prayer meetings at the homes of Mr. J. H. Northey, 435 Stewart street, and Mr. R. F. Downey, 298 Bagwell avenue.

Wednesday night: The second meeting in the church. Four five-minute addresses wil be given by members of the Board. A men's choir will lead the singing. The men of the congregation are urged to come out and help make this meeting a success.

Thursday night: Cottage meetings to be announced.

Friday night: The Rev. R. J. D Simpson of Toronto, will speak. All these meetings are in the interest of the Forward Movement.

Mr. Simpson is a very able speaker and it is hoped that he will be greeted by a large audience.

Knox Presbyterian Church.

The programme for the Week of Prayer for Knox Church is as follows:

The meeting to-night will be in charge of the Young Peoples' Guild.

To-morrow night the minister will take charge.

Wednesday night the Sunday school superintendent and his staff of teachers and officers will have the meeting.

Thursday night the ladies of the congregation are in charge and on Friday the men of the congregation will be responsible for the service.

St. Paul's and George St. Methodist.

These two congregations are uniting for the special services which are being held in connection with the week of prayer, and as part of the Inter-Church Forward Movement.

The meetings are to be held in St. Paul's Church and will commence each evening sharp at 8 o'clock. The Rev J. M. Glassford will preach each night. Mr. Glassford supplied in St. Paul's church last summer. He is a preacher of great power and his messages will mean a spiritual uplift to all who hear him.

The members are requested to turn out to all these services .There will be good singing and the meetings will not be of undue length.

A very cordial invitation is also extended to members of other churches who may not be observing the week of prayer in their own church, to turn out to these services.

The suggestion has been made that the young people of the country belonging to the different churches might well get up sleighing parties and attend the meetings from night to night. There is good shed accommodation in all the churches for those who might attend.

The Vancouver, B. C., Province says: Mrs. S. McL. Fee of Peterboro, Ont., who has been visiting her cousin, Mrs. H. Barr, of 436 Seventeenth avenue west, for the past few days, left last night on the Princess Victoria, en route to Portland, where she expects to spend the winter.

WORK AND PLAY AT THE Y.W.C.A.

Work and play at the Young Women's Christian Association are in full swing again after the holiday season. Two gym classes were held Saturday morning and the Ever Bright Club met in the afternoon.

The gymnasium work will go on as usual this week and in addition there will be the following meetings:

Tuesday—6 p. m., Athena Club for supper, gym and club meeting.

Tuesday—8 p.m., Meeting of girls to organize a new club.

Friday—7.30 p.m., Story-telling circle.

Saturday — 7.30 p.m., Campers' League.

Later in the month it is expected that Judge Huycke will give a series of lectures on the laws of Ontario, of special interest to women. Further announcement of this will be made later.

LETTISH TROOPS DEFEAT THE REDS

(Canadian Press.)

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 5. — Despatches from Riga to-day declare that Lettish troops have broken the Bolsheviki front along the Dvina.

Very heavy fighting followed, resulting in the penetration of the Bolshevik position on the first day. The attack was pressed, the Red lines were pierced, and the Dvina crossed.

The advance continued, the Bolshevik retreating rapidly.

U.S. PAPERS FEAR EMBARGO WILL BE PUT ON INTIMATE POSSIBILITY OF RETALIATION IN COAL EXPORT.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 5.—A number of United States newspapers which received more or less paper supply from Price Bros., of Quebec, are sending telegrams to the Finance Department here, saying that they have been informed by Price Bros. that the Dominion Government is placing an embargo on the export of paper from Canada.

Intimations are made that an appeal may go to Washington to stop the export of American coal to Canada.

As a matter of fact, no order to stop the export of paper from Canada has been made, but Price Bros. have refused to obey the orders of the Dominion Paper Controller, and action against that firm is likely.

Ordered to Supply 13 Per Cent.

Inquiry being made of P. D. Ross Chairman of the Newsprint Committee of the Canadian Daily Newspaper Publishers' Association, as to the nature of the trouble, he said:

"The only mill in Canada whose customers are having trouble is that of Price Bros., the head of which is Sir William Price. Price Bros. have refused to supply Canadian customers a proportion of their output Canadian mills are making 830,000 tons of paper per year, of which 720,000 tons goes to the United States Canadian papers use 110,000 tons, or 13 per cent. of the Canadian product. An order was issued recently by the Paper Controller directing that the 13 per cent. of Canadian product used in Canada shold be supplied at $80 per ton for six months, the price at which many contracts are in force between Canadian mills and American papers, and at market price in the United States afterwards.

Only Firm Standing Out.

"This order, which implied that each Canadian mill should give for local consumption its fair share of paper up to 13 per cent. of its output, was accepted by all the Canadian manufacturers except Price Bros., who remain the only company in Canada to refuse either to act with their fellow-manufacturers or to obey the order of the Paper Controller. Price Bros. have been making an enormous profit out of the enhancement of paper prices due to the war and its consequences, and evidently want to get the utmost profit possible out of the United States."

Paper Controller Pringle says Price Bros. have been selling in Canada only 2000 tons out of an annual output of 75000 and he is calling on them to give 8000 tons in Canada or 11 per cent. of their product which is less than their fair quota.

WEDDING BELLS

SPICER—PENROSE.

Rev. James A. MacKenzie officiated.

MULLIN—ADAMS.

(The Star, St. John, N.B.)

A wedding of interest to many friends was solemnized this afternoon at three o'clock in St Mary's chapel, Hampton, when Miss Betty J. Adams, daughter of Captain and Mrs. James Adams, was united in marriage to Charles H. Mullin of Outlook, Saskatchewan, by Rev. Captain C. Gordon Lawrence, assisted by Rev. J. Roy Campbell, D.D. The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. The chapel was prettily decorated in greening with cut flowers and with the Christmas decorations was especially attractive.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was becomingly attired in white satin with an overdress of embroidered net with veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Gladys Smith, looked charming in a gown of peach satin and silver trimmings with a black and silver hat and carried a bouquet of roses. The ushers were Miss Marguerite Adams, a sister of the bride, in a yellow taffeta gown with black and henna hat, and Miss Fannie Langstroth, who wore mauve taffeta with a black and mauve hat, while each carried a tulle, flower trimmed muff. James Adams, a brother of the bride, supported the groom.

After the ceremony, as the bride party was entering the vestdy, Miss Treva L. Smith sang "O Promise Me, with G. Kenneth Robb organist ac companist.

On account of both the bride and groom having seen service overseas the wedding took military form and a guard of honor of members of the G.W.V.A., under the leadership of Captain Neil Morrison, formed an arch of swords outside the church, under which the party passed.

At the bride's home a reception was held and a dainty wedding luncheon served. Mr. and Mrs. Mullin left on the evening train, amid showers of confetti and many hearty congratulations and good wishes, for Peterborough, Ont., to visit the groom's parents, after which they will go to Outlook to make their home. Many beautiful presents were received including china from the Hampton Court Chapter of the I.O.D.E. of which the bride was an active member.

The bride was one of the most popular young ladies in Hampton and had a distinguished record overseas. She went over in 1917 with a detachment of V.A.D.'s under command of Mrs. A. A. Kuhrling, and served in the military hospital at Ripon, Yorkshire until after the armistice.

The groom enlisted in 1914 with the Lord Strathcona Horse. He was afterwards attached to the 11th Battalion, with which he proceeded overseas. He was transferred to the 5th Western cavalary and served in France until the second battle of Ypres in 1919, when he was severly wounded and taken prisoner. He finally recovered sufficiently to attempt an escape but was unsuccessful. Two weeks before the armistice, and after five attempts to escape, he reached Holland and from there was sent to the military hospital, Ripon, England, where his bride was on duty and then commenced the romance which culminated in yesterday's happy event

Captain Adams, the bride's father, returned from England to attend the wedding after having seen service as a lieutenant-commander in the R.N.V.R. The out-of-town guests to attend the wedding were: Miss Mildred Hardiman of Montreal, Misses Molly and Edna Terrell of Halifax, Miss Ann Parks, Miss Eileen Coughlan, Miss Helen McLeod Corbitt, Miss Marjorie Barnes and Adrian Richard of St. John; Roy W. Smith of Pictou, and Lloyd Taylor of Salisbury.

JAPANESE FORCES IN SIBERIA ON THE MOVE

The Reds Retiring

CITY OF DVINSK HAS BEEN EVACUATED BY THE BOLSHEVIKS.

LETTS IN FLIGHT

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The Bolshevik army has evacuated the city of Dvinsk, on the Dvina, it is admitted in a Russian Soviet communique received by wireless from Moscow today. The place was abandoned under enemy pressure, the statement says.

Lithunian and Polish armies which are engaged in a campaign on this front, continued yesterday their advance along the Pskov railway after the capture of Dvinsk, according to the Lettish Legation. It is expected to open mail communications at once between Riga and Dvinsk and the first train between these points will probably leave Rig to-day, thus establishing direct communication with Poland.

CURLING

Going to London.

Bob Hicks and Dr. Wightman will take two rinks to London for the big Western Ontario bonspiel next Tuesday. The Doctor is looking forward to the pleasure of renewing old acquaintanceship with Dr. Andy Scott and Mr. Hicks is pleasurably anticipating a visit with his friend 'Mooney' Gibson, president of the London club.

Andy Going Strong.

Andy Webb is already in midseason form. He has won 24 games since the rink opened and lost only two. The committee have been so impressed by his string of victories that they are prepared to send a rink to Winnipeg if there is any chance of drawing three more aces like Andy.

The District Bonspiel.

The district bonspiel for the handsome Neill Trophy will be held here next Tuesday. This competition is open to all the villages such as Norwood, Lakefield, Millbrook, Keene, etc., and it is hoped that they will all be well represented. Peterborough curlers are restricted to the regular scheduled rinks for the season.

Will Play Orillia.

The annual Neill-Sheppard games will be played on Thursday in Peterborough and Orillia. The local skips who will go to Orillia are Harry Foote, Dr. Wightman, George Morrow and Jim Skinner, and those who will meet Orillia rinks here are Lou Bowes, Jim Connel, Pete Lang and J. W. McDermid.

MR. BUKNHAM ON THEOLOGY

To the Editor of The Examiner,

Dear Sir,—I have been so impressed with the mistake of allowing business men to take hold of and apply ordinary business methods to the cultivation of the spiritual condition in men that I have sacrificed popularity and my hope of political preferment by the people to what I consider my overwhelming duty viz: holding on to the true spiritual connection with God. I do not pretend to be for one moment what is known as a truly religious man and my conduct sometimes is entirely at variance with any such supposition I am sorry to say but beneath it all I have an overmastering desire to cling to the purely spiritual for I am convinced that it is only by the spiritual eye that we can see God. I am aware that practical results to not always mainfest themselves in spiritual things but we must remember that the spiritual world is entirely and completely different from our world. It is therefore with peculiar pleasure that I call your attention to the following statement recently made by Rev. P. W. Williams of the Christian Brotherhood Federation:—"The world needs remaking but it can never be remade if we leave out God. Schemes of social betterment and reform must have their roots in God."

This is the new slogan of those who see the extreme peril of contriving world-made schemes that propose to reform the world by man-made laws. I venture to address these words to the speakers now assembling in the Forward Movement.

GERMANS ASK FOR REDUCTION IN THE NUMBER OF TROOPS

Canadian Press:

PARIS, Jan. 6. — An application from German representatives here for a reduction of the number of troops to be sent to the area in which prebisicites are to be taken under the Peace Treaty has been received by the Supreme Council. Germany will have to bear the expense of maintaining these troops, and her representatives complain that the cost will be excessive. So heavy an expenditure is not necessary, it is asserted.

The Council, it is learned, will reply that inasmuch as the United States has not supplied its quota of troops which was to constitute a quarter of the whole number of men sent will comprise only three-quarters of the total originally fixed.

JAPANESE FORCES IN SIBERIA PREPARE TO STEM THE BOLSHEVIKI ADVANCE

REDS ADVANCING

(United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Japanese forces in Siberia it was learned authoritatively here to-day, are moving to a position east of Lake Baikal in Japan's first attempt to crush completely the eastward sweep of the Bolshevik armies. In addition, two battalions, approximately 2,000 men, have been sent to Irktusk to quell local revolutionist uprisings. The Bolsheviks are reported between 50 and 100 miles west of Irktusk.

Japanese forces in Siberia now number nearly 100,000, although this exceeds the number permitted under the agreement by which Japan and other allies intervened in Siberia. It was learned that Japan's troops, according to the agreement, were not to exceed the total of the other allies. Great Britain and France have removed all their troops, and the United States has only 9,000 men in Siberia, it was said. t is understood Japan has virtually determined to send material reinforcements. Important negotiations are being conducted b, Japanese Ambassador Shidehara with the State Department, and a decision is expected momentarily. A definite step to check the Red menace is expected to result.

Victories For Reds.

(United Press.)

LONDON, Jan. .—Moscow wireless despatches to-day claimed additional extensive victories for the Red forces in Siberia. The Soviet armies have occupied the town of Berezov, 400 miles north-west of Tobolsk, taking three steamers laden with flour and other food supplies, one communique said. Another reported the capture of the village of Yanvetsky, with 125,000 tons of coal. Bolshevik forces also have occupied Taiga station on the Siberian railway, capturing 87 locomotives, 2,000 cars and a quantity of munitions, it was claimed.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKETS

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The market was somewhat lower at the opening to-day, most issues showing fractional declines.

U. S. Steel opened at 107, off 1-2; Republic at 119 1-2, off 1 1-8; Sinclair at 47 1-4, off 3-8; U. R. Stores at 94, off 5-8; Studebaker at 113 1-4, off 1-2; Baldwin at 117 1-2, off 1-4; Bethlehem B at 99 3-4, off 3-8; American Sugar at 139, unchanged; Pennsylvania at 42 1-8, unchanged, and Kelly Springfield at 152, off 1-2; U. S. Rubber 142, up 1-2.

Trading was extremely dull at the start of the second hour. Steel Common remained at 107, and the general list was without feature, except Endicott Johnson, which advanced 3 points to 147. Stutz re-acted from 137 1-2 to 132. Middle States' Oil made a record high at 71 3-4. Sloss Sheffield Steel was firm around 80.

Prices hardened slightly in the first half hour. Amer. Woollen was the feature. After opening at 156, it shot upward to 162. Bethlehem B ¾, to 100¼; Railway Steel Spring was firm around 100.

Call money renewed at 8 per cente. against the renewal rate of 10 per cent. Monday, but the sentiment with regard to the money situation was discouraged by the statement of Governor Harding before the Federal Reserve Conference in Washington, that unessential loans should be frowned upon. It was felt that his remarks were not directed against Wall Street, but traders adopted a waiting attitude to see what recommendations would be adopted as a result of the bankers' meeting. General Motors sold down to 337, Bethlehem B to 99, Steel Common to 108 3-8, Pan-American to 102 5-8, Mexican Petroleum to 211, Crucible to 216, U. S. Rubber to 140 1-8, Baldwin to 117 5-8, Republic to 118¼, and American Woollens to 159.

To Sink Warships

EXPERTS EMPLOYED BY THE SALVAGE DEPARTMENT RECOMMEND THIS COURSE.

SCAPA FLOW

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 6.— German warships sunk by their officers in Scapa Flow will be blown up shortly, it was stated here to-day. The decision to dispose of the vessels in this way followed the completion of investigation by a special commission representing all of the allies. Experts employed by the salvage department of the British Admiralty, spent several days taking soundings at Scapa Flow and the information they furnished was used as a basis to determine whether the ships should be raised or destroyed.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"THE MIRACLE MAN."

It is indeed fortunate that Peterborough theatre-goers will have another opportunity of seeing "The Miracle Man" at the Grand. The picture is aptly described as a photoplay with an amazing soul full of powerful, thundering action that beggars description. George Loane Tucker made a valuable contribution to the picture world when he produced this wonderful photoplay. A glimpse into Chinatown of one of the largest cities in the world and a real life portrayal of its night life, are features of the picture. The original musical score played by an augmented orchestra of ten pieces is a valuable and adequate contribution to the evening's performance.

CONCERTS AT THE TURNBULL STORE

HARMONY FIVE WILL PROVIDE THE MUSIC.

In order to brighten up the dull season which naturally follows the heavy Christmas and New Year's shopping the management of Turnbull's store with its customary enterprise has inaugurated a very pleasant diversion from the usual routine in providing a Saturday evening concert by the Harmony Five, one of the best musical organizations in the city. The orchestra which occupies the balcony supplies all the latest and best music which on account of the manner in which the store is built carries splendidly throughout the lower floors of the building. The first of a series of concerts held on Saturday evening last attracted a large number of people and to all following concerts the management extends a cordial invitation to the public whether shoppers or not to enjoy the little musicale provided. Ample seating accommodation is provided to those who care to rest for some time.

CHOIR SPENT A SOCIAL EVENING

Seventeen members of St. John's choir, with Mrs. A. L. Amys, and Miss Bridges, were guests of Dr. G. S. Cameron at high tea in Coleman's palm parlours last evening, and a most enjoyable evening was spent by all present. Following the sumptuous repast, at which the health of the King and of the host, Dr. Cameron, was proposed, games were thoroughly enjoyed and eagerly participated in by all present.

A hearty vote of thanks to Dr. Cameron for his thoughtful act in providing for the evening's entertainment, was passed.

WILL APPLY TO JUDGE FOR RECOUNT OF BALLOTS

EX-ALD. M'INTYRE HAS AUTHORIZED MR. G. W. HATTON TO SET IN MOTION LEGAL MACHINERY FOR RECOUNT OF VOTES IN MAYORALTY ELECTION.

WILL PROCEED AT ONCE

Ex-Ald. A. A. McIntyre has instructed his solicitor, Mr. G. W. Hatton, to apply to Judge Huycke for a recount of the ballots cast in the mayoralty election. This application will be made as soon as possible, Mr. Hatton informed the Examiner this morning.

The procedure of the recount as prescribed by the Municipal Act is quite simple. Fourteen days after the declaration by the City Clerk of the result of the election are allowed for a candidate or voter to represent by affidavit to the County Judge that "a deputy returning officer in counting the votes has improperly counted or rejected any ballot paper, or made an incorrect statement of the number of ballots cast for any candidate."

Mr. Hatton stated that it wasn't necessary to specify any particular irregularity and that a general allegation would suffice. The applicant is required to deposit $25 with the City Clerk as security for the costs of the recount, which shall be performed by the Judge in the presence of the City Clerk, each candidate and his agent appointed to attend. If it appears desirable the Judge, upon the application of any party to the proceeding may hear such evidence as he may deem necessary for the purpose of securing a full and proper recount of the ballot papers. The assessment of costs is in the discretion of the Judge.

PHILOSOPHIC CALM AND RESIGNATION UNDER BREAD COSTS

Christmas prices that knew no limit but the sky evidently prepared the people for such a trifle as yesterday's two cents advance in the cost of the small loaf of bread. The prices moved up to the new level with scarcely an objection from consumers. Here and there the drivers met a mild demur, and occasionally a wrathy housewife fumed and asked futile questions.

"They took it very gracefully", said one baker. "The people were really expecting that when the farmers got the recent increase for their grain, an the millers put up the price of flour to meet that charge, that of course the consumer would eventually have to pay the shot. Of course some of them were wrathy but those who had read the papers stated that they were not surprisd by the increase."

CANNOT BLAME THE BLACKSMITH

A local blacksmith, replying to the statement made in last night's paper by a local baker, connetting the price of horseshoeing with the increase in the price of bread points out that where as the price of materials entering into blacksmithing and the wages, have increased from 75 to 125 per cent. The blacksmiths have only raised their prices 55 per cent. This shows that in most shops men are shoeing horses below cost and it is only by long hours and one man doing the work of two that they are able to make a living.

Salmon Going Up

PACKERS PROMISE ANOTHER INCREASE FOR THE CONSUMER.

THE LICENSES

(Special to The Examiner.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., Jan. 6.—The price of canned salmon will be higher next year say the packers, as the cost of cans will be greater, and higher prices will have to be paid to the fishermen. The increases will be particularly marked, it is said, if the fishery licensese are thrown open for the 1920 season. The Department of Marine and Fisheries, however, has not yet made public its decision on this question.

PACKAGES SMALLER OR PRICES HIGHER

TOBACCO MARKET UNDERGOES ANOTHER ADVANCE IN MANY LINES.

As every rise in prices finally reaches the consumer the recent increases in the price of raw leaf have been accompanied by a general advance in the retail quotations of many lines of tobacco. Old Chum, Meerschaum and Senator for example are reduced in the size of their package from one-twelth to one-fourteenth of a pound selling at fifteen cents a packet. The cigarette tobaccos such as B.C., Sweet Caporal and other lines remain the same size but smoker who roll their own will have to pay twenty cents a package for them. The Shamrock and Old Virginia plugs of chewing tobacco are also dearer. These are lines manufactured by the Imperial Tobacco Co., and B. Hood. Other manufacturers are expected to follow this trend in the near future.

CHILDREN'S COUGHS QUICKLY CURED

It is very hard to keep the children from taking cold. They will run out of doors not properly dressed—play too hard and become overheated—get their feet wet—kick the bed clothes off at night.

There is nothing so good for children's coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough or bronchitis as Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It is so pleasant to the taste the youngsters take it without any fuss, and at the same time its promptness and effectiveness in loosening the phlegm and healing the lungs and the bronchial tubes are such that the cough is checked before any serious trouble can possibly develop.

Mrs. Harold Acker, Lake Pleasant, N. S., writes: "I have three children, the eldest eight years old and the baby ten months old. They all had a bad cough. I knew of quite a few persons who had used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup with good results so I got three bottles. I am glad I did so as it is a sure cure for coughs and colds. A home where there are children should never be without it. I highly recommend it to those who need a quick cure."

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use the Old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and Nobody Will Know.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

HEAVY MEAT EATERS HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have Bladder trouble.

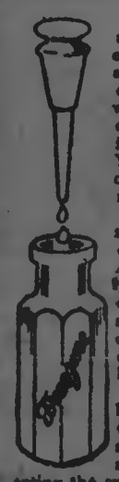
No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

TELL YOUR WIFE CORNS LIFT OFF

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift corns or calluses off with fingers



Not a twinge of pain or soreness before applying, or afterwards. This may sound like a dream to corn-pestered men and women who have been cutting, filing and wearing torturous plasters. Yes! Corns lift out and calluses peel off as if by magic.

A small bottle of freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops directly upon your tender corn or callus, and instantly the soreness disappears; then shortly the corn or callus will be so loose that it lifts off.

Freezone dries instantly. It doesn't eat out the corn or callus, but just shrivels it up so it lifts away without even irritating the surrounding skin. Women should keep a tiny bottle handy on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.

Voice Of The People

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir: With reference to a site for the old Hunter street bridge I beg to call the council's attention to the fact that it was understood that in the case of this bylaw being passed for the new overhead bridge, the old steel bridge would be moved to a point just west of the power house dam at London street and the Quaker Oats Company would give the city a right of way on both sides of the river, making direct connection with London, Hazlett and Concession streets, for what they had received from the city. It was due to this fact that the majority of the north end East City residents voted in favor of this by-law. Let me mention also that there is no public highway across the river, from Smith to Hunter streets.

If this bridge were placed at the south end, as suggested, the city would have to hire men to operate a swing bridge and I am sure there would be as much, if not more, traffic, at London and Hazlett streets than at the south end. Why place public property outside the city limits?

Here is a good chance for our new Council to do something for the long neglected north end of East City.

Thanking you for this space in your valuable paper, I remain.

Yours truly,
"East City Ratepayer."

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir: As you are probably aware, the Cannington Intermediate Hockey Team played Peterboro at the Brock street rink last night. Perhaps you yourself witnessed the game and heard the disgraceful shouting and hooting and laughing against the plucky Canningtonites, from the moment they came on the ice until the game began, and even then continued intermittently during the game. Fortunately the remarks were confined to one side—the east side—of the rink, and only a minority participated.

Please view this from a sportsmanlike, from a Christian or from any other standpoint, Mr. Editor, and tell me if you think that this sort of thing is right. Is it worthy of Peterborough?

I think I am right when I say that this is the first time Cannington has ever aspired to an intermediate team and deserves great credit and encouragement. The fact of their representing a small town being cast in their teeth by certain brave Peterboro "fans," but goes to make Peterborough a "small town" in the eyes of the sporting world.

I hope that this will reach the eyes of some of our "fans," and if not that public opinion will control such an exhibition at future games here.

Thanking you for your valuable space, I am, yours very truly,
J. F. Davidson,
Peterboro, Ont.

SHOP GIRL WINS MAN IN STOLEN FINERY, BUT ALAS

SANTA BARBARA, Cal.—Said to be one of the most beautiful girls in Santa Barbara, Jessie Mae Randall, a bundle wrapper at a store, cried herself to sleep in the little room she occupies in the Woman's Detention Home here.

Lingeries, kimonas, silk stockings, fancy nightgowns, silks and satins of every description, found in her room at home, told the story of her arrest. She was but 17 when she began stealing from the store, she is said to have told the police. For a whole year she kept it up without being caught—then her finery made her an object of suspicion.

And arrayed in the clothes she had met and been courted by the son of a wealthy family. And just a few months ago she became engaged to marry the youth.

Last night she had only her dreams—and a term of detention before her.

Don't Pamper Your Stomach

Fear of Dyspepsia Robs the Entire System of Necessary Nutriment. Eat a Diversified Meal and With Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets You Will Avoid the Distress of Indigestion.

Just because the stomach sours with gassiness, heartburn, water brash and such distresses after eating, is not a good reason for depriving the system of nourishment.

Instead of indigestible and innutritious bran and skim milk try the better pain of eating what you like and follow your meals with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They digest food, they assist the stomach to secrete juices that keep the stomach sweet, active and with the alkaline effect, just as when the stomach is in perfect health. Nor is it necessary to discriminate. You may eat freely of onions, sausage, mince pie and baked beans, or other dishes, such as the average dyspeptic views with horror, and suffer no distress if you follow with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. There is thus no need to fear any kind of food at any time or place, for with these tablets, you may prevent those distresses that formerly made you pamper your stomach as if it were a tender infant. You can get Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in any drug store at 50 cents a box.

Cigarette Holders for Brides.

The latest fashion in London of giving a cigarette holder to a bride is an indication of the widespread habit of smoking among the women in that part of the country.

FAST COLOURS FOR YOUR FANCY SHIRT

BRITISH DYES ON THE WAY AND GERMAN SHIPMENT FOLLOWS.

MONTREAL—Stylish young men, who have viewed with the pain which only an artistic nature can know, the rapidly fading colors of their most elaborate shirts, can take heart at the news that a shipment of fast British dyes has reaches Canada, and that soon the textile companies will be turning out shirtings which not even the most vigorous application of soap and water, not to mention the varied occult ingredients used in laundries, can rob of their colored patterns.

For five years Canada has been deprived of the fast German "vat" dyes in brown, green and yellow colors, and consequently "pigment" dyes, unsuitable to the purpose, have been pressed into the service from the resources of Swiss, American and British dye manufacturers. But British chemists have not been idle and their experiments have produced a lasting "vat" dye which is now being turned out in sufficient quantities to allow of a limited export to the Dominions, and the hearts of local Beau Brummels should rejoice at the news.

Despite the production of this new ritish dye, however, the German product is not to be discarded, and an Allied Commission is busy in Germany arranging for the export of the German article to the Allied countries on a pro rata basis. The Canadian Government recently circularized dye users in this country asking them to state their requirements for six months, and promising them that if their supply could not be obtained from Britain, the United States or Switzerland, efforts would be made to requisition stocks from Germany for distribution in Canada. So far, none of the German dyes have yet reached this country, and when they do arrive it is not expected that prices will come down much lower than they are at present in regard to the British article as the cost is fixed by the Allied Commission. German dyes can only be imported into Britain and the United States by Government license, but it is not expected that this procedure will be followed in Canada, where there is no dye-manufacturing industry to protect.

LIQUOR QUESTION.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The Supreme Court to-day declared constitutional the sections of Volstead Act prohibiting manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors containing one-half of one per cent. or more of alcohol. Beer containing 2.75 per cent. of alcohol is illegal under the War Time Prohibition Act, the Court decided.

FLED FROM JUSTICE, NOW HAS WAR CROSS

ABBOTT, SOUGHT FOR BOSTON BANK THEFT, WON HONOURS FOR SERVICE WITH MARINES.

BOSTON—Arthur E. Abbott, long sought as a fugitive from justice for the theft of $15,000 from the Federal Trust Company of this city, enlisted in the marines and as Sergeant William H. Haskell was cited for brilliant war service. This was disclosed today when it was announced that Abbott had been set free on probation by the District Attorney, and that he had received the Croix de Guerre officially under his right name.

Abbott, who was employed as a bank bookkeeper at $20 a week, disappeared in the Fall of 1917 after the bank loss became known, and it was learned that he had been living like a man of wealth and leisure away from his family. He evaded a nation-wide search for him and enlisted in the Marine Corps at New Orleans as Haskell and went overseas with the 6th Regiment. He was one of the fourty-four men left of the famous 1,300 marines, who went through the Argonne. He was cited for bravery after capturing a machine gun and nine prisoners near Vierzya on July 19, 1918.

After receiving an honorable discharge last January, he immediately re-enlisted, again as Haskell. He was detailed aboard the U.S.S. Dolphin in July and ordered to Portsmouth, N.H., where he was recognized and arrested. District Attorney Pelletier of Boston, on learning of his service record, ordered him released on probation. He was re-arrested by the Navy Department, charged with enlisting under a false name, but his commanding officer, Captain John Grady of the gunboat Dolphin, effected his release within a short time, and a few days later decorated him, as Arthur Abbott, with the Croix de Guerre before the ship's crew and a marine detail drawn up at attention.

The citation accompanying the decoration was signed by Marshal Petain and was presented to Abbott by his commanding officer in the absence of an official representative of the French Government.

Quick, Harmless Way to Remove Wrinkles

This season brings wrinkles to many sensitive skins that are much exposed to winds and changing temperatures. To make an effective wrinkle remover, mix an ounce of powdered saxolite and a half pint of witch hazel. Bathe the face in the solution—immediately every wrinkle is affected. It acts wonderfully on sagging facial muscles, also, the lotion possessing remarkable astringent and tonic properties. Use it once a day for a while and see how it will improve your facial contour. This simple lotion cannot harm the most delicate skin. The treatment itself leaves no trace—no one guesses the secret of your increasing youthful appearance. But be sure to ask the druggist for the powdered saxolite.

FARMERS' WEEK.

(Canadian Press.)

BRANDON, Man., Jan. 5.—Events here this week will loom large in the eyes of agriculturists throughout Canada, To-day, Tuesday and Wednesday, the Manitoba Live Stock Association holds its annual meeting, and on later days the Grain Growers assemble in annual meeting. At this meeting the Grain Growers may change their name to that of the United Farmers of Manitoba. The creation of a farm party in Manitoba will be discussed.

January Clearance

CLEARING ODD ENDS AFTER A BRISK BUSINESS SEASON.

More than ever this year do we need an after season sale to help clean the odd bits of stock from this department and that. We have never before been so completely cleaned down to small quantities. In most cases there are only parts of dozens left to hustle out. In fact looking over the list below there is only the Shetland Floss of which there is any quantity, and you may be sure prices are such that they won't last long. This is truly a January Clearance. Be sure you attend.

A NEW YEAR GREETING TO A FRIEND

To you, my friend, so far away,
My warmest thoughts and wishes stray,
And a brief message of good cheer,
To greet you at the dawning year
Kindly I send:
My prayer is that this year may be,
A happy, prosperous one for thee,
May favoring Heaven upon you shine,
And every good, and gift devine,
On you attend.

Though other cherished friends are nigh,
My thoughts to youward every fly
Trusting that mid your festive glee,
You'll spare a kindly thought for me,
For auld lang syne;
If haply, reckless, word and vain
Of mine, has caused you aught of pain,
For all are prone to err, and yet,
To pardon, and the wrong forget,
Is most devine.

Let every bygone, by gone be,
And buried deep as the deep sea,
All that would mar, or rend in twain
One link of friendships golden chain;
So firm and strong.
That has the tide of time withstood,
And fickle fortunes changeful mood,
Aye friendships pure and steady ray,
Shines brightest when life's rugged way,
Seems lone and long.

With lavish hand, may Heaven supply,
Blessings that gold can never buy,
Peace, and contentment, friends a host,
And what we mortals value most
One heart's true love.
What ever else of fate betide,
A home where kindred souls abide,
A pleasant journey, down life's road,
And at its end, the bright abode,
Of bliss above.

BUCHAREST, Jan. 5. — Bubonic plague is an epidemic in the Ukraine, according to reports received here. The Roumanian frontier, in consequence, has been tightly closed.

Slang is by no means of modern date, being well-known in the classic ages of Greece and Rome. Numerous examples occur in the writings of Martial, Aristophanes, Terence and others.

NEWSBOYS RIDE HORSES IN URUGUAYAN CAPITAL

Montevideo, the capital of the Uruguayan Republic, has 300,000 inhabitants, and spreads over a very extensive territory. The Uruguayans, like other people, says the Pittsburg Sun, want their evening paper as soon as possible after it comes from the press. Newsboys on horseback supply this demand with astonishing rapidity. La Razon, one of the leading evening journals, is issued at 5 o'clock. About 20 minutes before that hour the newsboys—mostly young men from 18 to 25 years of age—gather in the street in front of the newspaper office.

When the papers are brought out a clerk hands a bundle to each, and away he starts at a full gallop. All the business in the centre of the town is done by ordinary "foot newsboys;" the horsemen race away to their "beats" in the suburbs, shouting with all their might:

"La Razon! La Razon!"

A customer who wishes to buy a paper steps to the curb and holds out his arm. The horse knows the signal and pulls up so short that it is a wonder the rider is not catapulted over his head.

So efficient is this system of equestrian newsboys that a dweller in the outskirts of Montevideo gets his evening paper almost as soon as the man who lives in the very heart of the city.

Combines the Two Essentials of Tea Perfection

There are two prime essentials in the production of this delicious new tea called Lanka.

First, the original tea must be the choicest pickings from the finest varieties grown.

Second, the blending of these choice growths must be done with superlative skill to attain the highest perfection of flavor.

The teas which achieve the Lanka blend are the best the hill gardens of Ceylon can produce.

Your grocer can supply you with Lanka Tea. He welcomed its introduction as the opportunity to supply his customers with the best tea the world produces. It comes in the handsome striking package, illustrated in this advertisement. The price is but 75 cents a pound.

AVIATING PRICES.

In spite of the Board of Commerce food prices are still aviating. Not only did the price of bread soar four cents a large loaf in Peterborough yesterday, but restaurant prices, at least in some cases, also set out to establish new altitude records. The consumer, as usual, is the sufferer, as all restaurant products in which flour is used have joined in the ascension. Even the old breakfast stand-by, toast, has jumped 5c. in price, while a similar addition has been made in the selling price of sandwiches, rolls and pies. The increase in the price of bread is two cents a small loaf; it is evident that a five cent increase in the prices of sandwiches and toast enables the restaurant man to meet the advance in the cost of bread and to net a neat profit besides. The Wheat Board's action in increasing the price of wheat may have pleased the farmers, but the consumers are wrathy as they watch the food prices heading steadily upward.

THE VALUE OF PARKS.

The argument used by citizens who favoured the Riverside Park by-law that the city which could offer plenty of parks and breathing spaces for its people was the city that would gain the most new industries has been well borne out by the experience of Stratford which has secured a new industry, the Gerlatic-Berklow Company because of the splendid park system in Stratford, the vice-president of the new company in signing the agreement remarked "your magnificent park system was the deciding factor in bringing us to Stratford, we had a number of other locations in mind but when the secretary of your Board of Commerce sent us such wonderful views of your parks we decided at once that Stratford was the city for our plant." In view of this experience the acquisition of Riverside Park will gain new value, Peterboro with a beautiful park and athletic ground on the Riverside Park site added to Nicholls Oval, Inverlea Park, Jackson Park, and the other beauty spots in the city will be able to compete favourably with any city in Ontario on this basis and to appeal to manufacturers confident that it can offer them as much as any other centre in the way of parks for its citizens.

FREE SKATING RINKS.

The Examiner is very glad to endorse the plea of "W.P.F." in last evening's issue for more attention to the civic skating rink on Little Lake although the writer of the communication which appeared in Monday's Examiner has covered the subject so thoroughly that there is little left to be said. Certainly such institutions as public skating rinks in the winter and public swimming beaches in the summer are necessities rather than luxuries. The health of the community would be benefitted by a sufficient number of such places to serve the people who want to take advantage of them and the new aldermen who were elected on New Year's Day with their colleages who remained in office from last year will undoubtedly be sympathetic towards movements of the kind discussed by "W.P.F." A good rink on Little Lake would undoubtedly be a boon to hundreds of the South end residents and the new Council could not lose any time in inquiring as to the conditions there with a view to improving them if found desirable. The tone of last evening's communication seems to suggest the necessity of some such action at once.

A North end resident has made a suggestion in regard to the civic rink at the Goose pond that might be considered at the same time. It is to the effect that a toboggan slide be constructed on the high bank with a chute down over the ice, a slide could be erected at this point at slight expense and the timber could be taken down in the spring and stored away for future use. The enjoyment the youngsters would get out of such an amusement feature, would make the investment well worth while.

THE WILD LIFE OF CANADA.

The importance of the wild life of Canada has been recently emphasized by the phenomenal advances of prices at the recent fur sales. High prices have, as might be expected, resulted in an intensified campaign of hunting and trapping of our fur-bearing animals. At present the market readily absorbs all the furs offered and the high prices put a premium upon indiscriminate slaughter. Only the danger of extinction or of depletion of our fur-bearers to the point where recuperation becomes impossible.

In 1913, the Commission of Conservation made a survey of the fur trade, and published a report entitled "Fur Farming in Canada." In February last, the Commission, in conjunction with the Advisory Board on Wild Life, called the First National Conference to consider the large subject of the conservation and protection of wild life. Representatives of the provincial governments, the Dominion government and sporting and game-protective associations were present. A number of the leaders in this movement from the United States also attended.

The report of this conference has just been issued by the Commission, and should be in the hands of not only those interested in the fur trade but of every lover of wild life. Reliable evidence was adduced of the perils which threaten our fur-bearing animals. The ravages of the "game hog" are graphically described by Dr. Hornaday, Jack Miner and others.

In contradistinction to the above, it is a pleasure to read of the results obtained by Mr. Jack Miner and Miss Edith Marsh in protecting wild birds in sanctuaries on their respective properties.

Regulation of the fur trade and methods for the collecting of fur statistics are interestingly dealt with the organization of local game protection associations is strongly recommended.

The report explains the scope of the Migratory Bird Treaty, the measures taken to enforce its provisions and other appurtenant data with which the sportsman should be familiar.

The Commission of Conservation is endeavouring to interest the public in wild life protection. The publication of the report of this conference and subsequent conferences will give the necessary stimulus to this important work.

GETTING AND GIVING.

Restless elements of society are not hand-workers alone. Reactionary and Red may be equally angry because they think they are not getting their full share of reward. The extreme socialist declaiming from a soap box says that capital exploits the worker, robs him of the product of his toil, and then throws him aside. At the same time, the employer of the old school declares that labor has actions detrimental, and is willing to destroy, for private advantage, the value of an investment and cripple any industrial concern.

The complaint is: "I am not getting —, and in addition, "He is getting more than I." No man who broods long over his financial position can be at ease. No man can grow unduly envious of his neighbor and not be irritable. Organized labor, it is true, seems to be built upon a desire to get, but while it observes contracts and recognizes the right of capital to a fair return, it is an element of strength in society. Modern capital is organized to get, but while it recognizes the rights of labor to more liberal treatment, it also is an element of strength. The One Big Union is an organization to club capital into insensibility and take away its rights. A few greedy capitalists, on the other hand, are ready to club labor in like manner. The result of a clash between two envious and covetous classes of men is tumult and unrest. No man will consent to be robbed. But at the same time, there is hope in the undoubted fact that only a very few men will consent to be robbers. The majority of people are anxious to be fair. They want their rights, but they do not desire to invade the rights of others.

There is no harm in getting if it is not carried to an extreme. For that reason, one may question the wisdom of impatient folk who find the present social order wholly objectionable. The safety of property and the safety of life are the bases of civilized society. Neither can be threatened without great danger. The warning of the Great Teacher, "Take heed and beware of coveteousness," should be taken to heart in these times. Coveteousness leads to disaster, in the nation as well as in the individual life.

Few people realize that it is better to give than to receive, yet it is true. Red socialism claims Christ as a comrade because he had love and pity for the submerged tenth. But Christ was no Robin Hood. He did not advocate robbing the rich to benefit the poor. He did not teach the cult of intensified jealously. He denounced men who devoured widow's houses but Zacchaeus, who had gouged the heavy taxpayers—after the habit of his class—was moved by the Master to make full restitution to those whom he had defrauded.

Christianity is the gospel of the happy mean. For that reason, it is the hope of civilization. It teaches the duty of service to all classes, and denounces selfishness and greed. In these times a strong re-statement of the Christian gospel is a patriotic duty. Five of the churches in Canada are co-operating to make that re-statement as vigorous and as fervent as possible. The genius of the Inter-Church Forward Movement is the genius of Christianity—the everlasting gospel—that rest comes by loving one's neighbor as one's self.—Kingston Whig.

RANG IN THE ALARM.

NEW YORK—A woman of this city, who says she has no home, having somewhere got a little taste of whiskey, tried to buy a bottle for $5 from a bootlegger and when he failed to complete the bargain in her excitement pulled the box on the corner, as she had seen the policemen do. Within the space of a minute and a half there reached her side the following array: Three fire engines, two hook-and-ladder trucks, one fire insurance patrol, two deputy fire chiefs, two battalion chiefs, 70 firemen, 23 reserve policemen.

A HUNTING YARN.

SOUTH RIVER, N.J.—George L. Burton, mayor-elect, received word that some belated ducks had been seen winging their way south over river here. He collected his hunting tugs and hurried to his house boat. He was preparing a lunch when he heard loud quacking outside. Hurrying out he saw a big flock of ducks right over the boat. The ducks settled down on the icy river, some distance away. No sooner had they alighted, however, than they were frozen fast in the zero temperature. There was a wild flapping of wings, but the whole flock was stuck. Believing he had a chance to get the biggest bag of his hunting career, he set out along the bank. The ducks became frantic through fear as Burton approached. With one last supreme effort they struggled into the air. Their legs were frozen fast in the ice cake and the entire flock thus was held together. The ducks flew low, directly over Burton's head. He reached out and broke one of them loose from the ice. With the loss of one duck, te others were unable to fly well enough to sustain their own weight and that of the ice and the flock dropped. The big cake of ice crashed through the thin roof of the house boat and Burton captured the whole flock.

SAVE THE OLD SHOES and REDUCE SHOE PRICES

A campaign to be launched by the National Shoe Retailers Association of U.S., estimated to save $300,000,000 by repairing all the old shoes.

Retail Shoe dealers are to be urged, not that new shoes be purchased, but that Old Shoes be dug out of the closets and repaired.

It is said that there are "millions of shoes in the closets of the nation, that, with a little repair, they can be made perfectly serviceable. If people will get out these old shoes it will reduce the shoe bills from more than $1,000,000,000 to $700,000,000."

What is true of the U.S., is true of Canada and of Peterborough. I am splendidly prepared to Repair all kinds of Old Shoes. Dig them out of the Closets and bring them here for a first-class job. We don't cobble Shoes, we Repair them.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

SANDRA DINES WITH MR. HALLIDAY

CHAPTER XII.

We went to a very attractive restaurant for dinner. We had not been long seated when Mr. Halliday came in. To my surprise Everett asked him to join us; which he did with profuse thanks for the invitation.

Why did Everett ask him to join us after the way he had spoken of him? It seemed strange to me and I expect I was more than a little absorbed in trying to adjust things in my mind, and so was not a very interesting companion. Because the first thing I knew Everett and his guest were talking of people of whom I had never heard.

"She is lovelier than ever," Mr. Halliday said.

"Yes — she has improved wonderfully and yet there seemed little room for improvement," Everett replied slowly; "she is one of the most charming women I know."

"Barton drank himself to death, I heard."

"I don't know as to that; but Irma certainly had a lot to stand from him —I admire the way she kept her own counsel. I never have heard that she ever made a complaint."

"Oh, she is a game sport all right.' They then changed the subject and talked of the stock market and of business in which I had no interest. I wondered idly who this Irma Barton was and where she lived and if she was as pretty as Mr. Halliday seemed to think. I longed to know some of Everetts friends, and had no doubt that when we were settled in our new home that they would also be my friends.

I was really anxious to reach Hendon. I knew from what Everett had said that he must have a nice home, and it was to be my home. I knew I should miss nothing of shops and theatres in going to Hendon-and in addition I should be in my wonderful home and be able to write Rose all about it.

Several days afterward when Everett went out in the morning, he remarked casually:

"I shall be engaged all day so don't expect me to luncheon."

"I may go for a walk, mayn't I?" I asked.

"Yes—I guess you will know enough to find your way back."

"Of course I will," and I kissed him rather enthusiastically.

I had walked for over an hour and was standing in front of a most attractive store window when I heard a voice say:

"I am in luck indeed. Won't you take pity on me and lunch with me, Mrs. Graham?" and Mr. Halliday, Everett's friend smiled down on me.

I was wholly unprepared for this invitation and flushed and hesitated. I tried to formulate a graceful answer to his invitation but the words would not come. I found myself being piloted along the street for a few steps and into the door of a prominent restaurant.

Even after I was seated I was still confused and had it not been for the tactful way in which Mr. Halliday ignored me and gave the order, so giving me time to recover myself, I think I should have run from the table. But with the first course, luscious oysters, I felt more at ease; after all he was Everett's friend, why should I be so nervous about lunching with him; so I bashfully tried to tel him that I had never been in a public place without Everett and that was the reason that I hesitated.

"Oh, Graham won' care—at least what is sauce for the goose is, or should be sauce for the gander. And it is not secret that he does not hesitate to lunch with whom he pleases."

"But he is married now — he will—"

"Go right on doing as he pleases. You are not to live in a country town little lady. Morals in New York and in Lakeville are entirely a different affair. Then he went on to tell me of several people he knew, their mode of living, etc.

Absorbed, I leaned forward. Had I been older, more accustomed to the world, I should have taken his chatter for what it was worth, and nothing more. But I had just asked him about Irma Burton, when he said:

"What did I tell you?"

I looked up just in time to see Everett and another man walk to a corner table and sit down, his broad back toward me.

According to an ancient Irish superstition a vicious horse could be tames by whispering the Creed in it right ear Fridays and in its left ear on Wednesday till it was cured, which was merely a matter of time, unless it had been born at Whitsuntide, in which case it was incurable.

A house built of beer bottles was once an interesting feature of Tonopah, Nevada. It was on account of the local scarcity of timber that a miner conceived the idea of building himself a dwelling from a huge stack of beer bottles. Over ten thousand bottles were incorporated in the dwelling.

AFTER 16 YEARS EXPERIENCE
A DOCTOR SAYS
Zam-Buk
HAS NO EQUAL
FOR SKIN DISEASES

"For sixteen years I have used Zam-Buk in my practice, and have always found the results from its application highly satisfactory. In my opinion there is nothing to compare with it for skin troubles—from roughness and irritation to chronic skin diseases. Without a doubt, Zam-Buk has wonderful curative properties, and when a patient requires such a remedy I always prescribe Zam-Buk."

This letter of appreciation has just been received by the proprietors of Zam-Buk from Dr. A. P. Shibley, of Washington, D.C. The medical profession is always slow to recommend a remedy, and the fact that many doctors now prescribe Zam-Buk, is one of the surest proofs of its superiority.

Zam-Buk's superiority is due to its herbal composition. It is all medicine, with absolutely no animal fat, and is so blended, refined and concentrated that it contains the maximum germ-destroying, soothing and healing power. Owing to its absolute freedom from animal fat, Zam-Buk cannot become rancid, but will keep indefinitely without losing any of its strength or purity. "Ye Canna' Match It"

Over There, it was not a trifle to taste once more that boyhood flavor, licorice, beloved of old.

Nor was it a trifle to have the nervous tension relaxed, to feel clean-mouthed, to have the throat soothed and refreshed.

A RETROSPECT OF MILLBROOK'S SPACIOUS DAYS IN THE SIXTIES

As one of many Old Millbrookites who, from other surroundings than that of youth, find their thoughts at this season setting in the direction of the old home, may I send my wishes to "The Mirror" and its readers for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Despite the ever narrowing of the circle of the family and old time friends, the place which once held them, and was home, remains home always in something much finer than literal fact or mere sentiment. More truly so, perhaps, when youth is but a matter of reminiscences, and the shadows, all falling Eastward now, are getting so long that they try the eyes at times. We find our lost youth in meeting again with old associates. We like to revive the past. And how one picture of that time restores, calls back a hundred half or wholly forgotten ones. I am the more reminded of this fact by a little book which I had not seen before for, lo, these many years. It is dated Christmas, A.D. 1868, a St. Thomas' S.S. prize given to the writer, "by his teacher, George Needler." Of the merits which won it, small enough, I suspect, I retain no remembrance, other than that of gratitude and esteem for the giver. But of other things in connection with that time the little book is as magic as Alladin's Lamp or the Enchanted Carpet of Bagdad. It brings back again the Millbrook of wooden awnings, wide board walks, and wooden shutters. From many local saw mills, shingle mills, machine shops and small local factories the "hands" and their women folk throng the streets again on Christmas Eve, and mingle with Christmas shoppers from the country. Millbrook is a busy little centre of over twelve hundred inhabitants and —they do not shop in Peterboro, not even the merchant's family. Blanketed squaws with beadwork and Indian bucks with their big hand sleighs piled high with baskets and Indian handmade wooden ware, are there too, from the swamp suburbs, east and west of the village. One young Indian is endeavoring to make a 'swap' in Howell's store of three axe helves for a pair of 'gutter' skates. Ogilvie wants four. Outside "Young pressture" has started a dog fight between the Indian 'huskies' and Sandy Crummer's Coon dog 'Romeo.' And the band is playing, "Those Tassels on the Boots" up in front of the Old Town Hall. Cool Burgess, the king of burnt cork artists, and his minstrel troupe are playing there to-night, and it will be packed. There is also a dance on at Todds. Millbrook is a show town, the finest circus stand between Toronto and Kingston, so Old Dan Rice said. "It is honored in these days by such companies as the Holman Opera Co., in the Bohemian Girl, and Il Trovatore. The "Royal Theatre Stock Company from Toronto in a run of five nights of the 'legitimate' play to "standing room only," and visit us two or three times in a season. O, Millbrook was some show town, then. "I'll tell the world." It was a bright Christmas day that Christmas of '68, and the snow lay deep in the fields and in the old lane leading to the little church in the shade of the evergreens. It was deep at least for a small boy's legs, and the little book was almost lost in a drift. Every member of the class was at church that morning, for had they not helped to decorate, and provide the cedar and balsam boughs which were cut and drawn in from Hutchinson's swamp. Of the congregation, I need but mention a few of the names of families in their accustomed seats, as I recall them. Howden, Dawsons, Hayter, Southerall, Sowden, Armstrong, McBean, Winslow, Turner, Noeller, and their beloved Rector, a young man then. In the Sowden pew I recall two slight dark youths who had accompanied their aunt to the service. They were Billy and Walter Sims, here on a visit and attending the public school for a time. In the great war so lately ended Billy Sims made good. He was Admiral William Sowden Sims, commander of the American Navy and staunch ally and friend of Britain and the Grand Fleet. Fifty-one years ago. How many changes the old place has seen since then. But old day returns. Christmas with its merry greetings and its generous impulses and larger charity. Its spirit is epitomized in the Christmas prayer of Dicken's immortal Tiny Tim—"God bless us, everyone."

DEVOTEES OF MY LADY NICOTINE

To the Editor,

Sir,—Mr. Justice Sullivan, a former member of the Bench of this Province, was also a poet, and among his poetical efforts was a poem "On Woman", in which he eloquently depicts the various beauties of the fair sex. In view of the change in manners, one of the verses of this poem needs amendment. In its present form its reads as follows:—

"Then woman's lips in smiles withdrew
Their veils of rich carnation hue,
And pearls appeared beneath
And blest Arabia seems to pour
The perfumes of its spicy shore
To mingle with her breath.'

I would suggest that in view of the altered circumstances of our day this verse might be amended so as to read as follows:—

Then woman's lips in smiles withdrew
Their veils of rich carnation hue,
And pearls appeared beneath,
And blest Virginia seems to pour
The perfumes of its smoky store
To mingle with her breath."

This little amendment, I think, will keep the poem referred to

Yours, etc.,

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

GREAT WAR RECORD OF HALIFAX PIER

HAS NOW BEEN RETURNED TO PEACE ACTIVITY.

ENVIABLE RECORD

HALIFAX, N.S.—Pier two has about completed its war service. The long concrete structure, familiar to the eye of hundreds of thousands of Canadian boys, and many officers and seamen of trans-Atlantic liners, will now enter upon its peace work. Since it was built it has served as the embarking and debarking place of the greater majority of the Canadian army, that went overseas.

The pier has now been taken over by the Department of Public Works, its offices and hospital wards will be re-arranged to meet the requirements of the immigration authorities, and the railway officials, in the handling of immigration. The military clearing depot staff will continue to have offices on the pier until such time as it is demobilized. The network of barbed wire that once shut off the pier from the general public, is gone, and the structure now has a peaceful appearance.

The pier has well served the cause of humanity. At its berths have been tied up the largest Atlantic greyhounds. Hundreds of thousands of Canadian boys passed through the pier en route to England and France, and a like number have returned by the same way. Hundreds of special trains have been run into that giant shed, laden with human cargo, and thousands of specials have left its enclosure, carrying homeward the returning warriors. All this has been done without the loss of life. Despite the large numbers that were handled almost daily, everything was done as if by magic. Military, naval, railway, shipping and immigration officials worked in the greatest harmony, and in the days when the pier facilities were being utilized to their highest capacity, it appeared to be a huge machine in action. Shipload after shipload of troops were handled. Never was there any serious trouble.

300,000 Soldiers Passed Through.

It has been estimated that about 300,000 soldiers passed through Halifax, and Pier two, on their way to the front, and an almost like number homeward bound. From the signing of the armistice to last September, when the greater majority of the Canadian troops were back in Canada, and demobilization, about 200,000 were disembarked here. The thirty ships engaged in the work made about ninety trips in these eleven months.

Pier two first served to embark troops on transports. Later its upper floor was used as a barracks for an overseas regiment raised in Nova Scotia. Later the place was turned into a hospital and clearing depot. Large wards were built and hundreds of beds filled every available space. Since the armistice the upper floor has been used for the handling of troops and passengers.

The pier has become known all along the Atlantic seaboard. It is one of the finest on this side of the water, and the officials have established some remarkable disembarkation and entrainment records, that have been praised everywhere. Many an American, a passenger on a returning transport, has praised the work of disembarking, which was his privilege to witness.

Thus the pier enters its peace work with a record that the officials may well be proud of. It has faithfully served on every occasion.

To Quickly Remove, Ugly Hairs From Face

(Beauty Notes.)

Beauty-destroying hairs are soon banished from the skin with the aid of a delatone paste, made by mixing some water with a little plain powdered delatone. This is spread upon the hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed to remove the remaining delatone. This simple treatment banishes every trace of hair and leaves the skin without a blemish. Caution should be used to be certain that it is delatone you buy.

THE BREATHEABLE REMEDY

ALWAYS keep a box of Peps on hand, and immediately you feel a tickling in your throat and want to cough, put a Peps tablet in your mouth.

The medicinal fumes given off by the dissolving Peps mingle with the air you breathe, and like the Pine Forest air of Switzerland, reach every nook and corner of the throat and lungs, where the danger lies.

Peps bathe the breathing tubes with a germ-destroying vapor, which is a sure safeguard against infectious coughs and colds. When a Peps tablet is in the mouth every breath taken strengthens your defence against throat and chest troubles.

AUTO STALLED IN SNOW.

More "Steam Needed in Forward Movement Round Flach's Hill.

Although cold feet are supposed to denote a streak of yellow in army parlance, yet two soldiers of the gospel who got their pedals nearly frost bitten on Wednesday of last week are anything but canaries in the salvation fight, says the Bruce Herald and Times.

We refer to that famous graduate of the Walkerton High School, Rev. John McNeill, pastor of the Walmer Road Baptist church, Toronto, and his running mate, Rev. T. T. Shields of the same city. Both were cruising along the Durham road in Mr. Gruetzer's auto from Hanover, bound for Wingham, where they were to be the chief speakers at the Forward Movement services, when their car stalled in the snow at Flach's Hill.

All efforts to get the driver up the incline proving futile, it looked, as Rev. Mr. McNeill observed, that they were due for a Backward instead of a Forward movement. Recalling the mandate to "Leave the Poor Old Sinking Ship," the skypilots deserted the car and struck out for Mr. Edwin Tolton's.

It was hard on the shoes, but they landed there with their steppers colder than a charity ball. A warm oven and a hot dinner fortified them for the cold drive that Gladstone Tolton later provided them with when piloting them to Teeswater behind a horse that has never been guilty of lowering the world's record on the track.

From Teeswater they were driven to Wingham by Dr. Gillies, and arrived in time to tell the meeting how the "Forward Movement" was strongly in need of more steam up this way.

LESS MUTILATION OF BOOKS IN PUBLIC LIBRARY DURING YEAR

ANNUAL REPORT OF MR. F. M. DELA FOSSE CONTAINS SOME VERY INTERESTING INFORMATION—CHILDREN'S DEPARTMENT HAS BEEN A BIG SUCCESS.

At the annual meeting of the Peterboro Public Library Board, Mr. F. M. DelaFosse, librarian, presented the following interesting report covering the activities of the Library during the past year.

Annual Report of the Librarian on Work Accomplished During the Year 1919

Gentlemen,—I beg herewith to present my report on the work accomplished in the Public Library during the year 1919.

In regard to attendance and circulation of books we have progressed well, the figures being well up with those of former years.

The opening of the Children's department, which was made a separate unit at the beginning of the year, has amply justified its existence. Its popularity has been most marked and has brought out very clearly the fact that it is from the children rather than from the adults that the most diversified reading is to be looked for.

A further attempt has been made during the year to show to what extent the Reference Library has been used and the figures given below whilst they do not give an absolutely correct record of the attendance in the Reference room appropriate fairly closely to the number.

The number of new books received during the year was 2237,—of these 1319 were books for the juvenile department. The large percentage of children's books was of course due to the opening of the new Children's department.

Books Presented.

113 volumes presented to the Library by various doners during 1919 chief among them may be mentioned a gift of some 70 volumes from Mr. T. F. Matthews.

Some eight or ten volumes have had to be destroyed during the year owing to infectious or contagious disease having broken out in the homes to which they had been taken.

I am glad to be able to state that there has been less mutilation of books and magazines than in past years, which is doubtless owing to the fact that the Reference Room is in a more public place than formerly. A few books have been stolen but only two or three that might be termed really valuable. These should be replaced at an early date.

About one hundred books from the Juvenile department and 150 from the Adult have had to be removed owing to natural wear and tear. I append herewith the figures for both the Adult and Juvenile departments in the matter of circulation.

It will be seen from the foregoing that the combined circulation of the two departments exceed those of the preceding year by 15133 volumes.

In face of such figures, comment is unnecessary as to the value or otherwise of a separate department for the children.

An analysis of the figures shows also that in only one department, that of Philosophy, there has been a small decrease, I am glad to be able to add that although we were rather badly put to it to find a successor to Miss Munro we secured the temporary services of Miss Newton, who, although new to the work has shown herself a good friend to the children and has accomplished her duties in a satisfactory manner.

We have had many calls for books from outlying sections bordering on the city and have of course been unable to supply the needs of those applying owing to the rule regarding non-ratepayers. This past year we have received ten dollars from residents outside the city for the privileges of the library.

The amount received from fines and sundries came altogether to the sum of $258.25.

The Museum, owing to the installation of the new Children's department had to split up to a certain extent and some of the exhibits were removed to the basement and others to the rear of the Lecture Hall. Owing to the changes made one of two of the exhibitors removed their property. We have received however, during the year [illegible] may, in the [illegible] be the recipients of a fine collection of coins. This department still attracts very many visitors.

The Reading Rooms have been as well patronized as in former years in spite of the fact that owing to the Printers' strike in the U. S. many magazines failed to come for one or two months.

In conclusion I have to add that the work of the whole staff throughout the year has been marked by excellent service.

On behalf of the other members of the staff and of myself I desire to tender our sincere thanks to the members of the Board for the kindness and consideration that we have invariably experienced at their hands.

I remain,
Yours respectfully,
Fred M. Dela Fosse,
Librarian.

LIQUOR ARRIVING AT EXPRESS OFFICES

FIRST SHIPMENTS REACHED PETERBORO YESTERDAY—DRY SPELL BROKEN.

Shipments of liquor to the city from Montreal commenced to arrive yesterday through the local express offices and have continued to-day at the rate of from twenty to twenty-five cases daily. The employees of the offices are kept working on the double answering eager inquiries from citizens as to whether their particular shipment has come. No sooner one of the managers stated, do the cases arrive than the owners are on the spot looking for them. As yet no heavier shipment than one case of whiskey has arrived for any one person.

As yet the public, to a great extent is a little dubious about sending for a supply and the express offices gladdened many eager hearts by assuring them that they may go as far as they wish in their orders, the government is behind them.

Official Notification.

License Inspector Stewart has received official notification that conditions have reverted to those of 1917 as far as the bringing in of liquor in the regular manner is concerned.

THE CHURCHES' UNITED EFFORT

The Challange to the Local Churches in this Special Week of Prayer How Church Members are Responding

Judging from the reports which have come in from the different churches where the Week of Prayer is being observed a much greater number are observing it than in previous years when all met in one building. This is a hopeful sign for the Church and for the Forward Movement. It is sometimes asked if prayer has become a lost art. It is to be hoped it has not. It is evident it has not in the Churches of the City. The strongest of men have, at times, felt constrained to test the reality of prayer, it may be when some great sorrow has come to them, and they have found that it has not failed them, rather that the God to whom all prayer is offered has not failed them. Those who shut prayer out of their lives shut out a great power and a great comfort. The citizens of Peterboro this week should hear the call of God in these special services for prayer which are being held and should make an effort to attend them. The following is a report of last night's meetings:

Trinity Methodist Church

At the service last night in Trinity Church Colonel Walker gave a very able address on "Our Gifts and our Service for our King." He spoke of the gift giving season and of the effort people make to give suitable gifts to their friends. He drew the lesson from this that our gifts to Christ should be chosen and given as thoughtfully as we choose and give gifts to our friends. He then spoke of the service that God expects of us, describing it as an intelligent service, a hearty service and a progressive service. The address was a splendid New Year's appeal and was quite in keeping with the character of the meeting in view of the work of the Forward Movement which is now engaging the attention of the Church. Two meetings will be held to-night. One at the home of Mr. J. H. Northey, 435 Stewart street, and one at the home of Mr. R. F. Downey, 298 Boswell avenue.

St. Paul's Presbyterian and George Street Methodist.

There was a fair attendance at the opening service in St. Paul's Church last night. Rev. Mr. Glassford based his message on a passage of First Thessalonians: "For from you sounded out the word of the Lord not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in every place your faith to God-ward is spread abroad: so that we need not to speak anything." He said: "These words are a wonderful testimony to the power of the Gospel to transform the life. These Thessalonians, a little while before, had been heathen, they had been idol worshippers with all the degrading vices associated with that worship, and yet so wonderful was the transforming power of the Gospel in their lives, that in a little while their faith had spread abroad throughout the whole region. A transformed life to-day is the greatest testimony which can be given to the power of the Gospel. Members of Christ's Church should let their light shine before men that others, seeing their good works, might glorify their Father who is in heaven. When the world sees the evidences of a transformed life in the members of the Church they will be attracted to the Church and the Church's Christ.

Knox Curch

At Knox Church last night the Brotherhood Room was filled. The meeting, which was in charge of the Young People's Society, was conducted by Mr. John Bradbury, the President for 1920. A paper was read by Miss Annie Crocker on "Unselfishness in Prayer". Another paper wa sread by Miss Verda Watt on "The Place that Knox Young People have in the Forward Movement." A duet was sung by Miss Pearson nad Mr. Bradbury entitled, "God's Way is the Best Way."

To-night the meeting will be in charge of the Minister. The praise will be led by a three piece orchestra.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church

Speaking from the text, "I know in whom I have trusted," 2 Timothy 1:12, Mr. McConnachie emphasized the need of having settled convictions in the matter of religion. Paul was not given to boasting yet he gloried in his positive purpose. His personal testimony was clear and strong. So far from being ashamed of Christ and the Gospel he rejoiced in tem openly before all men. He knew Christ by faith and had committed to Him all his life interests. This positive decision brought power and gladness into his life. He was building on a rock foundation. "I am persuaded", he said, "that Christ is mighty to guard my deposit against that day." There was no virtue in a halty faith. Indecision dishonoured God who is worthy of all confidence. God is most honoured by a clear, intelligent faith that lays hold of the Christ.

This faith brought decision and knowledge that could not be obtained otherwise. Even the Scientist had to build on faith. He must take some things for granted. He built upon certain premises that could not be demonstrated with mathematical exactness. Even so with reference to Divine things we have a certain sense of God. This must be tried out experimentally. We must launch if in faith and the revelation of Christ came to the believing heart through this spirit. God had made it possible for us to say "I know." Therefore it was not presumption on our part to claim this blessed assurance. It did not mean perfection. God was pleased to give this joyful certainty to very imperfect but believing sinners. Religion became a source of joy and gladness and power once we were assured of our good standing before God through grace. The urgent needs of our time demanded this type of life-giving faith in religion."

Park St. Baptist Church.

The meeting held last night in Park St. Baptist Church was largely attended and proved a joy and blessing to all who were present. The meeting was presided over by the President, Mr. Neil Porter. The Forward Movement was the subject under discussion. It was considered under three heads, its origin, its spiritual significance, its objective. The meetng tonight will be in charge of the pastor. The subject which will be considered is "The Prayer Which Availeth Much." A large attendance is hoped for.

NASSAU LODGE HELD A MEETING

Nassau Lodge L.O.L. No. 457 held its first meeting in 1920 last night with the new officers for 1920 in their respective offices. The meeting was very well attended and many visiting brethern were present.

After the general business was carried out several members were advanced to the R. A. P. degree. Brother Biggs of the city lodge acted as scrutineer together with Brother Robertson. Brother Ephriam Brown being conductor. Short addresses were now given after which arrangements were made for a basket social and concert to be held in the near future and the arrangements for the district meeting next Monday night, when a large number of members will be present, were completed.

THE BOARD MET LAST EVENING

The Executive Commitee of the Board of Trade at its meeting last evening elected Mr. E. F. Mason to serve on the Committee to the take the place of Mr. A. W. Crossman during the latter's absence from the city. Those present were President J. J. Turner, Thomas Barrie, Chairman of the Committee, Frank Whitehouse, John J. Hartley and J. J. Duffus.

The activities for January and February were considered. On Thursday evenings the Broad will consider subjects touching the development of Peterborough when addresses are to be made by members of the Board.

The Council of the Board has been pressed from several quarters to take action upon the postmastership. The Council voted that it was outside the province of the Board to make any personal recommendation for that important position but it strongly and unanimously stands for the application of Civil Service rules because that course of procedure safeguards the Post Office and other departments of the Government from any influence other than those of fitness and competency. The Executive Council believes that the Postmaster General should observe the law, and the usages created under that law, unless there is substantial excuse for taking another course.

The Council ordered an investigation of the Kawartha District and Trent Waterway. Senator W. H. Bennett of Midland, recently called upon the Board to interest itself and since then has made an address before the Orillia Board of Trade. The Peterborough Board is asked to organize the several communities and the interests concerned in the development of this area and it is likely that a conference of these representatives, including the Railway Companies as well as the Provincial and Federal Government, will soon be called. The Council believes that the Kawartha and Trent area could be developed into one of the greater recreation parks of the continent and the only way to accomplish anything practical in its development is through co-operation. Such a development will, of course, be a great factor in Peterborough's interests.

Mr. R. M. Morley, the Secretary of the Ontario Safety League, was invited to visit Peterborough to address the Board and the public on the subject of the prevention of accidents of various kinds. It is likely that the Board will arrange for his showing in one of the Motion Picture Houses to the young people of the city, a series of photographs in the possession of the Ontario Safety League.

PETES BEAT CANNINGTON 13-5 IN FIRST O.H.A. GAME OF THE SEASON

SHOWED MUCH BETTER FORM THAN IN BELLEVILLE GAME—ROSE IN THE LIMELIGHT WITH A TOTAL OF NINE GOALS TO HIS CREDIT—BIG CROWD SAW O.H.A. FIXTURE

VISITORS WERE GAME

Although the Petes won handily by 13 goals to 5 in their intermediate O. H.A. fixture at Brock street rink last night with Cannington, the boys from Dickson Jewett's bailiewick did not prove the light lunch that their bad trimming at home the other night led the fans to anticipate. The villagers undoubtedly lacked finish in their work, but they were not shy on willingness or gameness, for they checked hard and battled until the final bell, and the Petes had to work for most of their counters.

Peterborough led at the end of the first period by 4 to 1, and were in front 7 to 3 at the close of the second. They showed much better form than in the Belleville game, especially on the offensive, passing in good style on many occasions, and shooting much more accurately. Defensively they were not so good, for the forwards did not check back as consistently as they will have to against a stronger squad than last night's visitors, who were given considerable leeway in their rushes, principally of course because the Petes had the game well in hand at all stages.

A feature of the game was the great work of Lornie Rose, captain of the local squad, who scored nine goals during the engagement. He laid his shots on the nets from all angles, while his rushing and stick-handling were very effective. Halpin and Rose combined several times for some of the prettiest counters of the night. All the rest of the Peterborough squad did good work and the improvement in their showing was appreciated by the big crowd of fans who saw the battle. They are rounding into shape and team work is much better, so that when they go into action against Lindsay in the latter town to-morrow night they should give a good account of themselves. A win over Lindsay will give them a flying start in the group race.

The game was very clean and Referee Lawson Whitehead, who handled the battle in good style, had only to inflict three or four penalties for minor offences.

The Cannington team were light, looking like a junior squad, but they were game and the crowd liked their spirit. Several changes had been made in their line-up since Friday night and they were a much better outfit last night. The Halward boys, one on the defence and the other on left wing, with Welsh at centre, were the pick of the squad. T. Halward at left wing, never stopped trying, and his persistent checking spoiled many a Peterborough rush, while his two dashes for goals in the last period were cleverly carried out.

The teams were:

Cannington showed unexpected "pep" at the go-in and although the Petes had several shots which Williams blocked, it was the red-shirted visitors that scored first. Welsh broke away from centre and when he was blocked by the Peterborough defence, the rubber drifted over to McFadden, who beat Murray with a swift, high shot.

The homesters soon evened it up when Rose got away, and fooling the Cannington defence with a fake shot, drilled a fast one by Williams.

A minute later Jackson put the Petes ahead by a shot from close in. Rose caught the visitors' net guardian asleep and slanted in goal No. 3 from the side.

With the score 3 to 1 against them, Cannington rallied and Murray had several shots to stop in the next few minutes, turning them aside.

A few seconds before the period ended, Cherrett, who had just come on, took a pass from Thornton at centre and after a nice rush, returned to Thornton at the goal mouth, and Williams was beaten again. That left it 4—1.

Cannington got the first goal in the second period when F. Halward went down alone in a nice rush and beat the Peterborough defence.

Thornton got clean through on a nice rush, but Williams pulled off a great stop. A moment later, however, Halpin secured the rubber in the corner and slid it out to Rose, who registered.

A little later the two combined beautifully for a counter. After some neat passing Halpin shot dead on, and although Williams blocked the shot, Rose batted in the rebound.

Welsh made it 6 to 3 by scoring for Cannington on a lone rush, and Rose added another for Peterborough by a close range shot after a nice rush by Thornton. It was 7 to 3 at the close of the period.

Early in the third period Rose scored again for the Petes, and Cherrett followed with another after Evans had drawn out the defence and passed nicely. Rose got away alone and went in close to beat Williams with a swift shot, and Cherrett made it 11 to 3 when he took a pass from Halpin. Rose gathered another on a pass from Cherrett and it was 12—3.

Then Cannington started again, and in short order T. Halward slammed in two counters, one on a combined rush and the other on a lone raid in which he drew Murray out of the nets. Shortly before the bell rang, Lornie Rose wound up a great night's sniping by scoring on a swift shot from the side.

The summary:

1 Cannington, McFadden.
2 Peterborough, Rose.
3 Peterborough, Jackson.
4 Peterborough, Rose.
5 Peterborough, Thornton.

Second Period—

6 Cannington, F. Halward.
7 Peterborough, Rose.

SOME AMERICAN LEAGUE FACTS OF LAST SEASON

NEW YORK—Walter Johnson, the "old reliable" of the Senators, has won the 1919 pitching crown in the American League.

The speed king, handicapped by backing that was not the best in the league, was the most effective hurler in the younger circuit, according to the averages released today by President Ban Johnson.

He pitched 290 innings, allowed 235 hits in 39 games, issued 51 passes, struck out 147, his seven batters, all for an average of 1.49.

Eddie Cicotte, star ironman of the White Sox, is second with 1.82. Then follow Weilman, St. Louis, 2.07; Mays, New York 2.10; Sotherin, St. Louis, 2.20; Ensemann, Cleveland, 2.39; Coveleskie, Cleveland 2.52.

Johnson was also the "strike-out king" of the circuit. He sent 147 batters back to the bench via the whiff route. Shaw, his teammate, was second with 127 and Claude Williams, Gleason's left-handed ace, was third with 125.

Williams showed the greatest tendency in the league to plant the ball in the anatomy of batters. He hit 11 during the season. Myers, Cleveland; Mays, New York and Sothorin, St. Louis, hit ten each.

Ehmke, one of Hugh Jennings' hurlers, was the most liberal tosser of the Johnson flock. He issued a total of 107 free tickets. Bob Shawkey of the Yanks was second with 99. Shaw, of Washington, let 98 walk.

Washington had a trio of the wildest heavers in the league. Shaw had 10 wild pitches; Harper had 9 and Erickson had 8.

A trio of hurlers broke into the balk column with a pair of hesitations. They were Kinney of the Athletics, Harper, of Washington and Sothorin of St. Louis.

Eddie Cicotte, noted shine-baller of the league champions did more than any other slab man to earn his money. He pitched 307 innings. Shaw was next with 298 and Coveleskie next with 296.

Among the regular workers, Morton, of the Indians, was the rightest with hits. He allowed 126 in 26 games. His stable-mate, Uhle, gave one more in the same number of games; Mays, the noted rebel, gave 131 in 21 games.

Coveleskie allowed the greatest number of hits 286 in 43 games. Shaw was found for 268 in 44 games and Williams for 265 in 41 games.

PETES PLAY IN LINDSAY TO-MORROW

INTERMEDIATES HAVE A HARD BATTLE BEFORE THEM IN O.H.A. RACE.

The Peterboro Intermediates have a battle royal ahead of them to-morrow night when they go to Lindsay to meet the Scugog squad in an O.H. A. game. The Lindsay team is fast and heavy and have been practising faithfully ever since the ice came. A win for Peterboro will give them a good lead in the group race.

Goal, Murray.
Defence, Halpin, Pete Thornton.
Centre, Cherrett.
Subs, Jackson, H. Thornton.

FIRST JUNIOR GAME HERE ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The Peterboro Juniors make their initial bow to the fans to-morrow night when they tackle Oliver and Garnett and the rest of the Lindsay Midgets in the opening junior O. H. A. game of the season. There should be a big crowd out to encourage the local kids in their first game, especially as there is not another O.H.A. game scheduled here until a week from Friday night. A Lindsay-Peterboro clash is always a good battle, and to-morrow's game promises to be no exception. Lindsay will have a little on the Peterboro youngsters in experience but the local gang are showing good form in practice and will make the invaders realize that they have been in a hockey game. The Peterboro's line-up will be announced after to-night's practice.

The game to-morrow night is called for 8.30 o'clock and should attract a good crowd.

FIDDLERS THREE

The Grand will have for its attraction for Wednesday, January 14th., John Cort's musical comedy "Fiddlers Three". William Cary Duncan has provided the book and Alexander Johnstone, the writer of many pleasing tnues has given "Fiddlers Three" a graceful and at the same time a delightful score. The cast, with a few exceptions, is the same that was seen at the New York Cort Theatre for eighteen weeks and includes the beautiful and accomplished Belgian prima donna, Tavie Belge. Others that bring a brightness and happiness to the score and dialogue are Tom Dingle, Edna Mayo, Thomas Conkey, Horace Sinclair, Katherine Clare Ward, Ethel Dwyer, Marius Rogati and others. The stage pictures are beautiful and fill the eye with a warmth and coloring that will please the most discriminating. The chorus has been chosen for its youth and beauty and has been highly criticized for its ability to sing with a briskness that fascinates the eye and tickles the ear with the melodious music of the score.

FAIR AND WARMER

Avery Hopwood, master of farce, ran his own record up with "Fair and Warmer," the bubbling, hilarious farce which Spaeth & Company will present at the Grand soon.

Mr. Hopwood's admirers, dating from "Seven Days" and "Nobody's Widow" two great successes of former years, found in his latest work the same sparkle of line and cleverness of charcterization which has graced the others, with an added humorousness of situation. The same built around the intrepert making of a cocktail puts its audiences practically into hysterics.

The long New York run of the piece, with its thousands of out-of-town visitors, spread the fame of "Fair and Warmer" all over the country and created a vigorous demand for it, and was followed by the sensational engagement at the Cort Theatre, Chicago. Spaeth & Company send it here with an excellent company of farceurs.

"I" is the least used letter. In ordinary books it occurs, on an average, twice in three thousand words.

WHAT AND WHY IS

Group Insurance?

It is an inexpensive means of insuring the lives of all your employees individually by a single small premium.

It involves no medical inspection and it costs about 75 cents a month for each $1,000, of insurance carried.

It has arisen from the desire of business firms to do something substantial for their employees, and so promote goodwill and avoid constant changes in the payroll.

It has been widely adopted by far-seeing industrial executives.

WATCH AND WAIT FOR WALK-EASY'S SHOE SALE

Expectation has been growing stronger and stronger every day since the New Year regarding when the Big January Shoe Sale at the Walk-Easy and Peterboro Shoe Stores will be announced. It is not entirely our fault that a definite announcement could not be given before, but the extraordinary heavy holiday business delayed our plans somewhat. We have been busily engaged the past few days in preparing for this sale, and we hope to have everything conveniently arranged to launch this money-saving event on Saturday next, January 10th.

The wonderful values we have been offering during the past month or more will be followed with such concessions on the price of many lines that the public will be doubly elated over the economic features of our early 1920 effort.

We have never made any promises that we have not carried out carefully and the public can safely rely upon the predictions we make as to the values at this coming January sale.

Watch The "Examiner" on Thursday for particulars.

HOME TREATMENT FOR BAD COLDS

A METHOD WHICH PROMISES RELIEF IN A SINGLE NIGHT.

Colds probably cause more trouble than any other single ailment. They also probably lead to more serious forms of disease than any other common complaint to which human beings are subject.

The secret in overcoming a cold is getting at it in its early stages. Here home treatment is effective, whereas if it is allowed to develop so that the bronchial tubes or lungs are affected, it is advisable to summon medical aid.

For home treatment of colds and grippe there is no remedy equalling Grip Fix for prompt results. It is a compound of Quinine, Salol, Caffein Citrate, Cascara and Camphor Monobromate. This treatment for colds is universally advised by physicians as not only prompt in action but also leaving no after effects to be overcome. The action keeps the system open, checks the fever, allays the pain in the muscles, opens up the head and tones up every organ of the system.

If Grip Fix is taken according to directions — two capsules every 2 hours, for 6 hours and one capsule thereafter, the sufferer gets relief from even a bad cold in a night, while, 48 hours is usually sufficient for Grippe. When buying it be sure to get Reid's Grip Fix with the ingredients noted on the box, as there is no substitute which approaches it. On sale at 35 cents per box at all druggists.

Ladies, look young . . i

Emmet's Presence of Mind.

A story is told of Robert Emmet which proves his secretive power and resolution. He was fond of studying chemistry, and one night late, after the family had gone to bed, he swallowed a large quantity of corrosive sublimate in mistake for some acid cooling powder. He immediately discovered his mistake and knew that death must shortly ensue unless he instantly swallowed the only antidote, chalk. Timid men would have torn at the bell, roused all the family and sent for a stomach pump. Emmet called no one, made no noise, but, stealing down stairs and unlocking the front door, went into the stable, scraped some chalk which he knew to be there and took sufficient doses of it to neutralise the poison.

Red Walls in Factories.

One of the causes of Germany's present position is declared by some observers to be the red paint on her factory walls. According to John Taylor, the Germans, keenly alive to the effect of environment, painted the insides of their factories bright red in order to stimulate energy in the workers, says the London Daily Mail. The aggressive environment, however, Mr. Taylor thinks, encouraged the spirit of forcefulness which lured them to destruction.

In a letter addressed to the Prime Minister, and duly forwarded to the housing authorities, Mr. Taylor pleads that the health and aesthetic feelings of the population may be fostered through the proper coloring of the new houses. "I believe," he writes, "that a lot of the depression in domestic and business life is due to irrationally and inartistically colored surroundings.

"Color has a powerful effect on health, temperament and character. Green fields, blue skies and red flowers produce pleasurable aesthetic sensations. Two or three French medical scientists have demonstrated that color cures are effectual in cases of temperamental disorder. A London hospital was put at the disposal of Mr. H. Kemp Prosser during the war. He created a correct color environment for the treatment of shell shock. In a number of cases his prescription was Spring green, cerulean blue and apple blossom pink or iris purple, and most wonderful cures were effected."

NATURAL GAS DEVELOPMENT

The first discovery of natural gas in the Province of Alberta of which we have record, took place in May, 1904, at Alderson, a station on the main line of the C.P.R., 35 miles west of Medicine Hat. The ordinary prospecting outfit, boring for water, struck a heavy pocket of gas at a depth of 1,300 feet. A little later in the same year, gas was also discovered at Cassils, 9 miles further west, but while this well soon choked, that at Alderson continued to flow for many years.

In 1890, Medicine Hat, then but a small town, sank a well and found a small supply at 700 feet; four years later another attempt was made, and history tells how at the eleventh hour, with money all spent—facing bankruptcy—and despair and gloom in the hearts of the mayor and city council, a sensational flow was uncovered at a depth of twelve to thirteen hundred feet. The cheap, apparently unlimited fuel supply, both for commercial and domestic purposes, is largely accountable for that city's growth and present prosperous condition.

There are several known gas fields in the Province of Alberta, but as yet only two have been utilized for commercial purposes to any considerable extent, namely, the Medicine Hat and Bow Island Fields. Bow Island lies on the railway line about half way between Medicine Hat and Lethbridge, 180 miles south-east of Calgary.

In 1912 the supply was piped into the city of Calgary, as well as distributed en route to the city of Lethbridge, Macleod and other towns, where it is used for both domestic and commercial purposes.

In the neighborhood of Pelican Rapids, Athabasca River, gas springs were known at least a century ago, and travellers going up and down the river, into the Peace River Country have cooked their meals there. Further well-known gas reserves are the Foremost Field, south of Bow Island, the Barnwell Field, midway between Bow Island and Lethbridge and the Viking Field, 83 miles east of Edmonton, and were it not for the difficulty of obtaining adequate piping, it is probable that this supply would have been utilized two or three years ago to furnish light, heat and power to Alberta's capital.

Prospecting is now going on in the Monarch Field, 40 miles southwest of Calgary, and at the Okotoks Field, 27 miles south. Along the foothills of the Rocky Mountains, in the vicinity of the apex of a well definite anticline similar to that one in the Okotoks Field, there are many pronounced gas seepages, and it seems probable that as in the former field, which had also a gas seepage, it will be a commercial producer.

The Imperial Oil Co. has commenced prospecting for petroleum along the last mentioned anticline, and it is stated, intends to carry vigorous prospecting from the International Boundary northwards to Hudson Hope on the Peace River. The production of both petroleum and natural gas seems favorable. This company also proposes further prospecting at other parts away from the mountains, where it has selected grounds for operation. In many parts of the province in drilling for petroleum, gas has been found; and indications are that there is an immense gas field remaining yet to be tapped, the exact location, size and probable capacity of which can only be proven by testing.

According to the report of the Canadian Bureau of Mines, in 1918, there was produced 4,878,947,000 cubic feet valued at $1,667,919, which is equivalent to 33.7c. per thousand cubic feet—the heat that could be obtained from upwards of two hundred thousand tons of coal.

The Natural Gases of Alberta are known as "wet" and "dry." The former is a profitable source of gas line, and already a considerable amount of that fluid has been produced, with a probable greatly increased production in the near future. The Medicine Hat and Bow Island Fields are "dry," but there is no reason to conclude that much of the gas yet to be found will be "dry"—rather the reverse.

Helium, a non-combustible gas, very nearly as light as hydrogen and invaluable for balloons, has been extracted in considerable quantity from the Bow Island gas at Calgary, and shipped to Great Britain for war purposes. The determination of the war, has stopped the manufacture, unfortunately, however, only temporarily.

FALLING? HERE'S WHERE IT SHOWS

Don't Worry! Let "Danderine" Save Your Hair and Double Its Beauty.

To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a small bottle of delightful "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter for a few cents, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After several applications the hair usually stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff. Your hair will grow strong, thick and long and appear soft, glossy and twice as beautiful and abundant. Try it!

A record probably without parallel is that of Simon Gratz, who for fifty years has served on the Board of Education of Philadelphia.

INTERRUPTED THE SERMON

A Beecher Father and Son Incident of Old Plymouth Church.

Rev. Charles R. Brown in the Congregationalist relates an interesting incident of the past in which Henry Ward Beecher, the famous minister of Plymouth church, and his venerable and hardly less distinguished father figured.

Many years ago, he says, one of my friends was present in Plymouth church when the incident occurred. It was in the days when Lyman Beecher had come to make his home with his illustrious son, and every Sunday he was in the pastor's pew. One morning Henry Ward Beecher was unfolding some aspect of the new theology, as he had come to hold it, when suddenly up rose Lyman Beecher, saying, "Henry, may I say a word just there?"

Then Lyman Beecher turned to the congregation and said, "Henry puts it that way, but it is not that way; it is this way." And he proceeded to state the truth as he saw it.

Henry Ward Beecher stood listening to his father, with an expression on his face that blessed the listening, wondering congregation more than many a sermon. And when Lyman Beecher had concluded he paid a beautiful tribute to his father's influence upon his own life and then resumed his sermon where he had been interrupted.

Example of Correcting the Stutterer.

It is futile to attempt to implant the forward youth of this our day. One who sat in church with me this week remarked in the course of a conversation and then put four dollars into my waiting hands.

"There is no such word as 'wunny,'" said we.

"Then where before I open my purse," said he, "was there a word?"

LIVER TROUBLE AND HEARTBURN

The liver is the largest and one of the most important organs of the body. Its duty is to prepare and secrete bile, and serve as one of the filters of the body, cleansing it from all impurities and poisons. Therefore when the liver gets out of order it is the starting of trouble in nearly every part of the body.

Keep the liver active by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and you will have no heartburn, constipation, biliousness, sick or bilious headaches, dull, yellow eyes, brown blotches, sallow complexion, coated tongue, jaundice, catarrh of the stomach, or the painful protruding, internal or bleeding piles.

Mrs. John Kadev, Chipman, N. B., writes: "I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for some time and can recommend them to anyone suffering from heartburn and liver trouble. I tried other remedies but they only relieved me for a short time. I always recommend Laxa-Liver Pills to all sufferers as I think that they are a valuable remedy."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

RETIRED FARMERS.

Land Values, Not Agriculture, as a Rule, Make Them Rich.

The country is pretty liberally sprinkled with retired farmers, but a correspondent points out that in nearly every case they have probably retired not as farmers, but as landowners—that is the capital which enabled them to retire accrued not from the profits of farming, but from the enhanced value of farm land. There are about 2,500,000 tenant farmers, but a retired tenant farmer, we believe, is a very rare bird. About as rare a bird, we imagine, is the farmer who has accumulated from the profits of his farming operations sufficient capital on which to retire.

The profits of farming, of course, constantly capitalize themselves in the market value of farm lands, and the rental value rises proportionately with the farm. A man may have taken a half section of Kansas land thirty years ago and actually spent since then every net dollar it produced, yet now be able to retire in very comfortable circumstances. Indeed, through poor management he may never have made a dollar net on the farm. That particular farm may even be producing no more than it produced thirty years ago, and still the owner may be able to retire.

It is true, therefore, that the number of retired farmers is no indication of the amount of net earnings from farming operations.

KILLS AS WELL AS TORTURES

Fatal Results from Indigestion Unless Promptly Helped—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets the One Sure Help.

Don't imagine because you say the pains and aches and discomforts that follow a hearty meal are "only Indigestion" that you are not wrestling with a dangerous malady.

Indigestion not only tortures; it kills. It weakens the body so that it is an easy mark of infectious diseases. It is the cause of Appendicitis. The time to check it is now. The means of checking and helping it is Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. The proof is hundreds of users like that of W. J. Jackson, Cavendish, Trinity Bay, Nfld., who writes:

"For ten years I suffered with pains in my stomach and vomiting. Took your Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets three months ago and am now cured."

Then and Now.

All the German press correspondents at Versailles are, it appears, complaining bitterly" to their various papers of the treatment meted out to them and the German peace delegates. Newly arrived from "starving Germany," they are loud in their complaints about the food, also about their accommodation and the restrictions on their movements. The Berliner Tageblatt, according to a dispatch to the London Times, in addition to messages from its correspondents at Versailles prints an article on the treatment of the French delegates by Bismarck in 1871. It quotes from Busch's diary, to show that Jules Favre, Gen. Baldon and Thiers usually ate at Bismarck's table, and that Thiers was "honored" by being allowed to visit the Kaiser and to have an audience with the crown prince. The inference appears to be, remarks the Times' correspondent, that if only the Germans were treated as they deserve they would be having merry parties with Mr. Clemenceau and the other delegates.

Another View.

Side by side with the gloomy picture drawn by the German propagandist as to the terrible economic conditions obtaining in the country and the terrible trade outlook lying before it, stands the scene of the holding of the Leipzig "Messe," the great spring fair, crowded to a quite abnormal extent with manufacturers and buyers. Reproductions, says one correspondent of pictures, picture post cards, paintings on glass, and of stationery, are notably abundant. Goods from many countries were on sale, and artificial French hair nets were much advertised. The German Austrian manufacturing exhibits grew still more, except for China hand-made articles, whilst buyers from neutral countries were much in evidence. On the whole, it does not sound much like the record of a "ruined country."

There is no excuse for a man who has lost a child.

INSECT TRAVELERS.

Moths, Butterflies and Beetles Make Long Distance Journeys.

Mr William Evans, a Scottish naturalist, who has made a lifelong study of the fauna of Scotland, obtained from a dozen Scottish lighthouses 241 species of insects, which include two butterflies, 139 moths, eighteen caddis flies and lacewings, forty diptera, ten beetles and a dozen other species. Most of the specimens were males. To reach the Isle of May, in the Firth of Forth, where Mr. Evans collected most of the insects, many of the specimens must have flown across several miles of sea.

In his records Mr. Evans calls attention to several other extraordinary flights of insects.

Thus, the "painted lady," or thistle butterfly (Pyrameis cardui), has been known to cross the Alps; the red admiral butterfly (Vanessa atalanta) has landed in numbers on the deck of a vessel 500 miles from the coast of England; the common white butterflies cross the English channel in clouds; the famous milkweed butterfly (Danais archippus), abundant everywhere in the United States, is said to make the 2,000 mile journey from California to the Hawaiian Islands and has gradually progressed by way of the south sea islands as far as Australia.

A death's head moth has boarded a steamer 200 miles off the Cape Verde Islands. Clouds of ladybirds miles in extent, so that they resembled smoke from a steamer, have been seen at sea. A swarm of locusts that passed over the Red sea in 1889 is said to have extended over 2,000 square miles, and it was estimated to weigh 42,550,000,000 tons!

SLOW ACTING NERVES.

The common earthworm has two sorts of nerves.

One of these is a thread running lengthwise of the body between the places where head and tail would be if the creature had either. This nerve has only one use—to carry the signal to shorten up.

So when the worm, keeping underground by day, comes by night halfway out of his hole and suspects, though he cannot see, the early bird looking for breakfast, whisk goes the signal along the nerve thread, one end of the body flattens out and locks fast in the burrow, and the rest pulls into safety.

This sort of nerve carries a message at the rate of a yard and a half a second, or about seventy times more slowly than our own do.

The other sort of nerve takes care of the crawling. Signals along these nerves travel only an inch a second. If our finer telegrams were sent as slowly, it would be a whole minute from the time the pitcher threw the ball till the batter started to swing his club at it.

Yet, as the simpler creatures go, the earthworm is not especially sluggish. The fresh water clam, for instance, gets word from one part of its body to another at only half the earthworm's rate. So it is 2,400 times slower than a man.—Edwin Tenney Brewster in St. Nicholas.

Your Tramping Companion.

He may be all right in the city, a pleasant chap to lunch with and a good companion for an evening at the club, but beware of taking him along on a fortnight's hike through the woods or a cruise in a twenty-five footer. Test him thoroughly before you give him the chance to spoil your vacation. He may be grouchy before breakfast, or he may be a plain shirker. Possibly the thin veneer of civilization conceals the primordial hog.—Outing.

WATCH AND WAIT FOR WALK-EASY'S SHOE SALE

Expectation has been growing stronger and stronger every day since the New Year regarding when the Big January Shoe Sale at the Walk-Easy and Peterboro Shoe Stores will be announced. It is not entirely our fault that a definite announcement could not be given before, but the extraordinary heavy holiday business delayed our plans somewhat. We have been busily engaged the past few days in preparing for this sale, and we hope to have everything conveniently arranged to launch this money-saving event on Saturday next, January 10th.

The wonderful values we have been offering during the past month or more will be followed with such concessions on the price of many lines that the public will be doubly elated over the economic features of our early 1920 effort.

We have never made any promises that we have not carried out carefully and the public can safely rely upon the predictions we make as to the values at this coming January sale.

HOME TREATMENT FOR BAD COLDS

A METHOD WHICH PROMISES RELIEF IN A SINGLE NIGHT.

Colds probably cause more trouble than any other single ailment. They also probably lead to more serious forms of disease than any other common complaint to which human beings are subject.

The secret in overcoming a cold is getting at it in its early stages. Here home treatment is effective, whereas if it is allowed to develop so that the bronchial tubes or lungs are affected, it is advisable to summon medical aid.

For home treatment of colds and grippe there is no remedy equalling Grip Fix for prompt results. It is a compound of Quinine, Salol, Caffein Citrate, Cascara and Camphor Monobromate. This treatment for colds is universally advised by physicians as not only prompt in action but also leaving no after effects to be overcome. The action keeps the system open, checks the fever, allays the pain in the muscles, opens up the head and tones up every organ of the system.

If Grip Fix is taken according to directions — two capsules every 2 hours, for 6 hours and one capsule thereafter, the sufferer gets relief from even a bad cold in a night, while 48 hours is usually sufficient for Grippe. When buying it be sure to get Reid's Grip Fix with the ingredients noted on the box, as there is no substitute which approaches it. On sale at 35 cents per box at all druggists.

Ladies, look young

Emmet's Presence of Mind.

A story is told of Robert Emmet which proves his secretive power and resolution. He was found of studying chemistry, and one night late, after the family had gone to bed, he swallowed a large quantity of corrosive sublimate in mistake for some acid tooting powder. He immediately discovered his mistake and knew that death must shortly ensue unless he instantly swallowed the only antidote, chalk. Timid men would have torn at the bell, roused all the family and sent for a stomach pump. Emmet called no one, made no noise, but, stealing down stairs and unlocking the front door, went into the stable, scraped some chalk which he knew to be there and took sufficient doses of it to neutralize the poison.

Red Walls in Factories.

One of the causes of Germany's present position is declared by some observers to be the red paint on her factory walls. According to John Taylor, the Germans, keenly alive to the effect of environment, painted the insides of their factories bright red in order to stimulate energy in the workers, says the London Daily Mail. The aggressive environment, however, Mr. Taylor thinks, encouraged the spirit of forcefulness which lured them to destruction.

In a letter addressed to the Prime Minister, and duly forwarded to the housing authorities, Mr. Taylor pleads that the health and aesthetic feelings of the population may be fostered through the proper coloring of the new houses. "I believe," he writes, "that a lot of the depression in domestic and business life is due to irrationally and inartistically colored surroundings.

"Color has a powerful effect on health, temperament and character. Green fields, blue skies and red flowers produce pleasurable aesthetic sensations. Two or three French medical scientists have demonstrated that color cures are effectual in cases of temperamental disorder. A London hospital was put at the disposal of Mr. H. Kemp Prosser during the war. He created a correct color environment for the treatment of shell shock. In a number of cases his prescription was Spring green, cerulean blue and apple blossom pink or iris purple, and most wonderful cures were effected."

NATURAL GAS DEVELOPMENT

The first discovery of natural gas in the Province of Alberta of which we have record, took place in May, 1904, at Aldersen, a station on the main line of the C.P.R., 35 miles west of Medicine Hat. The railway construction men, boring for water, struck a heavy pocket of gas at a depth of 1,500 feet. A little later in the same year, gas was also discovered at Cassils, 9 miles further west, but while this well soon choked, that at Aldersen continued to flow for many years.

In 1909, Medicine Hat, then but a small town, sank a well and found a small supply at 700 feet; four years later another attempt was made, and history tells how at the eleventh hour, with money all spent—facing bankruptcy—and despair and gloom in the hearts of the mayor and city council, a sensational flow was uncovered at a depth of twelve to thirteen hundred feet. The cheap, apparently unlimited fuel supply, both for commercial and domestic purposes, is largely accountable for that city's growth and present prosperous condition.

There are several known gas fields in the Province of Alberta, but as yet only two have been utilized for commercial purposes to any considerable extent, namely, the Medicine Hat and Bow Island Fields. Bow Island lies on the railway line about half way between Medicine Hat and Lethbridge, 180 miles south-east of Calgary.

In 1912 the supply was piped into the city of Calgary, as well as distributed en route to the city of Lethbridge, Macleod and other towns, where it is used for both domestic and commercial purposes.

In the neighborhood of Pelican Rapids, Athabasca River, gas springs were known at least a century ago, and travellers going up and down the river, into the Peace River Country have cooked their meals there. Further well-known gas reserves are the Foremost Field, south of Bow Island, the Barnwell Field, midway between Bow Island and Lethbridge and the Viking Field, 33 miles east of Edmonton, and were it not for the difficulty of obtaining adequate piping, it is probable that this supply would have been utilized two or three years ago to furnish light, heat and power to Alberta's capital.

Prospecting is now going on in the Monarch Field, 40 miles southwest of Calgary, and at the Okotoks Field, 27 miles south. Along the foothills of the Rocky Mountains, in the vicinity of the apex of a well defined anticline similar to that one in the Okotoks Field, there are many pronounced gas seepages, and it seems probable that as in the former field, which had also a gas seepage, it will be a commercial producer.

The Imperial Oil Co. has commenced prospecting for petroleum along the last mentioned anticline, and it is stated, intends to carry vigorous prospecting from the International Boundary northwards to Hudson Hope on the Peace River. The production of both petroleum and natural gas seems favorable. This company also proposes further prospecting at other parts away from the mountains, where it has selected grounds for operation. In many parts of the province in drilling for petroleum, gas has been found; and indications are that there is an immense gas field remaining yet to be tapped, the exact location, size and probable capacity of which can only be proven by testing.

According to the report of the Canadian Bureau of Mines, in 1915, there was produced 4,978,947,000 cubic feet valued at $1,667,919, which is equivalent to 26.7c. per thousand cubic feet—the heat that could be obtained from upwards of two hundred thousand tons of coal.

The Natural Gases of Alberta are known as "wet" and "dry." The former is a profitable source of gas line, and already a considerable amount of that fluid has been produced, with a probable greatly increased production in the near future. The Medicine Hat and Bow Island Fields are "dry," but there is no reason to conclude that much of the gas yet to be found will be "dry"—rather the reverse.

Helium, a non-combustible gas, very nearly as light as hydrogen and invaluable for balloons, has been extracted in considerable quantity from the Bow Island gas at Calgary, and shipped to Great Britain for war purposes. The termination of the war, has stopped the manufacture, temporarily, however, only temporarily.

It quotes from Busch's diary, to show that Jules Favre, Gen. Ralden and Thiers usually ate at Bismarck's table, and that Thiers was "honored" by being allowed to visit the Kaiser and to have an audience with the crown prince. The inference appears to be, remarks the Times' correspondent, that if only the Germans were treated as they deserve they would be buying merry parties with Mr. Clemenceau and the other delegates.

Another View.

Side by side with the gloomy picture drawn by the German propagandist as to the terrible economic conditions obtaining in the country and the terrible trade outlook lying before it, comes the news of the holding of the Leipzig "Messe," the great spring fair, attended to a quite abnormal extent with manufacturers and buyers. Reproductions, says one despatch, of pictures, picture post cards, paintings on glass, and of stationery were notably abundant. Goods from enemy countries were on sale, and real French hair nets were much advertised. The "German Austrian Kunstwerkstatten exhibited new silk fabrics, crepes de Chine hand-stenciled in colors, whilst buyers from neutral countries were much in evidence. On the whole, it does not read much like the record of a "ruined country."

There is no excuse for a man who lies to a child.

INSECT TRAVELERS.

Moths, Butterflies and Beetles Make Long Distance Journeys.

Mr William Evans, a Scottish naturalist, who has made a lifelong study of the fauna of Scotland, obtained from a dozen Scottish lighthouses 241 species of insects, which include two butterflies, 139 moths, eighteen caddis flies and lacewings, forty diptera, ten beetles and a dozen other species. Most of the specimens were males. To reach the Isle of May, in the Firth of Forth, where Mr. Evans collected most of the insects, many of the specimens must have flown across several miles of sea.

In his records Mr. Evans calls attention to several other extraordinary flights of insects.

Thus, the "painted lady," or thistle butterfly (Pyramesis cardui), has been known to cross the Alps; the red admiral butterfly (Vanessa atalanta) has landed in numbers on the deck of a vessel 500 miles from the coast of England; the common white butterflies cross the English channel in clouds; the famous milkweed butterfly (Danais archippus), abundant everywhere in the United States, is said to make the 2,000 mile journey from California to the Hawaiian Islands and has gradually progressed by way of the south sea islands as far as Australia.

A death's head moth has boarded a steamer 200 miles off the Cape Verde islands. Clouds of ladybirds miles in extent, so that they resembled smoke from a steamer, have been seen at sea. A swarm of locusts that passed over the Red sea in 1889 is said to have extended over 2,000 square miles, and it was estimated to weigh 42,250,000,000 tons!

SLOW ACTING NERVES.

The common earthworm has two sorts of nerves.

One of these is a thread running lengthwise of the body between the places where head and tail would be if the creature had either. This nerve has only one use—to carry the signal to shorten up.

So when the worm, keeping underground by day, comes by night halfway out of its hole and suspects, though he cannot see, the early bird looking for breakfast, whisk goes the signal along the nerve thread, one end of the body flattens out and locks fast in the burrow, and the rest pulls into safety.

This sort of nerve carries a message at the rate of a yard and a half a second, or about seventy times more slowly than our own do.

The other sort of nerve takes care of the crawling. Signals along these nerves travel only an inch a second.

INDIGESTION GOES, GONE!

"Pape's Diapepsin" at once fixes Your Sour, Gassy, Acid Stomach

Stomach acidity causes indigestion! Food souring, gas, distress! Wonder what upset your stomach? Well, don't bother! The moment you eat a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin all the lumps of indigestion pain, the sourness, heartburn and belching of gases, due to acidity, vanish—true; wonderful!

Millions of people know that it is needless to be bothered with indigestion, dyspepsia or a disordered stomach. A few tablets of Pape's Diapepsin neutralizes acidity and gives relief at once—no waiting! Buy a box of Pape's Diapepsin now! Don't stay miserable! Try to regulate your stomach so you can eat favorite foods without causing distress. The cost is so little. The benefits so great.

If our inner telegrams were sent as slowly, it would be a whole minute from the time the pitcher threw the ball till the batter started to swing his club at it.

Yet, as the simpler creatures go, the earthworm is not especially sluggish. The fresh water clam, for instance, gets word from one part of its body to another at only half the earthworm's rate. So it is 2,400 times slower than a man.—Edwin Tenney Brewster in St. Nicholas.

Your Tramping Companion.

He may be all right in the city, a pleasant chap to lunch with and a good companion for an evening at the club, but beware of taking him along on a fortnight's hike through the woods or a cruise in a twenty-five footer. Test him thoroughly before you give him the chance to spoil your vacation. He may be grouchy before breakfast, or he may be a plain shirker. Possibly the thin veneer of civilization conceals the primordial hog.—Outing.

OFFICERS INSTALLED AT MEETING OF THE PETERBORO WAR VETERANS

THE ATTENDANCE WAS VERY LIGHT—DELEGATES NAMED TO ATTEND THE PROVINCIAL AND MONTREAL CONFERENCES.

The installation of officers for 1920 and the regular monthly meeting of the G.W.V.A. was held last night in the Murray street hall, the attendance being very poor.

President Muir remarked that most of the members preferred to go to a hockey match than look after the interests of the Association."

After the silent prayer by the comrades to the unreturning brave, the secretary, Sidney Whatley, asked ex-President Morrison to come to the front and install the new officers for 1920. Ex-President Morrison took the chair and formally installed the new officers. They are as follows:

President—Comrade Muir.
1st Vice-Pres.—Comrade Clancy.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Comrade Layfield.
Executive—Comrades MacPherson, Bately, Primeau, Leberr and Perks.

Presidential Address.

The new President, Comrade Muir, took charge of the meeting and gave a brief address. I am sorry to see such a poor turnout, said President Muir. He outlined the work he had done for the Association and what uphill work it had been and spoke of the discouragement given him at first. But to-night I am proud to be called the president of the Peterborough G.W.V.A. Comrade Muir said his object was to help the returned men to always be at their service, and that in his new office he would do all he could to further their interests and see justice done to them.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and carried.

Applications for membership were received from A. Holiman, G. L. Stevens, W. Flowers, William Thornton and Joseph Dunkerley, and were passed en bloc.

A. Holiman, the only one of the new members present, was duly initiated.

Secretary Whatley although prepared to read the financial report, warned the members as to its length, and it was decided to only read the auditors' report. This was done and carried.

It was moved and carried that the financial report be posted up in the rooms, so the members could see it.

A number of letters and resolutions were read. Letters were read from the Montreal and Fredericton branches, congratulating them on the stand this franch took in the matter of disposing of the canteen fund balance.

Buy at Home.

A resolution from the St. Thomas branch was read, asking for their support in a Dominion wide movement to induce Canadians to spend their money at home, was endorsed.

East Toronto branch sent in a letter asking the G.W.V.A. not to patronize aliens.

A report from the Social committee, read by Comrade Primeau, showed that in four weeks his committee had made over $120 through dances—a good showing This report was adopted and carried.

The election of delegates to attend the Provincial convention to be held here and the Dominion convention to be held shortly afterwards in Montreal, took place.

At the request of the Provincial executive the same five delegates who attend here will also go to Montreal.

Those nominated were Comrades Whatley, Williams, Johnston, Layfield, Staunton, Wilby and Oxley, and those elected were Comrades Whatley, Layfield, Johnston, Staunton and Wilby.

While the counting of the ballots was taking place, Comrade Primeau announced that the weekly social would be held on Friday night.

Comrade Johnston moved, seconded by Comrade Staunton, that the executive appoint the chairmen of the different committees. The motion was carried.

The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

RIOTS AT SOFIA.

GENEVA, Jan. 6.—More than one hundred persons killed or wounded when a mob stormed the palace at Sofia, shouting down with the king.

MARK STREET CHURCH NOTES

An "old time revival service" is in full swing at the Mark street Methodist church. Indications of revival were observed last Sabbath morning when more than 100 persons remained for the after meeting, and pledged themselves to attend the services during the coming week as far as possible.

Last night's meeting was characterized by deep spiritual power, and more than 50 persons moved forward seeking a higher Christian life.

Mr. Quinn, our esteemed organist, presided at the piano and contributed much to the success of the meeting.

In these meetings the pastor is simply following a custom of twenty years standing, namely, calling his people together at the opening of the year for special waiting upon God. We have no orders but from the "Master."

Subject to-night: "The Master's Call." Come at 7.45 p.m., for a 15-minute song service.

We are very proud of our League members who are sacrificing the pleasures of the rink in the interests of the revival. Were it not for season tickets being sold ahead the Board would close the rink during the special services. "Come over and help us." You are all welcome. "First thigga, First."—G. E. R.

A UNIQUE MEETING AT GEORGE STREET.

When the members of George Street Epworth League were ready to open their meeting last evening, the President, Mr. Leo Copp, announced that the programme would be an impromptu debate on the subject, "Resolved that Reading Helps to Educate More Than Travelling." The President selected the captains, who, in turn, each selected three debaters from the members present, and after five minutes, which was allowed the debaters to get their material in readiness, the debate commenced. The speakers were each allowed two minutes, and some surprising points, which the speakers maintained were facts, were given the audience. The debate proved most amusing as well as interesting, due to the fact that the debaters' material was all impromptu. Mr. A. Peters was captain of the affirmative and Dr. Cecil Fulford of the negative, and the judges announced their decision in favour of the negative by three points.

POULTRY SHOW OPENED TO-DAY

LARGEST AND BEST COLLECTION OF BIRDS EVER SHOWN IN PETERBORO.

All previous records of poultry exhibitions in Peterboro have been broken by the Poultry Show which opened in the market hall this morning. The birds, which total 800, or several score more than have ever been shown before, are in the opinion of the different exhibitors the best collection of poultry ever shown in the city, and of a wider variety than has ever been shown here before. Added to this the birds are displayed to full advantage in the splendid new cages which at an expenditure of over five hunred dollars have been provided by the Poultry Association.

The Exhibitors.

A great measure of interest is added to the show in the wide competition which has been created in the increased number of exhibitors, the most prominent poultry fanciers in the Dominion having sent in their choicest birds. Such well known poultry men as Chief of Police J. Jamieson of Colbourne, J. Monroe of Grafton, S. J. Cox of Colbourne, James Cubitick and J. R. Stewart of Bobcaygeon, P. D. Wark of Cobourg, J. G. Stewart of Sault Ste. Marie, Peter Wilson, of Ottawa and Morton of Lindsay have contributed the best of their stock. Chief Jamieson has sent in Sussex red speckled chickens and Mallards. The latter, the first wild ducks ever shown in a poultry exhibition in the city.

New Feature

A new and especially attractive feature has been introduced into the show in the exhibit from the Government Experimental Farm at Ottawa. Mr. W. Scott, who is in charge of the exhibit is on hand to explain any feature and with his wide experience of some ten years as a poultry farmer is able to explain any difficulty confronting the poultry fancier. The exhibition covers feeds, poultry appliances and houses while the birds shown are from heavy laying strains with records of 200 eggs a year.

The Judges.

The judges J. A. Warrington of Cornwall and T. J. Kiley of London, are particularly well qualified for the task which confronts them in discriminating amongst such splendid birds are shown and will commence duty to-morrow.

NOMINATIONS HELD LAST EVENING

PLAYGROUNDS ASSOCIATION PLAN A BIGGER SEASON THAN EVER.

While it was originally intended by the Playgrounds Committee that the annual meeting held last evening in the Public Library should embrace the elections of officers nominations only were held and the election will be held in the near future. Animated discussions of plans of the coming year were held and a most promising season is looked for. Special committees were formed to deal with matters which came up and these will report back. The meeting was especially satisfactory in the fact that a large representation of the organization was present.

CANON DAVIDSON ON DANCING

At St. John's on Sunday evening Canon Davidson urged that the practical influence of the congregation be brought to bear on two matters of present-day interest.

In the first place there was a strong call at the beginning of the year to straighten out financial obligations. Household and other routine debts had a way of accumulating and being overlooked until a strong effort of willpower was required to tackle them, and the New Year was a most suitable time for the general putting forth of such an effort.

We were all dependent on one another, and the failure of one man to meet his obligations might prevent many people getting their just dues. What we owed to another man rightly belonged to him, and it was only simple honesty to pay up, and that promptly.

It was a healthy thing also to find out where we really stood. If a man could not pay in full it was a call to retrench and at least he might face his obligations and set himself to do his best.

Canon Davidson appealed to every member of St. John's, without delay, to do his duty in this respect for the sake of themselves, their religion and the welfare of the community.

As a second point of present-day importance, attention was directed to the subject of dancing. As members of the Church of England, they felt free to engage in this amusement, which, however, could only be rightly enjoyed in proper surroundings and in strict moderation. There was a great rage for dancing sweeping through the world at present, probably an after-result of the war. Christian people should make sure that they were not carried off their feet by any such outburst, but could use without abusing it.

In connection with this, the speaker urged that dances should begin and end much earlier than was now the case. It was not only that people were unfitted for next day's work, but also undue excitement was generated by late hours. Cabmen were detained (often in the cold), and other evil resulted. No reference was intended to holiday events, the speaker dealing entirely with the present and future, and, speaking sympathetically as an insider, who was himself glad to take part in these and other social enjoyments, which he believed were especially needed in Canadian life, which might otherwise tend to dullness.

A strong and united movement seemed to be called for, however, to rectify the above and any other defects which might creep in. We must see to it that our amusements were kept distinctly of a wholesome, healthy character, and were so regulated that people were the better for engaging in them and not the worse, nor should they be allowed to interfere with the due performance of the more serious duties of life.

WHOLESALE PRICE OF MILK IN PETERBOROUGH.
There is some local misunderstanding regarding the price of milk, which a few days ago was the subject of an increase from 8½ cents to 9 cents per quart. This is the wholesale price from the producer to the distributors. Added to this is the cost of handling, bottling, which includes tickets, etc., and delivery from door to door, with the temperature inviting the normal consumer to remain in bed.

She was then asked to seat herself besides the basket, and upon opening each package to read aloud the good wishes included with each gift, which was expressed in lines of original poetry, the reading of which caused much amusement to all.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM HENRY CALDWELL.
There passed away to-day an old and respected citizen of Peterborough in the person of William Henry Caldwell. The late Mr. Caldwell was born in Devonshire, England, 62 years ago, but came to Canada at an early age. For thirty-three years he has been employed by the Grand Trunk Railway as section man, and during the last two years was a gateman at the Hunter street crossing.

Mr. Caldwell was of a kind, happy character and his death is a distinct loss to the railway, which he has served so faithfully. He was a member of the George street Methodist church.

Besides a sorrowing widow he leaves three daughters, Mrs. P. S. Nugent of Lindsay, Miss Ethel of Cobourg, and Miss Florence at home.

The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the family residence, 474 Stewart street, to the Little Lake cemetery, service being held at the house by Rev. J. F. [illegible].

Farmers Forecast Federal Election

BIG CONVENTION OPENED TO-DAY AT BRANDON—MANY DELEGATES PRESENT.

RADICAL CHANGES

BRANDON, Man., Jan. 7.— A call to prepare for political action was sounded and a forecast of victory for the farmers of Canada at the next Federal election, was made by J. T. Brown, President of the Manitoba Grain Growers' Association, at the opening session this morning of the annual convention. The convention, designated by Brown and other officials as the most important ever held by Grain Growers, is attended by delegates from all parts of the province, and by a large number of prominent United Farmer party leaders from Ontario, Alberta, Saskatchewan and New Brunswick. The four day meeting is expected to result in the formation of a United Farmers' Party of Manitoba, and crystallization of plans for an aggressive campaign in next Federal elections.

Brown's Address.

Brown's address emphasized the importance of farmers taking their place in the councils of the nation in this critical after-war period. With regard to the political situation, Mr. Brown said: "Canada is in a peculiar situation politically. We have at Ottawa a government, entrusted with power two years ago, which seemed to have the confidence of the people to a degree that a government seldom had, and yet to-day appearances indicate that this confidence has been almost completely withdrawn. An election held any time in the near future would probably return to parliament more different groups of members than have ever been in the Canadian House, and however these might agree or disagree on general politics they would probably, by a large majority, oppose the present government. There would be ... and Unionists are concerned, we will probably have a group of labor men and a large number, if not a majority, pledged to the support of the Farmers' platform. This might lead to a situation that would require even more delicate handling than the one in Ontario following the last election. A question for us to consider is this: 'Are we justified in taking the responsibility of bringing about such a situation?' I think we are, no matter in which direction parliamentary government may develop.

Group System.

It may very well be that development lies along the line of the group system. If so, some very radical changes in operation of the present system would seem to be involved, in which case it is eminently desirable that men constituting these groups should be the men of the largest calibre. If, however, the old bi-party system is to be maintained—and there are many who look with disfavor upon the group system, who hold this is inevitable—we have at least done this, we have helped to secure a realignment according to principle rather than according to inherited prejudice, and even if we have distinctive party names, such as Progressive and Conservative or any other names, they will for a time at least, and in a greater measure than in the past, designate the men who bear them.

With these considerations in view, the importance of the next Federal election ought to be clearly seen. We need in Parliament, perhaps as we never needed before, men of vision, men of high ideals, of broad outlook, wide sympathies and the saving grace of common sense. To get these is the main concern of the nation during a time that intervenes between now and the next election.

The political situation was again referred to in this afternoon's session when W. R. Wood, secretary, gave his annual report. The paramount feature of the year's work has undoubtedly been the development of opinion favorable to independent political action in support of the farmers' platform.

AMERICA WILL NOT PARTICIPATE

Allies May Have to Pull Bill Out by Scruff of the Neck

(Canadian Press.)

AMERONGEN, Jan. 7.—Allied demands for extradition of former Emperor William of Germany, in which it is known America will not participate, are expected at The Hague about January 15. Recent despatches have stated that Count Hohenzollern might surrender rather than embarrass the Netherlands government, but it is authoritatively reported he will rely on the protection of Holland and her refusal to honor the Allied demand.

NEWSPAPERS MAY HAVE TO SUSPEND

NEWSPAPER SUPPLY TO THE WEST IS CUT OFF.

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 7.—Many newspapers throughout the west must suspend publication before next Saturday unless the Ottawa government acts immediately to relieve the acute paper shortage. The Fort Frances Paper Co., which supplies the entire west, has issued an ultimatum refusing to supply another pound of paper to any publisher until the government fulfills its promise to compel the eastern paper mills to provide their share of extra tonnage consumed in the west.

Winnipeg papers to-day secured a final shipment from the mills, which will last them only until Friday if extreme measures of economy are affected. Beginning to-day, they reduce the size of publications about one-half of normal. Papers throughout the west are in a similar position so unless the Governments act promptly and shipments from mills are resumed immediately, there will be no papers in Winnipeg and probably none anywhere in the west on Saturday.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE GRAND THEATRE

NEW MOTION PICTURE SCREEN WEIGHS OVER TWO TONS.

To-morrow evening, the opening night of the vaudeville season at the Grand, patrons of the theatre will have an opportunity to see for the first time the splendid new additions to the stage setting which at an expenditure of some five or six thousand dollars, the new owners of the theatre have installed. Handsome and exceedingly expensive scenery has totally replaced that which has become so familiar. With splendid judgment Manager Harry Dahn has purchased color and scenic effects which cannot be rivalled in Canada. Another valuable addition to the stage is the new lighting. Fifteen Olivette lights of 2000 candle power each, and similar to those used in the Stuart-Whyte productions, have been installed. New color effects, a valuable addition to any play, may be obtained from the new spot light.

New Screen.

In place of the old sheet used heretofore for the movies and which like all such sheets had a predisposition to shimmer, interfering with the clarity of the picture, the management has purchased at an expenditure of $450 the only gold fibre screen in Ontario, which reflects the pictures with the accuracy of a looking glass and the weight of which (over two tons) prevents any motion whatever. This will be transferred to the back of the stage in order that the vaudeville acts may be carried on without the delay of rolling back the screen.

The management stated to-day that in renovating the stage America was searched for the best of everything that money could buy. The border decorations were done by city artists whose work Mr. Dahn appreciates.

THE SOVIET FORCES ARE ADVANCING ON ALL FRONTS, ACCORDING TO DESPATCHES

(By. Ed. L. Keen, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, January 7.—The recently-launched offensive against the Bolsheviki forces in North-West Russia, was inspired by the Allies to force the Reds to withdraw men from the Southern front, where their armies are putting the finishing touches to General Denekine's forces, a Moscow wireless despatch claimed today.

The Reds, however, claimed further successes against Denekine. The Soviet forces are approaching Odessa, they declared, and the anti-Bolsheviki inhabitants of that city are fleeing in terror toward Constantinople.

The Reds also claimed the capture of Mariupol, an important port on the Sea of Azov. The Denekine forces defending Mariupol fled, partly in steamers and partly along the coast, the Bolsheviki asserted.

Another Bolshekiki wireless claimed that Admiral Kolchak, head of the All-Russian Government in Siberia, had resigned. The Bolsheviki also claimed the resignation of Chairman Lukomsky, of General Denekine's special Council.

Premier Lenine, of the Soviet Government, is making every effort to placate the peoples of South Russia, it was indicated. A Moscow wireless communique, sent all over Russia, promised the Ukrainian Proletariat and the Societies of Peasants and Workmen to allow them to determine their own national future.

TO REGISTER BABIES IN ALL PARTS OF CITY UNDER FOUR YEARS OLD

BABIES' CLINIC ORGANIZERS MET LAST EVENING AND DISCUSSED PLANS FOR THE WORK.

HELP WANTED

At a meeting of the "Well Babies Clinic" held last night at the home of the Convenor a communication was read from the Medical Association approving of the plans of the Babies Clinic as outlined by the Committee and promising their hearty co-operation. It was moved that a letter of appreciation should be went to the Association thanking them for their endorsement and help in the work.

Resolutions Passed.

The following resolutions were passed; that Mrs. W. R. Harstone and Mrs. James Kendry be appointed to supervise the registration of babies under four years of age in every part of the city; that Mrs. D. N. Carmichael and Mrs. C. E. Jemieson be appointed conveners of the Nurses ... Davidson be appointed as a buying and house committee.

Secretary Appointed.

The Committee was very pleased to receive an offer from the King's Daughters of their assistance in any way needed. Miss Jean Harstone has kindly consented to act as secretary for the Clinic where her services will be greatly appreciated.

Second Reserve Force.

As the Clinic will be held twice weekly all the year round it was considered best to have a second reserve force of ladies to take charge in turn with the others so that the ladies of the city need not be astonished if they are called by telephone and asked to give their valuable assistance in this splendid work.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE FOR THE BRIDGE WORK

ALDERMEN WOULD AVOID TOO MANY MEETINGS THIS YEAR.

On account of the pressure of the Council's business that will develop this year by reason of the Hunter street bridge work, the sewage disposal plant and probably street paving, some of the aldermen are proposing that the Board of Works be divorced from the large projects that provide sufficient business for a new if not a standing committee. It has been suggested that a special committee could assume the details of the bridge and take on the disposal plant as excess. This would leave to the Board of Works it own affairs pertaining to streets, sewers and sidewalks and whatever street paving may be decided upon. Some of the new members, and likewise several of last year's council, have no relish for unnecessary meetings and for anything that approaches duplication.

The Board of Works was composed of the entire Council last year, and in addition to its regular business assumed much of the detail in connection with the Hunter street bridge. Some of the members state that it would be preferable to confine the bridge affairs to one committee and thereby avoid the large number of meetings that were necessary last year.

ANOTHER NOTE TO THE PEACE CONFERENCE FROM THE GERMANS

DELEGATES ARRIVE

(United Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 7.—Germany has sent a note to the Peace Conference objecting to the proposed trial of Teuton officers who scuttled the interned German fleet at Scapa Flow, by an Allied tribunal, it was learned to-day. The Germans also renewed their objection to giving up five light cruisers demanded by France, declaring their surrender would leave Germany without sufficient ships of this type for necessary patrol duty. The note reiterated the German denial that marine materiel demanded in the Scapa Flow ... article of the protocol, ... sold since November 3, 1919, as the Allies have claimed. Germany ...

TWO CALENDARS FOR THE CHINESE

Canadian Year Has Not Been Adopted By Peterboro Chinamen.

Although in some cities the Chinese have adopted the Canadian year and observed the 1st of January as New Year's Day, no action on this matter has taken place in Peterborough, so far as The Examiner should learn from the Chinese colony here.

The Chinese year begins some time in February, and two calendars have been in use.

Jim Hum, proprietor of the Paris Cafe, when questioned on the change, said that he had heard nothing of it, and no change was contemplated here.

THE FARMERS MAY ENDORSE SOLDIER

RETURNED MAN WILL BE ELECTED IN CARLETON COUNTY.

(Special to The Examiner.)

FREDERICTON, N. B., Jan. 7.—Latest reports from Carleton County indicate that the proposition to have a returned soldier elected without opposition for the vacant seat in the representation of that constituency in the Legislature would probably be adopted. Thos. W. Caldwell, M.P.P. for Carleton, Victoria, who is President of the United Farmers of New Brunswick, expressed himself as in favor of the United Farmers agreeing to the proposal not to oppose a returned soldier candidate offering as an Independent, and said most of the United Farmers he had discussed the matter with were willing to do the same, although confident that they would carry the county with a United Farmers' candidate.

GOODS AT HALF COST

B. CHESLER ANNOUNCES THE FINAL FOUR DAYS WIND-UP OF THE H. J. ZACKS SELLING OUT SALE.

Mr. B. Chesler, who purchased the balance of the stock of H. J. Zacks, and has conducted the selling out sale since that time, now announces that he intends moving the stock contained in his lower store at 289 George street, to the more central location which he secured with the H. J. Zacks' stock, and to make room for the double store is closing the selling out sale with a grand final four days' sale at prices that would be impossible if the goods were bought wholesale to-day. All the new stock of Ladies' Wear bought by Mr. Zacks for this season's trade, are being offered during this final four days at about half price, and Mr. Chesler is confident that when buyers see the goods and hear the low prices, he will obtain practically a clean-out of the Zacks stock, and have room for his own in the store.

SHIP BUILDERS LOOKING FOR AID

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—Representatives of seventeen ship-building companies waited on the government to-day, urging assistance for ship building in Canada. They requested that for a term of ten years, the government should grant a bonus of ten dollar per displacement ton and ten dollars per indicated horse power on steel ships built and completed in Canada after April 12. Sir George Foster promised consideration and the delegation will appoint a committee to deal further with the Cabinet.

PETERBORO MAN LOST HIS FOXES

ONTARIO POLICE DEPARTMENTS ON THE LOOK OUT.

TORONTO, Jan. 7.—Toronto police have been invited to help search for two foxes stolen on December 28 from Young's Point, near Peterborough.

One is not an ordinary fox. It is described as a "silver grey male fox, grey on the back with stripes of red on his shoulders, breast all black, head gray." The other, a female, is merely a red fox, and would probably pass unnoticed on the streets of the city.

The silver grey animal, however, is a rare specimen, and is also stated to be worth considerable money. The fact that both wore collars, and that the fur around their necks is slightly worn in consequence, should assist the police considerably, it was stated last night.

The Chief of Police of Peterborough has sent word to the local police to keep an eye open for them. As a reward is offered, fox-hunting may become popular among the constables.

The foxes are the property of Mr. William Brooks, of Young's Point.

TRINITY CHURCH LADIES' AID HELD REGULAR MEETING

The regular meeting Trinity Church Ladies Aid was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. A. Morrison, Hunter street. The programme was most interesting and helpful. Mrs. Morley Lyle gave a scripture travel talk. Mrs. Thomas Barrie, a reading on New Year's Thoughts and Mrs George King contributed a solo. A basket hung in a wreath of flowers and foliage prepared by Mrs. Kidd and Mrs. McBride proved a unique way of receiving talent money made by the members for the Ladies Aid and which amounted to $310 including a cheque of $152 from a talent calendar birthday party.

Mrs. Morrison assisted by Mrs. Padgett, Mrs. Mann, Mrs. Barrie, Mrs. Neville, and Mrs. Lyle poured tea from which they realized $10. The Aid is very much indebted to Mrs. Morrison for her kindness in throwing her home open for the occasion.

Christian Scientists on Increase in Toronto

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Jan. 7.— Statistics from the assessment commissioners' report regarding the strength of religious denominations in Toronto, reveal some interesting facts concerning the growth of various secets during the past five years. In a general way, it may be said that the big denominations are growing and the smaller ones decreasing in membership. An outstanding exception, however, is furnished by the Christian Scientists, who have increased in numbers 53.1 per cent. since 1914.

WAGE DEMANDS OF RAILWAYMEN

DELEGATES WILL DISCUSS THE GOVERNMENT SCHEME

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 7.— Delegates of the railroad unions assembled at the Union headquarters here this forenoon to discuss the government's proposition in settlement of the wage demands of the employees of lower grades. Sixty delegates representing 14 hundred local unions with five hundred thousand members, were in attendance. J. H. Thomas, general secretary of National Railwaymen's Union, declined to make any statement, but other delegates expressed the belief that the discussion would last for two days, and a decision might be reached to-morrow.

A REVIVAL AT MARK STREET

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT THE MEETING LAST EVENING

About one hundred and fifty people attended the special services at Mark street Methodist Church, last night, where a great spiritual awakening is now in progress. A "Song Service" began at 7.45 and the regular meeting at eight o'clock. Promptly at the hour for the meeting our Epworth Leaguers left the Rink, with all its attractions, to attend the Revival.

There is no finer class of young people anywhere than we find in Peterboro, but they require strong, fearless, faithful leadership. We cannot fool them, they will laugh at us if we try the game. It will not do for us to sugar-coat the Devil and offer Him as a tonic saying "Take it Willie; Yes dear take it, it's good for your health." They know that the pool-room is bad that gambling is wrong and that the modern round dance works moral death and ruin. No, we must take all these forms of iniquity by the fore-lock an hit them hard between the eyes and the best thinking people of any evangelical church, young and old, will say "Amen".

Come to the meeting to-night at Mark street at 7.45. All welcome.

A CHESS CLUB FOR PETERBORO

The game of chess is among the most ancient games known, and those who have been able to learn to look on it as the most interesting of all indoor amusements and mental exercises.

During the war thousands of men in hospitals and barracks learned to play it, and there are probably many who would still like to enjoy a game occasionally.

With a view to finding out all those persons in the vicinity of Peterborough who play chess, it is suggested that they drop a postal card, with ... RATIFIED ACTION OF THE COMMISSION

Where Rabbits Climb Trees.

Ask him if rabbits can climb, and he will either laugh or regard you as a lunatic.

Yet rabbits do climb. Not English rabbits. They have not had need to learn to do so, for they have been able to find plenty of food on the ground. But their Australian descendants have been driven to climb trees to get green food in time of drought, and in some districts the Australian rabbit has become a regular climber.

The stoat, ferret and rat, all ground animals, are yet quite good tree climbers when the need arises. One of the weasel family, the pine marten, is as much at home in the tree tops as the squirrel itself.

A rat, though quite nimble among the branches, cannot come down as quickly as it goes up, and sometimes comes badly to grief in trying to jump from one bough to another.

A hunted fox will climb a tree with wonderful agility always supposing it can get any hold for its feet. A dog, on the other hand, will not climb; the reason is not so much that it cannot as that it seems aware that a very slight fall will snap its foreleg below the shoulder.

A Giant Sun.

Canopus, the giant of the solar system, is, according to a recent calculation, 49,000 times as bright as the sun. Its diameter is 134 times that of the sun; it is 18,000 times larger in surface, and 2,420,000 times larger in volume. The distance of it from us, according to this calculation, is 469 light years.

"Suppose," says another authority, "that instead of being at this enormous distance it were placed in the centre of the solar system, in lieu of the sun? It would then occupy .85 of the space lying within the orbit of Venus, and as seen from the earth would subtend an angle of about 70 degrees of arc. Thus, when its lower limb was on our horizon, its upper would be within 20 degrees of the zenith. Needless to say, no life could exist on earth with such a neighbor.

The Choice of Power Plant Engineers

Talking to men with reputations for continuous economical factory production we find their needs in power transmission quite similar down to—

Moderate first cost
Minimum operating cost.
Adaptability.
Interchangeability.

For these reasons Dodge Wood-Split Pulleys have a firm hold upon their affections.

* * * * *

We never try to tell a man that he should put in Dodge Wood-Split Pulleys because someone else has. We like all superintendents, engineers and purchasing agents to prove them out on the merits of the result they personally get from them.

When they win out (as they invariably do) we then have a firm customer. And that is what we want.

Our business has been built up by its orders from firm customers rather than from casual buyers.

TRUCKS LADEN WITH WHISKEY AND BEER CALL ON WINDSOR RESIDENTS, LEAVING PORTIONS OF CARGO

DETROIT, Jan 6.—For the first time in about two years the sight of motor trucks heavily loaded with kegs of beer and cases of whiskey, chugging through their streets, greeted Windsor Friday. The lid was off!

And for the first time in two years such trucks pulled up to the curb at Windsor homes. No truck pulled away again before one or two cases of the precious cargo had been unloaded. In a few instances reports indicated as many as ten cases of whiskey were delivered to one home.

Inspector is Non-committal.

M. N. Mousseau, license inspector, was non-committal as to whether or not he had received official confirmation of the order-in-council lifting the liquor ban in Canada. But his statement that he would no longer interfere with shipments of liquor was taken as indicating that he had.

However, while the license inspector said he would not concern himself with "open shipments," he announced that he is still watching for "camouflaged consignments" originating with boot-leggers.

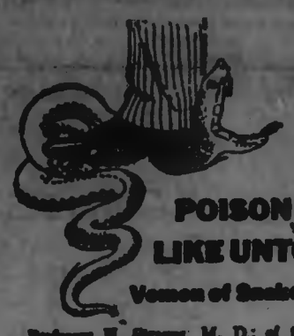
Although war-time restrictions were supposed to have been in force Thursday, the Windsor police court docket on Friday last indicated that 38 persons had found New Year's cheer in too large quantities. Of this number, all charged with drunkenness, 16 were Detroiters. The average fine imposed was $17.50, but one man from Ford City was fined $250 and costs because he was suspected of having intended to sell a large quantity of whiskey found in his possession. Two Detroiters, answering a charge of disorderly conduct, in addition to drunkenness, were fined $50 each.

Will Not Be Dumping Ground.

Concerning the large number of Detroiters represented in the day's police court grist, Magistrate A. Miers said:

"This court will undertake to make it clear that Detroiters will not be permitted to make Windsor a dumping ground."

Court attaches said that the number of those up on charges of drunkenness Friday last was far greater than in the days of the open saloon in Windsor.



POISON LIKE UNTO Vemon of Snakes

Professor H. Strauss, M. D., of the Royal Charity Hospital, says, "The cause for an attack of gout, rheumatism, lumbago, is supplied by the increase of uric acid in the blood serum, the result of various causes, the most frequent of which is renal. Before an attack, one suffers sometimes from headache, neuralgia, twinges of pain here and there."

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, when the back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; when you suffer with dull headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach; or you have rheumatic pains or lumbago, gout, sciatica when the weather is bad, do not neglect the warning, but try simple means. Take six or eight glasses of water during the day, then obtain at your nearest drug store "An-uric" (anti-uric acid).

This is the discovery of Dr. Pierce of the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. "An-uric" is an antidote for uric acid poisoning and dissolves uric acid in the body much as hot coffee dissolves sugar.

"An-uric" will penetrate into the joints and muscles, and dissolve the poisonous accumulations. It will stamp out toxins.

Send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

Board of Commerce to Deal With "Luxury Lines."

OTTAWA, Jan. 6.—The Board of Commerce is likely to give a little more leeway in regard to profits of shoe dealers on what are known as "luxury lines." It is claimed by the dealers that, of a very high class of boots and shoes worn by ladies the fashions change rapidly and the demand is always uncertain. They want a wider margin of profit, and are likely to get it.

DAMAGES COURTS BEGIN HUGE TASK

MAY TAKE 7 YEARS TO EXAMINE CLAIMS OF 600,000 WAR SUFFERERS.

PARIS, Jan. 6.—The war damages courts are beginning to work in the devastated regions. The sufferers number 600,000. The whole organisation is extremely complicated from the very nature of the situation.

How complicated it is may be realised from the fact that the legal department created in connection with it will require seven years before it has completed its examination of the Dossiers of the 600,000 sufferers of the Nord Department.

Six hundred thousand accounts will have to be opened. Years will pass before they have been liquidated, and for a long time to come the system of advances will continue and will require the services of a considerable expert staff. Up to the present, two milliards of francs already has been

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Nearly one thousand tons of sugar, harvested in Porto Rico, will be released for American consumption shortly, the department of justice announced here.

The railroad strike had prevented sugar held in the interior from being moved to the seaports.

HAD ECZEMA For Over 28 Years

Eczema or Salt Rheum manifests itself in little round blisters, which contain an extremely irritating fluid. These break and subsequently a crust is formed, and the intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when the part is exposed to any strong heat is almost unbearable.

The success which Burdock Blood Bitters has met with in skin diseases of such severity is due to its wonderful blood cleansing and purifying properties, and we know of no other remedy that has done or can do, so much for those who are almost driven to distraction with the terrible torture.

Mr. James Walker, 182 Niagara St., Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"I have been using Burdock Blood Bitters for some months past, and find it an excellent remedy for skin eruptions. I have suffered with eczema for over 28 years, and have tried almost everything you could think of. I was recommended to use Burdock Blood Bitters, and I am now clear of my skin trouble. It is certainly a good remedy and I shall recommend it to all my friends."

SHOP LIFTERS FILL A PATROL WAGGON

Three patrol waggons filled with alleged shop-lifters comprised one day's "crop" of offenders of this sort at New Year. Twelve detectives, representing seven stores, appeared in Magistrate Jean H. Norris' Women's Court to press charges of larceny against the women. They were remanded for hearing. Silk stockings are proving most tempting to shoplifters this year, according to Genevieve Conover, a store detective. Miss Conover says the "run" on the high grade stocks of hosiery has forced the stores to keep an especially watchful eye on the stockings counters. She believes the increased cost of stocking is in part responsible for the situation.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1920.

THE LIKELY CHOICE.

Mr. J. M. Greene will likely be the choice of the Board of Education to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Wm. [illegible]. Mr. Greene has not only the [illegible] of having been the highest [illegible] defeated candidates in the recent elections, but has also his record on the Board of Education to commend him for the appointment. That his services have been appreciated by his colleagues who have had the best opportunity of estimating his worth was evident in the references made to him at last night's meeting, and it is to be hoped that the Board will elect, and Mr. Greene will accept, the appointment. He has done good work on the Board and his experience and business training makes him valuable.

A PETERBORO BOY'S SUCCESS.

Peterboro boys have a faculty of making good wherever they locate and in whatever line of activity they select. In this respect his many friends here will be interested in learning that Mr. Melville M. Robinson formerly of Peterboro was a successful candidate in the recent municipal elections in Hamilton, being chosen as a member of the Board of Education. Mr. Robinson was formerly sporting editor of the Hamilton Spectator and is now city editor of the same paper. He was overseas with the Canadian machine gun battalion and was a nominee of the Hamilton veterans in last week's elections. Being a member of the Board of Education should come naturally to him for his father Mr. W. S. Robinson was at one time a member of the Peterboro school Board. The Examiner congratulates Mr. Robinson on the confidence his fellow citizens in Hamilton have placed in him and as a Peterboro boy and a fellow craftsman wishes him a successful career in his municipal experiences.

TEACHERS' SALARIES.

The recommendation from last year's Board of Education to the 1920 Board that the Committee on Appointments meet a small committee representing the Lady Teachers' Guild, the Principals and Vice-Principals' Association, and the staff of the Collegiate Institute, and discuss with them the salary schedule, is one that will undoubtedly be carried out by the new Board and that ought to lead to a satisfactory settlement of the matter. Much can be hoped for from a conference of this kind, which will give the teachers a chance to state their case fully and the Board an opportunity to discuss in detail the schedule. The members of the Board realize that the teachers should be adequately recompensed for their labours and are anxious to see that they are satisfied with the remuneration they receive. At the same time the Board is conscious that the cost of maintaining Peterborough's school system is steadily increasing, the salaries of teachers and janitors in the Public schools and Collegiate Institute last year amounting to over $100,000—to be exact, $107,563.60, while the total expenditure of the Board was $155,426.40. A conference between the teachers and the Board will lead to a better mutual understanding of the situation.

THE REVOLUTIONARY MOVEMENT.

The necessity of the active campaign of the United States Government against the leaders of the radical revolutionary movement is indicated by the statement of Senator Clayton Lusk that more than 30,000 alien enemies are organized in the communist party of New York State alone to overthrow by violence the American Government. In addition to the communists, he explained there are other revolutionary organizations working to the same end. The Bolshevist movement according to Senator Lusk has made much greater progress in the United States than the average citizen imagines and he claims that "the arrests already made on the charge of criminal anarchy and for deportation hardly scratch the surface of the situation." Senator Lusk believes that in order to effectively combat the Red organizations it will be necessary for the loyal citizens in each community to perfect organizations of their to co-operate with the authorities in uncovering and prosecuting the disturbers.

The revelation of the extent of the revolutionary movement across the border indicates that there is undoubtedly a similar campaign at work in Canada, and should result in alertness on the part of the authorities although the sound good sense of the Canadian people is a safeguard against the propaganda of the revolutionaries.

HOCKEY FANS.

In a letter to the Examiner Mr. J. F. Davidson complains of the "rooting" of the fans during the hockey match with Canadigton the other night and asks the Examiner's opinion. It seems to us that Mr. Davidson is unreasonable upon the perseguitive of the hockey devotees when he finds fault with their vocal efforts. The "rooting" of the crowd is a feature of the game and as long as it is kept within the bounds of good taste and not marred by bad language, there does not seem much to complain of. In the particular game that Mr. Davidson mentioned, the local fans, although they indulged in much of the chaffing that has characterized hockey games since the pastime was developed from the old-time shinney, gave the visitors a good reception and the cheer that greeted their first goal was not lacking in volume, there is no malice in the greater part of this rooting at hockey games and if Mr. Davidson thinks that the behaviour of the crowds on Monday night reflects unfavourably upon Peterboro's reputation in the sporting world, he should spend an evening in the bleacher section of the Toronto arena during a big game or mingle with an Oshawa crowd when there is any danger of the home team losing. The cheering of the local fans would seem mild in comparison.

AN IMPOSSIBLE DEMAND.

Probably the Entente governments would agree to certain of the "reservations" framed by the anti-administration majority in the U.S. senate if by agreeing to them the entrance of the United States into the League of Nations and its active co-operation in the work of reconstruction would be assured. But one of these reservations will not be accepted by them. That is the one in which the demand is made either that Canada and the other self-governing states of the British empire be thrown out of the League of Nations as voting members, or that the United States be granted equal voting power with these states and Britain combined—that is, six votes. This demand will not be granted because to grant it a complete reversal of the policy and action of the peace conference would be necessary, and it would be necessary also to secure the consent of the British Dominions to their own elimination. Official announcement has already been made in London that the British government will not even consider the American demand for the cancellation of the privilege granted to Canada and the other Dominions—that indeed it would not be in the power of the British government to withdraw the privilege without the consent of the Dominion governments, which have obtained international status as members of the peace conference and of the League of Nations.

The American alternative demand that the United States be granted six votes in the League of Nations assembly in order that the voting power may be equal to that of Britain and the Dominions combined, would probably not be opposed by the British government, particularly as the functions of the League assembly will be almost wholly consultative and it will exercise very little executive power. But it is not likely that France and Italy and Japan would consent to the proposed arrangement unless they too were to be allowed six votes each in the assembly, for by their consent they would be acknowledging that the international status of the United States is superior to their own.

As a matter of fact, it would not be necessary for the United States to obtain the coveted six votes in order to be equal in voting power with the states of the British empire. The U. S. government controls the foreign policies of Cuba, Haiti, Santo Domingo, Nicaragua and Panama, all of which will be represented in the League of Nations. Not one of those little states would sent a representative to the league who would dare to antagonize the Washington government. They would be under its control in a far more real sense than the representatives of the British Dominions would be under the control of the British government. And it should be considered also that the Philippines, Hawaii and Porto Rico are likely to attain the status of self-governing states and obtain recognition of their right to admission into the League of Nations as voting members while they remain under the tutelage of the United States.

"We have it in our power," says the Philadelphia Record, "to secure as large a representation in the League of Nations as the British empire has, and possibly a larger representation."

There is no honest purpose in the senatorial reservation. Its real purpose is to play upon anti-British American sentiment and defeat the peace treaty by indirection.—Hamilton Herald.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Sam Hunter in a cartoon in the Toronto World has expressed the political situation at Ottawa very effectively by picturing Sir Robert Borden taking leave of Sir George E. Foster with the admonition "And now George Eulas, until we meet again, hang together, do nothing, do it quietly."

The report that eggs are selling in Vienna for 9re a piece makes the Canadian price look like a bargain.

The $50,000,000 fund that the Anti-Saloon League of America is raising to further the prohibition movement in Europe could be used to much better advantage in saving Europeans from starvation.

KEYS—THEIR USE AND ABUSE

Concerning the Inventions of Locksmiths and the Disadvantages of Being Locked Out.

The key is an acknowledgment of man's depravity. If every man respected his neighbor's goods and privacy, we should not be burdened with carrying keys, in bags or pockets, hunting for them in a panic and frequently losing or mislaying them. We have the care of a door key, an office key, a trunk key, a safety-box key, if we are coupon-cutters; our locker key, if we are sports, and automobile and garage keys, if we own these luxuries. Keys naturally multiply with our outward prosperity. Diogenes, living in a tub, was a happy man, so far as the responsibility of keys went, and although some people might prefer more roomy apartments for a permanency, at least Diogenes wasn't obliged to turn his toga pockets inside out in a vain attempt to locate his key—when returning to the tub after a brief sojourn at the club.

Keyrings, upon which you can concentrate your responsibilities, are sometimes desirable; on the other hand, if lost, the whole bunch must be replaced. I commend the habit of the public bath frequenter, that of wearing the bathhouse key on a rubber ring around the neck, preferable to any other method. It absolutely cannot be lost, unless the bather is eaten by a shark.—Esther G. Babson, in Boston Transcript.

RAISED OVER 5,000 SONG BIRDS IN PRISON

Prisoner Released After 21 Years Claims He Was Innocent.

JACKSON, Mich., Jan. 6.—The recent pardoning of John Higgins after he had spent more than 21 years in the state penitentiary here for a crime he claims he did not commit, reveals the manner in which the convict made his life of confinement useful and interesting by raising song birds.

Higgins was convicted in 1898 on a charge of murder. During the past 18 years he raised inside the prison walls and sold more than 5,000 song birds. He has sold birds in every section of the country and some have even been shipped to other lands.

In addition to developing the bird industry, Higgins became an expert photographer, and for ten years was in charge of the prison gallery.

1000 EGGS IN EVERY HEN

New System of Poultry Keeping—Get Dollar A Dozen Eggs—Famous Poultryman TELLS HOW

"The great trouble with the poultry business has always been that the laying life of a hen was too short" says Henry Trafford, International Poultry Expert and Breeder, for nearly eighteen years Editor of Poultry Success.

The average pullet lays 150 eggs. If kept the second year, she may lay 100 more. Then she goes to market. Yet, it has been scientifically established that every pullet is born or hatched with over one thousand minute egg germs in her system— and will lay them on a highly profitable basis over a period of four to six years' time if given proper care.

How to work to get 1,000 eggs from every hen; how to get pullets laying early; how to make the old hens lay like pullets; how to keep up heavy egg production all through cold winter months when eggs are highest; triple egg production; make slacker hens hustle; $3.00 profit from every hen in six winter months. These and many other money making poultry secrets are contained in Mr. Trafford's "$1,000 EGG HEN" system of poultry raising, one copy of which will be sent absolutely free to any reader of this paper who keeps six hens or more. Eggs should go to a dollar or more a dozen this winter. This means big profit to the poultry keeper who gets the eggs. Mr. Trafford tells how. If you keep chickens and want them to make money for you, cut out this ad and send it with your name and address to Henry Trafford, Suite 580D Tyne Bldg., Binghamton, N.Y., and a free copy of "THE 1,000 EGG HEN" will be sent by return mail.

CAT GOES FISHING.

London, Eng.—The busy little boat building community of Stratford-on-the-Green, possesses a cat that subsists almost entirely on the small fishes which it catches in the Thames. When hungry he eats his catches; at other times he leaves the fish to the sport of the youngsters who always swarm around him, and occasionally he has been known to take his fish home, only a few yards from the riverside.

Shoe Comfort Keeps Pace with Your Every Step

Fitting shoes is different from fitting clothes. No doubt you have experienced it when a shoe pinched. There were no seams to let out. We mention this to emphasize how really important it is to be properly fitted with shoes. Ill fitting boots will ruin your feet but ill fitting clothes can do no more than spoil your appearance.

When we opened our new department we determined to have it properly conducted, and so it is to-day that you will find widths from AA down and shapes that were selected because their merits are threefold, namely:

Lasts so constructed and shaped that they will not injure the foot.

Styles that are fashionable by the decree of the world's fashion centres.

Quality in both leather and workmanship.

Every pair of shoes is made specially for our stock, and every pair is fitted by one who has had a wide experience in the finest shoe stores in Canada.

A SHAMPOO OR MASSAGE IS INVIGORATING and we know it can be efficiently done in our parlours on the second floor, Hackney's, every day.

A Medley of Materials for Blouses, Skirts and Dresses

It would really be a shame to conceal their beauty beneath a coat, so we suggest that they be used for afternoon wear or any other time that provides an opportunity to display their attractiveness.

A very fine cord silk and wool bengaline, and with it goes many desirable qualities; the colours are fast, it has a rich sheen that is permanent, its suppleness makes it adaptable to the prevailing mode, and the woman who is hard on clothes will be glad to learn that it will not crease. Obtainable in the following colours: taupe, old Chine blue, mid grey and mulberry. The width is 40 inches. Price, $2.25.

This silk, because of its alternate one-inch stripes of satin and taffeta, will make a strong appeal to the woman who is partial to stripes. It is ideal for separate skirts, and is favoured by some for blouses. The width is a full 36 inches. You have the choice of either navy or taupe. Price, $2.25 yard.

When purchasing Georgette crepe the other day we selected two handsome shades that are now on our shelves. One is a rich tone of ocean blue and the other sunset pink. The quality is in keeping with the colour, for it is that desirable elbow proof sort that renders long service. Also all staple colours in the same cloth. Price, $3.00 yard.

It is rather early to herald the Springtime. Nevertheless, Four Pieces of Spring Suiting or Costing Fabric reached us This Week. It is known as Trico Cord—a material with a Self Stripe, and it is Pure Wool. The colours are: Jade, Biege, Kangaroo, and French Grey. The width is 56 inches. Price—$3.00.

SHOT WOMAN WHO REFUSED TO ELOPE

TRAGEDY IN ST. CATHARINES—MURDERER ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Canadian Press.

ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 7. — Refusing an invitation to elope with Alex. C. Templain, a boarder, Mrs. Edward Goodall was shot and instantly killed by Templain in her home here this morning. He then turned the revolver on himself, and sent one bullet through his head and another just above his heart.

He regained consciousness long enough to admit the murder and that the woman had refused his plea to run away with him.

Templain has a slight chance of recovery. He is said to be of German extraction and came here from Welland. He has been employed in the tool department at the Canadian Crocker Wheeler Co. He is 35 years of age and his victim is 20 years older. She leaves a married daughter as well as her husband. The family has lived here for many years. Templain is a native of Humberstone.

PASTEURIZED MILK

Is Not Only SAFE Milk, but is the BEST and CHEAPEST Food

One Quart of Milk (12c) is equal in food value to Three-fourths of a pound of Lean Beef (25c) or to Eight Eggs (45c) or Three pounds of Fish (25c) or Two pounds of Chicken (50c).

Which will you have for your Children and Yourself?

The strongest argument for the use of plenty of Milk and Butter is this fact, that growth depends upon a particular stimulating substance which is not found in most foods, but which is present in the butter fat. Pasteurization does not destroy this vital principle.

There is no other food that has all the virtues of Milk. There is no substitute for Milk. There is no economy to be great that Children should be denied Milk. There is no famine so desperate as a Milk famine.

And while the Cow is a good foster mother, PASTEURIZING the Raw Milk makes it always SAFE and FREE FROM IMPURITIES.

Order Generously. Start TO-DAY to give a definite, liberal quantity of Milk to your Children EVERY DAY. Let them drink it for meals—and in between meals, too.

THIRTY MILLION LIVES SACRIFICED

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Thirty million men and women and children have died in Russia from violence, famine, and disease during the last three years, according to a statement on peasant conditions in the once great Empire which was made to-day by Princess Castelcicala, formerly, in an appeal for Russian relief.

Many Still Love To Be Humbugged

Seem Not to Mind Having 'Something Put Over' on Them tne Least Bit

Pink Pyjamas For Shirt

Mail Order Houses Find It Easy To Make Substitution Because of the Cost of Making Exchanges

(Copyright.)

It was a famous American showman who declared that the American people love to be humbugged. That saying is many years old now but sometimes it seems that there is about as much truth in it now as there was when it was first uttered.

People as a rule do not like the idea of having "something put over" on them, but from the way in which the great mail order house in the big cities flourish it seems that a great many people do not mind it a bit.

The business man who, when he gets a call for an article which he has not in stock, attempts to substitute some other article of a similar [illegible] without telling the buyer of the substitution, is "putting something over" on his customer. Few retail merchants nowadays attempt to do a thing of that kind. The great majority of merchants do not do this for two reasons. One reason is that they wouldn't do it if they could and the other is that they couldn't do it if they would. The man who buys an article over the counter and sees what he is buying before he pays for it, is pretty sure to get what he wants.

Ordered Shirt, Get Pajamas.

But there is another class of merchants, of which the same thing cannot be said. A man who has been closely connected with some of the big mail order houses is authority for the statement that the heads of the various merchandise departments of many mail order houses have standing orders to substitute with the nearest thing they have if the article ordered are set in stock and available for delivery. It is related that in one instance as a result of these instructions, a man who ordered a dress shirt from a mail order house received a pair of pink pajamas instead.

It is easy for the mail order house to get away with the substitution of another article for the one that is ordered for the reason that to exchange an article received from a catalogue house is a costly undertaking.

Exchanges Are Costly.

If a mail order buyer is disappointed in his purchase, as he is very apt to be when he compares the article upon its arrival with the picture and flowery description which appeared in the catalogue, the wisest plan is to take what he gets and make the best of it for every time he sends an article back to be exchanged, he is piling up the express or freight charges and even if the article is exchanged as requested, the buyer is not apt to fare much better on the second attempt.

The mail order houses are well aware of the fact that the majority of their customers will not go to the trouble and expense of returning an article if it does not come up to their expectations and as a result they can work the substitution game to their heart's content.

The home merchant, however, cannot do business in this way and as has been said, the majority of them would not do it if they could. The home merchant, if he does not like the article called for, may offer another with the explanation that it is of the same quality as the one for which the customer asked. Good merchants nowadays even hesitate to offer something "just as good" to the customer especially when the article called for is one that has become well-known and popular through the advertising done by the manufacturer, but to attempt to make a substitution without the knowledge or consent of the customer! Well, it isn't being done by the local merchants today.

Substitution Made Easy.

Substitution is made easy for the mail order houses, also, by the fact that they do not sell much of what is known as "advertised" goods—that is, goods that have been thoroughly advertised by the manufacturers and have become nationally known through such advertising. A large part of the merchandise which the mail order houses sell purports to be manufactured by them—although in most cases little of it is made in their own plants. Much of this merchandise bears only the name of the mail order house and it is easy to substitute one article for another without the customer being any the wiser.

The methods of the home merchant naturally are different. With the great development of advertising in recent years much of the merchandise carried by the retail merchant is "advertised" goods. These goods are of familiar brands, the names of which have been made famous by the national advertising of the makers. This advertising is a distinct protection to the buyer for the latter knows when he goes into his local store and asks for an article of this kind that he will get just what he asks for if the merchant has it in stock and that he will be told if the article is not in stock. There is absolutely no opportunity for the merchant to "put one over" on him, even if the merchant had the inclination to do so.

CHAPTER XIII

"Why there's Everett—Mr. Gra-" I exclaimed to Mr. Halliday. "Let us go over and join him."

"Do you think that is wise? I fancy he is talking business and would interrupt him."

"Oh, do you think so?" We had finished our luncheon. The waiter just placed our coffee on the table.

"Yes, we have nearly finished, they haven't commenced. I think it would be very unwise to disturb them."

I did not know what to do. It seemed terrible to have Everett, my husband, in the same room and not to speak to him; yet if Mr. Halliday were right and he was talking business with his companion, he might be cross with me for interrupting him. I would be guided by Mr. Halliday.

THE CHURCHES' UNITED EFFORT

"COME YE APART"—THE MASTER'S CALL TO THE PEOPLE OF PETERBOROUGH.

"Come ye apart," said the Master ... ago. He had a great work for ... disciples to do. The day was ... when He would be separated ... them in the flesh, and they ... have to meet the difficulties in... to their personal development ... to their work for Him without ... inspiration and guidance of His ... presence and His audible ... There was a work to be done ... them which could not be done in ... rush and press of the multitude. ... ye apart." And they went ... with Him, and they found it so ... to be apart with Him that some... when the multitudes were call... Him to the plains they wanted to ... in the heights. "Master, it is ... for us to be here."

Through the services of this week ... prayer the Master is saying "Come ... apart." The material side of life ... pressing perhaps larger than ever ... The visible a appallingly vis... The forces out of sight by ... we might enter into the in... of the sons of God are not ... upon. We do not write ... on the mighty deposits that ... the birthright of every child of ... The meetings now in progress furnish an opportunity of having Jesus in the midst. Let us seize the opportunity. Let us seize the privilege. Let us keep this appointment with Him at eight o'clock to-night. If you cannot leave your home duties, will you not take a little while apart with Him in prayer and meditaton, and give the soul of you a chance to be a living soul indeed?

St. Andrew's Pres. Church.

The service in St. Andrew's Church last night was greatly enjoyed. There was a much larger attendance, and the message was listened to with wrapt attention. A still larger attendance is looked for to-night. Mr. McConnachie had for his text, "All have sinned" (Romans 3, 23). He recalled Carlisle's saying that the sense of sin was the beginning of all progress. Yet some people preferred to live without it because it disturbed their peace. It might be possible to exaggerate the fact of sin, but just now the tendency was to make light of it and gloss it over. We excused and overlooked one another's faults on the ground of human weakness and infirmity. To be without the sense of sin was to be blind to moral values. It meant that we had no sense of moral soundness, no sense of God, that we were incapable of righteous indignation. A man was no greater than he was in the sight of God, and God had put us all in one class, for all had sinned. According to a certain French officer, the Hun had saved the world by restoring to men the lost sense of sin. We were compelled to believe the severe indictment of our Lord that out of the heart proceeded murders and all uncleanness. These were lurking within ready to spring forth unless checked by God's grace. It was easy to confess sin in the mass and there was a place for general confession. But we must begin with ourselves. "I have sinned." "Have mercy on me." Sin was rebellion against God. "Against Thee, Thee only have I sinned." But it was also anti-social. It was selfish. It was subversive to the common good. Sin and salvation were set down together in the New Testament, the bane and the antidote. Confessing our own sins we obtained salvation. Then being made sensitive to sin we felt the shame of others who did not blush for themselves, and so we became followers of Jesus, the sin-bearer, who, being without sin, bore the sin and griefs of others.

Trinity Methodist Church.

The meeting to-night in Trinity Methodist Church will be held at 8 o'clock. Four five-minute addresses will be given by members of the Quarterly Board. A men's choir will lead the singing.

Knox Pres. Church.

The meeting at Knox Church to-night will be in charge of the superintendent of the Sunday School, Mr. M. M. Clarke, and his staff of teachers and officers. It is hoped that the Brotherhood Room will be filled to capacity at 7.30 to hear of the work being done in Knox Sunday School.

St. Paul's Pres. Church and George Street Meth. Church.

The meeting in St. Paul's Church last night was well attended. The Rev. Mr. Glassford's address was listened to with great interet and appreciation. His message was especially for church members, and aimed at the deepening of the spiritual life. The channel of the St. Lawrence sometimes needs dredging and deepening. Obstructions in the form of side sands accumulate and need to be removed that the river may flow on in its appointed course and be navigable by the great vessels. In the same way the channels of our lives need deepening that God's grace may flow into us unhindered, and that the blessing may flow out from us to others. The beginning of any such work is always preceded by consecration on our part. He based his message on the words of Paul to the Corinthians: "But first gave their own selves to the Lord." No service will be acceptable to God which has not been preceded by the giving of the entire self to the Lord. David said: "I have set the Lord always before my face." "Let me ask," said the speaker, "Are you doing this? Are you putting the Lord first in all that you do? Has the Lord's work precedence over all other work? What about your own personal relation to your Lord? Is it right? He has promised a life of victory in Christ. Are you living it? That you may know the fulness of His blessing and that you may become a blessing is the purpose of this week of prayer services."

The request was made last night that Sunday School teachers of the teen age classes get in touch with their classes and invite them to the Friday evening service. This applies to both churches—George Street and St. Paul's.

Park Street Baptist Church.

The meetings that are being held in Park Street Baptist Church are increasing in interest and spiritual power. The effectual, fervent prayers are producing an atmosphere that glows with religious feeling, and promises well for the rest of the week. The subject for to-night is "The Open Door." A pressing invitation is extended to all. Do not miss the regular mid-week service.

The Quick Way to Stop a Cough

This home-made syrup does the work in a hurry. Mostly people have it on hand, and even those who have not will find it worth while to get the few ounces required.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Pour 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) in a 16-oz bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make 16 ounces—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

NELSON'S SWORD SOLD

LONDON, Eng.—Nelson's sword, which, with many other of Nelson's relics, was to have been sold at auction, has been disposed of at private sale and will shortly be placed in an English museum.

In no other part of the world are courtships so abnormally drawn out as they are in Bohemia, where it is not rare to hear of engagements which have extended from fifteen to twenty years.

GOOD LECTURE AT ALL SAINTS CHURCH

IN THE INTEREST OF ANGLICAN FOWARD MOVEMENT

The latest poster of the Anglican Forward Movement is of exceptional artistic merit. Against the background of a deep blue eastern sky is seen in the distance a glimpse of the roofs of Bethlehem touched into whiteness by the light of a great hovering star. In the foreground are the three wise men mounted on their camels and gazing westward. The whole is a depiction of the great Old Testament utterance "Arise, Shine, for the light is come." The appropriate title of the poster is: "The Dawn of a New Era". In the past the Christian Church has too much contented itself with absorbing Gospel light without reflecting it; the era beginning with the present Forward Movement it to be characterized by a more unselfish christianity.

The lecturer at St. Luke's on Thursday evening (Epiphany) emphasized that the whole Anglican Forward Movement to be illustrated in the slides presented was but the beginning of one more stage of the ageleng forward movement which began when the earliest disciples realized that the light which shone upon Israel at Bethlehem was to be also "a light to lighten the Gentiles."

The lantern pictures together with the maps and slides were exceptionally clear and interesting. It would be hard to imagine a way in which a bird's-eye view of the Forward Movement could be more easily an attractively presented.

These same slides are to be shown at All Saint's Church to-night. The Parish Committee of St. Luke's is proposing to put on a second lecture next week completing the presentation of the theme.

A god proportion of men was included in the audience. At the conclusion of the lecture the Parish Executive met to consider how best to utilize the next few weeks—the intensive period of the A. F. M. Campaign.

NEWS OF GEORGE STREET CHURCH

The holiday season is over and the ladies of George street church showed their eagerness to begin work again by attending in considerable numbers the meeting of the Aid held in the church parlor yesterday afternoon.

The president, Mrs. C. E. Smith, was in the chair, and took charge of the business part of the programme, while Mrs. Hetherington led in the devotional exercises.

Many letters were read from those who, through affiliation, had been remembered by the Aid during the past month, with flowers, plants and letters of sympathy. At the Christmas season fifty or more of the aged, sick and others who from various reasons were compelled to remain indoors, had been sent plants or flowers. Besides this, overflowing baskets containing Christmas dinners, had been sent to many families.

In a discussion regarding new work to be entered upon, the ladies amongst other things decided to begin at once to sew for a sale in April.

This being the first meeting of the New Year the latter part of the programme took the form of a consecration service. Short talks and papers on New Year resolutions were given by four of the ladies, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Foote, Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. C. E. Smith.

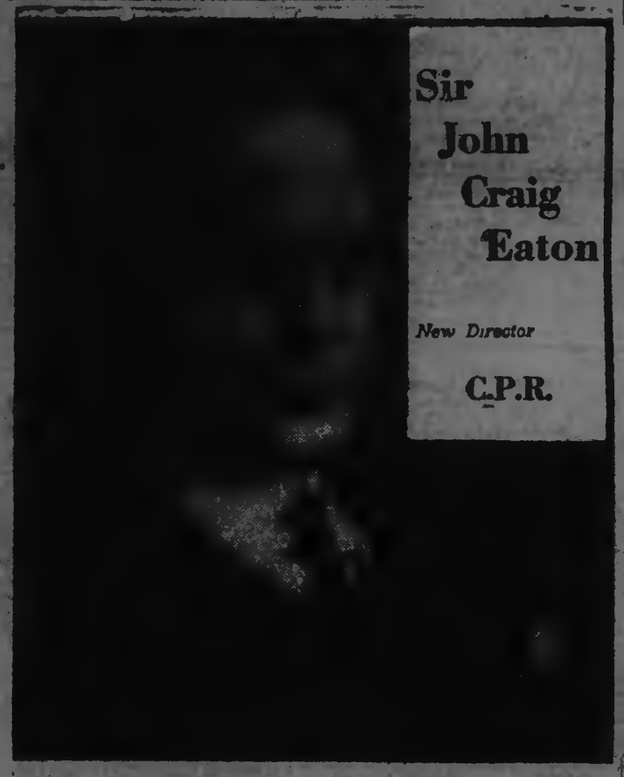
DR. RICHARDSON PUT IN DEFENCE

Dr. Roy Richardson was charged yesterday at Campbellford with driving a car on New Year's night without his tail light burning.

Dr. Richardson determined to fight the case. It was proven that the light was burning when he left Norwood and also that it went out through causes over which he had no control and that he could not relight it without taking it to a garage in Campbellford. It was urged in his defence that he had taken all the steps that a prudent man could take and that he should not be held responsible for an accident.

Magistrate Payne in reserving judgment stated that in his opinion the act should be amended to allow a defence of this nature to be pleaded. It was stated that he had had 60 cases of this kind recently and that Campbellford is being shunned by motorists.

Mr. Joseph Wearing appeared on behalf of Dr. Richardson.



Sir John Craig Eaton

New Director

C.P.R.

Honorary Colonel Sir John Craig Eaton, K.B., whose appointment to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's directorate has been just announced, is best known to the mass of the American public as president and dominant personality of the T. Eaton Co., Ltd. of Toronto and Winnipeg, the largest departmental institution of the Dominion, for which his father, the late Timothy Eaton, fifty years ago laid the foundation. In official circles Sir John is even better known as probably the foremost Canadian in civilian co-operation with the forces of government during the war period. And in the realm of trade he leads as an exponent of scientific organization, while at the same time recognizing the human equation in the labor factor.

Sir John was born in Toronto April 28, 1876, receiving his education in the public schools of his native city and Upper Canada College. He began his commercial career with his father's growing establishment, the business of which has more than doubled in volume under his administration, his individual foresight leading to the opening of the Western house at Winnipeg in 1905, and the Moncton, N.B., outpost this past season. In addition to being president of the T. Eaton Co., he is director of the Dominion Bank, the Canadian National Exhibition Association, and Wellesley Hospital; a member of the Senate of Victoria College, Toronto; an honorary governor, trustee and member of the Finance Committee of the Toronto General Hospital; a member of the Toronto Board of Trade and of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association; also one of Canada's best known sportsmen and equestrians, with yachting, fishing and motoring as his favorite forms of recreation. Political honors, though pressured like Caesar's crown, he has three again refused.

Knighted June 3, 1916, he was incidentally the recipient on Sept., 19th, 1917 of the special decoration of the Navy League, this being an exceptional honor conferred on but twenty-eight persons in all the Empire within the past twenty years. In partial explanation it will be remembered that early in the war Sir John turned over to the Admiralty his fine private yacht, the Wanderer, which served on the Atlantic Coast patrol under the Canadian naval ensign required, in the late autumn of 1916. During the war period he also organized, equipped and sent overseas the Eaton Machine gun batteries; while over $1,000,000 of his private fortune was expended in the maintenance of dependents of Eatonians at the front, the weekly payroll exceeding $10,000. Two thousand six hundred and eighty-five voluntary recruits went from the T. Eaton Co.'s establishments to the war—a man-power little short of three complete battalions—this splendid body representing 23.35 per cent of the company's male employees. And while the men were fighting for flag and freedom, Sir John provided liberally for their families at home, this wage roll of patriotism exceeding $1,000,000 in the ultimate total.

The inclusion of Sir John Eaton on the Canadian Pacific directorate gives that pioneer national transcontinental road not only another experienced business general capable of and accustomed to thinking and acting in large proportions. It also gives it a man who perhaps more than any other in the Dominion believes in the application of the Golden Rule to everyday affairs and has proven recognition of the human equation to be successful policy, in the operation of his own large enterprises.

Foreign Minister Scialcia stated this afternoon that satisfactory progress with the Adriatic question had been made during the conferences here and he expressed optimism concerning further conferences to be held in Paris. The Foreign Minister said he believed that with a display of a "little good will" by all parties concerned, a settlement could be achieved.

The Sea Cucumber.

The sea cucumber is not a vegetable. Nevertheless it might be farmed profitably in the Philippines, inasmuch as it is very plentiful in the waters of that archipelago, and the demand for it as a table delicacy is great in all that part of the world, particularly in China and Japan.

The sea cucumber is an echinoderm, not distantly related to the every-day sea urchin. It is about six inches long when full grown and when prepared for market, goes commonly by the name of "beche de mer." The method of preparation consists in boiling it, slitting it open, removing its inside works, drying it in the sun and smoking it for twenty-four hours.

It is a rather sedentary animal, moving very slowly and for short distances. Thus its capture is easy. Shallows among coral reefs are its favorite feeding grounds. The young hatched from its eggs are white and transparent; they seek rocky crevices or attach themselves to roots of marine plants. At two years of age they are mature.

The Philippines have hundreds of miles of reefs, with the best of opportunities for farming sea cucumbers. The latter make wonderful soup, which if put up in cans, would be likely to find a market.

The Eiffel Tower In Paris.

The Eiffel Tower on the Champ de Mars, Paris, was completed in 1889 for the great exhibition. It is 984 feet high, more than twice as high as the dome of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, which is 404 feet in height. It was erected by Alexander Gustave Eiffel, an eminent French engineer, who also built the framework for Bartholdi's colossal statue of Liberty in New York harbor. The base is a square of 112 yards, from each corner of which rises the four curving supports of interlaced ironwork. At 590 feet these coalesce into a single shaft. There are three platforms at various heights, to which the ascent is made by lifts. There is also a stairway with 1,927 steps. Its total cost was $1,600,000, of which the state contributed $300,000, but the entrance fees during the first year it was opened more than covered its cost. In 1909 the tower became the property of the city of Paris.

TRIP TO SPRINGS WAS A FIND

CROSSED CONTINENT HEALTH BUT COME HO... DISCOURAGED.

"I really crossed the conti... went from Calgary to Hot S... Arkansas and back — trying ... relief from my troubles, but no... helped me until I took Tanlac," ... Mrs. Jessie E. Morgan, the wi... a wealthy farmer living 15 ... north of Calgary, Alberta.

"Rheumatism has kept me crip... up for the past three years," ... continued. "Not a day or a n... passed that I have not had terr... pains running all through my lo... limbs and at times my feet wou... swell until I could hardly get a sh... on. I took all sorts of medicine that were recommended for rheumatism, but they tore my stomach up so that I got to the place where I could hardly eat anything without suffering misery for hours afterwards. Then my appetite left me and I began to suffer so badly from indigestion I began to lose weight and got weaker every day. At night I would be so nervous and restless that I could not sleep and I could not find any relief. I went to Hot Springs, Arkansas, and took the baths there but came home in as bad a shape as ever. Then I heard Tanlac recommended so highly and as I had taken nearly everything else I thought I might as well try it too.

"I really took Tanlac hoping that it would straighten out my stomach, but did not think that it would help the rheumatism too, but it was one of the happiest surprises I ever had when I found that after my stomach began to get better the rheumatism was relieved. I kept on taking Tanlac and after a five weeks' treatment I am not bothered any more by either the indigestion nor the rheumatism. My appetite is wonderful and I can eat anything and digest it. I can tell by the very way that my clothes fit me that I have gained several pounds in weight and I just feel myself getting stronger every day. My nerves are as steady as a rock. I sleep eight or nine hours every night and I only regret that I did not know of Tanlac sooner, as it would have saved me a whole world of suffering and misery."

Tanlac is sold in Peterboro by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd.; in Havelock, by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield by the Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Fowler's Corner, by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert, by A. J. Scott; in Westwood, by G. Pringle & Son.

LINDSAY MIDGETS HERE TO-NIGHT IN O.H.A. GAME

The Lindsay Midgets and the Peterboro Juniors will clash at the Brock street rink to-night in the O. H. A. fixture and if the game lives up to the traditions of the annual clashes between Lindsay and Peterboro, it should be a merry battle that will give fans a lively evening's entertainment. The Peterboro youngsters are an untried quantity — the whole crew making their first appearance in an O.H.A. fixture to-night, but they have been going good in practice and promise to battle the invaders all the way. Lindsay have lost Wilford, Kelly and Killen of last year's team but still have Oliver, Garnett, Bell and Stoddard and will as usual trot out a formidable team. The game is called for 8.30 o'clock.

Goal, Lebarr.
Defence, Sheehan and Lawson.
Centre, Collins.
Subs., Ranger, Edey.

CITY LEAGUE TO OPEN SEASON FRIDAY NIGHT

The City Hockey League begins operations at the Brock street rink on Friday night, when a double header will be staged—the C. G. E. Tool Room and Business College clashing in the first game, and Canadian Woollens and the Belmont Club in the second. The teams have been practising for the past two weeks and have rounded up all the material in sight, so that two good games may be expected on Friday night. The fans are looking forward to a lot of excitement out of the City League race and all four teams have a big following.

LINDSAY HAS A BIG CONTRACT WITH PETERBORO

(Lindsay Warder.)

When Peterborough intermediates clash with Lindsay Wednesday night at the Lindsay street rink, as the small urchin says, "There will be something doing."

Peterborough have taken two games from the Cannington team, and if they can dig their claws in to-morrow in Lindsay they will have a strong lead on the district.

However, that little "if" in this instance is a veritable mountain. The Lindsay intermediates are ready for the fray, and will stack up against the easterners with a vengeance. Peterborough has the benefit of having played two games, and are in condition, but do not imagine for one instant that the locals are not in shape, Just be on hand to-morrow night to see them go.

Probably it is because the earth is round that so few people act on the square.

PETERBORO TO PLAY LINDSAY

Dr. M. B. Annis, secretary of the Lindsay Checker Club, has received word that the Peterborough Checker Club would visit Lindsay on Thursday evening of this week to play the return match. Their team has been strenthened by the addition of some expert players so that an extra good exhibition of this fine game is anticipated. The games will be played at the Elsmure parlors and being open and free, the general public is cordially invited to witness the contest. This match will be followed one week later by the Cobourg players who wish to try conclusions with the local club. A special meeting was held last evening to which all checker players were invited. —Lindsay Post.

TWO LINDSAY-PETERBORO GAMES

It is not often that Lindsay and Peterboro hockey teams clash twice on the same night, but that is what is happening to-night. The Lindsay Midgets and Peterboro juniors will battle in a Junior O.H.A. game at Brock street rink while the Peterboro intermediates will be engaged in a struggle with the Scugog intermediates in Lindsay.

TAXING THE FAIR SEX.

When Bracebridge town council set about passing a bylaw to levy poll tax on all single women over 21 years of age, its legal advisor gave an opinion that the corporation has no power to tax the fair damsels in this fashion. To do this an amendment to the Municipal Act will be necessary. Advocates of women's rights demanded that women and men should be placed on an equal footing in the matter of franchise. Can they consistently object to applying the same rule to taxation?—asks the Barrie Examiner.

Women are now working in the fields to help relieve labor shortage in the great farming district in southern Illinois, eastern Missouri and Arkansas.

CARPENTIER AND DEMPSEY WILL MEET IN AMERICA

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 7. — Descamps, the manager for Carpentier, wired James W. Coffroth, manager of the Tiajuana race track, last evening, accepting the latter's terms for a championship bout between Carpentier and Dempsey in America, Carpentier favoring ten rounds. The decision to accept Coffroth's offer of a $43,000 purse came after a long consultation with French promoters. "This talk of a forty-five round fight is stupid," said Descamps last night.

"THE AVALANCHE" WORTH WHILE PICTURE

FIDDLERS THREE

Applauded by the critics and accepted by the public as the best musical comedy of years, "Fiddlers Three" comes to the Grand on Wednesday—one day only.

The cast, with the golden-voiced Belgian prima donna, Tavie Belge, the unctious comedian, Tom Dingle, fascinating Edna Morn, the manly hero Thomas Conkey, Horace Sinclair, Katherine Clare Ward, Ethel Dwyer, and Marius Rogati, is thoroughly satisfying, and gives to William Cary Duncan's book and Alexander Johnstone's music a charm and lilting quality that makes a long remembered and delightful evening's entertainment.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

At the Grand on Saturday, 24th January, for matinee and evening, A. H. Woods will present "Friendly Enemies," the greatest success in the history of the theatre. This play, which ha been seen by millions of people in the United States, in England, and Australia; which received a public endorsement from President Wilson and other notable people; which the New York Times called "one of the greatest theatrical properties of the last decade"; which has had one of the longest New York, Chicago, and London runs in the history of those cities, is too famous and too familiar to playgoers to need further introduction. The production and the company are of the highest order.

BARE-BACK GOWN.

London, Eng.—A well-known dress designer gives a very decided opinion upon the question of the bare-back evening gown.

"Personally I liked the so-called backless gown as it was first designed. Cut and made by artists, it was both smart and elegant.

"But lately it has become so often a matter of showing the greater part of the dorsal area that at times it becomes complete vulgarity.

"As with every fashion, the backless gown has suffered from being made by dressmakers who are not artists and cannot cut artistically. It has also suffered by being worn by women who exaggerate every fashion.

"In a box the other evening a woman wore one of the exaggerated backless gowns. When she turned no clothing could be seen at all. Then she moved, and a remnant of tissue and the beginnings of a gown could be seen."

SECOND DAY OF PETERBORO SHOW

POULTRY EXHIBITORS WELL SATISFIED—MISS YATES WILL LECTURE.

Poultry experts from throughout the province who are in the city today, have conceded the poultry show now being held in the Market building as the best they have seen in cars, and well able to compare with any they have seen in Ontario. To-day the complete entries totalled slightly over one thousand birds.

An Expert Opinion.

Mr. James C. Donavan, editor of the Canadian Poultry Review, congratulated the Poultry Association upon the birds shown, which he said are surprisingly splendid and upon the general appearance of the show with the new cages, which he remarked took away the "barnyard" appearance and transformed the show into a good live exhibition with a real city appearance. While all the birds shown are of an exceptionally good standard, he particularly commented upon the barred rocks, white wyandottes, white leghorns and the turkeys, the latter, which although limited in the number shown, are of a splendid grade. He also spoke of the game chickens, of which he said there is as good an exhibition as any he has ever come across. The judges of the poultry admitted this morning on commencing operations, that they are confronted with an out of the ordinary hard job in distinguishing between the birds to pick the winners. They commented especially upon the splendid care evidenced by the general condition of the birds.

Superintendent Pleased.

Mr. J. Kelly, the superintendent of the show, is well satisfied by the general results of the show so far, particularly with the keen interest which is being generally shown by the public who have already turned out in large numbers to attend.

Educational Propaganda.

This evening Miss Mary Yates, of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, will speak on the subject of killing, dressing and cooking poultry with a view of helping out perplexed citizens in the problem of the high cost of living. In speaking of the subject upon which she will base her address this evening, Miss Yates told the Examiner to-day that the object of her visit here is that at the poultry show she is able to reach many who would not be able to attend the meetings of the Association takes advantage of putting on an educational propaganda when a group of persons interested in poultry is assembled. With the simplest equipment and such as would easily be within reach of any person, Miss Yates illustrates her points practically. She said that apart from the private grower there is a percentage of people who do not realise why live fowl is not a better market product than dressed fowl, and explained that from 10 to 20 per cent. is lost in the transportation, and birds in milk-fed birds 25 per cent. is lost in transit. Well fed table poultry should be killed in the place it is fed in order to save the tremendous loss.

Miss Yates showed the extremely simple equipment necessary for sanitary killing of the birds. She said that comparatively few yards are ever fitted up for killing, and that the Peterborough Poultry Association feels that it is called upon to demonstrate how simply sanitary apparatus may be fitted up by any person. If birds are killed so no outside opening is made, the birds will keep better. The method used must be such as to preserve the germ-proof coat provided by nature. If the head is removed, a ready access is made for germs. Further than this, the head is the best indication as to the health of a bird. Once it is removed, the vendor may market a bird in an advanced state of disease. The best method of killing, she said, is stabbing through the mouth or dabraining. These methods are the most sanitary and simplest from a standpoint of labour.

Miss Yates includes in her equipment a dabbare cap, which, with a home-made hook, she attaches to the beak of the killed bird for the purpose of draining away the blood.

AFFIDAVIT FOR RECOUNT SIGNED THIS AFTERNOON

EXPLANATION OF WHAT HAPPENS TO BALLOTS AFTER THEY ARE CAST

Ex-Ald. McIntyre this afternoon signed the affidavit in which he applies to Judge Huycke for a recount of the ballots in the mayoralty election. His solicitor Mr. G. W. Hatton stated that he would present this document to the Judge at once, and hoped that the reasons set out would prevail upon His Honour to accede to ex-Ald. McIntyre's petition. If the Judge decides that a recount is warranted it is expected that he may be able to perform the work this week.

Explanation of First Count.

So many citizens have revealed a confused and often erroneous idea of what happens to their ballots after they are dropped into the boxes in the polling booths that it may be of interest to trace the procedure. They are counted by the returning officer in the presence of the other authorized polling officials. A statement of the count is written on papers provided for that purpose. They are signed by the returning officer and polling clerk, and are inserted in envelopes which are deposited with the City Clerk. Duplicate sets of these papers are placed in the ballot boxes into which the ballots have been replaced. The boxes are locked and brought back to the city hall.

At noon on the day following the election the envelopes that were given to the Clerk are opened by him and the official returns are then counted. This is not a recount, except in the sense that it checks up the figures received by telephone on the evening of the election.

As soon as the boxes reach the Clerk he seals and stamps them with the municipal stamp. They are thus kept for one month for a possible recount. At the end of the month the boxes are emptied of the ballots, which are burned, and are set away for the next election.

For the judicial recount the seals shall be broken in the presence of the Judge or by him and the ballots are then actually recounted, but this is the first official compilation made by the returning officers in the polling booths after five o'clock on election day.

FARMERS' ATTENTION!!

Do you need any New Machines on your Farm this coming season? Don't you think it is about time you had installed an Empire Mechanical Milker to milk that herd of cows? You wouldn't care to milk those cows by the old hand method, any more than you would cut your hay with a Scythe. Let an Empire do it for you. We have satisfied over 40 of your friends in this locality, and we can satisfy you, too.

LOOK!

We are the only representatives of the International Harvester Co. (Deering & McCormack) in this district, and judging from the amount of goods we have sold for next year, you would be doing us a favour, as well as yourself, by letting us know what you want, and we can come and see you.

LISTEN!

We will have an expert residing in Peterborough in 1920, who knows every machine manufactured by the I. H. C., including Engines. He is coming to Peterborough for your accommodation, and should your Engine, Binder, or any other machine get out of order, he is at your service.

We have Two Carloads of the famous International Tractors coming in a month (part of which are sold). If you would like to have a demonstration on your farm in the Spring, now is the time to arrange for it.

U. F. O.

Clubs can buy cheaper from us than they can elsewhere. We carry $40,000.00 worth of Machines and $10,000.00 worth of Repair Parts in our Transfer House, near the C. P. R. Station. Try us and see.

To Make Peterboro a Magnetic Centre

THE NEW MERCANTILE ASSOCIATION COMBINING THE RETAIL MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION AIMS AND OBJECTS.

JOINT EFFORT

The organization of the new Mercantile Association which succeeds the Retail Merchants' Association, is proceeding through group meetings. The dry goods merchants have already taken up their special work and the other lines are to follow in quick succession. As soon as each line is organized for defensive and aggressive action all the groups will then get together for co-operative work to make Peterborough the magnetic centre of its natural merchandising zone.

President Frank Whitehouse to-day said that the outlook for the new association was most encouraging and that up to date tactics and activities, backed by joint mercantile enterprise will tone up and strengthen Peterborough' ability to meet and beat outside competition in stock, quality and prices.

"The active interest of the buying public is to be sought and cultivated. I have faith in the competency of the merchants to do for the retail trade what the Manufacturers' Association has done for industry," said Mr. Whitehouse.

The Board of Trade is pledged to the success of the effort and the Council of the Board has relieved Assistant Secretary Frazer from all other duties in order that he may give his entire time and effort during January and February as secretary of the new Mercantile Association.

Mr. M. J. Maher and the Secretary visited the Provincial Retail Merchants' Association in Toronto last Monday and obtained valuable information regarding legislation and trade economics. The new body will be allied with the Provincial and Dominion Association which already have thirty or more individual members in Peterborough.

ANOTHER ROW IN THE CIVIL SERVICE

EMPLOYEES OF GOVERNMENT ALLEGE DISCRIMINATION.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—With every indication of it being prolonged and animated, a sharp controversy is developing between civil servants and the Civil Service Commission over the alleged injustices of the re-classification of the Government employees latterly put into effect.

Because of these alleged injustices which are being vigorously aired, not only in Ottawa but throughout Canada, the Civil Service Commission is taking active steps to refute charges which allege discrimination against Department employees as the result of the working out of the re-classification.

It is claimed, for instance, by civil servants that by the new system some members of department are graded at lower salaries than they were receiving prior to the classification, although salaries cannot be reduced without being in contravention of the Government's order.

Civil servants also claim they have no redress for grievance, but this statement is denied by Dr. Roche, of the Civil Service Commission, who maintains that all complaints may be submitted to a Board of Hearing, composed of Commissioner Clarence Jamieson, two members appointed by the Deputy Ministers and two members named by the Civil Service Federation of Canada.

DROVE 14 MILES TO GET DR. BANTA'S KIDNEY AND RHEUMATIC PILLS

Unable to procure Dr. Banta's Kidney and Rheumatic Pills in Millbrook a farmer drove 14 miles to Peterboro in order to get a box, when he had a sudden attack of lumbago and pain in the back, which seized him. He said this was the remedy he had confidence in, as they had helped several of his neighbors.

Dr. Banta's Kidney and Rheumatic Pills are sold with the distinct understanding that if they fail to do what we claim for them your money will be refunded.

SUPREME COUNCIL MEETINGS DELAYED

(United Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 8.—No meeting of the Supreme Council will be held to-day, it was announced, because of the illness of two of the British members. Besides, it was said that Premier Lloyd-George and Premier Nitti could not arrive in time to participate in any sessions to-day.

Twenty-five members of the British delegation which will attend the coming sessions of the Allied leaders here, arrived last night.

U. S. MAGAZINES AND SUNDAY PAPERS ARE ADVANCED IN PRICE

MAGAZINES ARE UP FIVE CENTS—PAPERS SELL AT 10 CENTS NOW.

The rate of exchange between Canada and the United States has hit the prices of nearly all the magazines sold on the local bookstands, and a general increase of five cents is reported this week.

The ten cent periodicals now selling at fifteen cents include the Literary Digest, Argosy and All Story; the former fifteens now at twenty are Top Notch, Modern Priscilla, Detective, Family Journal and others.

Twenty cent magazines marked up to twenty-five cents are the Popular, People's, Adventure, American, Red Book, the entire series of motion picture magazines except one of two that have been selling at twenty-five cents; Popular Mechanics, Popular Science, Electrical Experimenter, and others.

The Hearst publications, Cosmopolitan, Good Housekeeping and Hearst's, are not affected due to the fact that this house has its own Canadian agency which absorbs the adverse exchange and turns their periodicals over to the Canadian retailers at the regular price.

Sunday Papers Too.

The man who delights in burying himself beneath a pile of illustrated papers on Sunday mornings will have to pay ten cents per paper for the pleasure commencing this week. All the Buffalo papers which have had a comparatively wide circulation throughout Ontario will be ten cents on Saturday. The Chicago Blade and Ledger remains unchanged at that price, and there is some doubt as to whether the Utica Globe will be ten cents or continue at seven.

The American brand of what the English call "penny dreadfuls", those stories the messenger boys fold snugly in their hip pockets when their literary pursuits are interrupted by annoying business, the "Pluck and Luck", "Wild West", "Fame and Name" series are now seven cents. The aesthetics are suffering a set back all down the line.

Mr. L. Lebar of the bookshop on Charlotte street near the corner of George told the Examiner that the new prices were announced by the general agency in Toronto. English publications remain at the same prices Some time ago the three cent humourous weeklies advanced to five and the fives to six cents, but the month? ly magazines are selling at their old prices.

500 CASUALTIES ARE HEAVY

DEATH LIST IN MEXICAN EARTHQUAKE MAY REACH THREE THOUSAND.

RELIEF TRAINS

(By Ralph H. Turner)
(United Press)
(Staff Correspondent)

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 8.—The full toll of Saturday's disastrous earthquake followed by floods and fires in many cases was beginning to be apparent to-day. Apparently reliable estimates placed the total dead around 3,000 chiefly in the state of Vera Cruz, in the district surrounding the city of Jalapa. Several hundreds of persons are dead in the state of Puebla. However according to a despatch newspaper El Democrat to-night the town of La Fragua, on the border between Vera Cruz and Puebla, was reported to have been destroyed with hundreds of persons killed.

The government has started relief trains into all the inflicted areas it was announced but many of these trains are menaced by bandits who are alive in several of the districts where the disaster was worst.

Relief Measures

(Canadian Press)

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 8.—Estimated number of casualties attending earthquake Saturday in Western part of Vera Cruz state still stands at two thousand. It is probable that the death toll will be much higher as despatches from the stricken area do not even estimate the damage done nor do they give accurate lists of dead On the other hand they do not deny reports of disappearance of one village, total destruction of several others and inundation of several towns by waters pouring down mountain streams, relief measures are gradually taking form and a fund has been started in this city, foreign colonies making Liberal contributions. Military expeditions with ambulances, doctors and supplies contributed by individuals municipalities an government, have been sent into the affected districts.

ORGANIZED LABOUR PRESENTS CLAIMS

DEPUTATION WAITED ON THE GOVERNMENT THIS AFTERNOON.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—Organised labour presented its claims to the Government at the annual interview this afternoon. The deputation was headed by Tom Moore, President of the Trades and Labour Congress.

The chief resuests were:

Legislation for the eight-hour day and the forty-four-hour week, and the establishment of a fair minimum wage.

Repeal of the amendments to the Criminal Code imposing heavy fines for the possession of certain literature.

Encouragement of collective bargaining.

Proportional representation.

Assistance in the formation of co-operative societies.

Regarding immigration, the deputation recommended the appointment of a labour representative on the Central Empire Board, revision of the present method of admitting Orientals, and the elimination of any system of bonusing for the introduction of industrial workers.

In presenting the claim for the eight-hour day and the forty-four-hour week, the delegation submitted a written memorandum to the effect that efforts in this connection have been the most fruitful cause of strikes. It is also pointed out that the claim for the maximum eight-hour day is recognised in the Treaty of Peace, to which Canada is a signatory.

Regarding industrial disputes, the delegation emphasized that the compulsory clauses of the Industrial Disputes Act had been shown time and again to be generally impossible of enforcement. While refusing to repeal them, the Government had refrained from enforcing them, and this attitude brought about disrespect for the law, and was undesirable.

The "Salada" Tea Company, of Canada, Limited, has been incorporated, with a capital of Two Million Dollars, to carry on the tea business hitherto conducted under the style of P. C. Larkin & Co., the object being to assure the continuity of the business, no new capital or interests coming into the concern. Mr. P. C. Larkin will be president, eGrald Ross Larkin, vice-president, and Philip J. Thomas, secretary, thus the personnel and management of the company rests in the same hands as for the past thirty years.

Enthusiastic Scenes at the United Farmers of Manitoba

PRESIDENT BURNABY ASSERTS THAT ONTARIO FARMERS WILL SECURE AT LEAST TWENTY-FIVE SEATS IN THE FEDERAL HOUSE.

PREMIER NORRIS GAVE AN ADDRESS

(Special to The Examiner.)

BRANDON, Man., Jan. 8.—Manitoba will officially endorse a Farmers' Federal Party for Canada when the resolution is put before the Grain Growers' Convention at a later session. The conviction that Manitoba farmers will fall into line with the action taken by the Canadian Council of Agriculture at its meeting in Winnipeg a month ago to form a farmers' political party to contest Federal seats at next general election, grows stronger with every hour of the convention. Every casual mention of political action evoked enthusiasm today among the audience of 1,500 delegates and visitors to the convention, the largest number ever in attendance at a Manitoba Grain Growers' Convention.

To bring Manitoba into line with other provinces in favour of political action, the name of the association was changed from Grain Growers to the United Farmers of Manitoba. More than 1,000 voted for the change in the name, and three voted against the amendment to the constitution.

A Big Reception.

R. W. E. Burnaby, president of the United Farmers of Ontario, asserted in the course of an address of greetings, that Ontario would carry at least 25 Federal seats in the next election. President Burnaby was given the most uproarious and enthusiastic reception ever accorded a Canadian public man at the convention of the Manitoba Grain Growers. His address swept the delegates off their feet and their welcome to him was almost overwhelming for the visitor. Burnaby said he appreciated the help the older farmer organizations of the West had given to them today. The U. F. O. had 57,000 members, and expected by the end of the year to have 75,000. He reviewed the growth of the Farmers' movement in Ontario. Everything had been done, he said, to break up their organization, but the combined efforts of all opponents had failed to stop their triumphal progress. It had now become necessary, he said, to enter the political field. Delegates for political honours, he said, were nominated by the people themselves and not by the Farmers' Central Executive.

Growth of Movement.

"Our movement has grown from the bottom up and not from the top down," he said, amid tremendous applause. "We must go carefully, because we do not want any false steps to militate against us in the great drive not far ahead of us," he said, amid another outburst of applause.

Burnaby predicted that the Ontario farmers would elect twenty-five men to the next Federal House. "I estimated thirty for the Provincial, and we got forty-five. I now estimate twenty-five for the Federal House," he said, "but don't expect too much of it, because you know the hornets' nest we are in," he continued.

A great ovation was tendered Burnaby when he sat down. The delegates rose and sang "For he's a jolly good fellow" and followed with three ringing cheers. Before the cheering subside a motion of congratulations to Ontario had been put and enthusiastically carried.

Not since the passing of the farmers' resolution, which assured the Lloyd-George Government of the undivided support of the Manitoba farmers has such enthusiastic scenes been witnessed as when Burnaby virtually told the delegates that the farmers all over Canada were unitedly behind the new national platform, and urged his hearers "to make no false step in view of the next drive, which is bound to come in the near future."

"Good Old Ontario!"

"Good Old Ontario!" cheered the multitude of voices, while another section began to sing "For he's a jolly good fellow."

Enthusiasm is running at fever heat and there is no question that independent political action, especially in the Federal sphere, is the foremost issue

SUCCESS FOR BOLSHEVIKI

RED CAVALRY OCCUPY IMPORTANT TOWN AND CAPTURE SUPPLIES FROM BRITISH.

4,000 PRISONERS

(United Press)

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Red cavalry has occupied the important town of Taganrog on the gulf of that name, an official Bolsheviki wireless communique from Moscow claimed to-day. The Soviet forces captured enormous booty, the communique asserted claiming that more than 4,000 prisoners also were taken in the operations in the Don basin and around Taganrog. Military supplies taken included British heavy artillery tanks armoured trains, an aviation base, great stores of munitions, 220 guns and other materials, the communique said.

(Canadian Press.)

LODON, Jan. 8. — The situation in Russia is about as bad as it could be, from an anti-Bolshevik point of view, according to the British war office reports, and there are few signs indicating any likelihood of improvement. There are two especially menacing developments. In the first place General Denekine's army has been cut in two through the Bolshevik push to the Sea of Azov at Taganrog and its flanks have been thrust back, leaving a large gap. In addition comes the claim from the Bolsheviki of the capture further east of the town of Krasnovodsk, on the Caspian Sea, and while this is not confirmed it is generally accepted as true.

Capture of this important port of Krasnorivdsk, it is pointed out, creates the grave possibility that the Reds may overrun northern Persia, and occupy Teheran which would probably mean the establishment of Bolshevik rule in Persia. The taking of Krasnovodsk permits the Reds not only to control a large part of the important Krasnovodsk-Merv

With the Fingers! Says Corns Lift Out Without Any Pain

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers, if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of freezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.

This new drug is an ether compound and while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue.

This announcement will interest many women here for it is said that the present high-heel footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.

GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have Bladder trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

Constipation or Costiveness

Constipation, although generally described as a disease, can never exist unless some of the organs are deranged, which is generally found to be the liver.

There is nothing more productive of general ill health than constipation of the bowels, and a regular action is absolutely essential to general health. One of the most common, painful and troublesome troubles caused by constipation is piles, and unless the bowels are kept open by the use of a good laxative such as Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills the whole system will be poisoned and many different complications of diseases arise, so if you would be well, keep your bowels regular.

Mr. A. Roder, Hastings St. E., Vancouver, B.C., writes:—"I desire to express my thanks for what Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills have done for me. I had been suffering from constipation for two years, and also had a bad cough and headaches. I tried all sorts of cures and remedies, but got no relief until I was advised to try your pills. I got great relief after the first few doses."

Get Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills when you ask for them or send 25c. and they will be sent by return of mail by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

TRADES COUNCIL ENDORSED MR. CORKERY FOR POSTMASTER

UNANIMOUSLY SUPPORTED REQUEST OF LETTER CARRIERS' UNION THAT LONG SERVICE DEPUTY BE REWARDED WITH PROMOTION—TRUSTEES' REPORT FLOURISHING CONDITION.

WILL INVESTIGATE COMPENSATION

Mr. T. Tooms, M.L.A., reported to the Trades and Labour Council last night the disallowance by the Workmen's Compensation Board of a local claim which he considered pregnant of wide effect to employees who participate in any of the profit sharing plans that are being adopted in many industries. Relating the facts that had been reported to him he said that a young man in this city who is employed by his father-in-law and who receives a percentage of the profits in addition to a regular wage had lost the top of a finger in the course of his work. His application for compensation from the Provincial Board was refused on the grounds, it was specified, that he had directly shared in the profits in the business and for that reason was regarded as a member of the firm.

If this was the attitude of the Compensation Board, Mr. Tooms said, it would mean that the profit sharing system now finding favour with many manufacturers would deprive employees of the benefits of the Compensation Act. If that were the case, and he believed his information to be authentic, the general result to Labour would be a loss that would prove serious in many instances.

The Trades Council decided to investigate the circumstances thoroughly, including the provisions of the Act. Mr. Tooms and Mr. T. H. Lane were appointed a special committee to make the enquiry and report at the next meeting.

Support Mr. John Corkey.

A petition from the Letter Carriers' Union recommending the appointment as Post Master of Mr. John Corkey who has been deputy post master for many years was unanimously adopted by the Trades Council.

A representative of the Letter Carriers' said that a large number of citizens had signed a petition requesting the Civil Service Commission to promote Mr. Corkey. This was unnecessary but it had been forwarded by the Letter Carriers in the hope that his advancement would be expedited. appointment should have been made within a week after the death of Mr. Edgar. It had been held up because Mr. Corkey was nearly seventy years of age. Mr. Corkey, it was said by the representative of the Letter Carriers, had been in the department thirty-five years and was fully qualified for the position.

"We consider his as good as any man in the city of forty-five years because of his ability, the way he handles the business and the way he has preserved himself. We believe we should stand behind Mr. Corkey and that the appointment should be made from our own staff. If some one else is brought here for this position or if any one outside the staff gets it there will be no opportunity for the men and no chance of promotion for the present employees."

Trustees' Report.

Ald. Gainey's twenty-fourth semi-annual report as treasurer of the Board of Trustees was the most favourable he had presented in his twelve years' service he remarked as an introduction to his statement which showed a credit balance on January 1st of $599.16 cash and a $100 Victory Bond. He announced his retirement because of the pressure of other business and requested that the Council omit his name in the nominations at the next meeting. He thanked the members of the Board and of the Council who had assisted him in his work.

On Unfair List.

It is reported that the only hardware store carrying tools made by the Red Devil Tool Company had promised not to place any further orders with the company's travelers until it was reinstated on Labour's fair list.

To Have Perfect Skin Throughout the Winter

These days the face and hands need special care and attention. Strong winds, quick changes of temperature from indoors to outdoors, are severe on the skin. Their despoiling effects are best overcome by the application of pure mercolized wax. This keeps skin and pores in a cleanly condition the complexion beautifully white and spotless. Chapped, reddened, blotchy and roughened cuticle are usually absorbed by it.

One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is sufficient to completely renovate a weather-beaten complexion. It is used like cold cream, allowed to remain on over night, and washed off in the morning.

How to Stop a Cough

A constitutional remedy that removes the cause by building up the system, will stop a cough and break up a cold. These elements contained in Vinol—Beef and Cod Liver Peptones, Wild Cherry, Iron and Hypophosphites—soon create an energy that throws off the cold and prevents its reoccurrence.

Here is Proof that Vinol is a Great Remedy for Coughs and Colds

"I had a severe cold and cough, no appetite and headaches, and was tired all the time. I read about Vinol and decided to try it, and the result was most satisfactory so I was soon as well as ever and my cold and cough had disappeared."—L. Sage, 139 Elgin St., Brantford, Ont.

"For years I suffered with a chronic cough, so I could not sleep nights and continued to lose flesh. My druggist asked me to try Vinol. It cured my cough, I can sleep nights and have gained twelve pounds. Vinol is the best tonic and tissue builder I have ever taken."—W. D. Ken, Lagrange, N.C.

For all run-down, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like Vinol.

Your money will be returned if Vinol fails—Leading Druggists.

WHAT AND WHY IS

Group Insurance?

It is an inexpensive means of insuring the lives of all your employees individually by a single small premium.

It involves no medical inspection and it costs about 75 cents a month for each $1,000, of insurance carried.

It has arisen from the desire of business firms to do something substantial for their employees, and so promote goodwill and avoid constant changes in the payroll.

It has been widely adopted by far-seeing industrial executives.

THE RECOUNT.

Ex-Ald. McIntyre's decision to petition for a recount of the ballots in the recent Mayoralty contest will probably be welcomed as a step that will clear the air. The race was such an unusually close one that it is not surprising that the announcement of the election of Mr. Taylor by a majority of one vote has been followed by rumors of ballots that should not have been counted, ballots that were not initialed and other stories of the same kind. Most of these, perhaps all will be found to be foundationless and a judicial recount in which every ballot will be examined and passed upon will put an end to the circulation of silly rumors and satisfactory clean-up the situation.

HOCKEY STICKS vs. TEXT BOOKS

The statement of Dr. Noble chairman of the Toronto Board of Education that in the education of the children in the public schools more money should be spent on hockey sticks and less on text books is an indication of the change that has come in educational circles in recent years. The old-time idea that the only object of school training was to develop the mind of the child is rapidly being discarded in favour of an all round system that will produce muscle and sinew, body and health as well as train the intellect. Not so long ago athletics among public school children were unknown, except for games that the children devised themselves in the recess hour. Now baseball, hockey and football leagues among the schools are wisely encouraged by the teachers and not only serve to make school life more pleasant for the youngsters but gives them the vim and snap that makes them better students and healthier boys and girls.

THE LIBERAL PARTY.

In the opening speech of his tour at Newmarket on Monday, Hon. MacKenzie King, Liberal Federal Leader, put the position and policy of the Liberal party squarely before the people of the country. As always Liberalism is ready to fight against monopoly wherever it may raise its head. While deeply sympathetic with the views of the United Farmers and cognizant of the wrongs done them by the Union Government, while ready to assist Labour in every way that is possible, while inspired by the greatest admiration for the returned soldiers and kindliest consideration for their aspirations, the Liberal party is against class government. "My attitude in matters of government towards any one class is one of irrevocable opposition to anything in the shape of a monopoly" declared the Liberal Leader who added that he would not countenance a monopoly a monopoly of Government whether by financial or railway groups or under the control of Labour, farmers or war veterans, "But I am willing to take the best of them to serve a more united people."

CHOOSING THE CHAIRMEN.

In an editorial admonition to the new council the Kingston Standard points out the necessity of exercising great care in the selection of committee chairmen. "The most important initial duty of the new City Council will have to perform" declares the Standard "will be the choice of competent committee chairmen. Without a good chairman the work of any committee is apt to drop, whereas per contract, with an efficient and alert chairman the work of a committee can be pushed forward to decided success."

The Standard's remarks are equally applicable to Peterboro for generally the system that is complained of in Kingston of putting through "slates" with a view of giving the plums to older members of the council rather than of selecting the best men available for the different position has been followed in this city, length of service in the council should of course be a factor in determining the selection but not the only factor for it is possible there may often be material among new men in the council that is superior to some of the aldermanic veterans. Selecting competent chairmen out of this year's council should not be a difficult task and merit and ability should be the test in making the choice, much depends upon the chairmen, for a good chairman usually means a good committee and business-like administration.

THAT THIRTY-FIVE MILLION.

In the opinion of that brightly written Western journal "Turner's Weekly" the manner in which a story to the effect that thirty-five million dollars of real money, Canada's share in the profits of the canteens operated by the army, had reached Canada, was swallowed whole by many people in Canada indicates a somewhat feverish condition of the public mind. The story came from Ottawa, and in spite of swift denials from responsible officials in Ottawa, it still holds its place among historical facts in some sections of the community. As a matter of fact, every soldier who was in France knows that Canadian soldiers did not spend that much money in army canteens declares Turners'. The average Canadian soldier did not stay in France for a year. During his stay there, he received about six dollars a month, only a very small percentage of which was spent in army canteens. Even if all the soldiers, who got to France, spent all their spending money in army canteens, the total amount expended would not amount to thirty-five million dollars. Be it remembered that there was not a great deal of money spent in army canteens in England, and that it was not until comparatively late in the war that the canteens were consolidated under the management of the British war office. The profits of all the British Expeditionary Force canteens were handed over to General Byng recently for distribution, and they amounted to seven million pounds, or approximately thirty-five million dollars: that is where the figure probably came from. Canada's share in the total at the very outside, cannot amount to more than three million dollars. That money is the property of the Canadian soldiers who went overseas, and should be expended in some way for their benefit or distributed amongst them. Incidently, General Byng, with the best intentions in the world, anxious to do with the money what the ex-soldiers of Great Britain want done with it, is doing nothing with it. He cannot find out how best to spend the money. One soldiers' organization advises one means of distribution; another advises another method and so on, until the unfortunate general is helpless. He wishes now that the canteens had sold beer at a more reasonable rate. There is a job for the Canadian genius who can come forward with an idea of disposing of Canada's share in the profits without causing dissatisfaction among over fifty per cent. of the ex-soldiers.

MILITARY SERVICE.

It was not expected that the farmers of Ontario would be enthusiastic over the military training scheme of Brig.-Gen. Griesbach so that it is not surprising to find their organ the Farmer's Sun attacking the plan in the following vigorous terms:—

"Brig.-Gen. Griesbach, who commanded the first infantry brigade of the Canadian army in France, and is now a Unionist member of the House of Commons, has outlined a plan for universal military training in Canada.

(1) Enlisting in Junior cadet corps of all boys on reaching twelve years of age with compulsory military training in such corps until 14;

(2) The passing of 14-year-old lads into Senior cadet corps to receive further training until 18;

(3) On reaching 19 all cadets to be sent to a depot for three months' intensive military training;

(4) On completion of such training these young soldiers to be drafted into the active army and to serve one month in twelve until 25 years of age;

(5) This service completed, the now fully trained soldiers are to pass in succession into a first, second and third reserve, service in the latter ending at sixty years of age.

Almost from the cradle to the grave, therefore, if the Griesbach plan is adopted, the male population of the country will be in the grip of the military machine it is proposed to create. The Griesbach proposal differs in no essential from the system followed in Germany up to 1914. The people of Canada were told in 1914 that our young men were being sent to Europe to make war on that system, that by breaking down universal compulsory military service in Europe we would end war for all time. In accordance with this idea, after Germany had been beaten to her knees, the terms of peace imposed on that country provided that universal compulsory military service should be abolished therein; that the German army of the future should be constituted only by voluntary enlistment and that this army should be limited to 100,000 men. Now after all this Gen. Griesbach proposes to fasten on Canada the very thing that has been destroyed in Germany; he proposes to create in this country, which has no hostile neighbours, and with a population of 8,000,000, an army that in ten years shall embrace 150,000 in the immediately available force and 300,000 in the first reserve, while Germany, with hostile neighbors on all sides, and a population of 60,000,000 is to be limited to an army of 100,000.

It is time for the Canadian people to awake to the real situation and the actual dangers. The militarism which menaces this country today, or that menaced it in years immediately past, is not European militarism past or present. It is the spirit existing in this country itself in the persons of men of the Griesbach type. The number of such is not small. One of these, when the Boer war came, expressed his regret that it had not come ten years sooner. Why? Because he would then have been ten years younger and his chances of winning military "glory" greater. Another of the same, when a Southern cavalry leader was entertained at Toronto military institute prior to 1914, declared that no country ever amounted to anything until hammered on the anvil of the god of war. When these men told us in 1914 we were going into war to end war they were no more sincere than were the men who pledged exemption to farmers' sons in the election of 1917.

The real enemies of Canada are not in other countries; they are here at home. They are those of our own who delight in war or at least look upon war as part of the natural condition of things. They are those who would have us turn our backs on a policy that has preserved peace for a century along a 4,000-mile frontier and adopt a policy similar to that which found its logical outcome first in deluging Europe with blood and then leaving it in a state of anarchy. Against these enemies in our own household this country must always be on guard and the duty of being so on guard was never so urgent as it is right now."

There is very little talk in the papers lately as to what constituency Premier Drury will find open to him. Now that the noise is all over, it would not be a bit surprising if Mr. E. N. McDonald, M.P. for East Peterborough, would offer his seat, and that it would be accepted by the Premier. Of course there is nothing real to base this supposition on, but practically every other U.F.O. constituency has had considerable publicity on the subject, and it is just one of these "long shots" that "come across" once in a while to the surprise of nearly everybody concerned.

SMOKING OF CIGARETTES NOT IMMORAL IN WOMEN

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Smoking of cigarettes by women was judicially decreed to-day as not immoral.

The decision was made by Supreme Court Justice Mullan in a separation suit, in which consel for the husband tried to show that cigarettes had been found in the wife's dresser drawer, and that this constituted evidence of "bad character."

"It is not immoral for women to smoke cigarettes," declared the Judge. "Some of the best women in the country and in the world smoke cigarettes. It wouldn't make any difference if she had a thousand packages of cigarettes there. This isn't Hickville out in the centre of the farm country."

A REPLY TO MR. J. H. BURNHAM

The following letter addressed to the Christian Guardian is an answer to one of Mr. J. H. Burnham's theological epistles.

His Education Neglected.

To the Editor of the Christian Guardian.

Dear Sir,—As Mr. Burnham's letter in a recent issue may confuse the minds of some, permit me a brief reply. Extended argument is not needed.

His initial statements that "prohibition has superseded the old cry of salvation," that "regeneration has given way to prohibition," that "the Christian era, founded upon the regeneration of the hearts of men, is no more," are all flagrantly false. Total abstinence is not now, nor ever was, considered as religion or a means of salvation. For all men, total abstainers included, the personal acceptance of Christ as Saviour and Lord remains the one and only condition of salvation. True Christianity, as recognized in the great fundamentals of the Church universal, is unchangeable.

The argument that if prohibition is right "the Creator made a serious mistake in allowing humanity to run wild, when He could have stopped it all by prohibiting all means of evil," is simply ignorant foolishness. The possibility of sin, and the possibility of virtue, exist inseparably together. Without the possibility of sin, by a free-will moral agent, virtue and religion would be compulsory, and morally unacceptable to God, unto whom religious homage and service must be voluntary—things of free choice and pure devotional feeling.

Mr. Burnham's idea of a regiment of the saved marching into heaven "under the flag of compulsion; not saved by the death of Christ, but through the law of prohibition," is grotesquely ridiculous. None enter heaven by compulsion, nor was prohibition ever proposed or enacted as a means of salvation. That in this age of religious knowledge and clear sound thinking Mr. Burnham should make the statements above quoted certainly implies that his theological education was much neglected.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. EVERETT TAKES HIS BRIDE HOME

CHAPTER XIV.

We went to Hendon the next day. Everett had told me he had a home ready for me. I gave it very little thought. He was old enough to have a home. He had mentioned a housekeeper. So I supposed if I thought of it at all that he had kept a bachelor establishment.

It was a big house with a good-sized lawn. The day was cold and blustery when we arrived and I only noticed that all the houses on the street were rather handsome, and bore some resemblance to each other.

"This is to be your home now," Everett said kindly as we walked up the steps. I couldn't help wishing he had waited until we had gone in, then taken me in his arms and said: "Welcome home, Darling," as the man had said in a story that I had read. You see that I was so totally without experience of men, men of Everett's age, that I had to compare him to story heroes. I couldn't picture him doing as the home boys would have done. Someway I never thought of comparing him to dear Father. Yet my father was the only man I had known really intimately, who was near my husband's age.

I imagined I wanted to make myself feel that he was younger than Father.

The housekeeper came to meet us when Everett opened the door with his key. A nice looking young maid stood back in the hall smiling a welcome. I was so glad to see her—she was so young you know—that I scarcely replied to the housekeeper's greeting, but rushed up to her and asked her name.

"I'm Hetty, the waitress and upstairs maid," she replied. She looked pleased too. I suppose she saw that I was young. But the housekeeper looked annoyed. I did not know until afterwards that she had not been told of her employer's marriage until we were in New York; nor that she feared that she would either lose her place or be boosed by a "chit of a girl," as Hetty said that she called me. She needn't have worried. I could not have run that big house to have saved my life—not then.

"Hetty will show you your room," Mrs. Gray—that was the housekeeper's name—informed me in chilling tones. Glad to escape, I followed Hetty with alacrity, leaving Everett talking cranestly with Mrs. Gray.

"Oh, how lovely!" I exclaimed, when Hetty switched on the lights and drew the curtains so shutting out the winds and the sight of the rain.

The room was lovely. It was done in soft grays and pale rose. Everything a woman could possibly use was there. A dainty dressing table covered with lace and littered with costly toilet articles; mirrors, reading table and lamps, a cute little desk with an ormolu clock ticking softly on it; lounging chairs; chaise lounge and hassocks of soft pillows for the feet. And to my delight a fire place with a gas log, which Hetty lighted.

"Shall I help you unpack, Ma'am?" Hetty asked. She had scarcely taken her eyes off me.

"Please. But why do you look at me so hard?"

"Why—you—are—so young," she stammered, embarrassed.

"You are young, too. How old are you?"

"I'll be nineteen come spring, Ma'am."

"So will I," I exclaimed, pleased without stopping to analyze the reason. My eyes were glued to the picture of a wonderfully beautiful woman on the wall.

"That's why I said you were so young to be married. You don't look as old as me. Mr. Graham is so much older too. We thought his new wife would be like—"

"Hetty! Hetty!" the housekeeper's shrill voice interrupted her and leaving her sentence unfinished she hurried downstairs.

I smiled to myself at her calling me a "new wife." She had said "his new wife" and thought I would probably be like some old woman. I must remember to ask her whom she thought I was like rather what she thought I was like. And who could be the original of the lovely picture.

I selected a white dress, one of my trousseau, to wear this first night in my new home. I knew Mother would be pleased to have me wear it instead of one of the more expensive and elaborate ones Everett has obtained for me in New York. I thought of what Hetty said about my looking even younger than she did, and piled my hair on the top of my head instead of in the knot on my neck, or the braids as mother liked me to wear it. But I imagined it made me look older. It did make me look taller which was not at all necessary.

"What possessed you to comb your hair like that?" Everett asked. "It looks as if it might tumble down any minute. If dinner were not all ready and I hungry I would send you directly upstairs to do it over."

UNIFORMS FOR CADET CORPS

PETERBORO CADETS SECURE A NEW ISSUE.

Cadet Corps 13, composed of the boys of the Collegiate Institute have received an issue of uniforms which are now being distributed to the cadets. The uniforms are of the regulation C.E.F. infantry type. The caps, jackets and trousers are unused being part of the stock left on the Government's hands after the signing of the armistice, while the great-coats are slightly used and have been fumigated.

Alkali In Shampoos Bad For Washing Hair

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

ENGLISH PEOPLE EATING LESS MEAT.

Thirty-three Per Cent. Less Is Consumed Than Before the War, Is Estimate.

LONDON.—Englishmen used to be considered the greatest meat eaters in the world. Now, declares the Society of Meat Importers, the average Englishman eats 33 per cent. less meat than he did before the war. Unless he can be induced to eat more of it the country will be faced with a glut of meat as it has never had before.

The annual consumption of meat in the United Kingdom before the war was about 1,800,000 tons, say the importers. It is now only 1,200,000 tons. And this they contend is due entirely to the high cost still maintained. Englishmen and Englishwomen, too, are just as fond of meat as ever, but they can't afford to eat as much of it as they used to.

TAX ON WAR FORTUNES.

ROME, Italy. — Legislation will shortly be introduced in the Italian Parliament by which a progressive tax of from 10 to 60 per cent. will be imposed on war fortunes and an extraordinary progressive tax of from 5 to 25 per cent. on all inherited estates exceeding 20,000 lire payable in thirty annual instalments.

SERGEANT BILL, SENIOR MASCOT, HAS PASSED AWAY

FIFTH BATTALION GOAT, REAL VETERAN OF THE WAR, GOES WEST

WORE WOUND STRIPE AND SERVED FOR FIVE YEARS

WINNIPEG.—Sergeant Bill, a hero of the Great War, and having the distinction of being the oldest veteran of his class in the Canadian armies, has died. "Old Bill," as he was familiarly called by his companions, was a goat, and mascot of the Fifth Battalion, C.E.F., known as the Fifth Western Cavalry or "Fighting Fifth." He was senior mascot of the Canadian armies, having accompanied the First Canadian contingent from Canada to the battle fields of Flanders and remaining with his unit through thick and thin.

Supposed to have been born in Eastern Canada, Bill was presented to Daisy Curwain at Broadview Sask., more than 10 years ago. He served many years drawing a go-cart around for Little Daisy.

In August, 1914, when Canada was stirred by the declaration of war, little Daisy, then but a child, felt the war fever. The train carrying the 27th Saskatchewan Light Horse squadron to Valcartier for mobilization, stopped at Broadview to take water and Bill was presented to act as mascot and to help fight the Huns Arriving at Valcartier, Bill soon developed a taste for military regime and anything that came within the possibilities of his digestive powers. When the 27th S.L.H. was amalgamated with other units in the Fifth Western Cavalary, he was accepted as official mascot and placed on the strength of the unit.

Reached Prance in 1915.

Wading through Salisbury days, travelling by rail and by sea, Bill eventually reached France with his unit in February, 1915, and viewed without blinking an eyelash, the bursting of shells and the destruction of war. At the Second Battle of Ypres he investigated bursting shells at a closer range, with the result that he was wounded in the neck given first aid and the best treatment, he soon regained his hunger after knowledge. One day he was found eating the battalion nominal roll, and again he was caught with the orders of the day in his possession.

Sticking closely to the battalion, Bill served his unit with glory Escorting horses and mules to safety during the shelling of the transport and remaining with them when everything was again quiet, was one of his smaller duties. After years of experience, Bill became an expert at taking cover and the second shell over the transport lines usually found Bill under the hay pile or the nearest timber. Travelling around with the unit, he saw, more of France, Belgium, and Germany than the average soldier. In the triumphal march through the released territories, Bill was an object of pride to the battalion and of interest to all spectators. He was the only original mascot to enter Mons on Armistice Day. He never prouder than on parade, decked out in a blue, embroidered plush coat, presented to him by the boys.

Bill and his unit, on their homeward trip, passed through Winnipeg on April 10, 1919. At the Union Depot he was met by his former mistress, Daisy Curwain, now grown-up and living in Winnipeg. He proceeded to Regina, where his battalion was demobilized, however, and later was returned to Miss Curwain in Winnipeg and took up residence with the family at 642 Beresford avenue.

In Winnipeg Bill soon got accustomed to civil life, but sadly missed the days of combat and strife with the Huns. Munching away at green leaves near River Park, a far-way look was often observed in his eyes, unless you got too close to him.

When the Prince of Wales was in Winnipeg inspecting the veterans, Bill was present and was accorded a hearty slap on the back by the Prince, who remembered him from old days in France.

Bill was getting old, had seen much of life, had served his King and country well, and was prepared to die. Sunday he became ill and died before evening. His plush coat is to adorn the Saskatchewan War Museum, and it is hoped by members of Bill's battalion, that his remains also will grace the museum Miss Curwain is having the body of the goat stuffed and mounted.

HOW TO COOK POULTRY, BY LECTURER AT PETERBORO POULTRY EXHIBITION

Miss Mary Yates, who is lecturing at the Peterborough Poultry Show, under the ouspices of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, gives the following recipe for cooking poultry:

Cookery For Poultry Associations.

1. Hemely Chicken Pudding.—Make a good suet crust with 1½ cups suet finely chopped, 3 cups flour and 1-2 teaspoon salt. Mix to a stiff paste with cold water, roll it out flat, cover with thin slices of cooked chicken, seasoned with a tablespoon of finely chopped onion, a teasoonful of sweet herbs, 2 level teaspoons of salt and 1 of black pepper. Roll up in shape of a bolster, fasten edges securely and put the pudding into a floured cloth; tie it at both ends, put it into boiling water and let it boil for 2 hours. Serve with good brown gravy made from the bones and trimmings.

2. To Roast An Old Fowl.—Prepare the bird as for roasting, stuffing it with a well seasoned dressing and trussing up securely. After this either of the following methods may be followed:

(a) Place a bird in a pot of boiling water and boil for 1 hour. Place pot in fireless cooker and leave until next day. The bird should be covered with water and the lid should not be removed when taking from the fire to the cooker. Remove the bird from the pot next day and set it in the roasting pan well smeared with its own fat, saved for the purpose. Roast in a brisk oven for 1 hour, basting frequently. Serve with a good brown gravy made from the giblets and some of the stock in which the bird was boiled.

(b) Put the fowl in a steamer and steam for 2 1-2 hours; then take it out, dredge lightly with flour, putting some good dripping in the pan. Roast in a brisk oven for 1-2 hour, basting constantly. Serve good gravy with it.

3. Chicken Loaf.— Old fowls may be used for this dish, which will be found excellent for lunch boxes—cold dinners, etc.

2 lbs. chopped raw fowl
1 teacup brown bread crumbs
1 teacup sweet milk
1 raw egg
A piece of dripping the size of an egg,
2 level teaspoons salt and 1-2 teaspoon black pepper.

Mix up. Form into a loaf. Sprinkle with crumbs. Bake about 1 hour in a sharp oven, basting with 2 tablespoons of dripping and 2 of water. The bones may be stewed, the broth seasoned highly, set with gelatine and served as savory jelly accompanied by shredded raw cabbage.

4. To Make a Meringue.—Beat whites of eggs until stiff, add sugar gradually, continuing to beat, never stir a meringue. Pile lightly on top of pie and bake 8 to 10 minutes in a moderate oven. If removed before cooked, the eggs will liquify and meringue settle; if cooked too long, meringue will be tough.

5. Poultry Association Dessert.—Line a baking tin with nice short pastry, spread upon this some raspberry jam 1-4 inch thick and over the jam place a layer of meringue flavored with ratafia. Mark with a knife into shape of fingers 3 or 6 inches long by 1 1-2 inches wide. Cook until a pretty light brown in color, when cold cut into fingers, pile high upon a dish and send to table with a baked custard made from the yolks of the eggs. This custard should be flavored with ratafia and is best cooked in a deep dish that may be set in a pan of boiling water and placed in a cool part of the oven until set.

Leader Declares War on Monoply

POINTS OUT LESSON OF LATE CONSERVATIVE GOVERNMENT IN ONTARIO AND APPLIES SAME LESSON TO OTTAWA, WHERE SOVFREIGN RIGHTS OF PEOPLE USURPED—GIVEN GREAT RECEPTION.

MAKES A PLEA FOR LIBERALISM AS AGAINST CLASS-CONSCIOUSNESS

NEWMARKET, Jan. 7.—Hon. W. L. M. King, Dominion Liberal Leader, was given a magnificent welcome last night by the Liberal electors of North York. It was the first occasion since he contested the riding in the 1917 election on which Mr. King had spoken in the constituency, and 500 representative guests thronged the Agricultural Hall to hear him.

The Liberal Chieftain devoted much of his time to dealing with the present political situation in Canada, and the significance of the Labor, Farmer and War Veteran movements. Liberals, he declared, could not be anything but sympathetic to any movement which broadened out to help the lot of the people.

Opposition to Anything Like Monopoly.

"My attitude in matters of government toward any class is one of irrevocable opposition to anything in the shape of a monopoly," declared Mr. King. He would not countenance a monopoly of government, whether by financial or railway groups, or under the control of Labor, Farmers or War Veterans.

"But I am willing to take the best of them to make legislation to serve a more united people." He accepted with pleasure the nomination for North York, and pointed out that he was pinning his faith in this riding for success at the next Dominion election. He said that he would not run in two ridings, as has been done in the past.

W. H. S. Cane is Chairman.

Agricultural Hall was gaily bedecked with flags and bunting in honor of the distinguished guest. So large was the attendance that the four hundred men and women guests were accommodated at banquet tables on both the lower and upper floors. The speaking did not get under way until 8.30. Two shields were prominently displayed to either side of the platform: "North York, the Cradle of Freedom," and "King and a United Canada." Mr. W. H. Cane, President of the North York Liberal Association, occupied the chair at both the banquet and the subsequent meeting.

Hon. Mr. King was given a most cordial reception when he entered the banquet hall.

The Chairman read many letters of regret from prominent Liberals who were unable to be present. One of these was from Hon. Geo. P. Graham, who, in referring to Mr. King, said he "possessed all the elements of successful leadership."

Mayor Eaves of Newmarket briefly welcomed the Liberal Leader and other outsiders to the town. His aged father was one of those who was on the platform.

Mr. King said that he proposed to review what appeared to be the outstanding features of the political situation as it exists in Canada today, and to endeavor to present the attitude of Liberalism. It must be realized, he said, that it is impossible to separate the present from that past, and that is was equally impossible to understand conditions in Canada apart from the conditions as they exist in other countries.

Time to be Practical.

"This is not a moment to theorize, it is not a moment to rush to extremes, neither it is a moment to stand pat," said Mr. King. "It is a time, above all others, to be essentially practical, to look facts square in the face, to make an accounting of our national assets and liabilities in terms that are human as well as material, and then, understanding what our problems are not in a visionary mood, but in a concrete and comprehensive way), resolutely to meet them and attempt a solution that will make not only for material progress, but also for human freedom and for ever-widening possibilities in social wellbeing and individual achievement."

Mr. King spoke of the effect of the great war upon the world. "The changed map of Europe is only one evidence of a changed order," he said, "an outward and visible sign of an infinitely greater convulsion from within." A true simile of the world's conditon today was that of the ocean seething after a storm.

Stop Ill-will.

"It is a new attitude and a new spirit that are most needed to solve the problems at the present time," he continued. "A spirit and attitude of good-will to replace the attitule and spirit of ill-will which war never fails to breathe. That spirit," he said, "continues to lurk in all sorts of places, both high and obscure. It manifests itself in high places through a distrust of others in the autocratic use of power, in the continuance and enactment of repressive measures long after the reason for such is gone. It manifests itself from below through similar distrust an indifference to rights, whether of persons or property, in the defiance of law and order. We shall fail utterly to grasp the significance of the legacy the war has left unless we note carefully every passion the war has used and every prejudice upon which it has sought to play.

"It is in the creation of this new spirit, of this new attitude, that Liberalism's obligations to the present-day problems will find the most important task." Mr. King enumerated some of the phases of work which Liberals were called upon to perform.

Tribute to Laurier.

In front he placed the attitude to be assumed to those who differ from the Liberals in opinion. Here Mr. King referred to Sir Wilfred Laurier, saying: "Our own great Leader, in the political battles of 1911 and 1917 did not escape his share of the penalty of greatness where it looks with eyes beyond its day and has the courage to stand or fall by conviction. Pure in life, noble in purpose, patriotic in aim, in all these respects second to no other political leader of his generation, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, more than any other man, was misunderstood or misrepresented by many of those who in former days found their delight in sounding his praises. Is it not indeed significant that there is not a political happening of first mportance since his death which has not afforded unmistakable evidence of his political wisdom and sagacious patriotism? The injustice done his life must be righted in the justice to be done his memory."

Consideration, continued the Liberal Leader, must be shown now to those who thought as Sir Wilfrid did. "But the Liberals who stood with Sir Wilfrid in 1917, if they are to be true to the first principles of Liberalism, must be as ready to accord sincerity of purpose to those who differed from them as they are to demand like attitude toward themselves.

"We must also respect those who, while sharing with us in large measure the principles and policies we advocate, have aims and aspirations of their own. And here I may refer to some who belong to three of the largest and most important elements in our National Society: the Farmers, Labor and the War Veterans. Here we pass from differences between individuals to consider possible differences between classes."

Usurping Sovereign Rights.

Speaking of the recent Ontario elections, Mr. King said that, surprising as they were, one had not to seek far for an explanation. "First and foremost must be placed the exasperation of the people with a Government that has usurped the Sovereign right of the people to govern themselves, and had become the chief ally of the Federal Administration in promulgating and maintaining arbitrary enactments. The compact between Sir William Hearst and Mr. Proudfoot to perpetuate the Government in office and the members in their seats in the Legislature may not have been without explanation on grounds of political expediency. If, however, we have not abandoned altogether what is fundamental in the right of the people to self-government it was wholly without justification on constitutional grounds."

Liberals' Ontario Victory.

Mr. King explained the Farmers' movement on the ground of this compact.

"Disgusted," he said, "with what seemed to them a frame-up by political leaders whereby those in office or in the Legislature might be retained in power, the people in the rural districts, who had been doing a lot of thinking on their own account, decided to have candidates of their own. They were assisted in this by the Liberals of the Province, who either withdrew their candidates or decided not to nominate in thirty-seven ridings. The Liberal Leader of the Province, Hartley Dewart, who never was a party to the compact of which I have spoken, but who fought it from the outset, tackled some of the more difficult Tory strongholds, like the Torontos, not with Farmer candidates, but with Liberals who, like himself, were in sympathy with the policy wholly friendly to the Farmers, and he won in a number of those constituencies. It must never be forgotten that, while the Farmer candidates were returned in largest numbers, the overthrow of the Hearst Government was esentially a victory for the Liberal forces of the Province against a reactionary Government; a victory accomplished by Farmers and Liberals combined, and working in most constituencies in a whole-hearted combination."

Liberal Thought Among Farmers.

Mr. King reviewed the figures of the voting, and analyzed the vote in Ontario.

"The point I wish to make at the moment is that, as Liberals, Liberals in the truest meaning of that word, we mistake altogether the significance of these agrarian movements if we do not see in them evidences of Liberal thought and feeling on the part of those who are advocating and supporting their policies," he added.

Speaking of Labor and the Liberal attitude, Mr. King said:

"Liberalism is to me the expression of a wider human freedom, whether it be for those who work in the country on the farms or in the cities and towns in the shops and factories; whether it be the well-being of women and children that is at stake in the home or elsewhere, or the lot of men in the struggle with their several environments. What the workers in one form or another are seeking is what we, as Liberals, have all along been speaking of as more in the way of equality or opportunity. If that is not part of Liberalism, then Liberalism has ceased to exist."

About the Veterans.

The Liberal Leader also referred to the war veterans, saying: "If there is in Canada today one portion of its citizenry which more than any other is enttled to consideration it is the men who risked their lives in battle and those who shared with them the dangers and privations of war, especially the families of those whose sons made the supreme sacrifice in the call of the world's freedom. The war will be without its meaning to our day and generation unless we seek to make out of the sacrilces of the heroic dead a new social order resplendent with the conception of liberty for which they gave their lives.

Class Legislation.

"It is here that the supreme task of Liberalism comes in. Either we shall have an increasing growth of class consciousness on the part of each of the great groups I have mentioned, resulting, as all class-conscious growths are destined to result, in conflict with each other and with forces that sooner or later are certain to oppose them, or we shall have a great progressive movement which will lead to a new era of social progress and social justice. It will all depend upon whether the spirit of good-will is sufficiently strong to overcome the spirit that war breeds and that continues to lurk in its wake.

"War has shown what can be accomplished by co-operation and sacrifice. If we can carry the spirit of co-operation and sacrifice into this period of reconstruction, we have nothing to fear. If, on the other hand, each element in our national life is going to seek to go its own gait, unwilling to join hands with other groups that share like aims and aspirations to its own, if each separately intends to aim at domination in national affairs, then we may look for a prolongation of the period of confusion and in the end retrogression rather than advance.

"Just here let me say quite frankly that when it comes to matters of Government I am unalternably opposed to monopoly in any form, or by any class. I am relentlessly opposed to Government being controlled visibly or invisibly by railway, manufacturing or financial interests. I am not less opposed to a monopoly of control on the part of any other of the essential elements of our national economy, be they farmers, labor, war veterans or the newly enfranchised female voters."

Mr. King made an appeal for the abolishing of race and religious difference prejudices. "Let us remember, however, that whatever perpetuates or augments that ill-will adds to the problem of Government in Canada today, and that whatever of good-will we can engender in its stead will by so much lessen and lighten the magnitude and weight of the problems which confront us. As Liberals we can have but one attitude toward prejudice whenever it raises its vicious head, and that is to strike it hard, strike it, if that be possible, to the death.

"We must resolve as never before to permit no new cleavage to destroy our national unity.

"Each for Self or All for All."

"Is the splendid unity of our great country to be imperilled by a conflict of policies related primarily to geographical areas or particular interests, or are we to carry into the shaping of our national policies the same noble spirit of some sacrifice on the part of each and willing co-operation on the part of all by which alone the war was won? Shall it be each for self, or all for all? Shall it be the special interest of a class or the well-being of the whole community? Shall it be Canada first, as it was with the men who gave their lives with thought of naught, save the honor of their country and their duty before God?

"If it is this larger, this nobler ideal we must have in our Federal politics some political party large enough, broad enough, tolerant enough, fearless enough to carry forward such a policy of national unity. It cannot be a Manufacturers' party, for that will never suit the farmers or consumers; neither can it be a Farmers' party, for that, too, in the long run, will raise powerful combinations against itself which will serve to divide East and West, to set the cities and towns and villages over against the farming communities, and the rural districts over against the urban. Neither can it be a Labor party, for that means the organization sooner or later of a Capitalist party, and added strife in industrial relations, rather than the working out of some system of joint control by which alone the problems of industry are to be solved. Least of all is it likely ever to be a War Veterans' party. The war veterans themselves have been the first to repudiate any thought of the kind that would be introducing into this new world the old-time conflicts between the army and civil authorities, which takes us back to the days of Cromwell, and a condition of society which our citizen soldiery would be the first to deplore. No, it cannot be a party of any class, of any creed, of any race, or of any special interest. It must be a party representative of all the interests of the nation and reflecting in its composition the many-sided elements of our national life.

Parties Necessary.

"Parties are necessary, useful and likely to endure. To what better party can those of Liberal views look for a fulfillment of their desires than to a party that is Liberal in name as well as in aim, and which has a century of Liberal traditions to hold it through to the highest principles and to spur it on to yet nobler achievement.

"With the Liberal forces at work in Canada today among the Farmers in the rural communities, among Labor in the cities and towns, among the returned soldiers, and among that great body of Canadian citizenry, men and women alike, who, apart from class affiliations or associations, are thinking and praying and striving for the dawn of that better day which the sacrifices and privations of war were to usher in, there is nothing to with-

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

VOCATIONAL TRAINING.

I believe there are quite a number of returned soldiers taking vocational courses with the business houses of this city and are being treated with every consideration. But the following is the experience of a returned man who was granted a vocational course and applied to a large store for permission to take that course in the store. The soldier was introduced to the manager of the department he wished to take the course in and at once started talking business. (And by the way the soldier was no "greenhorn" in the line he was talking.)

Well, naturally enough the conversation turned to wages and the soldier said he would be satisfied with enough to pay his board. At this the manager of the department said he did not really have any opening, but if he did have, he considered it unfair to the others in that department to pay the soldier because he (the soldier) would be drawing $60 per month from the government. In other words the manager would like the soldier to take the course providing it cost that department nothing. Now, I would like to ask that manager if it was fair for that soldier to put three years in that "hell" over there, fighting for HIS interests while others stayed behind (with feet as cold as it was last week) holding down jobs as indispensables? for small pay. He told the soldier (he, himself) would not expect but a small salary if he had an income that he considered half his wages. This is the kind of a man that makes it bad for others. There are people who know nothing but hold their jobs for small pay and keep others out of work who do know something but can't afford to work for small pay. In other words some people who have an income will do a $25 per week job for $15. Let this manager ask himself who kept the business going while the war was on? What discomforts he had to put up with during that time? And if the Germans had won, what would his income or job have been worth? We all know you don't HAVE to take these soldiers, and give them courses. Add remember the soldiers are not be for charity. All they want is something that will bring them on the same level as those who made little fortunes in Canada while the soldier was getting $1.10 a day. From the soldiers' point of view, this manager does not understand the meaning of the word principle. But thank goodness this is about the only exception in Peterborough and that he does not run the town.

Yours truly,
FAIR PLAY.

LEADER DECLARES WAR ON MONOPOLY

stay ultimate and speedy victory in the triumph of Liberal ideas and policies except a failure on the part of those who are opposed to a common enemy to co-operate in a spirit that has regard primarily for the good of all."

Government Without Policy.

Speaking of the present Dominion Administration, Mr. King said: "It is owing to the instability in management of the nation's affairs that the ship of State is in such distress today. Not only is the Government without a hand to direct its affairs: it is actually without a policy to guide its actions. Never were the affairs of the country in a more hopeless state of muddle, nor an Administration more disorganized, than is the case of the present time. A policy of drift is the only characterization that can be made of the Government's action."

Mr. King reviewed the history of the Union Government since its inception. He spoke of the absence of the Premier and the affairs of State being allowed to drift along.

Referring to the Grand Trunk purchase Mr. King said that as approval had not yet been granted by the shareholders in England, and as Parliament would be reassembling in a few weeks, it was not yet too late "to give Canadian taxpayers who have to meet these obligations the same rights as are given to the English shareholders; this right of approval should still be preserved to the people of Canada."

Pilot Leaves Ship.

Referring again to the Government, Mr. King said: "The Prime Minister has just left for parts unknown, and who is to lead Parliament in his absence is still unknown. The pilot has left the ship for a long time, just as he left in 1919 for a short time, without venturing to decide between the factions in his Cabinet which of the two is to assume his role during his absence." The Government had no policy, no constructive thought or idea—simply that party might hang on a little longer. It would be ludicrous if it were not tragic. He referred to the statement recently issued by the Premier as further confirmation of the absence of any policy on the part of the Government.

Fruit of Unionism.

"This," said the Liberal Leader, "is the natural fruit of Unionism, and it should be an object lesson to all citizens for years to come. It should cause the advocates of group government to pause in their advocacy of a system which leads only to compromise, subterfuge and inaction."

Claims Fraudulent Franchise.

Mr. King expressed his thanks to the Liberals of North York for nominating him again as their candidate. "Surprise has been expressed in some quarters," said Mr. King, "that, having suffered defeat in 1917, I should have accepted renomination by the Liberals of this riding at a time when Parliament has just passed an act, introduced at the last session by one of the Liberal members, by which the election of any candidate for the Federal Parliament is rendered void in the evnt of hs seeking electon for more than one constituency at a single election.

"Had I not been through one political battle with the Liberals of North York, there might be some occasion for surprise; and had our cause not suffered defeat more through a fraudulent franchise than for any other reason, there might be even greater occasion for surprise. The people of Canada mistake my interest in politics if they believe that, gratifying as is the sense of political victory, it weighs with me for one moment in comparison with the vindication of principles of political freedom for which our forefathers sacrificed their all, and which our fathers taught us to hold in revarent regard.

Fighting Family Compact.

"In tracing the Liberal party of Canada to its source, we are brought back to the years of opposition to the arrogance of the Family Compact, to the long and bitter struggle against an autocratic Executive, to the demands for representative and responsible government, in which political struggles the Reformers of York played a part second to none.

"It was the electors of York who chose my grandfather as their standard-bearer. When, after a lapse of two generations, the decendants of these very men, and others associated with them, invite me to take up that same standard of political freedom, at a moment when it is being lowered by a Government that has availed itself of measures more arbitrary and autocratic than any enacted since those early reforms were obtained, an I which in many of its actions has shown itself more indifferent and less responsible to the people's representatives in Parliament than any Government we have had in years, all that there is of chivalry in my nature and of power in tradition compels me to accept the nomination with gratitude and pride, be the consequences what they may."

Mr. King also made pleasant references to Sir Alan Aylesworth and Sir William Mulock.

Liberal President Praises King.

Mr. H. D. Ramsden, President Toronto and North York Liberal Association, also joined in welcoming the visitors. He spoke feelingly of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and referred to the National Convention last August as one of the most democratic ever held. Mr. Ramsden spoke in glowing language of Mr. King.

The Liberal Leader, the speaker said, had made a lifelong study of Labor matters in Canada, and was one of the foremost authorities on the subject, not only in Canada, but in the United States. This country needs leadership, but at the present time there is none in Canada.

Eastern Ont. President Speaks.

Dr. H. H. Horsey, President of the Eastern Ontario Liberal Association, also spoke briefly. He, too, paid high tribute to Mr. King's ability. The Liberal Leader was not only trained in the themes of Labor matters, but also in a practical way. "He is a man of sterling character, whom we can all get behind and fight for," he declared.

Those on the platform, in addition to the speakers, included Messrs. P. C. Larkin; W. D. Euler, M.P. for North Waterloo; Isaac Pedlow, M.P. for Renfrew; Mayor Bassett of Aurora, and Andrew Hayden, General Secretary of the National Liberal Committee, of Ottawa.

at the convention. "There are some men afraid that everybody and everything will sink under the Farmers' Government. I have never been the least bit afraid, and am not afraid now," declared Hon. T. C. Norris, the Premier of Manitoba, last night before what he himself termed "the greatest and most successful organization of busines men in Canada."

Addressing delegates and visitors to the joint meeting of live stock men and grain growers, the Premier was given a great reception.

Tariff Question.

"There are enough men here tonight," he continued, "to fill all the Cabinets in Canada. It is time. You will need few lawyers. They are always necessary. You are even going to put politicians out of business," he said, a sally which brought forth much cheering. "I don't know that you will make much of a mistake in a lot of cases either," he went on, "so long as you pick out the farmers among them and leave them there."

Referring to the high tariff, Premier Norris said "that unless they got lower tariff, lower freight rates, and open markets they would soon be in a hopeless muddle. The high cost of living will not come down until the production of the West catches up to the demand of the Eastern markets," he said. "The protective tariff has always been a curse, and always will be to the producer, and I believe to the consumer as well."

The United Farmers of Manitoba is the new name adopted for the organization.

FREDERICTON BREAD PRICE LOWERED CENT

(Canadian Press.)

FREDERICTON, N. B., Jan. 7.—The price of bread in Fredericton has been reduced one cent per loaf and it is now selling at 13c wholesale and 14c retail. One baker who had previously been wrapping his bread as prescribed by the Health Department regulations, declined to make his charge more than 13c wholesale, and the result was the general adoption of that price, which is 2c higher than the former charge.

TAKE MEDICINE IN CAPSULE FORM

GIVES QUICKER ACTION—THE IDEAL METHOD FOR HOME TREATMENT.

Why medicines in capsule form are best was recently explained by a medical authority as follows: "The object of taking medicine is to get quick results and also make the taking as easy as possible. The capsule form does this. The palate does not revolt at the gelatine coating, no matter how repellent to the taste are the drugs contained. The capsule also goes down the throat without inconvenience.

"In the stomach the gelatine coating dissolves almost immediately and the medicines start work promptly. The capsule is far superior to the hard pill, which, especially if it has been exposed to the air, often passes through the system without being dissolved."

A striking illustration of the effectiveness of capsule form medicine is given by Grip Fix, the remedy that relieves a cold in a night. This preparation contains Quinine, Salol, Caffein Citrate, Cascara and Camphor Monobromate, the drugs usually used by physicians for colds or Grippe. In capsule form they provide a reliable home treatment for colds which gives wonderfully quick results, just what is needed.

Have a box of Grip Fix in the house at this season when colds are all around. Get Reid's Grip Fix as there is no substitute so effective or quick. On sale at all druggists at 35 cents per box.

SILLY LAWS IN ENGLAND, TOO

Brokers Learn They Face Whipping for Dealing in French Bonds.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The eagerness of British brokers to trade in French premium bonds has evaporated on finding that, despite the treasury's permission to deal in them, those who trade in them are under the Lotteries Act of 1823 and liable to a fine of £100, and also to be sent to prison and whipped as rogues and vagabonds.

Law officers of the Crown insist that as long as the law is on the statute books it will be enforced.

SAVE THE OLD SHOES

A campaign to be launched by the National Shoe Retailers Association of U.S., estimated to save $250,000,000 by repairing all the old shoes.

Retail Shoe dealers are to be urged, not that new shoes be purchased, but that Old Shoes be dug out of the closets and repaired.

It is said that there are "millions of shoes in the closets of the nation, that, with a little repair, they can be made perfectly serviceable. If people will get out these old shoes it will reduce the shoe bills from more than $1,000,000,000 to $700,000,000."

What is true of the U.S., is true of Canada and of Peterborough. I am splendidly prepared to Repair all kinds of Old Shoes. Dig them out of the Closets and bring them here for a first-class job. We don't cobble Shoes, we Repair them.

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are hard of hearing or have head noises, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

The Hacking Cough Strains the Lungs

The terrible, hacking, lung-wracking cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of it is a great source of danger to your health, and the longer it is allowed to stick the more serious the menace becomes.

You can easily get rid of the cough or cold at its inception by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, a remedy that has been universally used throughout Canada for the past 30 years.

Mrs. Samuel Matthews, Portage, P. E.I., writes:—"Last winter I caught a heavy cold, and was laid up for sometime. I had such a hacking cough I could not sleep at night and did not think I would ever get over it. One day a friend dropped in to see me and was surprised to see how bad my cough was. She advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so the next day I sent for a bottle and soon got relief and by time I had taken two bottles my cough was all gone. I doubt there is anything to equal it."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE CHURCHES' EFFORT

"FORWARD OR FAIL" is the Watchword of the Churches To-day.

The note struck in the meetings which are being held this week in the different churches of the city is the note of "Forward.' This is a good motto for the churches to take at any time. It is especially appropriate this year when all the churches of the land have united in a great interchurch Forward Movement. 'Forward' is the law of all life. When anything ceases to grow or advance, decay and death have already set in. The Master enunciated this law of progress in the words: "First the blade, then the ear, then the full corn in the ear." A great opportunity presents itself this week to the members of all the churches of the city to take a real forward step in their Christian life. Now is the time to take a fresh hold of the great eternal truths of the Gospel, and for Christian people to dedicate themselves anew to the great unfinished task of giving Christ to the whole world. He is the only solution of the world's unrest, as He is the only source of rest to the individual who is tired and weary of sin. The following is a report of the services last night:

George Street Methodist Church and St. Paul's Church.

In the absence of Mr. Glassford, who was called home on account of a funeral, Rev. Mr. Thomas spoke. The address was based upon the latter part of Thess. 2:10, which was a call to the early Christians to reveal their allegiance to the truth of the Gospel, and thereby adorn it. The Apostle's words suggest the greatness of the doctrine of God our Saviour. Much is meant when we speak of the eloquence of Demosthenes, the philosoph of Plato, the poetry of Shakespeare; but the truth of God has a glory of its own. The fundamental elements of this doctrine are the existence of God, the sacrifice of Christ, the personal obligation to develop a Christian character, the purpose of God in the world, and the future with its rewards and punishments. This doctrine is unchanging and abiding. It is not true that the day has come when creeds should be and will be cast aside. It is still important what a man believes. While the Apostle was a great theologian he did not overlook the practical aspect of Christian character. Therefore he emphasized the duty of adorning his wonderful doctrine. We agree that life is the supreme demonstration of our faith. The doctrine of God is not for speculation or controversy, but for the inspiration of life. We should make it visible and intelligible to mankind. We may intellectually assent to all the elements of the doctrine but the proof that they have taken hold of us is found in a practical religion. Only then we adorn the truth. When we thus demonstrate the Gospel it will become attractive. It is often asked, "Why do people not come to God in larger numbers?" The answer is that the world does not see in us enough of Jesus Christ. Christianity will not prevail by means of eloquence, logic, literature only. People will accept what they see. Mr. Glassford will speak to-night in St. Paul's church.

CAUCUS OF COUNCIL LAST NIGHT IN MR. GORDON'S OFFICES

ALL THE ALDERMEN PRESENT EXCEPT MR. COPPING—TENTATIVE SLATE OF COMMITTEES.

At a caucus of the new Board of Aldermen in Mr. G. N. Gordon's office last night questions relating to this year's organization of the council, of prospective problems, and business methods were discussed with the object of securing maximum efficiency with a minimum of effort. All the members were present except Alderman-elect Copping. This attendance presents a divergence from the preliminaries of recent years, in which committee slates were tentatively proposed by majority groups of the council without taking the other members into their confidence.

Mr. Gordon was out of the city today and other sources of information had nothing to make public. It is not intended to give the meeting an air of mystery, for from all accounts, the members were apparently satisfied with whatever plans were outlined. In fact there had been rumours all week that some preliminary conference would be held prior to the statutory meeting on Monday morning for the purpose of piling up the aldermanic machinery before the button was formally pressed. And from the intimations that had been heard on the street, the conjecture may be offered that the aldermen agreed last night to sever the Special Bridge Committee from the Board of Works. Ald. Phelan was spoken of for the Board of Works chair, and either Ald. Turner or Ald. Hamilton for the Bridge Committee. It was generally understood that Ald. Morrison would carry on with the Fire, Water and Light Committee. Mr. Gordon was mentioned for the Legal or Manufacturers' Committee with Mr. Copping a possible candidate for the latter.

Ald. Jones was regarded as the probable chairman of the Property Committee, Ald. Turner for the Finance Committee, and the disposal of the other chairs was in the air.

The results of last night's conference will be disclosed on Monday, providing they are ratified without any changes.

PETERBORO INTERMEDIATES WIN A HARD GAME FROM LINDSAY

IN GRUELLING CONTEST PETES BEAT SCUGOG TEAM ON THEIR OWN ICE BY 5 GOALS TO 4—SCORE WAS TIED AT THE END OF FIRST AND SECOND PERIODS.

EVANS AND MURRAY STAR

While the Peterborough juniors were administering a surprising jolt to the Lindsay Midgets at Brock street rink last night, the Peterborough intermediates were handing similar treatment to the Lindsay crew in Scugogville, beating Frank Carew's boys by 5 goals to 4. The game was just as hard as the score indicates. The teams were tied at the end of the first period with two goals each, and at the close of the second with four, Peterborough getting the winning counter in the last session.

It was not brilliant hockey, but you can tell the world it was a real battle with enough heavy body-checking and spills thrown in to spread over half a dozen games. The ice was sticky to start with and developed into slush before the game was hardly started. It was a big task to carry the puck under the circumstances and combination was impossible, but there was something doing every minute. Lindsay had the advantage in weight and they started in from the first bell to use it, spilling the lighter Petes with heavy body checks. The Petes, however, were not slow in showing that they too could use those tactics and they toppled over the Lindsay crew by sailing into them with every ounce they had. The result was a strenuous checking affair that combined with the heavy ice to make an exhausting struggle, and it was two tired teams that climbed to the dressing rooms at the finish. The players went into each other at top speed and "crashes" were frequent, while half a dozen times a back-checking forward rammed into the puck-carrier from behind and the two went down in a sprawling heap. The casualties were light considering the frequency of the tumbles, Harry Thornton who got a slash in the mouth, being the only Peterborough man hurt.

The work of two players stood out prominently in Peterborough's victory. "Micky" Murray and "Banty" Evans were the two that held the chief place in the limelight. Murray's goal-keeping was superb. Lindsay had a host of shots and the majority were dead on, but the Peterborough goalkeeper blocked in magnificent style. There is no meaner rink in the district for a goal-keeper than the Lindsay ice-box, and Murray's work under the circumstances deserves all the good things that could be said about it.

Evans deserves honorable mention, because of his feat in scoring four of Peterborough's counters. He was always dangerous and his rink-length rush for the winning goal in the last period was the individual feature of the game. Halpin and Pete Thornton were effective on the defence. The ice conditions did not suit Rose, Cherrett and Jackson, and all three were handicapped, but they never stopped trying, and did some great checking.

It was a pretty good aggregation of seasoned hockeyists that Lindsay trotted out. The reliable O'Loughlin was in goal, with Flavelle, the lanky defence man and our old college chum Pete Spratt in front of him, while Coombs, Carew and McElroy, who have figured in many a Lindsay-Peterborough battle, were on the regular forward line. The most effective man from a scoring standpoint on the Lindsay line-up was Art Lipsett, the Peterborough boy who, although used as a sub, scored three goals. Flavelle and Spratt were a hard-checking defence, but after Lornie Rose stopped Spratt with a heavy body-check early in the second period, the old St. Michael's star lost all interest in the proceedings and was seen only once afterwards.

Lou Marsh handled the bell and the teams were as follows:

It was a battle right from the start with both teams working hard. Lindsay had two or three shots from outside the defence in the first few minutes, but Murray nailed them cleverly. O'Loughlin was called upon to take care of a hard one from Rose. Finally, after five minutes' going, Evans scored on a scoop shot from right wing, after Cherrett had passed across the rink.

Lindsay were not long in evening up. The puck drifted out to Coombs from a scrimmage, and he scooped one into the nets that Murray did not have a chance to save.

Chuck Carew drew a penalty for slashing, but there was no scoring while he was off. Then Carew and Pete Thornton mixed it and both were chased. Both goals were threatened in turn. Finally Lipsett, who had come on in Carew's place, slammed one past Murray from a scrimmage and the score was 2—1, the only time Lindsay were ahead. Rose was chased for tripping. Just before the period ended, Evans went in alone and beat O'Loughlin, tieing up the score.

The Petes opened out fast the second period. In less than a minute, Evans put them ahead with a shot from the side. Coombs and Halpin served penalties in succession, and just after they got back, Halpin, Jackson and Rose got away together. Jackson passed to Halpin, whose shot was blocked, but Rose battled in the rebound and the Petes were in front 4 to 2.

Then Lindsay started to come, and for the balance of the period Murray was the busiest man on the ice. He stopped a flock of shots at all angles, making some beautiful saves. Then Lipsett raked the rubber from behind the nets and registered. A minute later when Halpin lost the puck in crossing in front of the nets, Lipsett banged another through and the score was tied. Only Murray's good goal-keeping prevented Lindsay forging ahead at this stage. Flavelle, Spratt and Harry Thornton were penalized before the end of the period.

The last twenty minutes saw a hard battle for victory. Both teams were tired, but they kept banging into each other, and spills were plentiful. And so were penalties. First Rose was chased and then Halpin drew a sentence. When they got back, Carew and Pete Thornton drew the wrath of Referee Marsh. Then Rose went off again, followed by Coombs. Murray saved several times on close-in shots, and took care of a bunch of drives from well out and proved unbeatable in this period. O'Loughlin also pulled off some clever stops, and it was even going until Evans secured the rubber at his own end of the rink and tore the full length of the ice for a goal, outskating the Lindsay team and beating O'Loughlin from close in with the winning counter.

4 Peterborough, Evans.

VICTORY OF PETERBORO KIDS ENTHUSE FANS

It is a long time since Peterboro hockey teams have given the fans so much opportunity to enthuse as the double victory over Lindsay last night affords. To beat Lindsay twice in one night is a new experience and the hockey enthusiasts are chortling all over town.

Creditable as was the victory of the Intermediates in the gruelling battle at Lindsay, the feat of the green Peterboro Juniors in trimming the Lindsay Midgets here last night, is an even more praiseworthy achievement. The Peterboro youngsters have had but three or four practices, have never had a rub-down by a trainer, and the whole crew from goal keeper out to the substitutes, had never played in an O.H.A. game before. They were stacked against a team, four members of which put a much stronger looking Peterboro gang out of the running last year. Lindsay had their whole defence of last season, Oliver, Garnett and Green intact, with Bell, a last year's sub., on the forward line. On paper and on their record they should have beaten the untried local kids, last night. But the Petes waded into their first O.H.A. game as if they were playing a public school team and they beat the visitors from wire to wire, sticking on the job until they were ready to drop and pulling off a victory that has got every fan in town rooting for them. If there is anything a hockey crowd likes it is gameness and the young Petes have an abundance of that. They go to Lindsay next Wednesday night and can be counted on to battle every inch of the way.

GAME PETERBORO JUNIORS BEAT LINDSAY MIDGETS

YOUNGSTERS SURPRISED SCUGOG BUNCH BY BEATING THEM HANDILY BY 10 GOALS TO 6—FANS ENTHUSIASTIC OVER SHOWING OF THE KIDS.

WAS A GREAT BATTLE

Never has a greater surprise been pulled on the local fans than the result of the opening junior O. H. A. hockey by beating the Midgets to the tune of 10 to 3.

The game was fast and furious from the start and kept a good crowd on tip toe from the first ring of the gong. The Petes, not one of whom had played in an O. H. A. game before, were in excellent form and had the visitors from Lindsay guessing all the time, although the Midgets put up a good stiff battle. Oliver, Garnett and Bell from last year's team, were on the Lindsay line-up, and all of them played a good game and were the stars in the enemy's ranks. Of the local squad, Sheehan, Jackson, Collins and Foley were the shining lights, but all played a good game.

The game opened with a mad rush by the Midgets, but were checked, and the Petes counter-attacked. In a mix-up at the Lindsay goal, Garnet got away in a hurry and slipped in through the local squad and landed one in the Petes' nets.

The game now centred around the Lindsay goal and was pretty well mixed up when "Red" Sheehan got the puck and scored the first goal for Peterborough.

Lindsay, considerably upset at the turn affairs had taken, countered, but failed. Collins shot but missed. Garnet picked up the rubber and made a brilliant effort to score, but the shot was wide. Sheehan got the puck and rushed the enemy's goal, dislodging Oliver from his retreat, but the Petes fumbled and lost an easy goal, but made up for it a minute later when Sheehan dropped another one past Oliver. Lindsay put on a little more steam. Garnet got the puck and broke away, but fumbled. Sheehan picked it up and made a neat rush but failed to lift the rubber. Brilliant rushes and a good grandstand display occupied the attention till "Ted" Jackson lifted the puck past Oliver and scored. Lindsay came back in force, but the bell rang.

The second period saw both teams going at full speed, with lots of one-man hockey, but finally Lindsay got away in a neat rush, broken by Jackson. Bell got the puck but failed. Garnet finally picked it up and managed to put it past Lebar. Foley rang up another goal for the Petes and Bell scored shortly after for Lindsay. In a clever rush Jackson passed to Collins, who scooped the rubber between Oliver's legs, making the score at the end of the second period 5 to 3.

The third period opened with the Midgets working hard to even up the score, but their hopes were doomed to failure, for Foley and Collins each scored in the first few minutes. Then Foley scored again. Finally the Scugog lads dropped one past the Peterborough goal minder, but Collins scored again just afterwards. In a brilliant rush the Midgets added another to their total ,but their death knell was sounded when Collins shoved the last goal past the Lindsay goal minder.

The last few minutes saw both teams going like mad, but they were both pretty well played out, and their efforts were mostly wasted on fancy rushes and stick-handling exhibitions. The following is the line-ups:

Referee—Dr. Jerry Lafiamme.

FIRST ROUND IN CALEDONIAN CARPET BOWLING TOURNAMENT

MANY SURPRISES RESULTED IN THE CLOSE GAMES PLAYED LAST NIGHT.

The Carpet Bowling Tournament, under the auspices of the Peterboro Caledonian Club, was held last evening in the Woodmen of the World Hall, when 34 members entered the competition which resulted as follows in the first round:

Hendry 12, McCulloch Sr., 14.
Petrie 15, H. Tyler 6.
Bill Smith 18, McKinnon 10.
A. McArthur 15, T. Smith 3.
Bob Elliot 15, Bert Smith 10.
Grant 15, James Sands 8.
T. McArthur 15, Alex. Dick 13.
H. McCulloch Jr., 15, Neil Hurry, 11.
J. Reid 15, David Stewart 9.
S. Leith 15, Tom Whitten 2.
J. Wyllie 15, Ed. Hardie 11.
Jack Smith 18, McCall 8.
John Naples Jr., 15, Young 10.
Irwin 15, Morton 8.

The Play Off.

The following members play off next Wednesday evening at 7.30 prompt to complete first round.
French v. Thomson.
Veitch v. Naples.
Haddow v. McLeish.

McCulloch Senr., v. Taylor.
McKinnon v. Smith.
B. Smith v. Dick.
Sands v. Henry.
Whitton v. Hardie
Young v. Stewart.
McCall v. Morton.

Notes.

A surprising feature of the evening was Bert Smith killing 4 ends throughout the game.

The closest game of the tournament—Hendry and McCulloch, Senior as was the tie in every other end.

The Dick-T. McArthur game produced the most noise of the event, and when Dick made it 13-13 great excitement prevailed.

An auld han' in Jimmie Martin had to admit defeat from Sandy Irwin; of course Jimmie says "he wants the Consolation Prize anyway.

'Twas a sad week for Bill Young to be defeated in two competitions; at any rate the season's not finished yet!

Edinburgh supporters received a sad blow as Ed. Hardie went down to Jack Wyllie.

The games were well contested throughout the whole tournament. It was an excellent practice for the members when they meet the Sons of England next Wednesday in the Woodmen of the World Hall.

The second round will be played on Wednesday, January 21st.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

The greatest of all comedy successes and probably the greatest of all theatrical successes, will be seen in this city on Saturday, matinee and evening, January 24th, when A. H. Woods will present "Friendly Enemies" at the Grand, for an engagement. This remarkable play, which has won the endorsement of two continents and the presidents of the United States, is as vital a part of the theatrical history of these times that no player who is at all interested in the theatre can afford to miss it. The seats will be placed for sale at once.

JACK DEMPSEY'S OPPONENT IS WILLING TO MAKE CONCESSIONS

PURSE IN CHAMPIONSHIP BATTLE WILL BE SPLIT ON A SIXTY-FORTY BASIS.

PARIS, Jan. 8. —Georges Carpentier, heavyweight champion of France and England, is willing to give concessions in the matter of weight in order to meet Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, in America, according to a statement made to the Associated Press by Carpentier's manager last night. Descamps stated he was willing to split the four hundred thousand dolar purse offered by Coffroth on a basis of sixty per cent. for the winner and forty per cent. for the loser.

"Carpentier is willing to journey to strange lands, face an exotic climate, give away from 25 to 30 pounds in weight and accept a split of 60-40 of Croffoth's offer," said Descamps. "We had intended to demand a fifty-fifty split, but are willing to accept a sixty-forty division in order to show this is not merely a money-making proposition, but also a sporting event. We will endeavor to give American sportsmen a real championship battle."

LAFAMME SAYS SCORE WAS 10-5

There is some confusion over the score of last night's junior game with Lindsay. The score generally accepted by the spectators was 10 to 6, but Referee Lafiamme told the Examiner after the game that the correct score was 10 to 5, the official evidently having disallowed one of the Lindsay counters. The local club will likely ask the O.H.A. for the official score, as goals count in the junior group.

BOWLING NEWS

In the De Laval League on Tuesday night the Giants took two out of three from the Midgets. All three games were close, the last going to Capt. Ruiter's spitters, for the narrow margin of two pins.

Ruiter had high single with 190, while W. Fitzgerald, the peppery pilot of the Midgets had high 3-game with 550.

A regrettable though amusing accident happened in the seventh frame of the second game. Hagerman nearly breaking his leg, but when the smoke cleared, the only thing found broken was another New Year resolution.

Thursday night Separators hook up with the Crescents.

DEARER TOBACCO.

LONDON, Eng — There are indications that tobacco is to be still dearer in England. A London firm has just announced an advance of 8d pound on its mixtures. The reason given is the steady increase in the cost of the tobacco leaf.

A DOUBLE-HEADER IN TWO GAMES

TWO GAMES SCHEDULED TO-MORROW NIGHT AT BROCK ST. RINK.

If the weather man sends along a little colder weather the City League opening double-header to-morrow night should be productive of some neat hockey. All four teams look good and the two games on the cards to-morrow night should be lively affairs. The C.G.E. Tool-room and the Business College open the ball with Canadian Woollens and the Belmont Club coming together in the second fixture. The fans are taking a keen interest in the City League this year and there will be a big crowd out to-morrow night.

FIDDLERS THREE

In John Cort's musical comedy production, "Fiddlers Three," which will be seen and heard for one night, Wednesday evening, Jan. 14, at the Grand, is Miss Tavie Belge, whose voice has placed her in the front rank of light opera stars. Miss Belge is probably the youngest prima donna in America and her work has attracted the attention of music lovers from coast to coast, whilst the score of "Fiddlers Three" is said to be unusually melodious, being the work of Alexander Johnstone. The comedy angle of the legend is distinguished not only for its laugh values but because the librettist William Cary Duncan, has not sacrificed the continuity of the charming story to attain it. The skilled comedic methods of the droll Tom Dingle, who made himself famous through his remarkable dance eccentrique in Ziegfeld Follies, and the shrewd character delineations of Gilbert Clayton, who as Paganini, the violinist, presents a most startling illusion, and the dainty Edna Morn, and the quaint art of Horace Sinclair, give to this swiftly moving musical romance a back ground of humor that is said to be irresistible.

Even when a woman is aware that she is less beautiful than other women she never forgives a man for knowing it, too.

LOOKS FOR A FALL IN PRICES

(Canadian Press.)

Toronto, Jan. 8.—Prophesying a fall in prices in the near future, Sir Herbert Holt, President of the Royal Bank of Canada, during the course of his address at the annual meeting of the shareholders, was most optimistic regarding the future of Canada. Giving credit for most of the phenomenal progress made in recent years to early administrators who laid solid foundation for it, he pointed that it would be only a matter of time when there would be greater supplies in the world and competition keener than at present, and dollars saved today would have greater purchasing power, and for this reason we must strive to produce to the utmost capacity while the market is high, exercising the most rigid economy to conserve gains. In difficult times ahead, Sir Herbert was of the opinion that the Dominion holds a commanding position owing to great natural resources which need only a touch of energy and capital.

BOLSHEVIK ARE STILL ADVANCING

AIM TO CONDUCT AN OFFENSE AGAINST THE BRITISH.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 9. — Bokhara, in Central Asia, and less than two hundred miles from the Afghanistan Frontier, has been entered by the Bolshevik forces, according to War Office reports.

Further west it is reported that the Soviet troops have entered Krasnovodsk, on the eastern shore of the Caspian Sea.

The Bolsheviki have as their ulterior purpose an offensive against the British, it is asserted.

For this purpose, swarm of propaganda agents are said to be undergoing intensive training, and may have sent into Persia the caucus being provided with large supplies of forged English money.

It is reported that 1,500 Soviet agents have gone into Persia, and Anti-Bolshevik authorities have taken steps to put a stop to this movement.

Direct railway communication between Transcaspia and European Russia has been secured by the Reds, who will be able to concentrate important bodies of troops in Turkestan with a view to carrying out far-reaching plans westward towards the Caucasus region and southward toward Persia and Afghanistan, it is said.

Bolshevik authorities have announced their intention to penetrate Persia by way of Khorasian as soon as they could secure control of the Caspian Sea, and recent reports have indicated that Soviet garrisons along the Khorassian Frontier have been heavily reinforced.

FOXES FOUND BY A TELEPHONE EMPLOYEE

Detective George Cookman states that it was through the Bell Telephone employees that he received the information regarding the foxes recovered yesterday, it seems that the men were moving the poles, which they rarely ever have to do in winter and found the two bodies and one of the men notified Detective Cookman and helped him find them.

ENTIRE VILLAGES DISAPPEARED IN LATEST MEXICAN EARTHQUAKE

By Ralph H. Turner.
(United Press.)

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 9.—The combined death toll from Saturday night's earthquake and volcanic eruptions which rent part of the State of Vera Cruz yesterday, were estimated to-day conservatively at 4,000. Twelve towns and villages were reported completely destroyed. The volcanic eruption, according to despatches to the newspaper El Universal, caught the helpless people in a new situation of terror; a small range of mountains, known as the Cerro De San Miguel, near Cordoba, Vera Cruz, was the scene of the latest catastrophe. One hill split in two parts, the debris throwing a great stream of lava and sulphurous gases into the air. A stream of lava a hundred feet wide was flowing from the fissure to-night, the despatch said, and spreading out over the plains below the mountain. Registration of earthquakes continue, the despatch added. The sudden volcanic upheaval came without warning. Farmers were working in the fields at the base of the hills when the explosions began. Many of them were killed, while their herds were caught in the rivers of flaming lava. Almost simultaneously with the volcanic eruptions, there was a series of earthquakes.

Hills Were Flattened Out.

Hills were flattened out and new rivers suddenly rose. Entire villages disappeared. The despatches described the situation as desperate. People were sleeping in the opening, it was said, and sanitary conditions were described as terrible. Sources of drinking water also have been contaminated, adding to the hardships of the people. An outbreak of yellow fever is feared, the despatch added. The lava streams were reported to have wiped out the towns of San Miguel in the foothills, killing 200 people; the town of Calcihualco also was reported destroyed, with 500 lives lost. Many other villages were reported wiped out. At Ahuihuixtla and Tresaguas, the despatches said, churches caved in killing many people who had fled to them to pray for deliverance, thinking the world coming to an end. The town of Cosoamatheped was reported practically wiped out. Nearly every house was damaged. There were scores of acsualties. At Alpatlapua the municipal palace was destroyed. Near San Francisca, De Las Pens, enormous fissures opened in the earth, from which poisonous gases issued.

CHURCH UNION

THE SUBJECT OF THE HOUR AMONG PEOPLE OF ALL DENOMINATIONS IS CHURCH UNION.

SEATS FREE. NO COLLECTION.

The subject of the hour among people of all denominations is CHURCH UNION. Premier Lloyd George says: "The old world must and will come to an end." Has the Church System of that old world any good reason to expect that it will be kept from going into the scrap heap?

Says Money Craze Is Responsible For Present Conditions

BRITISH COLUMBIA MEMBER OF LEGISLATURE FORESEES THE TIME WHEN WE WILL ALL BE HAPPY AS CLAMS—FIFTY DOLLARS FOR A HAT.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Jan. 9. — Hon. John Keene, of the Kaslo Rooteney Lake district, British Columbia, speaker of the British Columbia Legislature, left for his home in the west last night, accompanied by Mrs. Keene, after spending five months in Ontario hospitals. "They said I would not be well enough to take the chair in the Legislature this year, but I'll be there all right, I'll be there," he chuckled. "Why I'm ten years younger than I ever was and on the high road to recovery, thanks to the care and nursing I have received in this illustrious institution.' The honorable member of the British Columbia Legislature, received your representative in his room in the General Hospital, where nurses were doing his final packing preparatory to his leaving.

"What about the farmers' party out in your end of Canada?" he was asked.

"Won't figure much," he replied. "We haven't many farmers out there. We are snagged in mining, fishing or lumbering. The fact is, the tendency is growing towards Liberalism, with the movement towards a fuller democracy. Labor situation out there in my province? Now how do you expect a man who has been sick in your Ontario hospitals for five months to be in touch with the labor situation out in British Columbia? I spent twelve weeks in the Hamilton Hospital, and have been nine weeks in the Toronto General, and here you come asking me about the labor situation in British Columbia."

He drew down his brows and scowled in formidable fashion. Before the reporter had time to make a hurried exit he was off again in quite a friendly conversational tone.

Labor Situation and Labor Problems.

"I'll tell you about the labor situation and labor problems. The labor problems to-day are exactly what they were after the Crimean war in 1856, in the United States in 1865 after the Civil war, and here after the Boer war in 1900. The difference at the present time is the extent of area affected. This war has been world wide, consequently the unrest is world wide. The prolific expenditure of funds in order to win the war came to a sudden stop when the armistice was signed. The consequence is that industries in all nations felt it. Now, instead of manufacturing munitions of war, we must manufacture articles of commerce, for which the same prices cannot be paid. The whole universe will adjust itself as soon as we become sane. We are all insane at the present time." And the speaker of the British Columbia Legislature leaned calmly back in his chair as if he proposed to dismiss the subject at that.

"Pretty startling thing that, to think we are all mad, isn't it?" he said. "But it's true." Then he pointed an accusing finger at the reporter and thundered, "You wouldn't have paid $50 for a hat fifty years ago, now would you?"

The reporter, being a woman, admitted she wouldn't. "I thought not," said the Hon. John, "and your grandmother wouldn't either, or twenty dollars for a pair of boots. But we'll regain our senses some time; get rid of this money madness and all be happy as clams, then things will adjust themselves."

It was based on the words: "Will thou not revive thy work, O Lord, that thy people may rejoice in thee."

This is the prayer of the church universal to-day. Everywhere there

MEETING IN BELLEVILLE

THE SPEAKERS

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 9.—Mr. H. W. Ackerman, of this city, presided Thursday, over an important meeting of laymen of the Bay of Quinte Conference. After luncheon at Hotel Quinte Dr. J. W. Graham, of Toronto, spoke pointedly of the need and opportunity of the hour and of the work in the Methodist National Campaign. Rev. R. A. Whattam, formerly of Mark street Church, Peterborough, conference organizer, followed with a clear account of the work in the Bay of Quinte Conference, after which Rev. S. F. Dixon, of Lakefield, spoke for the Publicity Bureau.

Messrs. F. W. Galbraith, Port Hope; W. B. Deacon, Belleville; Wilbur Gordon, Tweed, and T. G. Bell, Belleville, gave rousing addresses and by unanimous resolution, the meeting pledged itself to make every endeavour to reach the Bay of Quinte Conference share of the $4000,000 ment. Warm words of appreciation thank-offering of the Forward Move were spoken of Mr. Ackerman's splen did leadership. A few ministers attended, including Revs. S. C. Moore, B.A., B.D., Bowmanville; W. B. Tucker, B.A., B.D., Whitby; H. B. Kenny, Campbellford; J. S. L. Wilson, B.A., B.D., Cobourg; C. W. Barrett, Fenelon Falls, and among laymen were Messrs. A. C. Denike, Havelock; C. J. Burr and C. Massey, Bloomfield; A. W. Abbott, Selby; Prof. G. F. Stewart, Belleville.

VAUDEVILLE AT THE GRAND OPERA HOUSE

OPENING NIGHT WAS WELL RECEIVED — A FEATURE PICTURE.

The efforts of the management of the Grand Opera House to provide an acceptable form of amusement for the theatre-goers of this city has been more than justified by the expressions of approval following last night's opening of the new programme of pictures and vaudeville. The latter is the product of the B. F. Keith circuit. The difficulties of keeping a vaudeville circuit up to the mark have been increased by the smallpox scare, which keeps well known artists who refuse to be vaccinated out of Canada and also the adverse exchange rate. The latter adds to the cost and makes it harder to procure acceptable material.

Last night's show drew a good house. The programme opened with a pictorial life and Mack Sennet comedy picture. This was followed by a clever Hamlin and Mack act, entitled in toyland, in which the performers showed ability as dancers. Keno and Wagner in a song and dance was very good, and was followed by Lou Elliott in a clever impersonation. Knight and Gail as harmony singers were exceptionally good and their song numbers brought insistent requests for more from the audience. This well selected programme was brought to a close with a feature picture, starring Hayakawa in "The Gray Horizon." In this pitcure the famous Japanese star is seen to advantage.

PROHIBIT MILL FROM EXPORTING

(Special to The Examiner.)

MONTREAL, Jan. 9. — Price Bros. Co. stated that they are determined to obtain a ruling of the court regarding the constitutionality of the order-in-council of the Dominion government calling them to supply newsprint in Canada at $80 per ton. Meanwhile the news comes from Ottawa that an embargo has again been applied to the export of newsprint by the Fort Frances Pulp and Paper Co., owing to the fact that Winnipeg papers are threatened with suspension through newsprint not coming forward.

RUSSIANS WILL KNOW FATE TO-DAY

CASE OF FIVE CONDEMNED MEN IN PETERBORO JAIL TO BE DECIDED SOME TIME TO-DAY.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 9.—The fate of the five foreigners sentenced to hang on Wednesday next at Peterborough for complicity in the murder of Philip Yanoff will be decided this afternoon.

The five men are Thomas Konek, who according to the evidence fired the shot which killed Yanoff in his bunk, Michael Bahri, Alex. Martinique, Philip Rotinski and Sam Zaluski, accomplices.

So far as the Department of Justice is concerned, a decision has been reached in the matter.

The Council has also passed judgment, and the order awaits only the signature of the Governor-General. Until the signature is affixed, Hon. C. J. Doherty declines to say anything.

So far as the law is concerned, however, there appears to be no doubt among officials here that all five men were guilty of murder inasmuch as all five, according to the evidence, set out armed to commit robbery.

In the minds of the officials here, it appears to be merely a matter of degree and whether there should be any discrimination. They decline to say until such time as the Governor-General has completed the grim transaction.

If the law takes its course, then this will be the first time in Canadian history that five men have been executed at once in one place.

It is stated that Arthur Ellis in the meantime, is ready to carry out the sentence, and desires no assistance.

The Minister of Justice has now under consideration the case of three other foreigners sentenced for one murder at Montreal. Their names are Alard, Lacoset, and Lemay.

SUGGESTS DRYS SPEND FUND TO GET TREATY RATIFIED.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—A cabled report that the Anti-Saloon League of the United States is raising a fund of £10,000,000 to run a prohibition movement in Europe, beginning with Great Britain, has provoked various comments, serious and the reverse. The Westminster Gazette says:

"American enthusiasts in the cause are likely to be asked why they cannot set their abundant spare cash and their energies to propaganda for American ratification of the League of Nations, which seems to be a greater ideal as well as a more pressing and practicable task."

CROWN PRINCE STILL REMAINS ON THE LIST—DESPATCHES FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

WINNIPEG NEWS

(United Press.)

LONLON, Jan. 9.—The list of German war criminals to be tried before Allied tribunals has been reduced from 1,200 to 300, the "Daily Mail" to-day reported it had learned. All important former German leaders, against whom only slight charges could be made, will be allowed to go free, the Mail said. The names of the former Crown Prince and Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria still remain on the list to be tried, the newspaper declared.

New Brunswick Farmers.

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Jan. 9.—That farmers will carry 11 out of 13 New Brunswick constituencies in the next Dominion election was the way the political situation in that province was summed up to-day by S. E. Elkin, of St. John, M.P. for St. John city and county of Albert. Elkin is in the city to attend the annual meeting of the Union Bank, of which he is a director.

BORDEN'S RETIREMENT SURE IS OTTAWA OPINION

In Spring a Crisis Over the Premiership of the Dominion Appears to be Unavoidable.

OTTAWA, Jan. 8 (Staff Special).—There is a deepening impression in political circles that Sir Robert Borden won't come back to political life. The Premier went away a very sick man and close to that breakdown which his physicians had told him was inevitable lest he quit. Conditions decision to remain and his subsequent two weeks of vexatious toil.

Long Sea Trip Possible.

Sir Robert is understood to be in Florida with his brother, who always winters there, but unless the Jellicoe visit to South Africa be counter-manded by the Admiralty, he will accompany the Sea Lord on his long trip to that remote dominion. When he will return to Ottawa is problematical. He said before he went away that he would be gone at least four months.

Nothing Till Spring.

It is no secret that his family and closest friends viewed with dissatisfaction, and even alarm, Sir Robert's yielding to importunities and staying and they are stronger than ever in the opinion now that he should not return to his political career. Officially there may be no development in the matter till the spring.

Expect Wire-pulling.

That is to say the party won't select a successor till it learns definitely the intentions of the Premier, but in the coming session, likely to be called for February 26, this situation will be engrossing, the more so because there will be little important legislation. Formal caucuses will be held from time to time, but there is promise of a continual caucus in the lobbies with all the intrigue and wire-pulling that such conditions engender.

Wing of "Last Ditchers."

The intention of a wing of the Cabinet to hold on to the last ditch with an acting Premier on the job is resolute. They forsee with a new Premier, a premature dissolution, and as things are now going in the country the prospect is ominous and disturbing. Others, however, are not so complacent and hold that if the situation has to be faced, as they consider inevitable, it might as well be first as last, and preferably now, because of the need of building up an organization. It cannot be done over night.

No Unanimity.

There is not now, nor is there ever likely to be, any pronounced unanimity as to a successor to Sir Robert. Mr. Meighen is ambitious; Mr. Calder likewise; and Mr. Rowell has no inclination to hide his light under a bushel. Sir Thomas White might or might not come back, but there is a disposition here to regard his decision to stay out as real and unlikely of change.

Sir Henry Drayton is sitting back and not pushing himself forward, but if there is to be a vigorous conflict and division over the succession, the chances of his selection, as a man who has no political sins to answer for, are not to be minimized. In every quarter here the opinion obtains that Sir Robert's retirement is simply deferred, not abandoned, and that the situation which results therefrom must be grappled with between now and spring.

ALL VALUE IS LABOR SCHWAB DECLARES

Tells Diners a Product is Only Worth the Price of Work Expended Upon It.

NEW YORK—Charles M. Schwab of the Bethlemen Steel Corporation, told the 1,200 members of their twentieth anniversary dinner, at the Waldorf last night, that nothing creates value but the labor; that in the last analysis, every production cost is labor. Picturing the future of the country's industry, Mr. Schwab advised the men to optimism; to think and to be optimistic to the end that success would come, and to treat labor well, to let the employes be partners with them; to let them share in the profits, and finally, not to let "the agitator from Kamchatka tell you how to run your business."

"In the past," said Mr. Schwab, "we have been great autocrats with reference to labor, and now we must bend our efforts to the management, disposition and encouragement of those who work for us. Labor has not had a fair share in the prosperity of the country, and we must remember that a man is a man as long as he does his duty."

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring Back Its Color and Lustre With Grandma's Sage Tea Recipe.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

BARTER UNBORN CHILD.

THE OFFER BRINGS STORM OF BITTER CRITICISM.

Outrage, Cry the Women as San Francisco Pair Advertise a Baby for Sale.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barnett are awaiting replies to the following advertisement they inserted in the newspapers:

"Wanted—Some one to adopt child at birth. Differences exchanged."

Barnett explained that they already had two children, a girl 3, and boy 2, and that they cannot afford any more. He stated that whoever adopts the child soon to be born must pay for it, and in addition must guarantee a good home and future for the baby.

A storm of criticism was aroused throughout the country by the Barnett's offer to barter their unborn child.

"I consider such an act an awful crime—a terrible thing," declared Nellie Bly, New York, woman newspaper writer. "When will people cease bringing unwanted children in to the world?

"This is one of the strongest possible arguments for birth control. And it is just as strong an argument against maternity pensions for women. For such pensions would only be an inducement for more babies."

Mrs. Ida Porter Boyer, Boston, national suffrage organizer, said:

"So far as asking for money for the care of a child it is outrageous. It is selling one's own flesh and blood. So far as giving the child is concerned, it is all right, provided the parents really cannot care for it."

THE CLOSING PROGRAMME

is felt the need or revival. The prayer implies that the life of the church is at a low ebb. This is the reason why we have such a thing as a "Forward Movement." The war has revealed the spiritual poverty of the church. She is not the power in the world which God wishes her to be. Hence the need for revival. And a revival can only come through prayer. There is no royal road to the promised land of a happier and more properous life for the church. It can only be reached through earnest believing prayer. Not until our church members are willing to deny themselves, deny the lower things for the sake of the higher, the good things for the sake of the better, can the church arise and shine and reveal the glory of the Lord. When the church has complied with the conditions the revival does not wait. God is longing to pour water on the dry and parched places. But he works in harmony with well established spiritual laws. One of these laws is the law of prayer. "Ask and ye shall receive." "If ye regard iniquity in your hearts the Lord will not hear your prayers."

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

"Salvation, the greatest possible good for the greatest possible number to be obtained in the simplest possible way," was the subject at St. Andrew's last evening, based on the text, "Look unto me and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth." Isa. 45:22. To be saved was more than deliverance from the penalty of sin. That might appeal to purely selfish interests. But Christian redemption when rightly applied meant a righteous manhood, a more obedient life of usefulness. Therefore it brought the greatest possible good to the sincere believer. It might not be possible to prove this in so many words. The things best worth proving could not be so demonstrated. Great ideas were spiritually discerned and must be known in experience. In every social grade of life there were people who made the same testimony that in Christ they possessed the true riches, the greatest good. This blessing was for the greatest number. "All the ends of the earth." Rich and poor, educated and uneducated. All might obtain this fulness of life. Christianity was the greatest missionary religion. It could be preached to all the families of mankind in the assurance that it would be received and prove a blessing. And it was to be received in the simplest possible way. "Look unto me." The upward look of faith brought life and salvation into the life. Many souls went through life looking downward, attending only to worldly matters. We ought not to neglect these but we should learn to look away from them to the uplifted Christ. God himself was the guarantee of all manner of blessings to the believer.

KNOX PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The meeting in Knox Church last evening was in charge of the women of the congregation. Mrs. McPherson presided and gave an address on "Prayer." Mrs. Walter Roger spoke on the work of the Women's Missionary Society. The meeting to-night will be in charge of the men of the congregation. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance of all the members of the church.

PARK STREET BAPTIST.

The service last night in the Park street church was conducted by the pastor. The meeting was a helpful one and is sure to result in a deeper spirit of consecration upon the part of the members of the church. The meeting to-night will be in charge of the deacons.

THE INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES ACT IS OPPOSED BY LABOUR

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 9.—The revision of the Industrial Disputes Act is to receive early consideration. In past years the Trades and Labour Congress of Canada has opposed the Act and demanded its repeal. Latterly, there has been a shifting in the attitude of organized labour towards the Act, and Labour representatives, in an interview with the Government yesterday, offered to participate in a joint conference with a view to a revision.

In reply, the Government invited the Labour men to submit a concrete proposal of the amendment for consideration.

While the Labour men have not yet decided upon any proposals, one of their first demands will no doubt be for a complete revision and remodelling of the Act rather than the amendment of a few clauses. They will ask that the Act be made applicable to workers employed by public-owned as well as private-owned utilities.

It is likely that the question of revision will be submitted to a Special Commission on Uniformity of Labour Laws recommended by the National Industrial Conference.

A FINE INSTRUMENT

MAGNIFICENT C MELODY SAXAPHONE ON VIEW IN WINDOW OF GREENE MUSIC STORE.

There is now on view in the window of the Greene Music Store, Charlotte Street, something unusual in the musical line. The store has procured for a local customer a very fine C Melody True Tone Saxaphone. It is made in satin finish silver, the bell being gold plated, and it has pearl inlaid finger tips. It is enclosed in a leather bound plush lined case and has a very handsome appearance. It is to be used in orchestra work, and is the third of these instruments sold by the Greene Music Store in the last three weeks. Its value is in the neighborhood of $165.00.

REJECT OFFER OF THE GOVERNMENT

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Delegates of the Union of Railway Workers, in conference here to-day, decided to reject the Government terms for the settlement of the wage demands of the workers in the lower grades.

It was decided to refer the Government's proposition back to the executive of the Union for further negotiations with the Government.

It was expected that a way would be left open for negotiations with the Government on contested points, and it was stated that there was little likelihood that the Union at this time would take any extreme action.

Delegates were in session throughout yesterday without reaching any decision.

GROSBEAKS VISIT THIS DISTRICT

His Honor Judge Hoyeke, while crossing the bridge at Hunter street this morning, observed the unusual sight of six or eight grosbeaks disporting themselves on the river bank. Grosbeaks are seldom seen in this locality.

One oyster will produce 16,000,000 eggs, and of these some 400,000 may mature.

LATEST NEWS DESPATCHES

(Special to The Examiner.)

BROCKVILLE, Jan. 9.—Speaking at the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association here last night Dr. Margaret Paterson, of Toronto, defended the price for milk asked by the producers of the Toronto district. She said she would have liked to have seen the Milk Commission endeavor to increase the supply instead of trying to reduce the price. If the relative food value of eggs and milk were compared, he latter, she added, should now be selling at eighty cents a quart. Dr. Patterson gave it as her opinion that as a nation Canada was not using as much milk as she should.

AID FOR SOLDIERS.

(Special to The Examiner.)

KINGSTON, Jan. 9.— Many applications for aid from the Soldiers' Unemployment Fund appear to be ill informed. One applicant appeared before the local officers and asked for a grant of money. It was found that he had a farm and was investing in another. Other young men who applied here had actually left work at which they were engaged and registered claims for unemployment grants.

APPEAL FOR PEACE.

(Canadian Press.)

ROME, Jan. 9.—According to Epoc Lenine has written another letter to the directors of the Socialist party, imploring them not to precipitate any revolutionary movement which, under the present conditions would have no probability of success. The Soviet head points out that he is about to negotiate with the Powers for acknowledgment of the present state of affairs in Russia. All this would be rejected if another revolution occurred in Italy.

THE EARTHQUAKE.

(Canadian Press.)

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 9.—The latest advices regarding the earthquake which caused terrible havoc in the State of Vera Cruz and Puebla, tell of two hundred deaths near San Miguel and in the Cordoba district. It seems improbable that the final list of casualties will fall below the original estimate of two thousand. It is believed that twenty villages were destroyed.

AN AMALGAMATION.

(Canadian Press.)

NORTH SYDNEY, N.S., Jan. 9.—Indications here point to the final amalgamation of three of the largest industrial concerns in Canada, Canadian Steel Co., Nova Scotia Steel Co. and Dominion Coal and Steel Co. TOWNS SUBMERGED.

(Canadian Press.)

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 9. — Seven towns near Teocelo, south of Jalapa, have been overwhelmed by earth disturbances, as a great lake is covering their former sites, according to a message received from Teocelo through Vera Cruz. Thirty-four bodies had been recovered when the message was filed.

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 9. — The 249 undesirables deported from the United States on the transport Burford, the "Soviet ark," will probably land at Hango, Finland, and will proceed to Russia by rail under strong guard, it was said here today. Swedish authorities declare that those deported from the United tates will not be allowed transit through Sweden.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 9. — Opinion prevailed at headquarters of the Union Railway Workers to-day that Union representatives who have been deliberating on government wages offer since Wednesday, would conclude discussions to-day and adopt a resolution rejecting the proposals.

MANUFACTURERS HELD MEETING

EMPLOYMENT QUESTION IN PETERBORO WAS DISCUSSED.

The Peterborough Manufacturers' Association held its regular monthly meeting in the Council room of the Board of Trade last evening.

Chairman Breyfogle introduced the subject of employment in Peterborough. The subject was discussed at length and the view expressed that employment in Peterborough is nearing its maximum and that in view of the pressure upon the industries and the excellent business in hand as well a the outlook, there is room for more skilled mechanics and industrial workers. All of the industries in Peterborough are pushed with orders.

The Bon Marche Mfg. Company, of which J. E. Bates is manager, was proposed for membership and unanimously elected.

An acceptable communication was received from the Hydro-Electric Power Commission referring to the competion of the new tie line from Healy Falls to Peterborough, which would ensure an adequate industrial power service for Peterborough with protection for new industrial development.

The Canadian Government Merchant Marine communicated interesting information regarding ocean freight rates which effect and should greatly aid the export business of Peterborough.

The general comment of the members of the Association was that 1920 would be the greatest year of industrial production in the history of the city.

Chester, Pa.—A Rockdale man has just purchased his fourth set of false teeth. He had three sets—one to work with, another for eating purposes and a third set for dress occasions. Consequently he disposed of the golden molars and purchased a lighter masticating outfit.

A USELESS RESOLUTION.

The action of the United Farmers of Manitoba in calling upon the Union Government to resign may be in line with public sentiment but as far as producing any results are concerned the Western agrians might have put their time to better advantage than in passing such a resolution. The Union Government has announced its intention of deferring an appeal to the country as long as possible and their actions leave no doubt as their sincerity in making such a declaration. The day of reckoning is to be postponed until the limit and resolutions will not affect the determination of the Unionists to hang on. Political oblivion is the only result they can expect from a general election and with that fate staring them in the face they can be expected to turn a deaf ear to resolutions of the type of that passed by the Manitoba convention.

THE PREMIER THROUGH?

The Toronto Telegram's parliamentary correspondent who is generally well posted as the political situation is authority for the statement that there is a deepening impression at Ottawa that Sir Robert Borden will not return to political life and that an early crisis over the question of his successor appears to be unavoidable. The deferring of his retirement has only temporarily relieved the situation and the trouble will be revived between now and spring, with the Unionist Administration widely divided as to the man who will succeed Sir Robert. How any progressive legislation can be expected from a make-shift Cabinet such as exists at present at Ottawa is a puzzle, but the ministers are apparently prepared to hold to the last ditch rather than face the ominous prospect of a general election. The crisis has been deferred for a short time by the Premier's decision to retain his position but the relief is only temporary, in view of the statement that Sir Robert will not come back to his political activities.

THE UNEMPLOYMENT FUNDS.

There seems to be in some quarters at least a misunderstanding as to the purpose of the Government's unemployment relief fund for returned soldiers. It should not be supposed as some people seem to think, that the fund is of a permanent character It is merely intended to carry men who have been unable to secure positions over a period of unemployment it would be a bad thing for returned men themselves and for the country. if the idea was to become general that it is proposed to continue the fund for a considerable length of time and that men who for whom employment can be found are to be looked after by grants, as expected there have been cases in which men have given up jobs in order to attempt to qualify for Federal aid, but fortunately these instances are not general and on the whole those who have applied for assistance have been deserving cases.

APPEALING TO IGNORANCE.

Stamping as a lie the story of the Hearst papers that Britain was seeking a loan of $13,000,000,000 in the United States and declaring that it was circulated with the definite object of stimulating anti-British feeling for political purposes, the Wall Street Journal says it was "carefully calculated for circulation amongst the ignorant element, which Mr. Hearst supposes, quite correctly, to constitute the large numbers who read his newspapers and accept their statements for facts." The incident again draws attention to the fact of how little thinking or reasoning a large part of the American masses do for themselves and how easy it is, therefore, to stimulate their inherent prejudices. Distrust of Britain has been increasing noticeably in the United States in recent months carefully encouraged by propagandists with different motives, and it is declared by some who observe it that the "Anglo-Saxon sentiment slop" preached by statesmen and writers of both countries only intensifies it. One Englishman, Mr. Maxse of the National Review, holds that the only way for Britain and America to remain friends is to regard each other not as relatives but as foreign nations. Perhaps there is too much mushiness being indulged in. At any rate it seems not to have accomplished the purpose set for it. The rapprochement that seemed so nearly established twelve or eighteen months ago apparently was not as solid as was thought.

So long as there are those in the United States who find it to their advantage to slander Britain they will always find an audience among the less intelligent American masses. And when will Britain be without enemies in the United States asks the Ottawa Journal.

A TEMPORARY PHASE.

The wide assertion of restricted class interests in public affairs is a natural accompaniment of unusual economic conditions. Men have come, as rarely if ever before, to look upon events from the single viewpoint of their own business requirements or opportunities.

This is a passing phase. History proves that stable and dependable governing by any one economic class is not to be expected, since the membership of any class organization is animated by selfish motives. Class loyalty and the public interest do not fuse.

Political service demands a backing and a confidence essentially wider than the limits of one or two classes. The acid test of democratic government applies to its representative character. No minority representation as a Government can come about except by accident or can prevail. The aim of Government is higher than the purely economic objective which stands first with every class as such and necessarily influences its habits of thought and its actions, whatever its authority may be from time to time.

Politics is not business. The argument against turning over the railroads to the heads of the Government applies conversely against turning over the Government to the heads of the railways. The peoples would never stand for mere machine-like efficiency in the conduct of public affairs. Government requires imagination, tolerance, sympathy, compromise. In modern times, it involves a certain oversight of the health no less than the wealth of the people. It has to do now as always with vital matters of the human spirit, such as patriotism. Any neglect of these at the moment is open to the gravest censure.

Political temples cannot be turned into shops or barns without doing violence to elemental popular emotions. The future need not be awaited to prove it. for the past has done so already. How many great statesmen are remembered for the economic class to which they belonged?

Class Government in a democracy is constitutional Bolshevism, and Bolshevism in any form must feed on sterner stuff than the ballot. Destruction is inevitable, from within or from without. Broad political principles form the birthright of the common citizen, and a return to these will come about as soon as reassuring of faith.—Montreal Star.

PETERBORO HEALTH ASSOCIATION

Peterborough, Jan. 6th, 1920.

Dear Sir,—Now that the busy days of the holiday season are drawing to a close, it seems well to have our attention drawn to the regular systematic work being accomplished in the city by the various philanthropic organizations. By no means the least of these is the Peterborough Health Association, of which all our citizens in a sense are members, as a grant is placed in the treasury of this Association annually by a vote of the City Council. During 1919 the services of the Association nurse have been faithfully and efficiently rendered wherever and whenever asked for, and her yearly report of visits made should convince the most sceptical that for many reasons the services of a trained nurse, placed at the disposal of the city physicians by the Health Association, is becoming increasingly valuable and necessary. Indeed, two nurses coud be kept very busy were the funds of the Association in a condition to warrant the outlay. Although Shakespeare assures us that "comparisons are odious" yet for the sake of estimating the value of the work done by the Health Association nurse during 1919, let us venture to compare her report with that of the Nursing Mission of Toronto. The Globe gives the annual report of this Mission under the caption, "Good Year Reported by Nursing Mission." This report, among other items, gives the number of nurses employed as ten, number of patients visited 870, number of visits paid by ten nurses 5690, and adds: "Among the obstetrical cases not a mother had died." Now let us compare the above with the report of Miss Hamilton, our Health Association nurse, for the same period, lacking one month: Miss Hamilton in eleven months visited 121 patients, made 1455 visits, and 24 of the 121 patients were obstetrical cases. Of these the report states "not one mother nor one baby had died." Such a report as this needs no apology; the obstetrical cases alone with thir cheering addenda of "all safe," vindivates the employment of the trained nurse. It must be the despair of the conscientious physician to administer maternity cases where mother and infant must be left in incompetent hands or to the chance dropping in of a neighbor. Recent statistics in the United tSates show that 16,000 women die every year in child birth, or one to every thousand mothers, nor is the proportion less in Canada. The maternity death rate in both countries comes next highest to that of tuberculosis. Perhaps no group of citizens is more valuable or more necessary to the nation than these women. Every death means a home broken up, and perhaps one or more children who will never know a mother's love. This is a fundamental loss to the nation as well as to individual and community life. Nor will it be out of place in this letter to express satisfaction at the completion of arrangements for the Well Babies' Clinic, which will be opened very shortly in the city. During the eighteen months the United States was in the war the total number of its soldiers who died as a result of actual combat or wounds received in battle was 70,000. During the same period of eighteen months 450,000 children under five years of age died in the United States from preventible diseases, and although statistics for Canada are not available at the moment, it is safe to assume the death rate of children of the same age in the Dominion will be found to measure up far too near to the percentage of the United tSates. Let the good work go on, let our citizens join together in helping forward every effort which has for its object the conservation of the life and health of the community.

Your sincerely for UNITED EFFORT.

A SURE WAY TO END DANDRUFF

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

Stomach Disorder

ONLY 6 MONTHS TO LIVE

READ WHAT B.B.B. DID FOR HIM

Mr. Hanz Kehki, Magnolia, Alta., writes:— "Some time ago I became very sick from stomach disorder, which the doctor told me had started from drinking bad water. I tried local doctors, but finding I got worse from day to day I went to a doctor in Edmonton. He told me that I must have an operation, and that if I didn't I couldn't live any longer than six months. I told him I had better die after six months than be cut to pieces. I did not have the operation, but returned hom. No one was there to meet me at the station, because they did not know I was coming. I felt so bad I couldn't walk further than 10 yards without resting. It took me 6 hours to walk 2 miles; the distance from the station to my home.

Some weeks later I read an advertisement about your Burdock Blood Bitters. After I had used one bottle I felt much better, and after I had used three bottles I was completely cured; therefore you see your B.B.B. has saved my life, and I cannot praise it too highly."

PRIMROSE PATH

"I entered the navy penniless, friendless and forlorn," writes Lord Fisher in his pungent "Records." "I have always had to fight like hell, and fighting like hell has made me what I am. Hunger and thirst are the way to heaven!"

His words deserve to sink deep in the minds of some who think that the world owes them a living—those who are willing to "accept a position" — those who envy the artist before the footlights and disregard the arduous toil behind the scenes.

"Harry's father had a hard time," said a mother at a fashionable "finishing" school. "He had to work early and late. So we want it made easy for Harry. We do not wish him to suffer as his father has suffered."

These parents proceeded on the assumption that it would be a real misfortune for their son if he had to get up early and work late at some form of dirty or disagreeable manual employment. Immediately after the great engineer, Eckley B. Coxe, graduated from the University of Pennsylvania he donned overalls and went to work scraping boilers. He was not like the fine gentlemen who were the despair of Captain John Smith in Virginia in the pioneer days. He did not consider "loafer" and "gentleman" synonymous.

In the history of art or of science or of industry there is forever the story of personal struggle for those who

"Mount up in the sky
And shine there everlastingly."

The poet said that only those who had eaten their bread in tears could know the veritable presence of the heavenly powers. There is a discipline in struggle, a drill in hardship, that is essential to the making of a man of truly virile fiber—the man qualified to take command, whose attributes of leadership are felt as soon as he appears.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

SANDRA GOES OVER THE HOUSE.

CHAPTER XV

I was terribly uncomfortable all thru dinner. Hetty served us and every little while she could cast a sympathizing glance in my direction. It comforted me, but I knew it would anger Everett if he caught her, so I tried ot avoid looking at her as much as possible.

"Now go and take down thatridiculous tower effect," Everett said. as we rose from the table. "You have altogether too much hair to do it that way."

"I'll finished my unpacking, if you will excuse me," I returned. He had told me to take my hair down before the housekeeper. "One would think me a child instead of a married woman to hear him talk," I thought as I climbed the stairs to my rooms. But as soon as I opened the door I forgot my annoyance, everything bu the exquisite room which was to be mine

"Won't Rose Grand on stare when she sees this!" I said aloud. "I will ask her to come during vacation. That settled to my satisfaction, I proceeded to unpack. It was a perfect delight ot lay my clothes away in the padded bureau-drawers scented with lavender, an to hang my wraps an gowns in the big closets. I lingered over it so long that Everett called to know if I were coming down again.

"If you want me."

'I'd like some music if you are not too tired."

"No, indeed," I called back. "I'll be right down."

I had quite a talent for music, the only one I possessed. Mother was a good musician and I had been well taught. I played an hour for him. Then he sent me to bed.

"Aren't you coming too?"

"Not for awhile."

As I mounted the stairs, he spoke to the housekeeper. I heard the word "library," and then something about him doing as he always had done.

What had he done that he talked over with the housekeeper? I could n't ask her, neither could I question Everett. But I could wait and see. Perhaps Hetty would know. I could ask her anything I wanted to. She would tell me I felt sure.

I was tired with the journey and the excitement, so went directly to bed—my last waking thought that Rose would be crazy over my lovely home.

The entire house was richly furnished. But of all the rooms, my own room in the soft gray and rose suited me best. It didn't look as if it had been used very much, while the rest of the house showed some wear.

At breakfast the next morning, Everett said:

"Mrs. Gray will show you over the house to-day. You will want to know where things are kept."

Mrs. Gray didn't look a bit pleased, but said nothing.

After Everett had left for the office she came to my door and I knew by the jangling of a bunch of keys that she had come for me. And I knew by the expression on her face that she did not relish her job—altho I could-n'a understand why she felt unkindly towards me.

I jumped up immediately.

"Perhaps we better commence with the linen, Mrs. Graham," she said coldly, preceding me down the stairs.

"Just as you say," I returned carelessly. I really thought it was going to be an awful bore to spend my morning going thru closets, and neither could I see the necessity for it when we had a housekeeper. But it was Everett's wish—rather, his command—so I must do as he has told me.

I answered her politely when she showed me the piles of neatly stacked sheets and pillow cases, or the table linen and towels. I was more impatient when she insisted upon opening drawers and closets. By the time we were half thru I was bored to death, and yawning. I wanted to go back to my own room and write to Rose and mother.

"You don't seem interested," Mrs. Gray finally said.

"Forgive me, but really I am not! I don't see why you should be bothered to show me all these things. I am going to live here. There will be time enough to see them, I guess."

"Then you don't intend to take charge?"

"Me! in this big house? Why I couldn't to save my life. Aren't you going to say? Oh, please do!" My first dislike was forgotten in the fear that I was to be left to manage the house, "Mother never let me do but the simplest things to help. She said I was too young."

Salesmen and Advertising Men to Lead the Way in 1920

By WILLIAM H. RANKIN

New York—Chicago

The following is the creed I would suggest to increase production and lower the cost of living in 1920:

Work—Work—Work—More Work.
More work to the hour.
More hours of work.
8-10-12 Hours a Day.
We're behind. Let's catch up.

Let us put more work into every hour and more hours into every day to serve as an example to other workingmen and the fess of the world.

Let us do our best to make Progress and increase Production through more work done per hour and work more hours per day.

Let's work with all our might—all our brain—all our heart to make the world see that the only road to permanent prosperity is hard work.

The world needs more of everything. It looks towards America to produce. What will America do? Listen to siren calls of the false gods of unrest, or get down to business?

Will we shilly-shally, parley, delay, linger and wait while the world starves?

Will our American workmen be blind to the cause of the High Cost of Living.

Will they continue to try to boost themselves up by their boot straps, in an attempt to beat the high prices?

Will they fail to see that every disturbance—every hour of "lay off"—costs them more than their higher wages?

Will they be blind to the fact that shorter hours, higher pay defeats the end they are seeking? That higher pay for less work means higher price for less of everything they need?

Will they persist in their frenzied 'dog-chasing-its-tail methods" until the craze of unrest spreads to the farm?

Will the farm hand demand a 44-hour week, and thus boost prices still more?

Will the American workman continue to be the unconscious tool of Bolshevists and I.W.W.'? Will labor act as a "cat's paw" and singe itself in the fire of discontent—to further the cause of destructionists, who would make license of liberty and substitute immorality for morality?

Will Americans let a few "born in bitterness" foreigners whip them into a tempest of discord, that will wreck their Life and Liberty?

No, a thousand times no!

We have faith in the American spirit.

Deep down in the heart of every American working man or employer is a patriotism as sturdy as that of the men who made the Declaration of Independence.

This was shown in the great war. It helped to win the war. It will defeat the insidious foe of American Progress and Prosperity, disguised as the friend of the working man.

Production alone will cut down the cost of living. Production means work—an honest day's work for the farmer, the plumber, the carpenter, the office man, the office boy. It means work with hand, with heart, with brain.

The price of prosperity is work. The price of contentment is work. Good, faithful service for good pay is the salvation of America and of the world.

We are away behind on production. Prices are soaring. The old law of supply and demand always works. Increase the supply by work and prices will come within reach.

Because men are now off their mental balance, the country is off balance.

It is up to the advertising men to work to help to restore balance, to reduce prices by increasing production. Increased production will make present wages buy more. It's the only way to break the vicious circle of higher wages—less work—higher cost of living.

Most laboring men think that the men in the office, the salesmen, the advertising men and the clerks—all have an easier time than they, that the inside men work fewer hours per day than the laborer or the skilled workman. Let's show them that that is not true.

Let's talk less and do more.

Let the advertising men, the salesmen, the clerks and their associates set the example by working 8, 10 and 16 hours a day. I know hundreds of men—advertising men—working for newspapers, magazines, farm papers, trade papers, billposters and outdoor advertising, advertising managers and advertising agency men who, during the past four years, worked 8, 10, 12 and 16 hours a day every day in the week in order that they might do their own job and work for the United States Government besides.

These men are working that way now because they have to keep up with the present-day advertising production.

But let us all go a step farther and let everybody know there is no eight-hour day in the advertising business, and by our example show our fellowmen that the way to lower the cost of living and increase production is for all of 'us to do more work per hour and work more hours per day—Saturday included.

Give Prosperity a fair chance. Do all you can, and then do more for one year. Work—Work—Work.

It's the simple, sure way to prosperity. Work only will win in the fight for greater production and the reduction of the high cost of living.

But let the sales and advertising men lead the way. By our example let us show the laboring men that we are ready and willing to work 8, 10, 12 or 16 hours, if necessary—six days, and if need be, seven —to bring up production and help to reduce the cost of living.

Let us advertise that fact, and let everyone know we are not working for the best of it in hours, hard work or financial gain.—From Forbes Magazine.

BELGIUM TO AID WORKMEN

100,000,000 Francs Will Be Allotted to Build Homes for Labor.

BRUSSELS—The Belgian Government has decided to allocate 100,000,000 francs in 1920 for building workmen's houses. This money will be lent to the local authorities or approved building societies at 2 per cent. for twenty years, at the end of which time a new agreement will be entered into. The conditions are that no loan may exceed half the cost of the building, or a maximum of 6,000 francs, and the rent charged must not amount to more than 4 per cent. of the total cost of building.

It is officially calculated that the cost of building in the devastated areas will be about 10,000 francs a house. A garden city of 100 houses at Boulers was began September 21 and is to be finished in 120 working days.

NATURE'S MIRROR

When a woman is well and healthy—there's a sparkle in her eyes, a rose tint in her cheeks, and she has rich red blood. There's elasticity in every movement and a spring in her step. Love comes to every woman who has bounding health—but when she is pallid, dull eyed, languid, she has no magnetism nor does she appeal to any man.

Such a change in feelings and looks!

After suffering pain, feeling nervous, dizzy, weak and dragged down by weaknesses of her sex—with eyes sunken, black circles and pale cheeks—such a woman is quickly restored to health by the Favorite Prescription of Dr. Pierce. Changed, too, in looks, for after taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the skin becomes clear, the eyes brighter, the cheeks plump. It is purely vegetable, contains no alcohol.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

COMMANDER RAMSAY TELLS OF THE HEROIC DOVER PATROL

ENGINEERS HEAR OF GREAT OPERATIONS PLANNED BUT NEVER CAME OFF — WONDERFUL INVENTION TO DETECT SUBMARINES PRACTICALLY CLEARED STRAITS.

One of those great naval and military projects that were contemplated but never carried out was explained by Commander B. M. Ramsay, M.V.O., R.N., to members of the Engineering Institute of Canada at their luncheon in the Chateau Laurier yesterday. Commander Ramsay is flag-commander to Admiral of the Fleet Viscount Jellicoe, and for three and a half years served with the Dover Patrol. His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire, several members of Viscount Jellicoe's staff, and members of the headquarters staff of the Canadian Naval Service, were guests of the Engineer's at the luncheon. The speaker was introduced by Mr. R. de B. Corriveau.

Was All Ready.

The great operation that never took place was to land an army on the sea-short of Belgium simultaneously with a massed attack of the armies inland, said Commander Ramsay. This contemplated action, which would have been gigantic in its results, was only dropped on account of the failure of the land force to come within striking distance of that section of the Belgian coast occupied by the German Plans to carry ou the feat were made, and in 1917 they advanced so far that an army of 13,000 men was in secret training for three months, an a great fleet of special vessels prepared and sailor trained to man them.

The landing was to have been made two hours before daylight, but much to the chagrin of the Dover Patrol, it never took place.

The Dover Patrol.

The Dover Patrol, explained Commander Ramsay, was the part of the British naval defence entrusted with keeping the Straits of Dover clear and getting the troops to and from France.

The different stages of the anti-submarine campaign carried on by the Dover Patrol were given by the commander. In 1915 the only defence was a number of logs sunken in the straits, with the hope that a sub might hit one. These were more worry to British ships than to the enemy. Later steel nets were dragged between vessels, and after a few subs were caught they were no longer any danger to the Germans. It was early realized that the only way to combat submarines was by the use of mines, but in 1915 mines were so imperfect that they destroyed more British ships than German subs. Later, sections of the straits were heavily mined with contact mines, and the whole area lighted. The lights caused the subs to dive, and they were immediately destroyed.

With the introduction of the hydrophone the fighting of subs was revolutionized and the straits were practically cleared. The hydrophone detected submarines within a mile or two of it, and mines could then be discharged in the vicinity of the sub. Commander Ramsay explained that the hydrophone had recently been superceded by a device that he was not at liberty to explain.

Ottawa Men Did Well.

The men of the motor boat patrols were highly praised by the speaker. The first men who manned these boats were Canadians, and the first four men from this service to be decorated were two men from Ottawa, and two from Montreal. Their work had been invaluable to the Dover Patrol.

His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire voiced the sentiment of all present, when he said Commander Ramsay's talk had been characteristic of the great service he represented; there had never been a personal suggestion in his address. One would never think that the speaker was one of the heroes of the Dover Patrol. The name of the Dover Patrol would last as long as the Empire, and that was forever, said His Excellency amid loud applause. He said that he was pleased to hear the Prince of Wales had unveiled a monument on the white cliffs of Dover to the men of the patrol who lost their lives. Their deeds would not only live in stone, but would always be vivid in the minds of all. The greatest protection the British Empire had to ensure peace was the navy and it would be like taking away those precautions that were maintained to ensure law and order if the navy was taken away from Britain.

made many personal sacrifices, and when so many deeds were done, we said that the world could never go back to the old days of selfishness and greed, but we have done so and the church calls us to bestir ourselves in the great forward movement. Christ's call is just the same to us as it was to the apostles of old.

Christ's passion for righteousness and His hatred of sin in every form is what we need in the world to-day. Some people complain that there are many poor preachers to-day and no doubt there are many poor listeners too.

Christ's unselfish devotion to mankind, His intense humanitarianism. He could not bear to witness the illness or suffering of His fellow men and was ever ready out of His infinite love to heal the sick and help those in trouble. He had infinite patience in His teaching of His followers, who must have often appeared slow to understand, but He persevered and in the end it was to these common men and women with whom He worked that He committed the great task of carrying on His work. He commanded them to begin at Jerusalem and to preach the gospel to all people to the uttermost part of the world. They did their part and with one thousand million people still ignorant of the saving gospel of Christ we have our part to do in carrying out this work.

Some people say they have helped their church and their town and the rest does not matter, but Christ had no use for this back yard Christianity which is so narrow that it can't see the needs of our neighbors. We live selfishly and are very apt to think of other people as existing only for us and to be of service to us. Christ lived not to get service from others but give service. We must know Christ to teach Him and that knowledge comes as a personal experience to us. Zeal without knowledge produces the fanatic, who does more harm than good.

Christ knew no bitterness, and when hanging suffering on the cross He thought of His mother and prayed for mercy on His tormenters and those who prosecuted Him and jeered at Him.

What we need now so much is that every man, every woman and every child should have Christ's passion for righteousness and His hatred of evil in all its forms and then the church would indeed become strong and we would go forward to that great goal that we all have in sight though we are called by different names.

GERMAN COMES BACK

LONDON, Eng. — London people are wanting to learn German again. That is to say there is a demand in the L.C.C. evening schools which justifies the provision of courses in German.

French is the most popular as a foreign language to learn though Russian is being asked for, too.

Between 70,000 and 80,000 people are attending the L. C. C. evening classes. There are 10,000 more than last year.

"The great demand," said an official, "is for professional education—railway administration, accountancy, insurance, banking, surveying, and so on.

"People want to study also provisions and drugs as industries, shipping and transport, and the drapery and soft goods trades."

VALUES IT MORE THAN A FORTUNE

POWER GAINS EIGHTEEN POUNDS— RHEUMATISM DISAPPEARS AFTER TAKING TANLAC.

"I consider what Tanlac has done for me is to be worth more than a fortune," said George Power, of Halifax, N.S., while talking to the Tanlac representative a few days ago. Mr. Power lives at 20 1-2 Rottenberg street, Halifax, has lived in Scotia all his life and is a well known employe of the Nova Scotia Tram and Power Co.

"I've actually gained eighteen pounds since taking Tanlac, and I feel better in every way than I have in twenty-eight long years, and what's more I have spent hundreds and hundreds of dollars on medicines and never got a particle of good until I found Tanlac," continued Mr. Power.

"I had rheumatism in both my legs from the knees down, and in damp weather I just had to stay at home from work. My ankles bothered me too, and I don't believe anybody in the world ever suffered from rheumatism as bad as I did for it was just a sharp shooting pain that would go through my knees, down my legs and into my ankles like somebody was sticking a knife through me, and I would be in such agony that I would turn as white as a sheet. When these attacks came on me I wouldn't be able to sleep a wink but would roll and tumble all night long, and my joints would swell and my knees would be as stiff as a board and I couldn't walk a step for two or three days at a time and would be laid up at home, flat on my back with my knees so stiff I couldn't bend them at all.

"I noticed where Tanlac was being highly recommended by people right here in Halifax, so I decided to try it. And I wouldn't take anything in the world for the good it has done me. If anybody don't believe that I am a well man, and that the rheumatism has left me entirely and that I never feel even a trace of it, just tell them to see me. My appetite has picked up and I have gained in weight, and feel better in every way and can sleep fine at night. Tanlac is the greatest thing I have ever seen, and I want you to publish this statement for I want everybody to know what this medicine will do."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd.; in Havelock by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Fowlers Corner by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert by A. J. Scott; in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

WORLD HAPPENINGS

DIED LAST NIGHT.

(Special to The Examiner.)

ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 8.—Alexander Templain, the alleged murderer of Mrs. Goodall, died last night.

STORM IN MEDITERRANEAN.

(United Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 8. — Twenty-seven were drowned when the tugboat Pluvier and the sailing vessel Jalouise were sunk in a storm in the Mediterranean, off the south coast of France, according to a despatch here to-day.

A tidal wave damaged many houses along the coast, stopping railway service, the despatch said. Many rivers had overflowed.

AWFUL THIRST.

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Jan. 8.—The Ontario Government has not yet granted permits to export liquor houses to resume business. So for the present Kenora is as dry as dust, and Winnipeg citizens with a thirst must secure the required beverages from some province other than Ontario.

In spite of the fact that numerous S.O.S. calls have been sent to Kenora in the form of registered letters containing money orders, no liquid refreshment has yet arrived in Winnipeg.

Liquor is pouring from Swift Current and Yorkton, Sask.

A RECORD.

(Special to The Examiner.)

KINGSTON, Jan. 8. — Kingston has made a record which probably cannot be beaten as regards the collection of taxes for the year 1919.

It was anounced to-day that at the close of the year only one-third of one per cent. of the collectible taxes had not been paid, and this amount will be secured shortly.

A NEW HOTEL.

(Special to The Examiner.)

KINGSTON, Jan. 8.—A combination of American and Canadian capital will finance the erection of a big hotel to be erected at Larue Island, opposite Westminster, on the Canadian side.

It will be a fire-proof building, and will contain one thousand rooms with baths.

GARAGE DESTROYED.

(Canadian Press.)

MONTREAL, Jan. 8.—An east-end garage caught fire this morning in some mysterious manner, and as a result, over two hundred cars which were stored there have been destroyed and the entire place is nearly in ruins.

The fire started about eight o'clock with an explosion, which blew the roof off the building, and a few minutes afterwards the entire building was in flames.

LAKEFIELD HAD UNION SERVICE

MINISTERS OF LAKEFIELD CHURCHES TAKE PART.

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 9.— On Wednesday evening the union prayer service was held in St. John the Baptist church, with Rev. (Dr.) Archbold in charge. The lesson was read by Rev. F. Ashton and Rev. P. L. Jull gave the address. Dr. Archbold prefaced the service with a word of welcome to those present who were now Anglicans. He had been pleased to remark in Rev. S. F. Dixon's address on Monday evening a word on the Cross as the symbol of the Christian faith as the sign in which we conquer and we Anglicans have the cross continually before us in our worship as the sign of his faith. No matter what we call ourselves we, are after all, each a company in the great battalion fighting a battle against evil. We are Christian soldiers marching on to war with the powers of evil and let it be our privilege not to war against each other but against sin, the common enemy of all.

Rev. P. L. Jull gave an eloquent address which was much appreciated by all present. He spoke on Jesus Christ, the Messiah who to-day is calling on us all to follow him and to spread his message to all the world. More than a thousand million people in the world to-day are ignorant of Christ. Two people out of every three in the world has never sung a Christian hymn. In the second greatest Empire in the world, the Christian doctrine has only just touched, and the vast mass of the people are heathen. In our own great British Empire, which contains about one-quarter of the population of the world, six people out of every seven are not of the Christian faith and the seventh is all too often careless and indifferent to his or her privileges. In the dark days of the war when people

Mr. J. M. Mr. T. B. McGrath was re-elected representative for the Separate School on the Board.

Playgrounds Deputation.

A deputation of Mr. A. G. Roberts, Mrs. J. V. Fredericks and Mrs. Arthur Stevenson waited upon the Board with a request, of an appropriation of $1,000 for further equipment of the playgrounds. Upon Mr. Roberts clearly stating the needs of the Association in improving and equipping the Central and King Edward play grounds, Dr. F. Neal stated that the Board had had the matter in consideration. Mr. Denne went still farther in stating that he would like not only the suggested improvements made but a tank for the little children to bathe in installed in the King Edward grounds. Upon motion of Mr. G. O. Cameron, seconded by Mr. J. M. Greene it was decided to recommend the appropriation named by Mr. Roberts, $1,000, for playground equipment. There is no doubt, Mr. Greene remarked in seconding the motion, that the Association has spent the money previously appropriated, $750, wisely.

Grant From Council.

Mr. E. G. Patterson moved that the City Council be asked for a grant of $10,000 to carry on the work of the schools until the year's estimates are struck and Mr. A. A. Fowler that the Council be asked to flood the South Central grounds to provide a skating rink for the school children.

Notice of Motion.

Mr. J. W. Worth gave notice of motion regarding the point he brought up at a previous meeting asking that salaries should be paid to married teachers while absent from school on account of the illness or death of their wives relatives.

Concluded the Meeting.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. W. R. Morris thanked the Board as a group and individually for their kindly welcome to her, stating that she was particularly pleased that in coming on the Board she did not keep any old member out.

INSURES CRUSOE'S MUSKET

$10,000 Policy Carried on Gun Used on Juan Fernandez.

LONDON—The musket said to have been given to Alexander Selkirk when he was put ashore on the island of Juan Fernandez, 400 miles off the Chilean coast, has been going the rounds of British museums.

It was Selkirk's adventures upon which was based De Foe's famous story, "Robinson Crusoe." The musket is inscribed with the name of "A Selkirk Largo, 1721." It was purchased by Randolph Berens for $6,-25, but the owner has insured it for $10,000.

Selkirk owned a tavern near Clapham, but died in 1723 at sea as a lieutenant aboard a naval vessel.

HIGH CHIEF RANGER ADDRESSED THE COURT CHEMONG LODGE I.O.F.

GROWTH OF THE ORDER AND CARE OF THE DEPENDENTS—OFFICERS INSTALLED FOR THE ENSUING YEAR.

Last evening Court Chemong, 530, I. O. F., was signally honoured in the presence of J. G. Eagleson, High Chief Ranger, of Ontario, who officiated at the installation of the officers of the Lodge for the 1920 term.

Bro. Eagleson, upon his introduction to the large audience who assembled, gave a brief and very interesting address dealing with the benefits of the Order, its history, and the wide progress it has made since its inception in Ottawa in 1880, when but 369 members were enrolled and the treasury showed a deficit of $4,000. To-day the Order stands as one of the strongest in the Dominion, with a membership of some 200,000, and assets of $46,000,000. During the forty years' history of the Order, beneficiaries totalling $62,000,000 have been paid out, and in 1919 alone $5,000,000 was paid out. It is not, he continued, an assessment society, but a fraternal insurance society, with adequate rate. The Order is building up a reserve with the Government the same as a straight line company. The rates are as adequate though lower and the benefits larger. In speaking of the fraternal benefits of the Order, Bro. Eagleson referred to the fact that at present there are 840 children who are receiving benefits either by being wholly supported in the Orphans' Home at Oakville or being partially supported at home with their mother. At the Tuberculosis Hospital, about 110 men are receiving treatment and being restored to health. In conclusion, the speaker referred to the High Court of Eastern Ontario, which will meet in the city probably in August, with about 300 delegates present.

Splendid Influence.

At the conclusion of Brother Eagleson's address, Bro. J. W. Buyers coupled with his statement as recording secretary a brief reference to the splendid influence of Bro. Eagleson in binding the Order together. His influence, Bro. Buyers concluded, has been a blessing in the Order, and has kept many members with it.

Encouraging Reports.

Bro. G. W. Powell, the financial secretary, and Bro. Wm. Madill, treasurer, presented most encouraging reports, showing marked progress both in securing new members and in the financial standing of the Lodge. At the conclusion of the reading of these reports, the officers were installed.

Officers for 1920.

Bro. F. Oxley, C. R.
Bro. H. C. Wilson, V. C. R.
Bro. G. Metcalfe, P. C. R.

Bro. E. C. Styles, J. B.
Bro. Dr. Carmichael, C. P.
Bro. G. W. Spring, C. D.
Bros. Oxley, Spring, and Dillon, Financial Committee.
Bros. Brown and McKee, Trustees.

Chief Ranger's Address.

Bro. F. Oxley, chairman of the evening's activities, upon installation as Chief Ranger, outlined the policy he would pursue, stating that it would be his aim to secure regular attendance on the part of the members and punctuality in opening the meetings. It would also be his endeavour to put the routine business through as quickly as possible that extra time may be devoted to a social hour following the actual business.

Bro. Lynn, after thanking the High Chief Ranger for presiding at the installation, congratulated the Court upon the splendid officers they had secured.

Social Hour.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, dainty refreshments were served, and a social hour spent by all present. Splendid music was also provided.

IMPROMPTU LUNCH FOLLOWED CHOIR PRACTICE LAST EVENING.

At the conclusion of choir practice last night, St. John's choristers assembled at Coleman Bros. restaurant as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Devey, and greatly enjoyed an impromptu lunch. Speaking for the choir, Mr. H. W. Morphet extended a hearty welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Devey, and hoped Mr. Devey would soon be restored to health and strength. The finest tribute that could be offered was splendidly exemplified at the practice and subsequent gathering, when all the members of the choir (with the exception of three who unfortunately were on the sick list) assembled to show the esteem and loyalty felt for their leader. They hoped he would be spared for many years to continue his work in St. John's. Mr. Devey heartily thanked Mr. Morphet and the choristers for their splendid reception to Mrs. Devey and himself after a two months' absence. After forty-four years in cassock and surplice, of which nearly fourteen years had been spent with St. John's choir, no event in that long time, which he could remember, gave him greater pleasure than the present occasion. And he thoroughly appreciated the good fellowship and service which was such a splendid feature of St. John's choir. The singing of "For they are jolly good fellows" and the National Anthem terminated a pleasant evening.

THE CITY LEAGUE OPENS WITH TWO GAMES TO-NIGHT

Mr. R. M. Glover president of the Ontario Hockey Association will face the puck off in the City League opening double header to-night at 7.30 o'clock. The drop in the temperature has provided a fast sheet of ice and a big night's sport should be the result as the teams are in good shape and ready for the fray.

The C.G.E. Tool room and the Business College have the honour of opening the season for they meet in the first game at 7.30 o'clock. Both are confident of victory. The second fixture of the evening will bring together the Canadian Woollens and the Belmont Club. Both of which have strong teams and will have a big following of fans.

The balance of the City League is as follows:

Wednesday, Jan. 14th—Belmont Club vs. Business College; Canadian Woollens vs. C.G.E.

Friday, Jan. 23rd—Canadian Woollens vs. Business College; Belmont Club vs. C.G.E.

Wednesday, Jan. 28—Canadian Woollens vs Belmont Club; C.G.E. vs Business College.

CURLING

Curlers are Saddened

The death of Mr. Percy D. Fitzgerald has deeply touched the members of the Curling Club. He played his last game a week ago to-night and the suddenness of his death has left a sense of unreality that will not quickly disappear. One of the members of the club he was also one of the most proficient. He had played on not a few winning rinks in his comparatively brief enjoyment of the game, and his victories included some successes as skip. His experience included District Cup games in which as Vice-Skip to J. W. McDermid, he played in the finals in Toronto.

Mr. Fitzgerald was esteemed by all the curlers. His sportsmanship and keenness for the game, his friendliness and abiding amiability were qualities that strongly appealed to every member of the club. Mr. Fitzgerald will not soon be forgotten by his fellow curlers. He had begun the present season as a skip and during his illness his rink was skipped by Mr. J. E. A. Fitzgerald.

Have No Excuses.

In losing the Neill-Sheppard trophy to Orillia the local curlers have no excuses for their defeat. They were behind at home and at Orillia and generally admitted that the northern curlers played the better game, especially in team work. Owing to the mild weather last winter these games were not played, and the cup has been one of the Peterboro trophies for two years.

District Cup Games

Mr. R. M. Waddell has announced that the primary games in this district for the District Cup will be played Thursday, January 22nd.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

A splendid company will interpret "Friendly Enemies", the greatest of all comedy successes which A. H. Woods will present at the Grand on Saturday matinee and evening.

This world-famous play which has been seen by millions of people and whose popularity shows no sign of abatement, needs no introduction to playgoers of this city. A mere announcement of its coming, is sufficient to arouse the keenest interest. There is every indication that the play will be accorded as enthusiastic a reception in this city as it had throughout the English-speaking world.

FIDDLERS THREE

Much sorrow has come to Tavie Belge, prima donna of John Cort's musical comedy "Fiddlers Three" at the Grand for one day only Wednesday January 14th as a result of the great war—"but some of it was perhaps worth it", smiles Mlle. Belge wistfully, and points with pride to a certain decoration and precious letter of her possession.

When the war broke out, Mlle. Belge was prima donna of the Royal Opera House in Antwerp. She kept her position there until the bombardment of the great fortress made it impossible. Then being a woman, and there fore unable to fight in the ranks, she determined that nevertheless she would help to the best of her ability and straightway turned over herself, her great talent, and her services to her Government to do with as it saw fit. She was urged to leave the city while there was time, but refused to do so, and for several months sang at the soldiers' camps and hospitals, going right to the firing line in her efforts to help cheer the wonderful men who did not hesitate to give all for their country.

London, Eng.—Protesting to the London telephone controller against the delay in providing them with a telephone, Messrs. E. S. As the firm considers it hopeless to try to do business without a telephone, notice has been given to all employes.

THIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptons due to nerve starvation will disappear.

Eminent specialists state that one of the best things for the nerves is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing.

By strengthening the nerves, weak, tired people regain energy and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health.

CAUTION—Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so, that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks. Those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh, should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

TWO APPLICANTS FOR THE VACANCY IN PETERBORO OFFICE

MR. JOHN CORKERY AND T. HUGHES OF TORONTO—RESULT THIS MONTH.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 9. — Applications have been received for the position of Postmaster in Peterborough, left vacant by the death of James Edgar, from Messrs. John Corkery, present Assistant Postmaster, and from T. Hughes, a temporary employee of the Toronto post office, a returned soldier. These are the only two applications received by the Postmaster-General's Department here. The selection of a successor to Mr. Edgar may be made either on the recommendation of the Department to the Civil Service Commission or the Civil Service Commission may ignore the recommendation altogether and advertise the position as open and then make the appointment. As yet the Civil Service Commission has not even been asked to make the appointment. The Postmaster's Department stated that the appointment would have to be made very soon. They intimated that the advanced aged of Mr. Corkery, Assistant Postmaster, militated to a slight degree against giving him the appointment. It is likely that the vacancy would be filled before the end of the month, the Department stated.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR HAIR BEAUTIFUL

Ten Minutes' Home Treatment Works Wonders, Stops Falling Hair and Dandruff, and Makes the Hair Soft, Brilliant, Lustrous and Fluffy.

Better than all the so-called "hair tonics" in the world is a simple, old-fashioned home recipe consisting of plain bay rum, Lavonna (de Composee) and a little Menthol Crystals. These three mixed at home in a few minutes, work wonders with any scalp. Try it just one night, and see. Get from your druggist 2 oz. Lavonna, 6 oz. Bay Rum and ½ drachm Menthol Crystals. Dissolve the Crystals in the Bay Rum and pour in 8 oz. bottle. Then add the Lavona, shake well and let it stand for an hour before using. Apply it by putting a little of the mixture on a soft cloth. Draw this cloth slowly through the hair, taking just one small strand at a time. This cleanses the hair and scalp of dirt, dust and excessive oil, and makes the hair delightfully soft, lustrous and fluffy. To stop the hair from falling and to make it grow again rub the lotion briskly into the scalp with the finger tips or a medium stiff brush. Apply night and morning. A few days use and you will not find a single loose or straggling hair. They will be locked on your head as tight as a vise. Dandruff will disappear. You will find fine downy new hair sprouting up all over your scalp and this new hair will grow with wonderful rapidity.

Any druggist can sell you the above. The prescription is very inexpensive and we know of nothing so effective and certain in its results.

ITEMS OF NEWS FROM MILLBROOK AND THE SURROUNDING COUNTRY

MILLBROOK MAN VISITS CHICAGO'S GREAT WHITE WAY—MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION ELECT OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR.

MILLBROOK, Jan. 8.—The annual meeting of the Ministerial Association was held in the Methodist S. S. Room on Monday afternoon Dr. Lee, President, in the chair. After routine business was transacted the following officers were elected for 1920.

President—Dr. Lee.
Vice-Pres.—Rev. W. H. Clarke.
Sec.-Treas.—Rev. Capt. Spencer, M. A.

Dr. Lee gave a good paper, at short notice, on the subject, "Can we trust the Gospels." It was favorably received. The meeting the adjourned.

Mr. William Collins was in Toronto, last week.

Miss Ilein McKim spent the New Year, with friends in Millbrook.

Mr. R. Ball Visits Chicago.

Mr. Reid Ball of Millbrook, recently took a trip to Chcago and describes his visit as follows: "When I crossed the line I had to go into the Red House to say where I was going I had to pay $8 head tax which was refunded after my return home They took my height, age, color of my hair, and asked how much money I had, also whether I was single or a widower or married and how many of a family I had and their names and also Post Office address of one of them.

"I left Port Hope at 4 p.m. and arrived at Chicago at 9 p.m. Had seven miles to go from depot to find my good friends, Mr. and Mrs. M. Gimpsey, who gave me a fine trip about the city,—21 miles. I went to see the great stock yard (300 acres) acres) over which runs the elevated railway. A guide took us through the place. The first thing, he told us was that there were 1,000 pigs killed there every hour. From the time they were killed until they were in the cooler was 15 minutes. Cattle 300 per hour, 22 minutes; Sheep 1,500 per hour, 35 minutes. The plant covers 30 acres. These are from two to four floors making about 90 acres under cover. The machinery is numerous and everythings is done on schedule time. I had my lunch several times on the eleventh storey of the building in connection with stockyard. I also visited Mr. Wesley Breakey, a brother of Mrs. McGimpsey, who lives seven miles from his sister's home. I visited the big park one a 400 acre play ground, the other a 400 acre park of animals etc. It was one of the best holiday and pleasure trips I ever had and Mr. and Mrs. McGimpsey were very kind and gave me the time of my life. They are simply grand in entertaining. I was glad to meet them but sorry to part but it may not be my last visit to them and their wonderful city.

Large and appreciative congregations listened to eloquent sermons morning and evening. Mr. Smith also addressed a mass meeting of the S.S. in the afternoon. The annual reports of the Superintenden, Mr. W.F. Fallis and other officials of the school were read and were very encouraging. The prizes for memorizing scripture and attendance were distributed and altogether the Sunday services were very bright and helpful.

On New Year's evening the annual entertainment was held in the basement of the church and the room was filled to its utmost capacity, and all enjoyed the splendid program given by members of the school. There was no admission fee charged for the the entertainment, but the free will offerings on Sunday were very gratifying. The officers and teachers and scholars are to be congratulated upon another successful anniversary occasion, and for the splendid program provided.

PRIVATE ROOMS FOR M.P.'S.

New Building at Ottawa Palatial in Accommodation.

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—Work is being rushed on the Parliament Buildings in anticipation of the session opening on February 26th. The Commons chamber is nearly done and temporary desks are being made. GOOD ADVICE FOR NERVOUS PEOPLE

What Worn, Frazzled, Unstrung, "Jumpy" Nerves Really Need.

When you are run down, out of sorts, tire easily, have lost confidence in your ability to do things, and ambition seems to have deserted you, it's a sure sign your nerve force has run down and that your nerves need a stimulant to restore to your system its old-time strength and energy and bring back the good old pep that used to make you famous. Many of the drug stores in Peterborough and vicinity, are selling a wonderful nerve remedy called Ferro-Peptine on a positive guarantee of satisfaction or money back. It's amazing how quickly Ferro-Peptine tones up the entire system, thins and steadies the nerves, and puts vim, vigor and vitality into men and women who are fagged out, nervous, despondent and ambitionless.

Thousands testify to their remarkable value in cases of severe mental depression, nervous prostration, nervous dyspepsia, trembling, "jumps," "fidgets," and the generally unstrung nerves that come from excessive work, worry, lack of sleep or overindulgence in drinking, eating, or smoking. They never fail to benefit. If you are blue and feel as though you didn't give a hang, or are cross, irritable, and your nerves are right on edge, get a package of Ferro-Peptine right away. It comes 60 tablets to a box. Eat one with every meal for a few days, and see what a wonderful improvement they make in your whole nervous system.

HAS A MOTHER THE RIGHT TO DECIDE HOW MANY CHILDREN? SHE SHALL HAVE

The war has made us realize that we can not afford to ignore anything that claims to improve the health of our children, and this is why Pictorial Review, in line with its forward-lookng editorial policy, presents to the thinking women of America the opportunity for considering the much misunderstood subject of scientific birth-control. Everybody has heard of birth-control, but comparatively few people know what it really means Many are shocked at the very word. Pictorial Review does not take sides in this discussion, but when a conservative country like Holland boldly endorses the movement and publishes its reasons for so doing, it is time that we looked into the matter judicially and impartially. It is no new experiment that the Dutch women are indulging in. It has been going on since 1881! The remarkable story of what the women of Holland have done under the leadership of Dr. Aletta Jacobs is graphically told by Eleanor Kinsella McDonnell in the Mid-Winter issue of Pictorial Review In this illuminating and inspiring account, there is valuable information for every woman in America. In Holland to-day—Holland, mind you—slow-moving, conventional Holland—they have a smaller death-rate and a larger birth-rate than in any country in the world. That fact is unescapable. And Dr. Jacobs states that this is due to a sane understanding and appreciation of birth-control. Whether this is so or not, is for the women of America to judge after reading this amazing article.

Faint and Dizzy Spells Weakness and Shortness of Breath

You can generally tell when the heart is affected by the faint and dizzy spells, the shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensations, weak, sinking, all-gone feeling, choking sensation, etc.

Many men and women becomes run-down and worn out when otherwise they could be strong and healthy if they would only pay some attention to the first sign of heart weakness.

No remedy will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a healthy and normal condition as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. C. A. S. Drake, Paris, Ont., writes:—"I have used on towards the second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and find they have done me good. I had those fainting, dizzy spells, once in a while, and also weakness and shortness of breath, and would become so choked up at times I could hardly sleep without sitting up in bed. When walking too fast I would have to stop and try to catch my breath. I feel a lot better since I have used your pills and know that they have helped me wonderfully as I have improved very much."

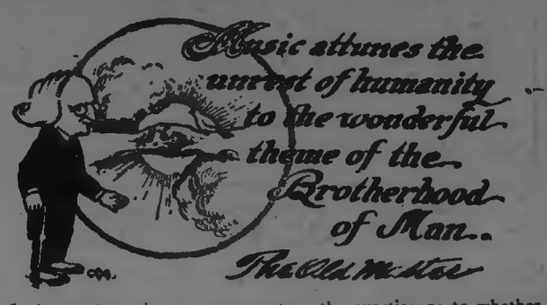
SEEK STANDARD TURKISH.

20,000,000 Hope to Adopt the Language of Constantinople.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 8.—Great importance is attached here to a movement in progress among the 20,000,000 Turks in the Caucasus, Russia, and Central Asia looking to a standardisation of the Turkish language. Turkish as it is spoken in Constantinople is to be the general standard.

The Government of Azerbaijan, North-west Persia, already has given up Azerbaijan Turkish to adopt the official Ottoman Turkish language. A considerable number of Turksih officers have been engaged to teach the standardised language.



It does not require any argument on the question as to whether a Piano is needed in the Home—the TIME TO BUY is the only point to be discussed. For many Homes, that time has arrived, and it is a that will be found to fill the bill most satisfactorily. Why is this so? Because the GREENE PIANO has been pleasing its owners for many years, and its VERY MODERATE PRICE appeals especially at this time of high costs.

Listen!

Have you heard about Peps? Peps is a scientific preparation put up in pastille form, which provides an entirely new and effective treatment for coughs, colds, chest and throat troubles.

Peps contain certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapor, and are breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

In a word, while no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and at once commence healing.

FREE TRIAL Cut out this article, write across it the name and date of this paper, and mail it (with 1c. stamp to pay return postage) to Peps Co., Toronto. A free trial packet will then be sent you. All druggists and stores sell Peps, 50c. box.

BIG BROTHERHOOD BUYS FACTORIES.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 7.—Determined to beat down the high cost of living, officials of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railway Shop Laborers, with a membership of 800,000, announced here to-day the purchase by the Brotherhood of the Knitting and Underwear Companies of Ypsilanti, Mich., a glove factory at Williamstown, Mich., and a tubing factory in New York State.

The various deals represent an initial investment of $1,000,000, and mark the first step in a campaign authorised at the National Convention of the Brotherhood in Detroit in September. Goods will be sold direct to the consumer. Two other mills will probably be purchased in Toledo. It is expected to effect a saving for the Brotherhood men of between 25 and 60 per cent.

Harmless Means of Reducing Fat

Many fat people fear ordinary means for reducing their weight. Here is an extraordinary method. Extraordinary because while perfectly harmless no dieting or exercise are necessary. Marmola Prescription Tablets are made exactly in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription. A reduction of two, three or four pounds a week is the rule. Procure them from any druggist, or if you prefer send $1 to the Marmola Company, 864 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich., for a large case.

Church Services.

At the Communion service in the Presbyterian church, Sunday a.m., Rev. H. Brown took as his text "I will remember the years of the Right Hand of the Most High," and this same text was given the congregation for the motto for the quarter and also for the year.

Despite the cold, the Sunday School was well attended. Unfortunately the supplies did not come either yesterday nor the Sunday before so that the lesson for yesterday was known only by those who looked for it in the newspapers.

The annual congregational meeting will be held on the evening of Wednesday, Jan. 14th.

Holy Communion was celebrated at the Anglican church yesterday afternoon. Service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Archibald.

Rev. Knox preached on the New Year in the Methodist church last night. The League is postponed until Tuesday night this week on account of elections.

STRENGTH FOR YOUNG MOTHERS

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restores Health and Strength.

Lansing, Mich.—"After the birth of my child I was not able to stand on my feet. I was so weak I could not get up. I suffered such pains in my back I could not work or hardly take care of my baby. One of my neighbors recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, and I got better right away and was soon a new woman and could work hard, and I can recommend these remedies to other young mothers who are weak and ailing as I was."—Mrs. Ora O. Bowers, 621 S. Hosmer Street, Lansing, Mich.

Women who are in Mrs. Bowers' condition should not continue to suffer from weakness and pain—but profit from her experience and give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For suggestions in regard to your condition write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their 40 years' experience is at your service.

Voice Of The People

Editor Examiner.

Dear Sir:—

Wil you kindly allow me space in your valuable paper to reply to Rev. Canon Davidson's most moderate sermon on "dancing and late hours." The Rev. Canon is broad-minded and evidently believes in the text "Let your moderation be known in all things," nothing narrow-minded or higgoted can ever be attributed to him, but when he says all other forms of amusement begin at 8.30 and why should the dances begin at 9.30 or ten o'clock?"—Well! First think for a minute, the majority of people who attend the public dances, at least, are working people, and most of the mother's of families are without help, supper is served at say 6.30 and the numerous duties of the average well ordered home will occupy half an hour at least, which by this time has ticked off to 7.30, then the ardeous task remains of "getting ready," which will occupy another hour or more according to the individual, then Doris and Dorothy are sure to require help and very likely Sam and Jack are having a struggle with their collar buttons, etc., etc., and before one can realize it that same old clock rings out 9, then there is another half hour consumed in reaching the Festal Hall—and there you are! So what's to be done to remedy this seemingly evil? Will someone please suggest?

Thanking you Mr. Editor,

I am yours.

RATHER PUZZLED.

THE HOUSEWIFE'S FOE.

Of a warfare never ending
I would sing a little song:
Of an enemy unbeaten,
Still, as ever, bold and strong.

"Dust" he's named. Alas! victorious
He'll remain, I've cause to fear,
For a daily resurrection
Always lets him reappear.

Sometimes, in the midst of battle,
Tauntingly he seems to say:
"You yourself will turn to dust, dear—
That is certain, some fine day!"

But I'll not let that thought worry,
For I confidently trust
That the harps in Heaven glitter
Free from any trace of—dust!

A FORMER PETERBORO BOY SECURES PICTURE

Mr. Frand P. Wood, an old Peterboro boy, has become involved in international difficulties with the French Government over the ownership of the famous Rembrandt painting portrait of Magdalena Van Loo, second wife of Rembrandt's son, Titus now on exhibition at Toronto and which is attracting much attention.

It seemed that this picture which is valued at $200,000 or $300,000 and is one of the Dutch painters masterpieces hung in the museum of Colmar Alsace, before the war but was removed by the Germans.

The career of the painting since then is still a mystery but Mr. Wood bought the painting a few weeks ago in New York from a reputable firm of art dealers quite unaware of the complications that may arise if the French Government demands the return of the picture.

Catarrh Of The Stomach Is Dangerous

"Thousands Have It and Don't Know It," Says Physician. Frequently Mistaken for Indigestion—How To Recognize and Treat.

"Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from furred, coated tongue, bad breath, sour burning stomach, frequent vomiting, rumbling in stomach, bitter eructations, gas, wind, and stomach acidity and call it indigestion when in reality their trouble is due to gastric catarrh of the stomach," writes a New York physician.

Catarrh of the stomach is dangerous because the mucous membrane lining of the stomach is thickened and a coating of phlegm covers the surface so that the digestive fluids cannot mix with the food and digest them. This condition soon breeds deadly disease in the fermented unassimilated food. The blood is polluted and carries the infection throughout the body. Gastric ulcers are apt to form and frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer.

In catarrh of the stomach a good and safe treatment is to take before meals a teaspoonful of pure Bisurated Magnesia in half a glass of hot water as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water washes the mucus from the stomach walls and draws the blood to the stomach while the bisurated magnesia is an excellent solvent for mucus and increases the efficiency of the hot water treatment. Moreover the Bisurated Magnesia will serve as a powerful but harmless antacid which will neutralize any excess hydrochloric acid that may be in your stomach and sweeten its food contents. Easy, natural digestion without distress of any kind should soon follow. Bisurated Magnesia is not a laxative is harmless, pleasant and easy to take and can be obtained from any local druggist. Don't confuse Bisurated Magnesia with other forms of magnesia, milks, citrates, etc. but get it in the pure bisurated form (powder or tablets), especially prepared for this purpose.

ALLEGES MONOPOLY IN WALLPAPERS.

TORONTO MAN COMPLAINS TO BOARD OF COMMERCE ABOUT T. EATON CO.

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—Unusual features attach to a complaint made to the Board of Commerce by Mr. William Charles Routley, of Toronto, retail dealer in wallpaper, in that he claims that the T. Eaton Company has entered into arrangements with wallpaper companies outside of Canada, by virtue of which arrangements they have obtained a practical monopoly in the actual sale of wallpaper.

In his complaint, Mr. Routley alleges that it is practically impossible to purchase wallpaper manufactured by M. H. Berg & Son of Buffalo, Becker, Smith & Page of Philadelphia, and the Robert Graves Company of New York, because of this alleged arrangement, which he claims to be in restraint of trade.

The hearing is set for 16th January. The question of jurisdiction will probably enter into this case.

Mr. Routley referred to above is a son of Mr. C. B. Routley, of Peterborough.

THE ROOSTER CHORUS BROKE UP LAST EVENING.

Mayor Elect W. H. Taylor presented the cups to the winners in the Poultry Show last evening owing to the unavoidable absence of Mayor Duncan, when a crowd which while not as large as in the previous evenings but eminently satisfactory to the officials assembled for the closing. Interviewed this morning several of the officials stated that the show with the magnificient exhibits has lent a decided impetus to the poultry industry in Peterboro. and that several who have in previous years kept poultry of a kind have decided to improve their flocks immediately. Others who have never undertaken any poultry raising previously have become enthused with the idea and will commence operations.

Government Exhibit.
Mr. J. Kelly the Superintendent of the show stated that the exhibit from the Government Experimental farm at Ottawa, which the Poultry Association secured this year for the show proved a most satisfactory innovation and that all who attended took a keen and intelligent interest in the better methods of feeding, housing, and raising chickens and will doubtless profit by the extremely valuable information given by the demonstrator.

Exhibits Shipped.
This morning the last of the exhibits which totalled in value some $6000 were shipped either home or to win further laurels for their owners in other shows.

OBITUARY

PERCY D. FITZGERALD.
Percy D. Fitzgerald died this morning at his home, 300 Aylmer Street. The news of his death, which was rather sudden, was a decided shock to his many friends, particularly to the members of the Peterborough Curling Club, with whom he had played in the annual President versus Vice-President games on New Year's Day.
The cause of his brief illness and death puzzled the three doctors who attended him, but it was believed that he died of inflammation of the base of the brain.
Mr. Fitzgerald would have been 39 years old to-morrow. He was born in Peterborough, and was widely known in the city and county. Since the summer of 1918 he had been employed with the Quaker Oats Company. He is survived by his wife, three brothers, Clarence of Moon Ridge, Sask., and Alex. and G. Walter Fitzgerald of this city, also by four sisters, Mrs. N. Nelson of Melfort, Sask., and Mrs. Herb. McConkey, Mrs. Hanlan Sisson, and Mrs. Ernie Hannan of this city.
The funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon to the Little Lake Cemetery. The service at the late home will begin at two o'clock.

JAMES BALDWIN.
James Baldwin, of 699 Harvey Street, aged fifty-eight years, died last night after a lingering illness.
The deceased, who had lived in the city for four years, had been working in the Quaker Oats in the summer, and the dust in the mill affected his lungs. Since then, he had never been quite well, but had been employed at Green's foundry until last Friday, when he was forced to quit work, and since then his condition became rapidly worse.
Mr. Baldwin leaves to mourn his loss his wife and one little adopted son Gordon. In religion he was a Presbyterian, but had attended the Gospel Hall for some time.
The funeral will take place to-morrow at 2.30 to Little Lake Cemetery, and service will be held at the house at 2 o'clock.

CELIA VERONICA GRAVELLE
Celia Veronica Gravelle, the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gravelle, 28 Ware street died today after a short illness.
The deceased was born sixteen years ago in Bridgenorth but had lived in this city for the past five years. During the last two she had been employed in the Packing Department of the Quaker Oats Company where she was a great favourite and her many friends will regret to learn of her early demise.
The funeral, which will be private will take place to-morrow morning from the family residence to St. Peter's Cemetery.

THE LATE MR. BARNHARDT
(Millbrook Reporter)
Another old resident of Cavan passed away last week in the person of Mr. Z. Barnhardt, in his 87th year. Deceased died in the home of his daughter, Mrs. (Col.) D. Sutton on the Fallis Line, and on the farm on which he was born. A industrious and up-to-date farmer in his early days before affliction befell him, he was a good citizen and neighbor. Some thirty years ago he and his late wife moved to Millbrook where Mrs. Barnhardt shortly afterwards passed away. Another daughter, Mrs. Joshua Mulligan died in the West. His affliction of mind was a great sorrow to his family and friends, and the care of him at times was very arduous, and in his latter days especially so, but now that he has gone before the Great Physician who gives a new body and a life everlasting he is far better. The remains were interred in Gardiner's cemetery on Monday last.

THE PEACE TREATY WILL BE SIGNED TO-DAY

ANOTHER MAN DISAPPEARED

SECRETARY TO MR. A. J. SMALL JOINS THE MISSING LIST--LAST SEEN IN TORONTO.

SAID TO BE ILL

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONO, Jan. 10.—The Trans-Canada Theatres Company seem to be rather unfortunate in losing the services of some of their officials by mysterious disappearances. The first of all, Ambrose J. Small has not been [illegible] the officials of the company since December, and now comes the news that John Doughty, who for 18 years acted as a secretary to Mr. Small, left his employment without notice on Sunday, 28th December, and so far as the officers of the company are concerned has not been seen or heard of since.

On the formation of the Trans-Canada Theatre Company, Mr. Doughty was removed from Toronto to Monareal to assist Mr. Driscoll, the general manager, in the details of the business.

On the long distance 'phone last night, Mr. Driscoll said that on 26th December he sent Doughty up to Toronto to get some papers he was needing. Mr. Doughty obtained the documents, and posted them to Mr. Driscoll.

Did Not Return.

On the evening of Sunday, 28th December Mr. Doughty sent a night letter telegram to his manager in Montreal, stating that he was too ill to take the train. "That," said Mr. Driscoll, "was the last he heard of Doughty. He had caused inquiries to be made in Toronto, but could get no news of his assistant."

Mr. Doughty lived, when in Toronto, down in the East-end of the town with a married sister. Last night The Examiner interviewed this lady, who, whilst acknowledging she knew her brother had left his Montreal employment, "could not say what his present address might be." Doughty's sister believed, however, that her brother had sought employment "somewhere in Canada."

In regard to the rumour that Mr. Small had been found in Flemington, New Jersey, the following telegram has been received from Dr. C. C. Harris, the local chief of police, which seems to satisfactorily clear up that matter:

"Flemington, N.J., Jan 10.—Man picked up and held by the Lambertville, N.J., authorities; are confident that he is a doctor, and by questions put to him by the profession, is well versed in materia medica and surgery, and is a man standing well up in the profession. He is about 5 feet 6 inches tall, slight build, very dark snappy eyes, mixed grey hair, Van Dyke beard, and has a hernia. The only thing impressed on his mind at the present time is that he loves music, and that undoubtedly he is a doctor-surgeon. He does not seem to tally with Ambrose J. Small, the missing theatre king of Toronto, Ont. He does not know who he is, his name, or where he comes from. With the exception of the Titanic disaster, all is a blank to him."

SUGAR PRICES ARE STILL ON UP-GRADE

SUPPLIES IN PETERBORO ARE LIMITED—GASOLINE TAKES A JUMP AND SOAP FOLLOWS.

Motorists are hard hit by the latest rise in prices in oils and gasoline but as a whole, they are taking it philosophically. "If they can afford a car they seem to be able to afford the rising prices" one garage proprietor stated to-day. By the new schedule gasoline sells at 30 cents a gallon or 2 cents higher than formerly, national light oil at 27 1-2 cents a gallon or 3 cents higher and silver light oil at 24 1-2 cents a gallon. The latter prices are delivered in the city by tank, the country price is one half a cent higher.

Groceries Up.

From some cause unknown to the grocers, sugar and soap advanced in price again yesterday, and sugar is now selling wholesale at $14.77 while last week it sold at $12.52. There is every indication that the price will be further advanced immediately, and there is practically a restriction on sugar as each merchant is allowed only two bags of white and one of brown sugar at a time. None of the retail men will consider an order of over a few pounds to one customer, this selling at 16 cents a pound. Asked about the rise in price of sugar the wholesale men stated yesterday that they had nothing to say.

Soap advanced this week and is now retailing at 11 cents a bar.

The Peace Treaty To Be Ratified at a Meeting To-day

FOURTEEN NATIONS WILL SIGN THE FAMOUS COVENANT AT FOUR O'CLOCK THIS AFTERNOON—SETTLEMENT OF THE FIUME CONTROVERSY.

DELEGATES LEAVING FOR HOME

(United Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 10.—After more than five years Europe was to find peace to-day. At four o'clock this afternoon in the clock room at the French Foreign Office the Treaty of Versailles, formally ending the state of war between Germany and the Allies, was to be finally ratified and declared effective. Delegates early to-day were putting the final touches to the preparations. All the Allied powers have been invited to attend the exchange of ratifications, but only the fourteen nations which have ratified the Versailles pact, will sign. The procedure in to-day's ceremonies, it was understood, will be as follows: At four o'clock the German and Allied representatives will meet, in the French Foreign Office, where Baron Kurt Von Lernsner and Herr Von Simson will sign the protocol, fixing the compensation to be paid by Germany for the sinkin gof the Scapa Flow Fleet. The various nations next will file certificates of ratification of the treaty and sign the formes proces-verbal of ratification, putting the long-argued Versailles pact into effect.

Speeding Up Work.

The entire work of cleaning up the duties of the peace conference was being speeded up as never before. At yesterday's conference of the Big Three it was understood Premiers Nitti and Lloyd George presented their proposed solution for the Fiume problem. Premier Clemenceau, it was understood gave his approval. The Fiume agreement was said to provide Fiume and Zara shall be free ports, under the control of the League of Nations, with Serbian zones in the extremity of each city giving that country access to the sea. A portion of the Adriatic coast will be neutralized, the Serbians guaranteeing fair treatment to the Italian inhabitants. It also receives Istria and several strategic islands, but agrees to limit her sea and land armaments in these possessions. The present peace conference, it was understood, will end with the resignation of the French cabinet, although the British and Italians probably will continue in Paris for organization of the new conference. Premier Lloyd George has been mentioned as President of the next conference, but this plan, it was understood, finds little approval in French circles, the French clinging to their right to the Presidency and to Paris as the seat of the conference. The British delegation yesterday agve up its quarters in the Hotel Astoria. The Italians, in the Edouard VII, now are the only delegates retaining their original quarters. The Italians it was said, will not close their quarters until the fate of Fiume is announced formally.

Peace Relations.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 10.—Although the exchange of ratifications of the Versailles Treaty this afternoon is the final act that restores before the war relations between Germany and France, no arrangements have been made by Germany as far as can ascertained here to resume peace relations with this country. Reports having been circulated unchallenged for some time to the effect that Baron Kurt Von Lersner would be designated as the first German Charge D'Affaires, it had become accepted as a fact. Von Lersner, however, told the Associated Press this morning he had not been named for the post and was in ignorance of the intentions of his government. Regret over America's abstention from participating in the ratification of the Treaty of Versailles is again expressed in editorials in this morning's newspapers.

PETERBORO'S EXHIBITION ASSURED OF PROGRESS

CITIZENS AND FARMERS PROMISED LOYAL CO-OPERATION TO PRESIDENT DENNE AND DIRECTORS AT BANQUET AT THE EMPRESS LAST NIGHT.

A HAPPY AUGURY

That the Peterboro Industrial Exhibition as a community enterprise holds first place in the public affairs to which Mr. Roland Denne devotes so much of his time and effort was again demonstrated last night when his hundred guests at his second annual presidential banquet at the Empress heard the problems and the prospects and possibilities of the Exhibition discussed by leading citizens and farmers with a cumulative effect that enlivened their interests, and aroused their enthusiasm for greater undertakings than ever this year.

In itself the banquet was one of the most successful of its kind this season. The Empress staff left nothing to be desired in its cuisine and service. The place cards were photographs of the exhibition grounds taken from an airplane. A buttonhole bouquet of Roman hyacinths and violets was presented to every guest. The walls were draped with flags that formed a colourful background for shields inscribed with slogans, that caught the eye and carried their message of what Peterboro's fair meant to this city and district. The programme elaborated this idea, and the speeches provided the finishing touch to what may be correctly termed a propaganda banquet in the interest of the Industrial Exhibition.

Among the guests were His Honour Judge Huycke, Mayor Duncan, Mr. J. A. Sexsmith, M.P., Mr. Thomas Tooms, M.L.A., Mr. Sam Stanley, M.L.A. for East Durham, the adjoining riding to the west, most of the members of the Council, Board of Education, Utilities Commission and other civic departments, Chief Thompson, City Clerk Armstrong, Reeve Nicholls of Smith, Reeve Bantie of Cavan, manufacturers, farmers, merchants, citizens of all kinds of occupations who forgeather as just such affairs as that of last night, and again more farmers. And the assembly were continually reminded in one way or another that Peterboro must not lose its opportunity of preparing for and establishing an agricultural and industrial exhibition that will realize its hopes and ambitions.

During dinner Messrs. Otto Gliddon and Busk furnished music, and the speeches were interspersed with songs by Mr. Caldwell of Toronto, Mr. George Chandler and Mr. Robert Hendry, whose Lauder songs, especially his own monologue as patter to "Fu the Noo" with topical hits and personalities that highly amused the banquetters. But this entertainment served only as pleasant periods to the chapters on the general subject of how to make the Exhibition bigger and better and enkindle the people of the city and county with a live desire to assist in the work.

Welcomed His Guests.

Mr. Denne in a brief introductory address asked for the co-operation of all present in making the Peterboro Industrial Exhibition bigger and better than ever. He referred to the uphill work of the past two years.

In proposing a toast to the city and county councils, His Honour Judge Huycke jocularly commented upon the recent mayoralty election and its uncertain outcome. Members of city and county councils sometimes receive more abuse than appreciation from the public. His Honour expressed the opinion that nine times out of ten the electors voted for their representatives upon the grounds of honesty and ability for the respective offices. It is incumbent upon every representative of a council that he be honest with his constituents and honest with his maker. In order to promote the best interests of the Peterboro Industrial Exhibition the co-operation of adjoining counties should be sought and cultivated.

Mayor G. H. Duncan expressed his pleasure at being present. He hoped the work of the Exhibition Board would be carried along in as efficient a manner as last year. The speaker said his whole heart was in the exhibition and the City of Peterboro. Mayor Duncan explained how the City Council could assist the Exhibition Board by supplying adequate sewer and water services. The speaker enumerated a number of Peterboro's assets and the efforts made by the City Council to advance their industries. In the development of

DEATH SWEEPS OVER RUSSIA

Thousands Frozen to Death in a Blizzard Near Reval.

(Canadian Press.)

REVAL, Jan. 10.—Thousands were frozen to death in a blizzard which swept across Esthonia on New Year's Day.

Reports received here state that three hundred bodies of refugees were found in a forest between this city and Narva, and American Red Cross workers say there were instances of babies being frozen to death at their mothers' breasts.

Many fugitives from the collapsed army led by General Yudenitch in his recent offensive against Petrograd have perished in the drifting snow.

OBJECTED TO THE PREMIER'S SPEECH

FOUR CHANGES MADE IN THE UNITED FARMERS' PLATFORM.

Special to the Examiner:

BRANDON, Jan. 9.—Resentment was shown to a speech delivered by Premier T. C. Norris on Wednesday evening at the Farmers' Convention, in which he virtually asked the farmers to leave Provincial politics alone on the ground that his Government had done all it could for the good of the Province. J. Le Brown, President of the Association, explained that the Premier had not been invited by the Grain Growers, but appeared as the guest of the live stock convention, which held a joint meeting with the farmers on that evening. Four changes to the United Farmers' platform now called the new national policy, including recommendations for renewal of the riciprocity treaty and the amendment to the Franchise Act were passed.

ACCUSED APPEARS AT A RECEPTION

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.— The unusual spectacle of a man who is to be tried for murder being entertained at a reception to soldier patients held in Sir Sandford Fleming Convalescent Home, was witnessed here this week. The man is Pte. Michael Konowal, V. C., who last July was charged with the murder of an Austrian during a quarrel in Hull, and who was committed to stand trial on a charge of murder in March this year. Konowal was allowed a certain amount of liberty after a short period in jail, because of his poor health which resulted from his confinement. He is learning a trade in the Vocational School, but is not well. The Laurentian Chapter, I.O.D.E., gave a reception at the convalescent home for soldier patients in the home, and invited a number of the patients from St. Luke's Hospital. Konowal was invited to be present and accepted. He was the object of great admiration, being pointed out during the evening by nurses and those who knew his war record as the man who killed sixteen Germans single handed and put at least forty-two Germans hors de combat. He is officially credited with this remarkable feat and on his return to Ottawa was the hero of the hour. He is a Russian and a laborer in civil life. The G.W.V.A. put up bail and agreed to pay the expenses of his counsel for the trial.

ENTRANCE EXAMS INTO HIGH SCHOOL

Department of Education Officials Mum on Entrance Exams.

TORONTO, Jan. 9.—No opinion could be obtained from the Ontario Department of Education as to what the officials thought about the resolution to do away with entrance examinations for the High School.

It was pointed, however, that the High school regulations admit now of pupils being admitted to High schools either by written examinations or on the certificate of the principal of the school that he is fit to pass.

It was also pointed out that over 50 per cent. of the pupils passing to the High schools in 1918 went there on principal's certificates. It is claimed that without entrance examinations as an alternate scheme there might be some hardship on some pupils. The principal might refuse to give a certificate. The child can now ask for an examination, and may be able to pass. Then again if entrance examinations were done away with the principals might pass too many into High schools, some of whom might not be fit. The High School Entrance Board would have no check on them as they have at present of demanding examinations if they wish to.

Drury Government Considering Claims For Colonization

WORK WILL BE CARRIED OUT ON THE TOWNSHIP PLAN—ONE TOWNSHIP WILL BE SETTLED AT A TIME.

INVESTIGATING SYNDCIATE

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Jan. 10.—The Drury Government has decided that the colonisation of the northland shall be carried out on the township plan. That is, by directing settlers into one township at a time instead of allowing them to scatter all over New Ontario, without roads, schools, and other necessities.

But the Government has not yet determined whether to assume full responsibility itself for settlement or to seek the co-operation of private syndicates. It is checking up the work of the new Ontario Colonisation Company, which in June, 1912, was given nearly 100,000 acres—two whole townships—at one dollar an acre, on condition that it locate so many settlers each year and carried out various other conditions.

On the result of the checking-up process may depend the future policy of the Government.

The new Ontario Colonisation Company started out on its career when Sir William Hearst was the Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines. It was generally known as the Jackson Syndicate, the head of the syndicate being Willis M. Jackson, of Buffalo. His two associates were William Rushworth, Toronto, and Ernest S. Wigle, of Windsor.

The townships the company was chosen to settle were Kendrey and Haggart, 30 miles to the west of Cochrane, along the line of the G. T. P. The syndicate was credited with having had much experience in colonising Northern Michigan. The agreement with the Government required the syndicate to locate sixteen settlers within two years on 2,400 acres of land, and the location of sixteen settlers for each year thereafter.

The war interfered with the work of the company, but a year ago, when 80 settlers should have been located at least 54 were on the land. A considerable number were Finns and Russians. Up to two acres on each farm was to be cleared of timber and a house and barn built and a well sunk. The syndicate was required to provide roads, bridges, and schools for the settlers, and erect a hotel, store, buildings, and sawmill, the latter to cost $70,000 or more.

Not less than 1,800 acres of land was to be cleared at a time. Fifteen thousand acres might be cleared in advance of settlement during the first five years, and 5,000 acres each year thereafter until the limit of 45,000 acres had been cut over.

MARKET PRICES FAIRLY STEADY

Eggs were up from last Saturday, selling this morning at 80c a dozen.

Butter also went up from 63c and 65c a pound to 65 and 68c this morning. The farmers stated, however, that from now on the price of butter would remain fairly steady.

Pork ranged from 25c to 30c a pound, a slight increase over last week's price and several farmers predicted a further raise in the price of pork due to the high cost of raising hogs.

Despite the fact that the holiday season is over the few turkeys brought in were selling at 58c a lb.

Butter, lb., 65c and 68c.
Eggs, dozen, 80c.
Chickens, lb., 30c and 35c.
Turkeys, lb., 58c.
Pork, lb., 25c to 30c.
Prices eased off towards the close of the market.

RELIEF FOR SUFFERERS

FLAMES ARE STILL POURING OUT OF VOLCANO—HEAVY CASUALTIES.

NEW CRACKS APPEAR

(Canadian Press.)

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 10.—Flames are still being emitted by the new volcano at San Miguel, in the western part of the State of Vera Cruz, according to advices received here last night.

It is stated that volcanic dust has floated as far as Coscomate Pec, about twenty miles east of the new crater.

Every village in that vicinity has been destroyed, while lava and floods of contaminated water from sources opened by the recent earthquakes are flooding the district near the crater.

Refugees from San Miguel confirm the earlier reports telling of numerous deaths from falling buildings and poison gas.

Rebels who had their quarters in that region have suffered severely, both from casualties and from loss of supplies, it is stated.

Reports from Teogelo, by way of Vera Cruz, state that panic prevails there from the fear that the old volcano near Confrede Perote will become active, since cracks have appeared on the sides of the mountain.

Dr. Garcia Lunak, who had just returned from Couztlan, stated that he had counted 72 dead and 100 injured in that village, and asserted that the roads between Couztlan and Quimixtlan were completely destroyed.

Jalapa reports that other travellers arriving there say the village of Barronza, near Couztlan, was almost destroyed with numerous victims. In Jalapa itself, 95 per cent. of the buildings were damaged. The water service there is limited to two hours daily.

Vera Cruz authorities hope to maintain the present supply for eight days, by which time it is hoped the water of the River Jalapa, which supplies the city will be fit to drink.

Recent volcanic disturbances have [illegible]

Relief measures for earthquake sufferers are progressing rapidly, two hundre dthousand pesos being subscribed by the employees of the National Railways and more than five hundred thousand pesos from the army.

There are fourteen bones in the nose.

RACCOON WASHES MEAT

Has Habit Not Indulged in by Any Other Animal.

The raccoon has a habit that is not indulged in by any other animal. If given a piece of meat, he will not touch a mouthful until he has washed it in as clear water as he can find, and he will allow no one to do this for him, writes Dr. R. W. Shufeldt in the American Forestry Magazine of Washington. So thoroughly does he perform this task, that he not only soaks all the blood out of the meat, but actually reduces the morsel to a very uninviting, flabby piece of pale flesh. He will roll it over and over in the water with his forepaws, and give it occasional shakings by seizing it in his mouth. Finally, when it is semi-mascerated to his liking, he will devour it with apparent relish.

The writer has tried raccoons with pieces of raw meat; and, although the animal will hold the piece in his mouth, he will immediately commence to hunt around for some water to wash it in. Failing to find any, he soon exhibits his distress and annoyance; in fact, he must be very hungry indeed before he will condescend to eat a piece of raw meat that he has not previously washed to his complete satisfaction. Raccoons will also wash an ear of corn in the same fashion, and it was this habit that prompted Linnaeus to bestow the specific name of lotor upon this interesting animal.

COLDS SOW SEEDS OF LUNG TROUBLES

Everybody dreads lung trouble. We shudder when we hear of the dreaded T. B. We are afraid when we hear talk of the possiblity of pleurisy or pneumonia. Any disease which affects the lungs is serious.

It is well to bear in mind that every person who neglects a case of common cold is paving the way for a possible attack of lung trouble, which may quickly develop into an acute stage or a chronic form.

"Start treating a cold just as soon as it starts" is a medical maxim the public should observe. Two capsules of Grip Fix, taken at intervals of two hours will usually give relief in three doses. If the cold is deep-seated or has reached the grippe stage it takes a little longer, but in a career of over ten years, Grip Fix has established a record of giving relief in a night.

Grip Fix is not a patent medicine. It is a combination of just the drugs physicians would prescribe, and these are plainly noted on every box. If you are in doubt, ask your family physician. In buying it, however, be sure to get the original Reid's Grip Fix, which comes only in capsule form.

Grip Fix is sold for 35 cents per box and may be obtained at all druggists.

TO PERMIT MANUFACTURE OF FIVE PER CENT. BEER

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Governor-elect Edwards, of New Jersey, and his advisors in political matters, decided yesterday to launch legislation by which that state would soon permit the sale and manufacture of beer and wines containing up to five per cent. alcohol by volume. They believe that such a law will meet with the favor of the people of New Jersey and that there is nothing in the constitutional amendment or the recent Supreme Court decision to prevent the passage of such legislation.

Like Being Hit By Rattle Snake

Says that every time you cut or pick at a corn you invite lockjaw

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn, the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out with the fingers, without one particle of pain.

This freezone is a sticky substance which dries the moment it is applied and just loosens the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. He says a quarter of an ounce will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but this is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You are positively warned that cutting or picking at a corn is a suicidal habit.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Sayn Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief — no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffing, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of his fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

Spanking Doesn't Cure!

Many times children can be cured of bed-wetting by spanking them. The trouble is often nervousness, the child cannot help it. I will send FREE to any mother my successful home treatment, with full instructions. If your child wets you in this way, send no money, but write me to-day. My treatment is simple, harmless and is taken from directly with little attention by day or night. Write for free trial treatment.

Mrs. M. Summers
BOX 917 WINDSOR, Canada

FROM "IN MEMORIAM."

Do we indeed desire the dead
Should still be near us at our side?
Is there no baseness we would hide?
No inner vileness that we dread?

Shall he for whose applause I strove,
I had such reverence for his blame,
See with clear eye some hidden shame
And I be lessened in his love?

I wrong the grave with fears untrue:
Shall love be blamed for want of faith?
There must be wisdom with great Death:
The dead shall look me through and through.

Be near us when we climb or fall:
Ye watch, like God, the rolling hours
With larger other eyes than ours,
To make allowance for us all.

—TENNYSON.

OLD HUNTER ST. BRIDGE, ERECTED IN 1875, WAS RAZED THIS WEEK

SERVED A GENERATION THAT IS RAPIDLY DISAPPEARING WITH IT —WOODEN BRIDGE WAS BURNED BEFORE IT AND A CAST IRON BRIDGE COLLAPSED.

THE NEW REPLACES OLD

The dismantling of the old Hunter Street Bridge was completed on Thursday, when the last girder was loosened from the bolts that have borne the inter-community traffic between Peterborough and Ashburnham for forty-five years.

When erected, in 1875, the wrought iron bridge across the Otonabee at Hunter Street was the pride of the generation now grown old and disappearing before the new age and its advanced ideas. Interesting and rather pathetic is the recollection of the official ceremony with which the Councils of the town and county of Peterborough assembled in all their dignity for the formal acceptance of the bridge from the contracting company, and with an imposing flourish tested its strength and capacity by sending across it a procession of nine loads of lumber and one load of flour.

Such a demonstration of material integrity probably impressed and satisfied the Councillors of that time as highly as the engineering assurances, if not guarantees, that are customarily given to-day. The best proof of the correctness of formulae for loads and stresses was the application of a train of heavily laden waggons that would rarely concur in the average flow of traffic. So the Councils assumed the bridge for the people, and prided themselves upon their achievement in the structural mode of that day. Iron spans had then no concrete rivals except the far off ruins of remote civilization. Iron structural beams and girders were then advancing up a stage to hold for half a century the spotlight from which it had shouldered the elemental, reliable wooden timbers.

Wooden Bridge Burned.

The vicissitudes of the Hunter Street Bridge, its literal ups and downs, include several outstanding incidents. It was on July 3rd, 1871, that the Howe truss wooden span was burned by fire of unknown origin. The citizens concluded that some person had carelessly dropped a match or cigar on it. Perhaps it would be anachronistic to blame the cigarette for that loss.

On November 3rd of that year the municipality contracted with White and Davis for a cast iron bridge which was opened for traffic on February 7th, 1872, the county paying half the cost. In the meantime the residents had been using a temporary affair of pontoon design. The cast iron spans served a bare three years. One of them cracked under the contraction caused by frost, and collapsed on January 12th, 1875. That splash must have caused a flurry in the new Council of that year. A conference was held soon afterwards, and a contract was awarded to the Canton Bridge Company, of Canton, O., for a new bridge of wrought iron.

Customs Interfered.

When the materials arrived in Peterborough their delivery was held up by Mr. Charles Perry, the local Customs collector, who disputed their valuation of $3,000, on the ground that the contract price was $8,000. This objection was satisfactorily adjusted, the iron beams and girders were released from the Customs Office and the bridge was completed on October 13th of that year.

May Be Sold As Junk.

And now the bridge of faded splendour and utility has been torn down and will probably have to be sold as scrap iron. The Councils of the last two years have proposed that it be re-erected at London Street, where the Quaker Oats Company has provided approaches on each side of the river, providing the project is begun within five years. But the spans are each only 121 feet long, and their combined reach of 242 feet falls far short of the river's width of 310 feet at that point. Long approaches are out of the question, chiefly because the Quaker Oats Company have recorded their objection to that expedient.

It has been suggested that the old iron beams might be sold to township counties for small streams, but even this alternative must be abandoned, according to the opinions of several engineers, including Mr. Barber, Mr. Townsend and City Engineer Parsons, who declared some time ago that the iron girders are not heavy enough to support the new and heavily increased traffic standards of stress.

BELGIUM GIVES THREE MEMORIAL SITES TO CANADA

FIVE SELECTED IN FRANCE TO COMMEMORATE VALOR OF CANADIANS.

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—Belgium has presented three sites to Canada for memorials to Canadian valor and to the Canadian slain. Five sites in France have also been selected by Brig.-Gen. H. T. Hughes of the Royal Canadian Engineers, who was appointed by the Dominion Government to choose and secure suitable sites for memorial purposes in France and Belgium. Brig.-Gen. Hughes, who commanded one of the Canadian Divisional Engineer Corps in France during the war, has just returned to report to the Government on the result of his mission.

Three Sites in Belgium.

Brig.-Gen. Hughes first selected the most suitable sites in Belgium. When he had made the choice the Belgian Government promptly made a present of the sites to the Dominion Government. One of the Belgian sites is at St. Julien, to commemorate the first gas attack at Ypres and the gallant stand made by the Canadians in April, 1915. The second site is at Passchendaele, and the third at Observatory Ridge, where in the fighting of June, 1916, Gen. Mercer and Col. Baker, M.P., were killed.

Five Spots in France.

The first site selected in France was Hill 145 on Vimy Ridge, the second at Dury Crossroads, near the Canal du Nord, where the Hindenburg line was broken, and the third at Bourlon Wood, to commemorate the fall of Bourlon Wood and the Battle of Cambrai, where the Canadians secured a decisive victory over the Germans. The fourth site is at Courcelette, near the sugar refinery, to keep green in the memory of visitors to France the Canadians who fought so well in the Somme fighting. The fifth site is at Hospital Wood, at the end of the first day's drive on August 8th, 1918, which finally sent the Germans out of France and Belgium. Four of these sites were purchased in France by the Government, but the site at Bourlon Wood was given to the Dominion Government by the owner a French seigneur, who desired thus to show his lively gratitude for the part played by Canadians in the war.

Last Oak Forest.

It is interesting in this connection to note that Bourlon Wood was the last oak forest in Northern France. It fell a victim to gas and shells during the fighting that raged around and through it. The remaining trunks and trees are being cut down and the debris is being removed.

It is expected that the Government will shortly make announcement of the securing of these sites, and that later it will call for suggestions as to the nature of memorials to be erected at these points. This once being decided, it will call for tenders for their erection.

NEGRESS BUSY SEWING AT AGE OF 115 YEARS.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 9. — Anna Prater, a negress, to-day officially was listed as 115 years old by federal census enumerators. She was born in South Carolina, she said, was sold fifteen times as a slave, acted as "mammy" to fifty-two white children, and ran away from three masters only to be recaptured each time.

While telling her life history, she busied herself with sewing.

It is estimated that throughout the world blind men outnumber blind women in the proportion of two to one.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

SATURDAY, JANUARY 10TH, 1920.

MR. DENNE'S RE-ELECTION.

Mr. Roland Denne is to be congratulated upon his re-election to the honourable and important position of chairman of the Peterboro Board of Education. Mr. Denne was chairman of the Board last year and did excellent service in that capacity and the confidence of his fellow members in his good qualities as presiding officer has been shown in an unmistakable manner by his selection for the same position this year. Mr. Denne is young and energetic and has taken the deepest possible interest in educational matters since he has been a member of the Board of Education.

HELPING THE PLAYGROUNDS.

Citizens generally would approve of the action of the Board of Education in making a grant of $1,000 to the Playgrounds Association. The work that has already been accomplished by the Association is thoroughly appreciated by the people of Peterboro who will be pleased to know that the increased grant from the Board of Education will enable the Association to make considerable additions to the equipment that has already been provided. It is proposed to install still swings in the Central and King Edward School grounds and to carry out other improvements. The grant given last year was utilized in a business-like and economic manner so that the maximum results were achieved and the Playgrounds Association can be relied upon to make an equally good showing during the coming summer.

DISAPPOINTING REPORT.

A few days ago a report was sent out from Winnipeg that Hon. J. A. Calder had wired the vocational training officer in that city that financial assistance to the amount of $1,500 would be advanced by the government to any returned soldier who desired to establish himself in business. Naturally the statement created great interest among the veterans, as it was in line with requests made by several of the returned soldiers' associations and there was rejoicing among some of the soldiers who have been desiring an opportunity to embark in business but lacked the financial backing. And now the story, like that of the $35,000,000 canteen fund, turns out to be a myth, and Sir George Foster, Acting Prime Minister, officially denies that any such decision has been reached by the government. The press is asked to give the widest publicity to the denial, and no doubt will do so, but the trouble is that such a story, once it is circulated, is hard to down. It has not been announced how the yarn originated.

MAJOR TOLMIE'S VIEWS.

The charge made by Major J. C. Tolmie, M.P.P., of Windsor, that the Government unemployment relief fund for returned soldiers "is an encouragement to idleness, it is encouraging improvident men who have made no effort to establish themselves in a position; the man who is really anxious to get along and get on his feet gets nothing," is a resume of the situation that seems to meet the views of many returned men. They resent the principle of the plan as a form of charity which favors the idlers and the irresponsible among the veterans and gives nothing to the men who have been sincerely trying to get along in civilian life. However, the officials who are administering the funds should soon be able to detect the false claims from the genuine, and to cut off the list the men who have no intention of working if they can get the benefit of the fund. It is the same problem that the officers in charge of vocational training have to deal with when they are called upon to distinguish between the man who is sincere in his application for re-training and the other class who want a course merely because it represents a chance to get some money for nothing.

APATHETIC ELECTORS.

In dicussing the apathy of the electors in Kingston, where as in Peterborough and other Ontario cities a large percentage of the vote was not polled in the recent municipal elections, the Whig declares that a campaign of education is necessary to show people their duty.

If there is any failure in a democratic system of government here lies the fault to the failure, says the Whig. The people who have been given the privilege of voting do not use that privilege to the fullest extent. When forty per cent. of the voters do not use their right to vote, then the system cannot be said to have a fair trial. Yet these same people who do not vote will probably be amongst those who shout loudest when affairs in the City Council are not conducted to their liking. A large number of the strongest critics of the aldermen in the Council are those who did not take the trouble to get out and vote on election day, when they have it in their hands to remedy matters by getting out and voting for the men whom they consider best fitted to carry on the city's business.

In comparison with the vote of last year, the holding of the election on New Year's Day seems to have been an improvement. The list of names on the voters' list has been increased by about one hundred, but the number of citizens who voted jumped from 3,599 to 3,988, an increase of nearly five hundred. And there was last year a bitter mayoralty contest which helped to bring out larger numbers of voters. So that, so far as Kingston is concerned, no fault can be found with holding the elections on New Year's Day.

There is only one way in which the people can be induced to take a proper interest in their rights and privileges as citizens. A long period of education is necessary before the voters will realise that they have a part to play in the government of their city, before they realise that the whole responsibility does not rest with the twenty-one men who are elected as aldermen. It is their duty to use the vote which is given to them, and so long as they neglect that duty they are shirking their responsibilities as citizens. It has been suggested that any man who refrained from using his privilege of voting for three successive years should be deprived of the right to vote. If that were done, the first to raise a howl would be the very men who did not vote, but they should be made to understand that they are given a vote for the purpose of taking part in the government of their city, and that if they do not care to use it, then it can be taken away from them.

THE OPENING GUN.

Mr. King's speech at Newmarket is a clear presentation of those consistent and persistent principles of Liberalism which have been the making of the best in Canadian political institutions since 1838. Liberalism always struggles against cliques, compacts, combines, cabals, and narrow class spirit, asserting freedom and equality for the whole people, or the greatest good to the greatest number.

Quite justly and inevitably, but yet with mildness and mercy, the Liberal leader stated the degraded plight of Toryism in Canada, its defeat even in Toronto, its huddled desperation at Ottawa, the departure of its "leader" into the void somewhere and the total failure of all policy and direction at the capital. Mr. King showed up the imbecility of those who said that Liberalism is not triumphant in Ontario; Toronto is the visible proof. Sir Robert Borden, who was long somewhere in France or the Eastern Hemisphere, is now somewhere in the United States perhaps, and his captainless crew have not the slightest idea where they are going, has not seamanship to steer by either political compass or political astrolabe, by hook or by crook.

Amidst the criminal drift of the Federal Government, the clamours of righteous indignation everywhere, and the increasing ill-will among sections and classes of the population of Canada, Mr. King lifts his voice for goodwill and national unity, the ideals of Liberalism. He appeals for an entente cordiale of all elements. This can be brought about by the victory of the spirit of Liberalism which always works for general equality and opportunity. Probably Mr. King is right in his diagnosis that the thunderous atmosphere of Canadian politics is an after-effect of the war in great measure. War makes for suspicion, distrust, and jealousy all round. What is needed, says Mr. King, is a new spirit, or rather the old spirit of Liberalism, which overthrows unfairness and asserts justice. A reference to the platform drawn up by their convention will show how Canadian Liberals mean to fight unfairness — by tariff reduction, economic reforms, decent taxation, and enforcement of law. The Liberal platform is the guarantee of Mr. King's promises. It aims towards democratic equality.

The shallow argument is made sometimes against pensions, aids, etc., that the motive for labour and saving and initiative may be weakened. What incentive, then, moved our soldiers to sacrifice in the late war? Was gain the motive of that all-sacrificing labour? A distinguishing feature of Liberalism is its belief in the dignity and worth of man, no matter what his "station" or occupation. It does not believe that a greater equalisation of men's lot in life will destroy the incentive to effort and the assumption of responsibility. Some of those who prey on their fellows, as things are, might conceivably slacken their efforts if comparatively deprived of selfish prizes, the sort of men who stay home from the frost; but the other sort, who went, may conceivably put forth more effort, under conditions of greater equality in reward, for the general weal.

Mr. King has made no demagogic opening in his campaign. He has made a calm, fair statement of the ideals of Liberalism, their saving grace in dealing with compacts and packings and the great need in Canada at the present time for the promotion of those ideals.—London Advertiser.

MALAMUTE DOGS ARE MAN'S OWN BROTHER

Nome Traders Sell Valuable Furs to Siberia.

The Malamute dogs are "man's own brother" in Alaska, according to Mrs. Charlotte Cameron, author, and a fellow of the Royal Geographical Society. The dogs, used for drawing sleighs over enormous distances, detests the summer months, and are boarded out to Indians, living on the banks of the Yukon river at $4 a month. On the Yukon these dogs meet their enemy, the mosquito, and, to get a little peace bury themselves up to the neck in the soft mud by the river until the sun goes down.

In winter there is a dog-sleigh mail twice a week from Seward to Nome, a distance of 1,500 miles. The dogs cover about 40 to 50 miles a day, and may compete in the Nome "derby" over a course of 400 miles.

Mrs. Cameron was struck by the activities of traders at Nome. They are rapidly building up a tremendous fur business with Siberia, the most valuable skins being brought across Bering Sea in small schooners. "They are just one big happy family in Alaska," added Mrs. Cameron. "Why, even the hotel porter at Nome refused a tip. I found afterward he owned two mines and two small farms."

BAD COLD
BRONCHITIS

However slight a cold you have you should never neglect it; if you do it can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected.

Bronchitis is one of the most common affections of a neglected cold, and neglected bronchitis the most general cause of consumption.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is just the remedy you require to cure the bronchitis. It does this by loosening the phlegm and mucous, and stimulates the weakened bronchial organs, allays irritation and subdues inflammation, soothes and heals the irritated parts and thus prevents it becoming chronic.

Mr. R. P. Sundblad, Francis, Sask., writes:—"I had a very bad cold which left me with bronchitis. I tried several cough remedies and oils of all kinds, but they all failed. At last I got Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and after using two bottles I have never had a sign of bronchitis since I therefore can honestly recommend it for coughs and colds."

Don't accept a substitute for Dr. Wood's. The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

VALUE WINDOWS ABOVE GIRLS.

LONDON, Eng.— Mongolian marriage customs were described in the First Civil Court, Paris, in a suit brought by a young French diplomatist, whose name was not mentioned, to have his marriage with Miss Belley, an American girl, annulled.

Maitre Clunet, for the petitioner, stated that his client had met Miss Belley at Shanghai. Later in Mongolia Miss Belley and he were married by a Belgian Catholic missionary. In a few days she left her husband, never to return.

According to French law, Maitre Clunet argued, a marriage abroad to be legal has to be performed before a French diplomatic agent or according to the custom of the country.

In Mongolia wives were bought for camels A young girl cost five camels, while a widow of 40 was valued at 30 camels. The only other form of marriage recognized by the Mongolians was for the bridesgroom to capture his future wife on horseback. If he managed to overtake her the marriage was legal.

The court declared the marriage void.

WHAT AND WHY IS
Group Insurance?

It is an inexpensive means of insuring the lives of all your employees individually by a single small premium.

It involves no medical inspection and it costs about 75 cents a month for each $1,000 of insurance carried.

It has arisen from the desire of business firms to do something substantial for their employees, and so promote goodwill and avoid constant changes in the payroll.

It has been widely adopted by far-seeing industrial executives.

PASTEURIZED MILK

Is Not Only SAFE Milk, but Is the BEST and CHEAPEST Food

One Quart of Milk (12c) is equal in food value to Three-fourths of a pound of Lean Beef (25c) or to Eight Eggs (45c) or Three pounds of Fish (60c) or Two pounds of Chicken (60c).

Which will you have for your Children and Yourself?

The strongest argument for the use of plenty of Milk and Butter is this fact, that growth depends upon a particular stimulating substance which is not found in most foods, but which is present in the butter fat. Pasteurization does not destroy this vital principle.

There is no other food that has all the virtues of Milk. There is no substitute for Milk. There is no economy so great that Children should be denied Milk. There is no famine so desperate as a Milk famine.

And while the Cow is a good foster mother, PASTEURIZING the Raw Milk makes it always SAFE and FREE FROM IMPURITIES.

Order Generously. Start TO-DAY to give a definite, liberal quantity of Milk to your Children EVERY DAY. Let them drink it for meals—and in between meals, too.

SIR SAM HUGHES PRESENTS GOLD WATCH

Dr. Norman Allen, Toronto, has received from Sir Sam Hughes, the beautiful gold watch which the former Minister of Militia promised to the highest scorer of the shooting party from Toronto and New York which visited his grounds at Eagle Lake, Haliburton County. Whilst Tom Hook and E. W. J. Owens were searching the bear, Dr. Allen confined his attention to deer, and was able to put up the largest "bag."

The watch was secured by Sir Sam on one of the devastated parts of France, and was manufactured by a firm of jewellers in Vienna.

What Is Your Son's Education Costing Him?

You may figure your share of the expense in dollars and cents, but if his eyes are weak and he has to strain them over his studies, the cost to him may eventually be the loss of his sight.

Don't let his education profiteer upon his eyes. Let us fit him with comfort-giving, becoming, up-to-date glasses and relieve him of that costly strain upon his eyes.

WHO COULD SHE BE?

CHAPTER XVI

"Well, did you go thru everything" Everett asked at dinner that night, the second in my new home.

"Yes, and Everett, Mrs. Gray thought I was going to discharge her. I knew she didn't like me, but I didn't know why until she acted so pleased when I told her I couldn't run this big house, that"—

"You told her that she was to remain?"

"Yes. Don't you want her?"

"Most certainly. But before you make any contracts with servants or anyone else, please consult me," his voice was sharp and I knew he was displeased But why? He had said he most certainly wanted Mrs. Gray to stay. I had told her the same Why should he take that tone?

"Oh, Everett! I'm sorry, I didn't think."

"Please think hereafter." He dismissed the subject, and was delightfully entertaining thru the remainder of the dinner. Almost as much so as before I married him. When he was like that I forgot everything but my pride in him.

We had been married not quite two weeks and already I felt a craving for companionship, the nearness of one who would understand me. I was infatuated with life, eager for the thrill of new experiences. I longed for sympathy—for love. I wanted to be caressed, to be told I was loved, over and over until I was sure of it. I was often, even in those first days of my married love, chased by the fear that I was not loved because Everett so charily expressed his feeling for me. He wasn't as demonstrative as Father was with Mother, and they have been married more than twenty years.

Everett often talked over my head He said things I did not quite grasp but I never interrupted him to ask questions. I would often have liked to, but I feared to annoy him.

That night Everett went out. I wanted to ask where he was going, but waited, thinking he would tell me. He did not, just gave me a careless kiss and said:

"Go to bed in good season."

I returned his kiss, but before I could steady my voice to speak he was gone. I wandered around forlornly for a while. Then opened the piano and played a little. Both Mrs. Gray and Hetty had gone out too, or I should have asked them to talk to me. I didn't dare to go into the kitchen and talk with the cook. Everett had warned me already that his servants weren't old retainers like ours at home, and that I not only could not make as free with them, but that I must not.

Finally, I went to my room and undressed. I slipped on a kimona and sat by the window. It seemed strange that Everett shoul go out without telling me, his wife, where he was going. Father never did that. He used to alway call to Mother if she weren't in the room and say:

"I'm going to the club for a little while, I'll be back soon"—or somethink like that. More and more I began to see that my husband was like Father in only one thing, his age.

I could sit still no longer and I wandered into Everett's room. It was separated from mine by a large dressing room.

At first I walked all around just looking at things, not touching them. Then I began to handle his toilet articles, so different from the dainty, lovely set he had given me. Just plain black brushes and other articles. His ties were hung on some sort of board on the inside of his dressing room door. I never had dreamed one man had so many ties, an such lovely ones. Soft lustrous silks that I loved to let slip thru my fingers.

He had several photographs on the wall. But none of them interested me particularly. But, in his top-drawer, under a pile of handkerchiefs, was one of a very lovely woman who looked about 30 years old. She was exquisitely beautiful. The picture was taken in evening dress showing the dimpled shoulders and the perfectly modeled arms. Who could she be? I looked at her a long time. I must ask Everett in the morning. She probably was some relative

I presume I should have had more pride than to have looked thru my husband's things had I been older. But I was lonely, I didn't feel like reading, and I was not at all sleepy. So idly I drew out one drawer after another and looked at the contents. Such quantities of fine underwear and shirts. 'Enough to stock a store' I muttered to myself. Then, in turning up the corner of some shirts to see what was underneath, I came upon another picture. I took it out and saw it was another pose of the same woman whose picture had so interested me—also a replica of the one in my room.

To-morrow—Sandra Asserts Her Rights.

PETERBORO'S LITTLE RIVERS

We have four of them, one was known as the Aylmer street creek, one the Downie street creek, one the Asburnham creek and the other the largest, the "Town creek." It begins its life about 25 miles North West of the city in the big Cavan swamp.

The Downie street creek takes its rise only a few miles back in Smith township. The hills to the north are so shaped that they gather the water from rains and melting snow and rush them down to Smith Park lots, where they form a decided creek which comes down the North Ward school grounds, then through Jordon Bros'. Conservatory grounds and then, following the Lakefield branch of the G.T.R. they strike Aylmer street, pass into the Chambers block through the middle of which they passed to Macdonell street, which they flooded, and finally made their way into the town creek. Before getting away all the property between London and Macdonell streets and as low down as Murray street, were annually flooded. The creek was a public nuisance. The city took it in hand and diverted the creek causing it to pass through large pipes which led down the west side of Aylmer street, turned to the west followed north side of Macdonell street to Bethume street, then passes south through pipes and flowed into the Town creek north of Fitzgerald's wood yard. The pipes in flood time were too small so the City continued the pipe line passed Macdonnel street still along the west side of Aylmer street where the pipe line was turned into the Town creek opposite Dr. Hammond's residence. That was an improvement, but in flood time the water burst through the pipe joints and again flooded the streets and cellars. Then the Council went back and did what should have been done in the first instance. They bought or procured right of way from Jordan's hot houses directly east to the river, they excavated a channel, put in large pipes and ran the flood water direct to the river. This stream now has three mouths and there is no trouble. Thus the City dealt with this public nuisance.

The Ashburnham creek was dealt with in the same way. The creek was completely diverted, carried by pipes for half a mile south and turned into the river. Thus was number two creek nuisance effectively dealt with.

Next came the Downie street creek it was a public nuisance. It came down through the "Dixon" farm, on down and over City lots and streets until it crossed McDonell street and finally passed into the Town creek above Reid street.

It was a public nuisance and flooded a great many lots and streets. Several times in summer, after cloud bursts amongst the hills in Smith, the water came down in great volumes flooding all the neighborhood of Downie Street and the streets in the north west portion of the City. It was twenty-five years ago diverted by the Council but the result was an expenditure of $1,000 and dozens of threatened law suits. The people suffered for 25 years and then rose in rebellion, the Council then took it in hand and between London and McDonell streets made a new channel into the Town creek at Macdonnell street. The Council made a cement bottom and walled channel and made a new bridge over Macdonnell street and led this turbulent stream into the Town creek west of William Hamilton's foundry. They also went up stream and took the creek from the side of Dounie street where they had foolishly placed it and after buying land on its old natural channel they enclosed it in cement, bottom and sides, and made it straight again as it was before they led it meandering around three sides of a block.

The creek is still a public nuisance and it is for the Council to deal with it as they have with the other creeks. The sooner this is done the better.

Public nuisances are for the public to deal with. No man through whose lands a creek passes is under any obligation to spend a cent on it. Nature placed it there, it may stay in the full enjoyment of its freedom, however mischievous. It is for the Council to deal with it as a public nuisance as they did with other small creeks.

THE FORTY-EIGHTH ANNIVERSARY OF TRINITY METHODIST CHURCH WILL BE CELEBRATED TO-MORROW

The forty-eighth anniversary of Trinity church will be celebrated to-morrow, when Professor A. J. Johnstone, B.A., of Victoria University, Toronto, will be the speaker. A treat is in store for all who attend these services, as Professor Johnstone is a preacher of rare ability. There will be special music at both services.

The present church building was completed and dedicated in 1916 as the successor of the old Charlotte St. church. Charlotte St. church was begun in 1872 and the congregation became an independant congregation in 1884. From its inception in 1872 to the present this church has had a steady and continuous growth, until today Trinity church occupies a leading place among the churches of Eastern Ontario. The present building is perhaps the finest ecclesiastical structure in the Bay of Quinte Conference, while the congregation is one of the largest in the Conference.

The following is the list of the ministers who have been stationed at the Charlotte St. church and Trinity church since 1884, when the congregation became independent:

1884-86—Rev F. H. Wallace M.A., D.D.
1886-87—Rev. T. Towell, D.D.
1887-90—Rev. S. J. Shorey, D.D.
1890-93—Rev. George Edwards.
1893-97—Rev. J. J. Rae.
1897-02—Rev. D. O. Crossley.
1902-06—Rev. W. J. Jollife, L.L.B.
1906-08—Rev. H. M. Manning.
1908-12—Rev. Geo. W. Henderson, D.D.
1912-14 Rev. I J. Mansell.
1914-18—Rev. J. P. Wilson, B.A., D.D.
1918—Rev. F. E. Malott, B.A., B.D.

Since the beginning of the present pastorate 160 new members have been received into the church. Trinity church is entering heartily into the Forward Movement and the present year promises to be one of great prosperity. The congregation will be asked to-morrow for a New Year's thank offering of $600 to meet some exceptional obligations.

Visitors will be welcome at these services.

SAVE THE OLD SHOES

A campaign to be launched by the National Shoe Retailers Association of U.S., estimated to save $600,000,000 by repairing all the old shoes.

Retail Shoe dealers are to be urged, not that new shoes be purchased, but that Old Shoes be dug out of the closets and repaired.

It is said that there are "millions of shoes in the closets of the nation, that, with a little repair, they can be made perfectly serviceable. If people will get out these old shoes it will reduce the shoe bills from more than $1,000,000,000 to $700,000,000."

What is true of the U.S., is true of Canada and of Peterborough. I am splendidly prepared to Repair all kinds of Old Shoes. Dig them out of the Closets and bring them here for a first-class job. We don't cobble Shoes, we Repair them.

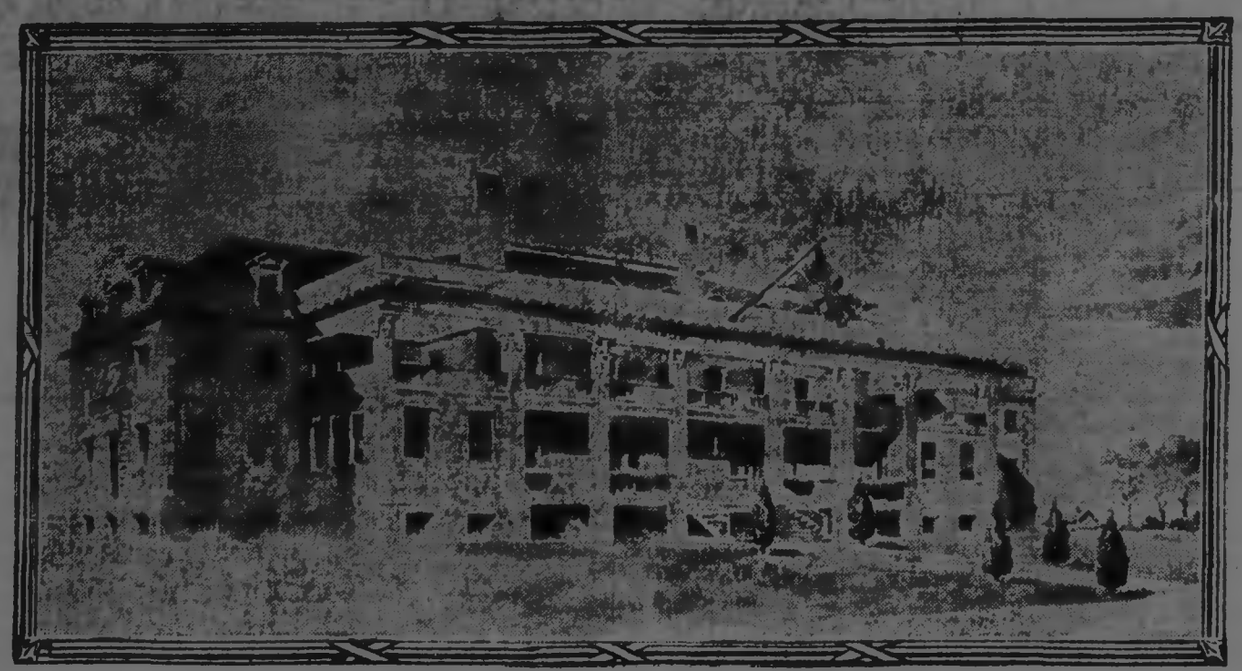
NEW Y.M.C.A. AT CAPREOL



This new $45,000 railway Y.M.C.A., now under construction by Canadian National Railways, will mean much to the inhabitants of the little railway town of Capreol which has sprung up during the last five years, on the main line of Canadian National Railways between Toronto and Winnipeg, and now boasts of a population of between five and six hundred railway employees who with their families have located there. It will provide a community centre where the people may meet together in a social way, and hold meetings and concerts.

The new "Y" will undoubtedly fill a wide gap in the life of Capreol in providing a community centre or club-house, with its library, billiard room writing room, cafeteria and large main hall or rotunda, which could be used to excellent advantage for a lecture, concert, dance or any large community gathering.

The building has a concrete foundation, its outer walls are of brick finished with stucco and the sloped roof is covered with cedar shingles. There is a large lower and upper verandah across the front, supported by a portico of four pillars, and from the centre of the lower verandah one enters through a vestibule into the main rotunda, in the centre of which and opposite the door, is a spacious alcove, is a large brick fireplace. Just to the left of the entrance the manager's room and office is situated, while immediately to the left is the library and reading room. Back of the library, separated from the rotunda by pillars, there is a large billiard room and games room. An open writing room is also provided at the back of the rotunda between the alcove and games room. To the left of the rotunda, between two columns, one enters the dining room or cafeteria, from which through swing doors, access to the kitchen is obtained. The main stairs are situated at the back of the main hall between the kitchen and an alcove, where there is also a street entrance to the building.

A simple treatment of stucco beams with a plain cornice mould and plaster column is used throughout the main floor. The floor is finished with oak, while partitions and trim are of Georgia pine stained and varnished.

On the second floor there are 18 bedrooms, a sick bay, large toilet and bathroom and linen closets, and from the corridors there are exits to four balconies, which may be used as sleeping porches, and would prove useful in case of fire. On the third floor there are also 18 single rooms, a double room, large toilet and linen closets and access to balconies from the corridor.

Provision has also been made for two bowling alleys which will be put in later.

AN IDEAL TONIC FOR WEAK PEOPLE

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS ACT DIRECTLY ON THE BLOOD AND NERVES.

Food is an important to the sick person as medicine, more so in most cases. A badly chosen diet may retard recovery. In health the natural appetite is the best guide to follow; in sickness the appetite is often fickle and depraved.

Proper food and a good tonic will keep most people in good health. Dr. Williams Pink Pills are the most popular tonic medicine in the world, harmless and certain in their action, which is to build up the blood and restore the vitality to the run-down system. For growing girls who become thin and pale, for pale, tired women, and for old people who fail in strength Dr. Williams Pink Pills are an ideal tonic. Thousands of people have testified to the health-giving qualities of Dr. Williams Pink Pills, and in many homes they are the only medicine used. Among the homes in which the benefit of this medicine has been proved is that of Mr. E. A. Underwood, Kingston, Ont., who says:—"I have used Dr. Williams Pink Pills with the most beneficial results. As the result of hard work I was very much run down, and my appetite was very poor. I got a supply of the pills which I used regularly for some weeks with the result that they restored me to my old time strength. They also proved a blessing to my daughter, who was in a very anaemic condition, and who seemed not to get more than temporary relief from any medicine until she took Dr. Williams Pink Pills. She took the pills for about three months, and is now enjoying the best of health. For these reasons I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams Pink Pills."

At the first sign that the blood is out of order take Dr. Williams Pink Pills, and note the speedy improvement they make in the appetite, health and spirits. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CAR HIT COW, THEN HIT POLE

Downeyville Man Sued Owner of Car For Damages.

Judge Swayze of Lindsay has handed down a judgment in a case of interest to Downeyville and Lindsay automobile owners.

Henry Carroll sued Chas. Downey, both of Downeyville, for $60 damages to his car. It appears that Mr. Carroll's car ran into a cow owned by Downey, which was on the road. The car was damaged, especially the stearing gear and other apparatus, and it was claimed to such an extent that a little later on the car piled into a telegraph pole and was put out of commission.

His Honor held that the accident was largely due to negligence on the part of the owner, and dismissed the case.

WARM DEBATE AT FARMERS' MEETING

Special to the Examiner:

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—Very little progress in organizing has been made by the farmers of the Counties of Hull, Pontiac and Labelle. A meeting of delegates from these counties met in Hull yesterday afternoon, and for a time it looked as though the farmers were going to agree to remain separated. However, toward the end of a very warm meeting for the lie was passed during the debate. It was decided that a committee should study the constitutions of the several farmers' organizations in Quebec and make a report at a meeting that will be called before spring. Some of the delegates said yesterday that it looked to them as though the Quebec Government had started one of the farmers' organizations with the intention of eventually causing much discord among farmers that no stable union would result.

CREDIT PENALIZES THE CUSTOMERS

Merchandizing Not a Simple Affair —Poor Merchant Not a Public Asset.

The retail business in this country is in a frightful jumble. There are too many retailers and there are too many misfits among them. The ordinary man thinks conducting a retail store is a simple operation. The contrary is a fact. It requires fine ability and excellent judgment It's a man-sized job and a long, tiresome one, too. The wastes are terrific.

Corporations such as the American Woolen Co. and the Carnegie Steel Co., are not going to stay in the grocery or meat business, but they are going to force retailers to reform their methods and get down to something approaching a business basis. One well-conducted retail store can serve the public better than half a dozen poor ones and can make a fair profit, while the half dozen will have a desperate struggle for existence.

"Cash and Carry" is a sound principle in retailing, but there is too little of it. The retailer who extends credit penalizes the customer who pays cash. The cash customer not only pays for the delay in payment by the credit customer but also for the "dead beat's purchases.

A poor merchant is not much of a public asset. A good merchant is a public asset. Most retailers grade low ordinarily as merchandisers. Sound business is built on quick sales at a moderate margin of profit.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

"Why, Pat," said a visitor to one of Ireland's beauty spots, "there used to be two windmills here."

"Bedad," was the reply, "they took one down to have more wind for t'other."—London Tit-Bits.

HAD TO GO TO BED HEADACHES SO BAD

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS MADE HER WELL

When your liver gets sluggish and inactive, your whole health suffers. Help the liver to resume its proper function by removing the bile that is circulating in the blood and poisoning the system.

Mrs. E. Bainbridge, 30 Maple Ave., Amherst, N.S., writes: "I take pleasure in writing you of the good I received by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for headaches. I was so bad I had to go to bed, and could not sit up. A friend told me about your wonderful medicine, and two vials have made me as well as I can be."

Hens are supplied by nature with 1,200 to 4,000 rudimentary yolks. But a yolk is only half an egg, and a hen won't lay half an egg—it's the whole egg or nothing with her. To lay a whole egg, the hen must have a "white" for a "yolk." If she is to lay 1,000 eggs, her food must supply 1,000 whites as well as 1,000 yolks—she must get "whites" just as she gets meat, bones and feathers—from her feed. Ordinary grain feeds and "mill-mixtures," will fatten a hen and produce yolks, but do not produce enough "whites" to make her lay any more eggs than usual. Only the feeding of Purina Scratch Feed and Purina Chicken Chowder will supply enough elements to make "a white for every yolk," and make a hen LAY MORE EGGS—winter and summer—we guarantee it. The price of Purina Scratch Feed and Purina Chicken Chowder is very little more than ordinary feed, but they make a hen lay so many more eggs that there is no comparison of values. THE GERMANS SURPRISED AT TRIAL LIST OF THE ALLIES

NEW YEAR'S GIFTS TO FATHERLAND FROM ALLIES MAY BE CAUSE OF WRECK OF PRESENT GOVERNMENT—EBERT WILL QUIT COLD—1,200 TO 1,500 MUST SURRENDER.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—The Berlin Government was given a New Year's surprise and shock such as no Government probably ever received. It was the foreshadowed Allied New Year's "wish" for the surrender of more than a thousand German nationals for trial in the courts of France, England and Belgium.

Through the good offices of a certain neutral Government, according to a source of information which hitherto has proved reliable, the German Government received on New Year's Eve a copy of the list which the Allied Powers will present to Berlin soon after peace becomes effective, containing the names of those whose extradition is to be demanded.

A glance at the list almost knocked the Cabinet off its pins, and sent the political barometer in the inner circles of Wilhelmstrasse lower that it has been at any time since the white flag was sent across the firing line to Foch's headquarters on November 11, 1918.

Rather than face the issue called up by such an Allied list, Friedrich Ebert will resign as national president. Only that much leaked into the press, resulting in a semi-official statement, which was no denial that Ebert had made such a statement, but merely declaring an attempt was being made to use it for party political purposes. Whether von Hindenburg and Ludendorff are on the list is not clear, but the impression one gets is that they are, from assertions made by high Government officials that "no troops can ever be got together in Germany who will arrest either of those two."

It is known that General von Boehn who commanded the German troops in the Louvain district when that city was partly destroyed, is on the list.

Foreign correspondents in Berlin have had more or less instructive experiences with the German Government's various performances of "Never, never!" But one gains the impression that this time the Cabinet is doing little talking, but much thinking. Certain members still cling to the belief that the Allies "can be brought to reason," that "it cannot possibly be in the interest of Europe if chaos break out in Germany."

Reports vary as to the exact number of German nationals to be demanded by the Allies; conservative estimates, however, place it between 1,200 and 1,500.

Common People Included.

The feature that is most disconcerting to the Government is that the list is said to include about 300 enlisted men and non-commissioned officers, making the situation much more complicated and difficult because that reaches down among the "common people." It appears certain that the Government entertained the hope that the list would include only officers and officials with whom the mass of the population is not particularly in sympathy—men with whom the people as a whole do not identify themselves, and that therefore the Cabinet might find a way out and still save itself.

But the list unofficially received is said to have dashed that hope. It is so startling that, according to my information, President Ebert, on the following day, let Premier Clemenceau know through indirect and unoffical channels that if this was the official list, the German Government would go to pieces, and that, realizing the utter impossibility of the Government carrying out such a demand he, Ebert, would lay down his office.

The greatest secrecy has been maintained about the alleged recept of an advance copy of the list, but Ebert, the Socialist president, is so aroused, it is whispered in circles close to him, that he could not refrain from expressing in private conversation his determination to resign.

A high official epitomized the view prevailing in Government circles when he said to me this afternoon:

"If the Allies present such a list and press their demand ruthlessly, the present Government will go overboard. The bitter injustice of the surrender clause of the treaty extorted from us is smouldering deeply in the hearts of the German people, and this demand may result in an explosion. Only an Independent Socialist or Commonist Cabinet would have the nerve to attempt to carry out such a demand, and it is doubtful whether even they would risk it."

POLICE TAKE RICH DRAFT-DODGER AFTER FIGHT WITH HIS MOTHER

TWO YEARS OF CONTINENT-WIDE SEARCH ENDS AFTER DOZEN OFFICERS DISARM WOMAN—PRISONER AND BROTHER NOTED AUTO-RACERS.

(Canadian Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 10.—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, wealthy son of a former brewer and charged with being a draft dodger and deserter from the army, was captured here while hiding in the palatial residence of his mother on the outskirts of this city. Tonight he is a prisoner on Governors Island, N.Y., awaiting trial by courtmartial.

The capture of Bergdoll, whose brother, Erwin, the widely-known automobile racer, is still missing, also charged with draft dodging, was as sensational as has been his career in the last five years. More than a dozen federal and city officers participated in the raid on the Bergdoll home.

Resistance was offered by the mother, Mrs. Emma Bergdoll, who threatened to shoot the officers and was disarmed after a rough and tumble fight. Later in the day she was held in $10,000 bail on charges of assault and battery, with intent to kill, and conspiracy to prevent the execution of search warrant and arrest warrants. Bail was furnished by her son-in-law.

When she was compelled to remove her shoe from her left foot to have it measured for police records, the police found $28,000 in cash in her stocking.

Grover Bergdoll disappeared in August, 1917, and search for him as an alleged draft dodger was made all over the United States and Mexico. Several times federal agents searched the three residences maintained by the Bergdolls in this vicinity.

Bergdoll is widely known in automobile racing circles, but never reached the fame of his brother Erwin. He raced in many events throughout the country.

Grover, when he was drafted, is alleged by federal agents to have declared he would never fight against Germany, though he was born in this country. In 1914 he offered his services to Germany as an aviator through the local German consul.

REV. R. J. D. SIMPSON PREACHED AN ELOQUENT SERMON AT TRINITY

A CALL TO SERVICE—THIS WILL BE A MEMORABLE YEAR, SAID REV. F. E. MALOTT.

Last night at the closing series of a week of prayer at Trinity Methodist Church, a stirring message was heard from Rev. R. J. D. Simpson, of Toronto, one of the ablest men in the Methodist Church. Rev. Simpson is a good speaker, and talks "straight from the shoulder."

Rev. F. E. Malott said that he was very pleased to have Rev. Simpson present. Rev. Mr. Malott and Rev. Simpson were old college chums. We have all looked forward to this meeting for some time, added Mr. Malott. "This is a memorable month in a memorable year, and 1920 will be a memorable year in Methodism."

Rev. Mr. Simpson.

There is just one theme I feel worthy to speak on, said Rev. Mr. Simpson, and that is the United National Campaign, which is an Inter-Church Forward Movement and how it applies to us. This movement is perhaps the biggest thing in our lives. Rev. Simpson told his audience briefly what the campaign was. "It is an attempt on the part of the five co-operating Churches to put the Churches on the basis of highest possible efficiency."

The speaker referred to the pledges made in the great war; how Edward Grey pledged every man and every dollar, and how President Wilson pledged the complete mobilization of the nation. "They both took the war seriously," continued the speaker, and every other consideration became of secondary importance. Since the beginning of the world another and far greater war has been waged—the war against evil. Rev. Simpson spoke on how God Almighty had challenged Satan and how Jesus had taken up the challenge afterwards. Has the Church ever taken her task as seriously as Great Britain or the United States did?

Need For Men.

The speaker referred to the need for men. "The missionaries asked for thousands of workers and we give them hundreds. But now the five co-operating Churches are going to take their task seriously and be put on a war basis." One great thing is needed, Rev. Simpson said, and that is a hearty spirit of co-operation. Denominational loyalty is needed, but the danger in excessive loyalty is that we fail to appreciate the others. The Churches have been more competitive than co-operative, said the speaker. The Kingdom of God is bigger than mere denominationalism—that is the first thing to remember.

"Who is to Blame?"

The second thing is that a spirit of enthusiastic service is needed. "There is a task for every man, woman and child, and the King looks for it, but there is no place in the army of God for slackers. Speaking of the need for men, he said: "Canadian Methodism needs five hundred men, and other Churches are likewise concerned. Who is to blame? Is it the Church? Is it the home? Have we ministers put anything in the way of the volunteers? God forgive any mother or father who would put anything in the way of a son or daughter entering the service of God.

Rev. Simpson spoke of how Christian parents had given their sons to the King out would not give them to the King of Kings. But nevertheless we are succeeding, said the speaker, and gave illustrations of how the young men were volunteering to serve Christ.

Wealthy Country.

There is just one other thing, he said. The King also asks us for our substance. Rev. Simpson referred to our beautiful and wealthy country and how God has smiled on us. "But there is one danger before us, let us not consecrate worldly substance, for it all belongs to God."

The appeal is made to give our money, and if we are taking the job seriously we will give until it is really a sacrifice, for the campaign will not be a success unless we do have to make sacrifices. We must thank God that you and I have an opportunity to take part in the greatest religious movement of modern times.

Rev. F. E. Malott.

Rev. Malott expressed his appreciation for Rev. Simpson in bringing the great message, and said that Trinity Church would do its share in the Forward Movement Campaign.

Music was given by Trinity Church choir, and Mrs. G. H. King sang "I want to see Jesus" with a touching appeal that reached the hearts of all of her listeners.

The meeting closed with the benediction by Rev. Mr. Neville.

How to Bathe Face To Remove Wrinkles

Since its remarkable astringent and tonic properties became known, clever women all over the country have been using the saxolite face bath to "tone up" their faces, remove wrinkles and draw flabby cheeks and neck back to normal. After using the solution, the face immediately feels much firmer. The skin tightens evenly all over the face, thus reducing lines and sagginess. The formula is: Powdered saxolite, one ounce, dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint.

These ingredients are of course perfectly harmless and there is no difficulty in obtaining them at any drug store.

M'CUTCHEON STORY FOR PEGGY HYLAND

Peggy Hyland in the well-known story, "Cowardice Court," by George Barr McCutcheon, will be the feature of the bill at the Grand Theatre Monday and Tuesday. The production, which was made by William Fox, is said to follow very closely the theme of Mr. McCutcheon's book, including the feud between rival rich families in the Adirondacks, the meeting in the haunted house, and the heroine's flight from home at night, in a tremendous storm, to the house of the owner of the adjoining estate.

A great many people see in "Cowardice Court" a satire on the idle rich, and the photoplay is said to emphasize the delicate vein of humor through which the peculiarties of the principal characters are developed. An English lord married to an American girl; a duke and a count who make love to all the married women; a Chinese cook and an English girl and an American youth are the chief types.

The hostess is served first at a Mexican table.

WANTED INVENTIONS

AN interesting and encouraging thing about these fortune producing inventions is that most of them are of ordinary or minor value in themselves. If you have a notion that you must invent a big thing to make money, get rid of it at once. Many of the Patents that have made their inventors millionaires are those which contained very few entirely new ideas.

The simplest ideas have earned fortunes for their patentees. The safety razor, the military drinking cup, the hump hairpin, the demountable tire rim—any of these could have been invented by a man of average ability. In your every day life, at home, at your office, in your shop you handle any number of articles that are subject to improvement. If you can think of a way of improving some article or process already in use, or if you can invent a new useful device or process or article of manufacture, you are on the road to fortune. SPECIAL MEETINGS TO CONTINUE IN ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

Rev. R. J. M. Glassford, who has assisted in the services in connection with the Week of Prayer in St. Paul's Church, will preach in the church at both services to-morrow. The meetings will also be continued during the week under his leadership. His messages have been greatly appreciated by those who have attended. He preaches the old truths of the Gospel with freshness and power. His message last night dealt wit hthree great words as they relate themselves to the beginning of the Christian life—the words fact, faith, and feeling. The great facts which lie back of faith and feeling are man's need of a Saviour, his fallen and helpless condition, the fact that he is under condemnation on account of his sin, and then the fact that Jesus Christ died for his sin. Faith was to forsake all and to take Christ as Saviour, Master, and Friend. It implied the repose of one's soul in the love of God as it is revealed in Christ. When one has done this he has passed from death unto life. He is saved from sin's condemnation, and shall never come into judgment on account of it. "There is therefore now no judgment to them who are in Christ Jesus." The one who believes this has peace and joy. "Being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ." It is only after one has believed and has gone along in the way of Christ that the feeling of safety and security comes, and hence the full joy of believing.

The messages of Mr. Glassford have been helped by the singing of a Gospel solo on Thursday night by Mrs. R. W. F. Davidson and last night by Mrs. Frank Ellis.

LARGE NUMBER ON THE WAITING LIST AT BUREAU.

Due to the demands o fthe Department concerning the Soldiers Aid fund, which requires that every man applying for the fund must register for work, the number on the waiting list at the Government Employment Bureau is larger this week than at any former time since the opening. To a great extent the returned men who have applied for the fund are perfectly willing to work if suitable employment can be obtained. The actual requirements for receiving the money are not clearly understood and the usual number of men who will take all that is coming are on hand even to those who are receiving vocational training.

At the Bureau this week 66 new applications were received, 50 men referred to positions and 44 actually placed. Four were shipped out of the city. In the female department two domestics who applied for work were immediately placed but two women an accountant and book-keeper are on file.

PETERBOROUGH'S EXHIBITION ASSURED OF PROGRESS

Peterboro the Board of Trade played an important part.

"I am glad to say we had a Board of Trade last year. I don't think we had one before" observed the Mayor.

The next speaker to this toast was Councillar Nicholls of North Monaghan who congratulated President Denne and the directors for the success of the Peterboro Exhibition. Ald. J. J. Turner who was the next speaker said that Peterboro had just closed a strenuous year and was suffering from growing pains. Peterboro possesses everything necessary to a growing city, what is needed is men of faith and opinion and in ten years the population of the city would be doubled.

The speaker referred to the park recently purchased by the city. This Mr. Turner regarded as one of the best purchases made by the city in its history. He suggested that the City Trust Commission take over the park and develope its natural beauty with the surplus funds they possess. A portion of the park could be used for winter and summer sports. The speaker concluded with a stirring tribute to the work accomplished by the Exhibition Board under the administration of President Denne.

Ald. H. Gainey closed the toast with a reference to the work of the Council. He assured the directors of his support to the Fair. Ald. Gainey agreed with Mr. Hooper's suggestion that half of King Edward Park he sold and the money invested in purchasing the Exhibition grounds. Referring to his experience in the Council he expressed this opinion that the men who were conducting the city's affairs should receive some renumeration for their work, for the time they lost from their own business.

In Connection with the Exhibition he suggested that the manufacturers could help materially by giving their workers a half holiday on one of the days of the fair, at the same time not deducting anything from the men's wages for their time.

Mr. R. Turner remarked in reply that the sound success of the Exhibition would be furthered by the sacrifices not only of farmers and business men but also of the workingmen, who had in the past splendidly helped the Exhibition by their attendance, and had given ample proof of their interest in the Exhibition and desire to share in making it a success.

The Parliaments.

Mr. G. O. Cameron proposed the toast of the Dominion and Provincial Parliaments said that Peterboro was not only an industrial centre but also the centre of a great agricultural district. For that reason the Exhibition should be given a Dominion wide reputation. Another need this rural community feels was a winter fat stock show. Years ago the Ontario Agricultural College which was finally established at Guelph was for a time considered for this county. The site contemplated comprised the Walker and Snowden farms in North Monaghan. If that was projected years ago it was surely just that Peterboro should press a claim for the proposed agricultural school for Eastern Ontario.

J. A. Sexsmith, M.P.

Mr. Sexsmith promised that if there was anything he could do to assist the grand work represented by Mr Denne he would be glad of the opportunity to help. He was grateful for the opportunity of meeting so many of the citizens of Peterboro and farmers from the townships nearby. It was a pleasure to observe this evidence of unity between the city and country people. Today as always unity was of first importance to the community and the state, unity of farmers and citizens, labours and manufacturers.

Mr. Sexsmith eulogized the Dominion Parliament and declared that on both sides of the Speaker of the House the members were striving earnestly and honestly to give Canadians good Government. Their duties demanded their attentions night and day. Never in the history of the Empire had the Parliaments such arduous and onerous tasks as those that had confronted them in recent years. The Parliament of Canada can accomplish just what the people help them to accomplish. In my public life I have tried to follow the dictates of my conscience. I would ask you one and all to put your shoulder to the wheel and help him. Its a great work, the development of that Exhibition, and if we work optimistically and energetically we may feel sure of success.

Mr. T. Tooms, M.L.A.

Mr. Tooms said he responded to this toast with some diffidence. He occupied the unique position of being the first Labour representative from West Peterboro to the Provincial parliament. He assured the citizens that the interest of Peterboro were paramount with him, and said he wished to disabuse the minds of those who were prone to regard him as red hot Bolshevik. He acknowledged his appreciation of the confidence of Premier Drury who he said was a man of sound judgment and common sense.

"I also wish to express Labour's appreciation of securing two new portfolios in the Cabinet, the ministry of Labour and that of Mines. These are actual facts not promises We are determined that our natural resources shall receive the attention they have deserved. The policy of the Government will be to work these resources for all they are worth."

Referring to the fact that Peterboro county was represented by a Labour man and the U.F.O. member Mr. McDonald, Mr. Tooms considered that nothing but the best results could accrue from this partnership.

"The Exhibition should be the true indicator of the progress of this county. Every manufacturer should exhibit at it and every citizen should make it a point to attend.

"I wish the Exhibition every success. Its progress redounds to the credit of the directors."

Sam Staples, M.L.A.

Mr. Staples, the U.F.O. member for East Durham said he was commonly known as "Sammy the Kid," but he made a snappy and a thoughtful speech, touching upon some of the problems before the Government and the people. He commended the Exhibition Board for its progressiveness and promised every help he could render, stating that the success of Peterboro's Fair would react to the interest of the farmers in the neighbouring county.

Mr. R. R. Hall.

In proposing the toast of the Peterboro Industrial Exhibition, Mr. R. R. Hall complimented Mr. Denne upon his leadership of the Exhibition Board and the enterprise that had characterized his work.

"You and your co-directors are to be congratulated upon the fairs of the last two years especially. The Exhibition deserves the heartiest co-operation of all the citizens. It means much for the welfare of the entire community. The farmers can do nothing better than to meet their friends in the friendly competition of their stock and farm products. It costs just as much to raise a runt of a cow as it does to raise a thoroughbred. The one is fit only to feed the crows, the others is a great asset to the farmers. The Exhibition stimulates production which is essential to the people at this time. Canada's wilful waste means Eurbpe's woe. By developing oup rown resources we are not only helping ourselves but we are helping to solve the dreadful problems in Europe. Our waste adds tha much more woe to the cups that are being carried to the lips of millions of people in Europe."

W. R. Breyfogle,

Replying to this toast, Mr. Breyfogle aroused the gathering by announcing that twenty-six manufacturers of this city would each have a representative exhibit at the 1920 Fair. The Exhibition, he said, was a proving ground for the products of the farm and of the city's industries. The Exhibition Board was doing a real service in the community spirit it was fostering between the people of the city and the country. The farmers were real workers and were largely responsible for the renewal the Exhibition grounds had undergone in the last two years.

Harry G. Webber.

"Anything that will seal the unity between the city and the country deserves all the support the people can give it," said Mr. Webber. "The Exhibition has arrived at the stage where it must either go forward or rest on its oars, but by us all pulling together we can carry it forward."

Mr. Webber testified to the spirit of co-operation that prevailed among the directors even under difficulties that often caused worries.

Rev. Father Phelan.

Rev. Father Phelan briefly reviewed the history of the Exhibition, after he had referred to the fact that he and Rev. Benj. Greatrix were representatives of the clergy on the Board. Established in 1845 as the Peterborough Agricultural Society, with the object of improving the stock, cattle, and the implements of the farmers of those days, it had never lost its identity.

"All of us in the city and county should be permeated with the idea of building up Peterborough," Father Phelan said. "We ask for the encouragement of the citizens in building up the Industrial Exhibition. Whether it becomes a Dominion or a Provincial Exhibition, it will become whatever you want it. You are here to do your bit in that work. Speak the good word among your fellow-citizens, and I am sure we shall be able to congratuate ourselves if we ever have the pleasure of meeting in this way again."

Vincent Eastwood.

Mr. Eastwood spoke of the splendid opportunity that is given to Canadians to-day through the world's demands for this country's products. There was urgent need for greater efficiency in all lines of work, and he believed that there was room, too, for improvement in agriculture. The people were led to believe that many farmers had plenty of land, but were farming it only in a small way. This suggested a big opportunity of bettering the conditions of farming.

"We have a word market," he added, "and have therefore a ready solution for the problem of paying off our debts."

The Ladies.

Mr. Fred Roy and Mr. John Gillespie, who respectively proposed the toast of The Ladies, acknowledged the directors' gratitude to those ladies who by their interest and help had contributed to the success of the Fair, and also referred to the unfailing attendance of so many ladies year after year.

"Our Host."

Ald. Phelan proposed a toast to Mr. Denne, which was enthusiastically honoured.

In reply, Mr. Denne requested a final word to thank everybody who had been faithfully helping the directors through the present years. "I want to thank the citizens and farmers, the City and County Councils, and the Board of Trade. I should like to see a manufacturing building on the grounds. The Retail Merchants might also consider a building of their own. We could then take care of the grand stand enlargement, and could get a cow barn big enough for our needs, and also for a winter rink for the South End. I thank the directors. We have a real bunch of fellows on that board. Our meeting is on 21st January, and every man who can put up a dollar can come there and vote us all out if they wish to. We want more real men and workers."

The Guests.

"St. Jacobs Liniment" stops any pain at once. It is harmless and doesn't burn or discolour the skin.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) from any druggist, pour it into a 16-oz bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

HIGH PRICES ON TORONTO MARKET

FARMERS IGNORED THE HIGH PRICE QUOTATIONS POSTED UP.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Jan. 10.—It was information that the superintendent of the St. Lawrence market gave to the patrons of that place this morning. The twelve fair price slates were brought into action again and each bore the following heavily chalked inscription: "New-laid eggs, U.F.O. prices, 80c. per dozen." Undaunted by this message, Madame Farmer still persisted in her old methods of sale and some were even asking as high as $1.20, while for the most part the prevailing price was $1.10 and $1.00. Towards the close of the market, however, there was an appreciable decline and many vendors were quite willing to take something approaching the figure indicated on the boards.

HIGH SCHOOL CLASS WAS RE-ORGANIZED

At a supper held in the Y.M.C.A. last evening the High School Club was reorganized for the year 1920. Last year's programme of a supper each Friday night followed by a short talk by some man prominent in his profession on the opportunities which that profession offers a young man will be followed. About sixteen boys were present at the reorganization supper and from the enthusiasm shown there seems to be every prospect of a successful year. The following officers were elected:

President—A. H. McClure.
Vice-Pres.—N. Rishor.
Secretary—H. G. Mason.
Treasurer—K. A. Kirn.

OSHAWA'S NEW THEATRE.

Oshawa is to have a fine new theatre that will have a seating capacity of 1,500, in which it is said the highest type of motion pictures will be shown and vaudeville performances will also be given.

BASEBALL

Dowie Bush was a long time signing his contract a year ago, but there will be no holding out this year. Bush had agreed to terms before 1919 faded out.

Eddie Collins rises to remark that he has not the least ambition to accept the responsibility of managing a big league club until his playing days are over, and he adds that he expects to keep on playing for a few years. Collins makes his position clear because he has been mentioned as likely to succeed Kid Gleason.

Dave Robertson, somewhat disappointed over the showing which he made after joining the Cubs last season, writes from his home in Norfolk, Va., that he is taking light exercise and hopes to make 1920 his best year in baseball.

All major league players have received contracts for next season or notice from their clubs that the option on their services for 1920 will be exercised. Owners sending word about the option have until Feb. 1 to extend contracts.

Connie Mack is of the opinion that the friction which has developed in Harry Wolter, who played an outfield position for the Yankees in the old Hilltop days, is still good enough to hold a position in the top minor league society. Wolter will be with the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast League next season.

the American League will die a natural death when the club owners settle down to the serious task of making the 1920 season a big success.

Nick Altrock is to perform in two leagues this year. After the close of the American eague campaign Nick is to be loaned to the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast League to show his funny antics along the Coast League circuit.

Joe Guyon, a member of the noted family of Indian athletes, who was a star with the Georgia Tech football team two seasons back, has signed with the Atlanta club of the Southern Association for the coming season.

There is a possibility that the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago White Sox will engage in a series of games on the way north from their training camps next Spring. The Sox will train in Texas and the Pirates at Hot Springs, Ark.

Bill Hinchman, the Pittsburgh veteran, who was carried on the reserve list of the Pirates last season though he was out of the game, has been waived out of the majors and is said to be slated for Columbus in a trade for Dave Danforth.

Slim Sallee, who thought so much of his farm a year ago that he threatened to retire unless he could be close to the farm, has changed his mind and sold the property. He plans to leave Higginsport, Ohio, and make his home in Kentucky.

Some of the Chicago Cubs, including Catcher Bill Killefer, intend to go to Hot Springs early in February to do some conditioning before the Cubs set out for their Pasadena camp, on Feb. 28.

PETERBORO WRESTLER WILL MEET GEORGE WALKER IN A FEW WEEKS

EUGENE HURTUBISE WILL TACKLE A WELL-KNOWN OTTAWA GRAPPLER.

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—Geo. Walker, the well known Ottawa grappler, has taken up the challenge for a bout sent him by Eugene Hurtubise, of Peterborough through the sporting editor of the Journal newspaper. Walker accepted the Peterboro wrestler's challenge last night which calls for a bout here to a finish. Hurtubise will post a forfeit of $200.00 with the sporting editor of the Journal, according to his telephone message to Ottawa demanding the privilege of meeting Walker.

The bout will likely be staged here early after Walker's match with 'Irish' John McLaughlin, which is billed for next Wednesday night in Ottawa. From this angle it looks as though the Peterborough grappler will have to travel at high speed to take the measure of Walker, who claims the middle-weight honors of Canada. He weights in at about 165 pounds, considerably less than Hurtubise, who tips the scales at considerably over 200 pounds, it is claimed. Walker has been wrestling quite a lot of late and is in fine shape for a bout with the Peterborough man.

AUBURNS AND TOOL ROOM ARE WINNERS IN OPENING GAMES OF CITY LEAGUE

The C.G.E. Tool-room and the Canadian Woollens were the winning teams in the opening games of the City Hockey League at Brock street rink last night, the Tool-room beating the Peteborough Business College by 13 goals to 2, while Jerry Coughlin's Woolen men triumphed over the Belmont Club by 9 to 3. A big crowd of fans saw the games and enjoyed the night's sport. The League should have a most interesting and successful season, although the majority of those who saw last night's doubleheader believe that a mistake was made in adopting seven man hockey. After a couple of years of the six man stuff, the extra two men on the ice seem to clutter up the ice.

The Tool-room outfit had little difficulty in carrying off the honors in the first game. They were ahead 2 to 0 at the end of the first period and 7 to 1 at the finish of the second, banging in six goal to one in the closing session. They had a big edge on the Business College in speed, stick-handling and shooting, but the losers deserved credit for fighting it out until the last whistle and for never stopping trying. The checking was hard and none too clean and upsets were plentiful.

Tool-room trotted out a good team. Frank Barrie, the former Peterborough junior O.H.A. player, was the pick of the squad, doing some fine stick-handling, and Leith Bartley and Alex. Butcher were always useful and effective. Dugan and Helson formed a strong defence.

For the losers, Field was probably the most effective, although the whole squad tried hard to hold the speedy garnet and gray outfit.

The teams were as follows:

Befree—"Banty" Evans.

The second game was a much better exhibition than the first. The Canadian Woollen team won handily, although the heavier Belmont team gave them a hard battle in the first two periods. The Auburn gang were ahead 3 to 2 at the first breathing spell, and 5 to 3 when the second twenty minutes had expired. They had a wide margin in the last session, finding the nets four times, while the Belmont Club failed to register.

With the veteran Legros in the nets, and Jimmy McMartin and Tudhope in front of him, Canadian Woollens showed a good defence, while the pony forward line gave a fine display of speed, stick-handling and combination. "Gamey" and "Freddie" Graham and "Micky" Williams starred on the attack, playing very unselfishly, and beating the Belmont defence time after time, although they threw chances by wild shooting when close in.

For the Belmont Club, Jack Gillespie of last year's juniors, was easily the star. His accurate shooting kept Legros busy, while he was all over the ice breaking up the Auburn attacks. Thirnbeck also played good hockey, and Darling in the nets had some fine stops to his credit.

The teams were:

Referee—"Banty" Evans.

ERNEST CURRELL WAS RELEASED

Death Watch of Frank McCullough, Slayer of Det. Williams, Released —"Dead Issue," Says Judge.

TORONTO, Jan. 9.— Ernest Currell, death watch over Frank McCullough, when he escaped from Toronto jail last April, while the condemned man was awaiting execution was arrainged and discharged a free man, at his re-trial before Judge Coatsworth in the Sessions yesterday

Upon appeal through his counsel, Hugh John Macdonald, the Second Divisional Appelate Court, Osgoode Hall, allowed same and ordered a new trial, ruling that the jury had been wrongly charged by the judge in summing up.

There is no further evidence except that brought out at the former trial," said Crown Attorney Greer.

In view of the fact that the jury had last June returned a verdict of guilty" on the second, that of "voluntion," on the first count, that of "rescuing and assisting," and "not guilty" on thesecond, that of "voluntarily an intentionally permitting to escape," His Honor thought that Currell had already undergone sufficient punishment and discharge the prisoner without opening up the new trial. "The matter is a dead issue, anyway," concluded His Honor.

FIDDLERS THREE

AT THE GRAND, WEDNESDAY, JAN. 14th, MAKING MUSICAL COMEDY SEEM REAL

Tavie Belge Tells How She Does It.

Since the first two actors played the first play, there have been two different opinions as to the truer and more artistic method by which the characters in a drama may be projected across the footlights. The famous difference of opinion between Coquelin and Irving is our modern example of that vexatious problem. It will be remembered that the great English actor declared that unless the player "felt" the part and so closely identified himself with the sufferings and heartaches of it he would be unable to convince the audience of the realty of the picture. Coquelin held to the theory that the actor was the "interpreter" of the character rather than the character itself and just so far as the actor lost himself in the mimic woes and joys of the creature of the playwright's imagination, so far did he render himstlf mentally unfit to properly interpret the character.

The puzzle comes more complicated when we invade the realm of comic opera characterization. We know that in the human life there are men and women who are quite as grotesque as those drawn by the satirical librettist and for that reason the impersonation of a comic opera hero, heroine or buffon, may be as carefuly conceived and executed as the most conscientious actor would attempt a more legitimate bit of characterization. But the one great difficulty in taking seriously the realty of the character in a musical play lies in the inability of the ordinary actor or actress to believe that no matter how far fetched and romantic a human being it may be, he is likely to stop in the middle of a conversation with a lady and burst into song.

It was Miss Tavie Belge, whose singing of Anina is one of the charming features of "Fiddlers Three" coming to the Grand, for Wednesday, Jan. 14th who offered a solution of the difficulty. Miss Belge, who spent most of her youth in the society of the leading art spirits of Belgium and France, who from her sixteenth year until the German sacking of Antwerp, was a favorite prima donna of the Royal Opera House of that city, naturally takes the French or Coquelin point of view and believes that the actor should stand off from the picture he is drawing and at no time identify himself with the part but rather be the critical observer, the interpreter.

"My original ambition has been along dramatic rather than operatic lines, and it is for that reason that I take seriously even the lightest of characters in the musical plays. At first it was rather difficult for me to seriously attempt an analysis of so obviously a stage type as the singing heroine in the light opera, but I cannot do anything that I am unable to believe in and so I set to work to find a reason for the seeming inanity of the women who after saying she was sad would straightway begin to sing about it. I daresay I may not make my method clear to others, but it may be interesting from a psychological viewpoint. I finally evolved a system. It is briefly this: I fancy myself as the author of the character I am playing, my impersonation is the story and the songs are the pictures, the illustrations. I fear that I express my meaning poorly and I do not offer it as the proper approach to the study of actinc: it is just my individual way of making an unreal situation seem real. I am genuinely in love with Anina in "Fiddlers Three" for Mr. William Cary Duncan has managed somehow to give even her singing moments an air of realty and the warmth and color of the local needs but little aid from my imagination to make me believe that real joy and real sorrow may even realistically expressed through the medium of song.

FAIR AND WARMER

So great was the success of "Fair and Warmer," the Avery Hopwood farce of Temperature and Temperament, which Spaeth & Company will present at the Grand, Wednesday, Jan. 21st, that before it had reached its first hundredth performance at the Harris Theatre, in New York, there was a demand for it from every quarter of the country, and its fame had been carried from coast to coast and from the Gulf to Canada by the out-of-town members of its capacity audiences.

Its success was so instantaneous and so unceasing during its year in New York, that a nation-wide interest was created. It will come here with a typical Spaeth & Company cast of excellent farceurs, who will give the fullest flavor to the Hopwood lines and situations.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

It is said that only once has a dramatic entertainment been accorded a public endorsement by a President of the United States. This happened in the case of "Friendly Enemies" the greatest of all dramatic successes which A. H. Woods will present at the Grand on Saturday, Jan. 17th, for an engagement of Matinee and Evening. Here is the President's endorsement—"All that I can say has already been said most admirably in this beautiful play. All the sentiments I could express have been admirably represented sentiments that I hope, will soon grip the world."

HEALTH FOR THE BABY

The baby of today is the man or woman of tomorrow. Thus the success of the future man or woman depends upon the baby's present welfare. If the baby is sickly and ill nourished it is not to be expected that he will grow into a strong, active man who will hold his own in the business world a few years hence. Mothers it is a duty you owe the future to keep your little ones well now. This can be easily done if Baby's Own Tablets are kept in the house. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach and thus make baby healthy and strong. Concerning them Mrs. W. Orser, Elginburg, Ont., writes:—"I have a fine healthy boy three years and have used Baby's Own Tablets for him ever since he was a small baby. I certainly think them a splendid medicine." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

KONEK AND BAHRI INFORMED TO-DAY THERE IS NO HOPE

BAHRI REACTED EMOTIONALLY TO THE ANNOUNCEMENT—KONEK THE STOIC WAS UNMOVED.

The decision of the Minister of Justice as published exclusively in the Examiner yesterday, was communicated to the Russian prisoners at the jail this morning, by the jailer, Mr. Henderson Nesbit.

The commutation of their sentences to life imprisonment was a great relief to Sam Zaluski, Alex. Martinuque and Philip Rotinski. It was evident however that these men had built up hopes of a comparatively short sentence of perhaps ten or fifteen years, and while in the main they were more than satisfied with the clemency granted by the Department of Justice there was an evidence of keen disappointment that their penalty was imprisonment for life.

Rev. Canon Davidson, who visited them this morning, said that he had tried to explain to these men that they could earn parole by good conduct and that their terms might not be so long as they appeared now.

Exemplary Prisoners.

"They have all been exemplary prisoners," Canon Davidson continued. "Koney is a stoic and showed but slight signs of emotion this morning. Bahri, the Austrian, is rather temperamental. He is the most intelligent of the five. He took the news badly. From the time of his trial up to the present he has maintained that he has been unjustly condemned. He realizes that he was sentenced to death as the chief conspirator and the leader of the band that went to Havelock that night but he declares that he did not organize them—did not carry a revolver, and was placed in a false light by the evidence at the trial."

Mr. Nesbitt said that the two men who have abandoned hope had acted about the same as usual.

Canon Davidson expressed by gesture that he had been deeply affected by his interview with the men this morning.

"I think Bahri's statement should be given to the public. That is why I have spoken of this. These men are members of the Russian Orthodox church, which is a branch of the Greek church. Rev. Michael Lototsky, the priest of the Russian church in Toronto, will be here on Tuesday. He has previously met the men."

Canon Davidson remarked that Mr. C. N. Gordon had been most kind and attentive to the Russians, and had left nothing undone for their comfort.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Hall stated that the three men whose sentences have been commuted will be taken to Kingston, probably on Monday. The hangman Ellis, is expected here probably on the same day or on Tuesday and the preparations for the double execution will be speedily completed.

DISPUTE OVER A TABLE CLOTH

CASE HEARD IN COURT THIS MORNING.

Mr. P. G. Walker, of Indian River, appeared before Magistrate Langley this morning on a charge of stealing a table cloth from Mrs. Borland. It was disclosed that there was some dispute between the accused and Mr. Borland as to the knitting of some socks, and apparently to get even after the dispute, Walker pulled the table cloth off the table and made off with it after a struggle with one of Mrs. Borland's boarders. After the case had been presented, the accused pleaded guilty, and Mr. B. D. Hall, counsel for Walker, made a strong plea for leniency.

The Magistrate gave the accused a severe warning and then, in view of the fact that there was no premeditated crime, imposed a fine of $10 and costs with the return of the table cloth. Mrs. Borland was represented by Mr. Joseph Wearing.

POLICE BARRACKS WERE ATTACKED THURSDAY NIGHT

(Canadian Press.)

DUBLIN, Jan. 10—The Police Barracks, six miles from the village of Tuam, Galway County, were attacked on Thursday evening by a large party of men, according to reports reaching this city.

The attacking party, said to have numbered about one hundred men, besieged the barracks, firing repeated rifle volleys, which riddled the doors and smashed nearly all the windows.

During the fight, two or three bombs were thrown, one wall being demolished and one police sergeant being slightly wounded.

The occupants of the barracks returned the fire of the assailants.

Two bold mail robberies—one near Limerick and the other near Mullingar, were reported on Friday.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson of this city. They were attended by Mr. John L. Thompson and Miss Francis Thompson, brother and sister of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. McGroarty will reside at 165 Stewart street.

SPICER—PENROSE.

On Monday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock Knox church was the scene of a very pretty wedding when Mabel Frances Penrose was united in marriage to George Alfred Spicer, Rev. J. A. MacKenzie officiating. The bride who was unattended, entered the church on the arm of her father, Mr. John Penrose, and looked very pretty in a becoming suit of nigger brown broadcloth with seal trimming and hat to match. The wedding march was played by Mr. Walden, organist of Knox church.

The bride, who had, up to the time of her marriage, been a prominent member of Knox church choir, was the recipient of many handsome and costly presents, amongst which were a silver casserole, the gift of the choir, and a leather bound hymn book from the Session. The groom's gift was a pearl necklace with diamond clasp. Immediately after the wedding the young couple left by the 3.20 train for Toronto, where they will reside at 42 Abbott avenue.

COMMENT ON THE TREATY

RATIFICATION FAILS TO ELICIT ANY EXPRESSIONS OF JOY FROM LONDON PRESS.

THE PEACE LEAGUE

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Ratification of the Treaty of Versailles fails to elicit any expressions of joy from the London press. Editorials in this morning's newspapers express at best qualified satisfaction, while some journals strike a distinctly doleful note.

"It is no time of triumph or soaring hopes," says the Telegraph which, giving some reasons for its troubled view, adds; "Omission of America's signature to the ratifying document stands for bitter disappointment of the hope that glowed with the promise for humanity a year ago. It is true the League of Nations exists by the terms of the treaty, but the world knows, unless and until the United States adheres to the League and participates in its actions not a tithe of usefulness and moral authority it should possess will belong to it."

The lowest temperature last night was 5 degrees above zero. To-day is bright and clear, and while sharp is an ideal Canadian winter day. Automobile Dealer Secures Big Order

GOVERNMENT ORDER FOR $100,000 WORTH OF AUTOMOBILES WENT TO A CONSTITUENT IN HON. F. C. BIGGS CONSTITUENCY —REFUSES TO REVEAL AMOUNT OF COMMISSION.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Jan. 12.—Len Parkin, the Dundas automobile dealer and constituent in the riding of the Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Public Works, who has received an order for $100,000 worth of motor trucks, refuses to tell what commission he will receive from the transaction.

"It has been suggested that your profits will be $15,000."

"The Government don't know, you don't know, and further, you are not going to know," was his answer.

In reply to other questions, Mr. Parkin declared that he had known Mr. Biggs for eight or nine years. "I am no more friendly with him than I am with you," he said over the telephone. "Our acquaintance has been no more than that of a business acquaintance."

"Have you sold him other automobiles?" he was asked.

"I don't think that that has anything to do with it," came the answer.

Mr. Parkin continued: "This proposition has been a decent one. There has been no crooked work, and nothing but a legitimate transaction has taken place. I am prepared if necessary, to go before any Government officials and explain it if necessary; but those who are talking about the matter now don't know the ins and outs of the thing."

"I don't play politics, and the last vote I cast was for G. P. Wilson, the Unionist candidate in the 1917 election."

"Didn't you vote in the Ontario election?" —"No."

"Did you ever get any Government business before?"—"No."

"How did you happen to secure this contract?"

"A letter was sent out asking for the tenders. I gave my price, and then received the order. All the other firms had the same chance."

"Did you see Mr. Biggs any time during the transactions?"—"No."

"Was the letter asking for tenders a personal letter to you or a general one?"

"It was a general letter."

"Will you make public the text of it?"

"No. You can get it from the Department if you want it."

"Why did not the contract come through the Grace Motors of Toronto?"

"Because I am the wholesale distributor for Dundas, Hamilton, and Niagara Falls."

MAYOR-ELECT A. A. McINTYRE.

Ald. Hamilton Heads the Bridge Committee

WORKING ORGANIZATION OF THE COUNCIL FORMED AT INAUGURAL MEETING THIS MORNING —QUICK CHANGE IN THE HOUR PRIOR TO MEETING.

ALD. TURNER FOR FINANCE

In the swift flux of events at the City Hall this morning, George H. Duncan terminated a long and faithful service in administering the public affairs, crowned by two successful years as Mayor. William H. Taylor, who had also contributed his share in carrying on the city's affairs, was Mayor-elect until 10.30 o'clock, when the honours he has borne since New Year's Day were passed on to A. A. McIntyre, who was elected Mayor by City Clerk Armstrong, and half an hour later assumed that position at the inaugural meeting of the Council. The Mayoral mantle flourished a quick change in the hour from ten until eleven o'clock, and at that hour the suspense of uncertainty lifted when Mayor McIntyre faced the new Council, called it to order, and opened the business for what offers every indication of being a big and busy year.

Ex-Mayor Duncan occupied a seat on the dias, and at Mayor McIntyre's invitation, addressed the Council a valedictory of advice.

"It is a pleasure to think that the contest is over," said the retiring Mayor. "It must have been a trying position for the two candidates, and I suppose they are pleased too. You have a Council, Mr. Mayor, that you should be proud of, and it will not be your fault nor their fault if together you don't make progress this year.

"You have big problems left over from last year, but I feel sure you will carry on successfully. The success of the Mayor depends a lot upon the assistance the members of the Council give him, and I hope and trust that you will assist him. In doing that you will be helping the city."

The meeting adjourned after Mayor McIntyre presented his address, in which he sketched the chief undertakings the Council must deal with this year. He asked for the co-operation of every member, and said, "We should not expect that there will not be differences of opinion, but we can and should recognize the sincerity of each other, and thus work together in true harmony for the benefit of the city and its inhabitants."

THE WORKING COMMITTEES.

Adjourning to the committee-room the Council struck the following committees, adopting practically in entirety the slate drawn up at a meeting in Mr. G. N. Gordon's office last week:

BOARD OF WORKS (and Joint with County)—Ald. Phelan, chairman; Ald. Hamilton, Morrison, Gainey, Turner and Copping.

FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT — Ald. Morrison, chairman; Ald. Crowe, Whitehouse, Turner and Jones.

MANUFACTURERS (Franchises and Power)—Ald. Gordon, chairman; Ald. Phelan, Copping, Whitehouse, Jones and Turner.

FINANCE (Printing and Licenses) — Ald. Turner, chairman; Ald. Phelan, Hamilton, Morrison and Gainey.

PROPERTY (Market, Buildings and Health)—Ald. Jones, chairman Ald. Hamilton, Whitehouse and Crowe.

LEGAL (Reception and Legislation) — Ald. Crowe, chairman; Ald. Copping, Gordon, Phelan and Turner.

RAILWAYS (Parks and Boulevards)—Ald. Gainey, chairman; Ald. Copping, Gordon, Whitehouse and Crowe.

SPECIAL BRIDGE COMMITTEE—Ald. Hamilton, chairman; Ald. Phelan, Jones, Gainey, Morrison and Gordon.

That the Mayor be authorized to send deputations to other places on city business when he deems it advisable, and that the expenses of such deputations be paid on the certificate of the Mayor.

MEETING FOR BABIES' CLINIC

REGISTRATION COMMITTEE MET ON SATURDAY EVENING.

The Registration Committee of the Well Babies' Clinic, met on Saturday afternoon in the palm room of Hooper's restaurant, where tea was served by Mrs. James Kendry, the organizer of the registration scheme, after the completion of the business.

In all about 30 ladies were present and the interest evinced was very gratifying to those in charge.

Mrs. K. Harstone as president of the Local Council of Women, opened the meeting with a short address, explaining the nature and the value of the work [illegible] the clinic

Obtain all Names.

Mrs. Kearey and Mrs. Jessie Birnie, both spoke briefly on the same subject. It was further explained that the work of the Registration Committee will be to obtain the names of all children under 4 years of age by a personal visit to each home, when all questions regarding the work will be explained and the mothers invited to bring their children to the clinic. Here a record of each child will be kept and valuable advice given as to their health and care. A physician in charge assisted by a nurse, will examine each child, and if any trouble is found the mother then puts the child under the care of the family physician.

The reason for the forming of these clinics all over the country, in large centres, is because of the alarming mortality among children. It is that all, rich and poor, may have better knowledge regarding the care of the young, and as all will see plainly is not for any one class. It is a patriotic movement rather than a charitable one. One might call the clinic an information bureau. It is for well babies as well as for those who are apparently not up to the mark.

Aims of Clinic.

The clinic aims at better health, better moral well being, and greater happiness for the chilren of our city.

For the work of registration cards are being prepared and the work will go ahead at once.

The committee is formed of five ward chairmen:

Mrs. Brown in South Ward.
Mrs. Hamilton in East Ward,
Mrs. Walsh in West Ward.
Mrs. Thomas in North Ward.
Miss Leader in Centre Ward.

Theer are 22 sub-chairmen and under this committee about 220 women will be working.

RED ARMIES SUCCESSFUL

LETTISH FORCES HAVE BROKEN IN THE LINE IN ONE PLACE —COMMAND FOR FOCH.

AFTER DENIKINE

(United Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Lettish forces, which started a powerful advance against the Bolshevik forces along their northern sector Friday, have broken the Bolsheviki line in the region of Pyatlowu, a despatch from Riga to-day quoted the Lettish Legation as announcing there.

The Lettish successes will compel the retirement of the Red armies along the whole front, the Legation claimed, adding that the capture of Regziga, capital of the Province of Letgalen, was imminent.

The Bolsheviki, however, claimed continued success in their campaign against General Denikine in South Russia. A Moscow wireless communique reports the Reds had captured Nakhitchevan, an important town 18 miles south-west of Nevocherkask. A Helsingfors despatch asserted it had been reported reliably there that Marshal Foch, the French Commander, would be offered command of all the anti-Bolshevik forces, provided the French government would agree to send a division to the aid of the Conservative Russian factions.

Despatches from Siberia indicated continued success for the Soviet armies in that region.

Advices from Harbin, Manchuria, to the Daily Mail quoted the Japanese intelligence Bureau there as announcing that Irkutsk had been wholly occupied by the Reds.

Admiral Kolchak's forces have been completely dispersed according to these advices.

HANGMAN ELLIS ARRIVED IN THE CITY THIS MORNING

With certain death facing him within forty-eight hours, Tom Konek still maintains the imperturbable calm which has been his attitude since the day of his conviction, while Michael Bahri is still in a pitiable condition and continues to protest his innocence.

A gang of men has commenced work on the erecting of the scaffold, and Arthur Ellis, the official hangman, arrived in the city to-day and visited the men to-day in the gaol.

PRISONERS REMOVED.

Constable Boyd said that the three men taken to Kingston on Saturday afternoon were in high spirits going down on the train, and joked all the way with life imprisonment before them. Constable Boyd said they did not see Konek or Bahri before they left, but they understood about them hanging, and on the train said they couldn't see why they should be hanged.

SUMMER TIME FOR TORONTO

Canadian Press:

TORONTO, Jan. 12.—No matter what the rest of the country does about Daylight Saving this coming summer, it will be proclaimed locally in Toronto, according to the inaugural address of Mayor Thomas Church to the Toronto City Council this morning. Mayor Church assumed the chair for his sixth consecutive term. Continued co-operation with Sir Adam Beck in the development of public-owned radials and other Hydro propositions was a feature of the recommendations the Mayor made to the City Council as the proper course for Toronto to pursue.

Recount a Tie, A. A. McIntyre Elected Mayor By City Clerk

JUDGE HUYCKE ALLOWED 18 UNINITIALED BALLOTS, MAKING MAYORALTY VOTE 1483 EACH FOR TAYLOR AND McINTYRE—CITY CLERK ARMSTRONG FOLLOWED PRECEDENTS.

TAYLOR FIRST TO CONGRATULATE

Ex-Alderman A. A. McIntyre is the Mayor of Peterboro for 1920.

He was declared elected this morning by City Clerk Armstrong who gave the deciding vote immediately following Judge Huycke's announcement that the official recount of the mayoralty ballots had resulted in a tie of 1483 votes for each of the two candidates, Mr. McIntyre and ex-Alderman W. H. Taylor.

Judge Huycke began the recount on Saturday morning at ten o'clock, and completed that part of the work about eight o'clock that night. The ballots were counted in the presence of the City Clerk, the two mayoralty candidates, and their solicitors, Mr. G. W. Hatton representing Mr. McIntyre and R. R. Hall appearing for Mr. Taylor. The total vote then stood 1473 for McIntyre and 1475 for Taylor. There were eighteen ball t that had not been initialed by the returning officers. Ten of those were marked for McIntyre and eight for Taylor.

Judge Huycke heard the argument of Mr. Hatton and Mr. Hall as to the validity of these ballots and reserved his decision until this morning, when he announced his decision accepting the entire eighteen ballots and thereby making the count a tie of 1483 votes each.

Climax to Election Events

The scene in the committee room at the City Hall this morning provider a rather dramatic climax to the election from which Mr. Taylor emerged with a precarious majority of one vote. The count of the returning officer's figures was 1481 to 1480. A feeling of tension marked the moving situation as Judge Huycke intimated that he had decided to allow the eighteen votes to stand and that as consequence the responsibility that occurs so rarely was placed upon the City Clerk of casting the final and determining vote.

Mr. Armstrong's preference was based on the precedent in which similar dilemmas have been solved by electing the candidate who had the longest service and the most experience to his credit. And Mayor McIntyre had a clear and undisputed title on those grounds.

Mistakes In Counting.

Judge Huycke afterwards informed the press that the discrepancy between the totals of the recount and those made from the returns of the polling officials was no due to the finding of new ballots but from mistakes made by some returning officers in the counting the ballots on election day. It was also learned that errors had been made by officials who had been considered most competent.

The Judge's Remarks.

Addressing the two candidates and their solicitors this morning Judge Huycke that the duty of arirving at a decision had given a good deal of anxiety. He wished that he might have come to some other conclusion.

"I wish to congratulate the two candidates on the very manly, fair and courteous attitude they showed to each other. It does them both credit in the position they took toward each other on many points that came up."

Referring to the conditions of the election Judge Huycke said that they had been apparently good. Practically all of the papers had been marked properly and most of the returning officers had done their duty well. Quite a number of ballots were uninitialed by some returning officers and it was argued that the persons who had cast them should be disenfranchised.

"The returning officers don't get much for their work", His Honour continued, "but they should carry out their obligations as they are required to do.

"There were only one or two things that gave me serious difficulty One ballot mrked for McIntyre had the word "Mayor" written on the back of it. I allowed that and have let it remain, but it gave me cause for much consideration. One for Taylor was marked with a red pencil instead of black. It was clearly held that a ballot paper marked with a pen and not a pencil was properly marked and I allowed that also.

Two Spoiled Ballots.

Judge Huycke next dealt with two ballots that were marked with "X's" that extended through the spaces opposite the names of the candidates

THE LANGUAGE ISSUE IN THE SCHOOLS THROUGHOUT DOMINION

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, January 12.—The language issue in the schools of Canada was the subject of the People's Forum on Sunday evening, and the speaker was Prof. C. B. Sissons, of Victoria College, Toronto, who has written a book on Canadian Bi-lingual Schools.

"We shall never get anywhere in Canada unless more of us take time to study our peculiar national questions," Prof. Sissons observed. "There is no time in Canada's history when more than to-day we needed to recognise the necessity of maintaining freedom of speech on all questions pertaining to the public interest.

"I look to the farmers' movement as one of the factors which is going to bring the Province of Quebec and the Province of Ontario together," Prof. Sissons said. "We want unity in Canada and in our Provinces, but not drab uniformity."

Prof. Sissons thought more attention should be paid to the study of pedagogy and physiology, and less to partisan politics. He said there should be full recognition of the claims of the French parent that his child should be taught to read, write, and speak French properly in hchool.

"Weak school sections should not be allowed by the Government to have inferior educational facilities on that account," the speaker said. "Under the present system a section where the assessment was $250,000 received the same grant as one assessed at $25,000.

Prof. Sissons, in recommending that better means be found to secure properly qualified teachers for all the schools, thought it would be a good idea for the Government to send a body of teachers into Quebec to learn to speak French properly.

TWO VICTIMS OF DREAD DISEASE

DOCTORS DISCOVER THREE CASES OF SLEEPING SICKNESS HERE —TWO DEATHS.

Three distinct cases of the so-called sleeping sickness have come to the notice of the medical profession in the city. Two of the cases, which were adults, have succumbed to the disease, and the third, a child, is still ill. Owing to the appearance of the sickness, doctors have received a circular letter from the Chief Officer of Health, Dr. J. McCullough, warning them to be alert in regard to the disease. The symptoms are drowsiness, from which the patient may be aroused, but is indifferent to what is going on about him. The face often has a mask-like expression and some cases simulate Meningitis, or even cerebral hemmorrhage. There is generally a temperature of 101-102.5.

Not Notifiable.

Although the disease is not notifiable under the Act the physicians have been requested to notify any cases in their parctice to the Medical Officer of Health, Dr. A. W. McPherson.

ENDEAVOR TO AVOID RUPTURE

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 12.— No move in the wage dispute between railwaymen and the government is expected until the return from Paris of Sir Robert Horne, Minister of Labor, and Sir Eric Geddes, Minister of Transportation, who were summoned by Premier Lloyd George yesterday to consult with him in the French capital and are expected back in London by Tuesday. In any event, however, it is considered that precipitate action is improbable. J. H. Thomas, Railwaymen's leader, declared this morning: "There will be every effort to avoid a rupture."

STILL DIGGING FOR ROCK FOUNDATION

Turning their thoughts to city business this morning, members of the new council reported that the excavation for the eastern pier of the long span arch in the new bridge, had not yet reached a rock foundation. It was stated the workmen were now six feet below the level at which Mr. Frank Barber had expected to strike rock, and that a bar driven eight feet deeper had failed to find hard bottom. This would make a total of fourteen feet below the level mentioned after Mr. Barber's soundings. The council will probably have something to say if it prove a talking council to-night.

MORE EXPECTED FROM THE LAYMAN

CONSIDERABLE IMPETUS TO THE FORWARD MOVEMENT

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.— Considerable impetus to the Inter-Church Forward Movement was given in most of the churches of Ottawa on Sunday, two Toronto speakers occupying the pulpits.

A stage has been reached when the church should and does expect more from the laymen in its congregations, stated Major-General W. E. Hodgins, Toronto, speaking in All Saints' church. Canada won fame in the war and that fame should not be allowed to die here at home. Social unrest was creeping through the country, and it was to offset this and try and lift the church to a new standard in the eyes of all people that the Forward Movement campaign was being held. Mr. C. A. MacGrath, Dominion Fuel Controller, occupied the pulpit of Christ Church Cathedral.

MORE SMALLPOX REPORTED HERE

Due to the continued negligence on the part of the citizens in taking the precautions Dr. A. W. McPherson has advocated in becoming vaccinated, three additional cases of small pox have been reported during the week-end. While the disease has not spread to any alarming degree during the past few days, there are still cases coming to Dr McPherson's notice, and he is convinced that there are many cases which have been neglected on account of the mildness of the attack.

W. H. TAYLOR ACCEPTS LOT GRACEFULLY

Deposed from the Mayor's chair by the shuffle at the City Hall this morning, Mr. W. H. Taylor gracefully accepted the City Clerk's choice, and this afternoon remarked that he wished to assure the citizens who had voted for him that he could smile when losing just as broadly as when he was winning. He had looked forward to the opportunity of serving Peterborough in the Chief Magistracy, of putting into practice the experience he had acquired as alderman. He said he had already thanked all those who had voted for him, but he wished again to express his appreciation of their confidence.

Mr. Gordon's Opinion.

Commenting on the City Clerk's action, Alderman G. N. Gordon observed that Mr. Armstrong simply followed the custom established by long practice. Tie votes were disposed of by the clerk casting a ballot for the candidate who had the longer service.

THE CHURCHES' UNITED EFFORT

THE BRIGHT AND DARK SIDE OF PROGRESS.

The World's Need the Reason for a Forward Movement.

In a recent editorial by the editor of the British Weekly, Sir Robertson Nicol, on the "Bright and Dark Side of Progress,' the writer said:—"Recent events make it clearer than ever that, apart from Christianity, there is no hope for this poor world." He had in mind when he wrote those words the recent events in Russia, and indeed all the evils that have been associated with the war. He said further: "The truest striving for progress is the striving that seeks the crown for Jesus Christ, the adorable Monarch of the future."

In a nutshell he has stated here the real reason for the forward movement and of every effort that is made to-day to strengthen the life of the churches and restore Christianity to something of its primitive power.

The forces arrayed against the little band whom the Saviour trained and sent out into the world as sheep among wolves were no greater than the forces that are arrayed against Christianity to-day. And of course the church is infinitely stronger to-day than she was then. The cross triumphed then and it will triumph to-day. Of course everything depends upon the response of church members to the call of Christ. The response during the past week to the Week of Prayer has not been all that it should have been. There were hundreds of members of the Church who had time for their own pleasure but who had no time for Christ or for His church. If General Foch had had the same kind of soldiers in his army as the Church of Christ has members we should not to-day be rejoicing in the victory of the allied cause. Someone has said that Christianity always seems decadent to its contemporaries. It may be that some are unduly pessimistic over conditions in the church. It is often the darkest nearest the dawn, and the Church may be on the threshold of the greatest revival she has ever seen. The potentialities for such a revival are present in the Forward Movement. One wonders what will be the response upon the part of the Church. The services which began in St. Paul's church a week ago, and which were conducted by the Rev. J. M. Glassford, will continue throughout this week.

Mr. Glassford delivered two powerful discourses yesterday to large congregations. He has himself come from a place which was blessed with a very wonderful revival about a year ago. It was at the beginning of the year 1919, just after the epidemic of the "Flu" that the three pastors of the town decided to unite for the Week of Prayer, and for the two succeeding weeks, in a series of special meetings. The first week they met in the Baptist church, the second in the Presbyterian, and the third in the Methodist. The movement was so evidently one of the Spirit of God that it seemed to be taken completely out of the control of the preachers. They had planned for three weeks. They found it impossible to close the meetings until the end of six weeks. During this time not only was the life of the whole town touched by the movement but deputations came from places distant 50 miles away. Between three and four hundred as a result of this movement confessed Christ, and began the Christian life. Many who had been church members before confessed that they had never known Christ. Mr. Glassford is still living in the spirit of this movement, and carries the atmosphere with him. All yesterday at his services felt the power and the presence of the Spirit of God. The public are cordially invited to the services which will be held this week. The meetings begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. BIGGEST YEAR IN CANADA LIFE HISTORY

Huge Volume of New Business---Surplus Earnings Unprecedented

LIFE INSURANCE MEETS WITH POPULAR FAVOR IN 1919

CANADA LIFE policyholders are scattered far and wide, and it is with the desire of reaching them in the quickest and most readable form that this report is being published in the newspapers by the Company. A booklet containing even more complete particulars will be mailed upon request.

General Business of 1919

Canada Life President Reviews Canadian Affairs.

The first full year since the signing of the armistice and the virtual conclusion of peace has brought many problems, some of them as yet unsolved, and many surprises, not all of which have been unpleasant. The best minds are focused upon the former and are bringing to their solution a judgment and experience broadened by the years of warfare and tempered by the new spirit of toleration which these years have created. The readjustments, naturally difficult and tedious, are made more so by the attitude of important sections of the community who should rather facilitate them, but in spite of this some headway is being made. No opportunity should be lost of impressing upon each individual citizen of the allied countries the vital importance and necessity of the fullest conservation of our resources and the utmost production of which we are capable, if we are not to be outstripped by our recent enemies, who, we are told by the highest authorities, have already addressed themselves to the full limit of their power to regaining what they have lost through and during the war.

The great fever of unrest disturbing the world and upsetting the relations between employer and employee is perhaps a natural outcome of the recent experiences, and it has been suggested that not so much in profit-sharing as in happiness-sharing will be found the solution as between Capital and Labor. Already the creative mind has done much in evolving ways of assuring to the workman a greater share of the wealth which his industry and energy help to create, and many large employers, looking beyond the immediate present, have made through group life assurance provision for the families of their employees in the event of the death of the last named. A larger measure of personal contact and understanding between the heads and hands of our great industrial undertakings should do much to smooth out the rough places.

Allies' War Debts.

The pressing necessity and task with which the allies are presently faced is, of course, the provision for ultimately meeting the enormous obligations which have been created in carrying on the war. Many authorities favor the funding of all allied war debts, with a new schedule of taxation in each country and a new tariff to obtain between the allies, the former to be equitable in all regards, and the latter such as to encourage rather than deter trade with each other. Its supporters believe this method will finally prove to be the solution of the situation.

Conditions in Canada.

Our own country has seen a continuance of the expansion already well under way as reflected in the channels of retail trade, in further large increases in bank deposits, in the development of manufacturing industries limited only by the supply of raw materials and labor, and in the growth of live stock and other farm products. The market for our commodities abroad is wide and urgent, but is hampered by the lack of shipping, and is also unfortunately at the moment more or less dependent upon our ability to provide credit for our would-be customers. This is, of course, difficult to do in view of the enormous sums required to care for the balance of our own war expenditures and the demands for demobilization and re-establishment of soldiers, but the Government has been able to assist to some extent and will perhaps see its way to help in larger measure when the other obligations have been met. The Victory Loan of 1919 has afforded appreciable re[lief] and it is thought it will be the [last] offering of Government securities this so-called popular way, any [future] necessary borrowings of the Government being made in the pre-war [meth]od, with the probable difference that much of the funds required will continue to be provided in our own country. Among the lessons taught Canada by the war are that her resources are much greater than she had realized, that she can furnish her Government with a much larger share of her money needs than had ever been thought possible, that it is good business to lend our own bankers, and that the average citizen if he obligates himself to certain fixed payments for saving and investment will meet them regularly and with sureness. The frequency of the Victory Loans has provided him with a channel for thus obligating himself almost to the point of habit, and it would seem that the purchase of life assurance may offer the best means of continuing and confirming the habit.

The Field Crops.

Weather conditions in the Western Provinces were again very unfavorable for the growing crops. Lack of rain was general, and induced in some districts, which had similarly suffered the previous year, a total crop failure, but the aggregate cereal yield of the Provinces was somewhat better than in the preceding year. This condition has necessarily resulted in delay in the payment of borrowers' interest in some sections. The loaning companies seek no unfair advantage of their clients but rather give them ample time and further encouragement through additional advances for the purchase of seed grain where such are desirable and warranted. Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces had more normal conditions throughout the summer and their production compares favorably with that of 1918.

Again the fodder difficulty in Alberta is being met as largely as possible by carrying the reed to the stock or by transporting the stock to the areas where feed is available, although in some instances the rancher considers it better business to sell his stock than to endeavor to obtain fodder at present prices.

The United States produced 10 per cent. more corn than in 1918, while her wheat yield showed a decrease of the same percentage. The total value of her crops is some $7[illegible],000,000 in excess of the previous year.

The European countries involved in the war are fast recovering their productiveness, and it is said that France and Belgium have good crops, that traces of the war are being very rapidly removed, and that there is being brought under cultivation ground which had been overrun by the forces of the allies and central powers.

Increasing Immigration.

In the period from 1896 to 1918 the immigrants coming into Canada increased from 32,000 to 402,000, dwindling again in the year ending March 31, 1919, to 37,000. That the tide has again turned is indicated by the numbers coming in during the first seven months of the present fiscal year, namely, 82,000, and it is thought by those in touch with the Department of Immigration that we may now look for a steady influx, both from Great Britain and the United States. It is the policy of the Government, for the present at all events, to invite and encourage only those who have the inclination and the qualifications necessary to fit them for work on the land, as it is realized that in this rural population lies our greatest aid to higher production, with its effect, in turn, upon living costs. Our outstanding need is now, and for many years will be, "more people" to share in our development and in our success. The broadest and most liberal program possible to the Government in this regard will command a very general support, and one of our first efforts should be to retain our own young men.

There have been periods in our history when the smallness of our stature as a nation prevented the realization of the visions of these boys, and they left us to join the already full-grown Republic to the south, to the great advantage of those United States. It has been impressed upon us of late, however, that our own country has now attained its manhood and that within its borders lies not merely potential, but actual wealth. No longer is it necessary for our men to seek opportunity elsewhere. We may well ask the reason for the prosperity which abounds within the Dominion, and find the answer in the spirit of progress exhibited by her people among themselves, the internal trade which we sometimes overlook in our concentration upon exports and imports. The thrift of the people of Canada, as well as their reputed extravagance, requires some emphasis, and we have in the great volume of life insurance being transacted an evidence not only of immediate savings, but, what is even more important, a proof of unselfishness and self-denial which is beyond all praise. We may with confidence put our faith in a people who have had the desire to protect their homes to the extent of new assurances approximating six hundred millions of dollars during the past year. No pessimism as to the quality of our citizenship can stand against this solid fact. Men permanently given to extreme views as to the rights of Capital and Labor, or a people hard driven and without prosperity do not set aside their savings for so unselfish a purpose as life insurance.

Life Insurance Popular.

We are somewhat at a loss to account for the enormous and unprecedented increase in the amount of assurances sold by all the companies in the past twelve months. True, enlarged selling organizations have worked more intensively, and in ordinary circumstances would have been responsible for a normal advance in production. The perhaps natural reaction of nervousness following the epidemic of influenza is sometimes thought to have been an important factor, while a much larger demand for business and inheritance tax purposes has been apparent. None of these, however, offers a quite full explanation of the matter, and it has been suggested that for a parallel we must look to the years during and following the Civil War, when there seemed to be some relation between production of new life assurances and the prices of necessary commodities. From 1860 to 1880 the amount of life assurance issued annually in the United States followed with peculiar accuracy the rise and fall of commodity prices, and practically the same phenomenon appears both in that country and Canada for the years 1913 to 1919. If such a relation does exist, and if the corresponding movement in prices and insurance is not merely a coincidence, then we may presumably look for a continued upward trend in the latter, as there does not appear to be imminent any downward movement in the former.

If the demand persists, and we hope it may, the government and those seeking the protection will look to the properly authorized agencies to supply it. Can these agencies meet the call without leaning unduly upon their existing members? It is an open secret that a policy does not become self-sustaining until it has been in force for a period of four or five years, and that in the meantime it must rely upon assistance from the general earnings or surplus, it in turn as it becomes older contributing its share of help to the newcomer. This process can be carried on fairly and without injury to old members up to a point, but beyond that point the care of the new entrant must be to some extent at their cost, since if it entails a reduction in the amount returnable to them by way of so-called profits or dividends upon their policies. What are these profits or dividends? Simply the refund of portions of the payments made to the companies by the assured which have been found unnecessary in carrying out the contracts. It is obvious, therefore, that the companies cannot in equity to these old members go on indefinitely undertaking the large volume of business offering by curtailing these profit payments, and it is equally obvious that we must not cease to perform to the fullest extent the function required of us. In what, then, lies the solution of the difficulty? The Insurance Act of Canada contains a provision eminently adapted to meet just the situation with which we are confronted, and there appears to be no good reason why all the companies should not avail themselves of it. It is, indeed, conceivable that its use under a ruling of the department might be desirable. Many of the American States have adopted similar enabling legislation, and it is hoped the remainder will also do so.

Insurance for Soldiers.

In response to a demand from some quarters that the government should institute a means of furnishing insurance to our soldiers who are impaired as a consequence of the war, and therefore unable to obtain protection at standard rates, the matter was taken under advisement by the authorities, but the difficulties in the way were numerous and important. A method by which the companies might be of assistance has been suggested to the government, and is having consideration.

Group Insurance.

The market for group insurance, under which the employer provides protection for all his employees has been so insistent and is becoming so wide that the Finance Minister, with the advice of the Superintendent of Insurance, has finally approved a basis upon which Canadian companies and others doing business in Canada may undertake it. A few of the larger companies, including the Canada Life, have already completed the necessary preliminaries and are now fully prepared to satisfy the requirements of those who seek this form of policy. This idea of group insurance is one of the newer developments in the relations in industrial, commercial and even financial enterprise, and will, it is thought, have a very marked bearing upon them. While it is as yet only in its infancy, it is evident that it can be sold with profit to the companies, and its benefit to the purchaser has also been demonstrated.

We must not omit mention of the visit of his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales to Canada and the United States. His intense personal charm, his alert interest in and appreciation of everything he saw, his unfailing instinctive tact and courtesy to all with whom he came in touch, his facility and aptness in expressing himself under varying and sometimes trying conditions, have made a very lasting impression not only upon the people of both these countries, but upon his countrymen in Great Britain, and cannot fail to have a profound influence upon the future of the nations over which it is his destiny to rule.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Mr. Herbert C. Cox Reviews Business of 1919--Mortality Rate Much Lower--Dividends to Policyholders Maintained

In common with other companies, we have shared in the pronounced demand for insurance apparent throughout the twelve months, and before the end of the year had achieved our objective of fifty millions of new business, enabling us to report issued and revived policies of $46,280,000, an amount greatly in excess of any previous year. Ordinarily this large underwriting would involve an expense which we should have some hesitation in undertaking, but our earnings for the year to which reference will be made later have been so extremely satisfactory that we have been able to absorb it without difficulty and without change in the scale of dividends upon existing policies.

Our insurances in force now total $230,000,000, an increase of $34,000,000, which is a gratifying percentage of the new issues for the year.

While the growth in our Canadian business has been marked, we are happy to report an important improvement in Great Britain, due in varying measure to the maintaining of our dividend scale, to a wider organization and to a greater confidence in things Canadian.

Some Business Not Accepted.

Approaching every applicant with the desire to have him become a policyholder, it is most unfortunate that in some instances the impairments are such that we are unable to accept him. That the number of cases in which this is necessary is only three per cent. of the whole, indicates a consistent endeavor to perform our normal function.

War Claims Paid.

The last of our war claims are now being cared for, and we record the total from this source since the commencement of hostilities as $1,800,000. This is a very reasonable amount, being less than one per cent. of our total assurances, and in meeting it we have had no difficulty or disturbance in regard to other obligations or promises.

Largest Earnings of Surplus.

In the early months of the year we suffered rather severely from deaths resulting from the continuance of the influenza epidemic, but as this cleared away our recovery was so rapid and our normal death losses so much below the amount provided for that we have a saving or profit from this source of $938,000, as against $48,000 for the previous year. In addition to this, the other elements which contribute to surplus have been so favorable that we are able to report the largest surplus earnings in the history of the company, namely, $1,877,186.

Policyholders' Dividends Maintained.

That we have met without hesitation the wholly unlooked for demand upon us in the form of new business, and that we carry forward the above very handsome surplus, which enables us to continue without reduction our usual rate of profit distribution to those policies sharing this year, is altogether gratifying. That the advantage of our strength in this regard has had a perceptible effect upon our success in Great Britain, is already apparent on this continent, and must become of increasing value as the man in the street more fully realizes its significance. The special reserve of $500,000 accumulated during the last five years still remains as a safety valve in the event of any unforeseen demand upon us.

Cash Profits Paid.

This year marks the end of another quinquennium, or five-year period, and we have had the pleasure of allotting to policies entitled to participate dividends of which the cash value reaches the highly important total of $2,761,000. A portion of this has already been distributed, the balance to be available during the ensuing year as determined by the premium due dates of the individual policies to which they apply.

Many years ago this company adopted fixed quinquennial periods—1899, 1904, 1909, 1914 and 1919—and all policies issued prior to 1900 had their profits maturing in these years, involving at those stated times the division of a very large amount of surplus. In connection with policies issued during and since 1900 the contribution method has been employed, so that this is the last time we shall be called upon to make an unusually large distribution, the sums allotted in future being more evenly divided from year to year.

Group Insurance Available.

Anticipating the demand likely to arise for group insurance as soon as it should be sanctioned by the finance department, we prepared our policy forms and premium rates and had them approved by the superintendent of insurance. The rates we have adopted are, we believe, ample to secure us against loss while being at the same time sufficiently low to enable us to compete on reasonable terms with other institutions.

Victory Loan—$12,500,000.

The requirements of the government for war purposes have again made a heavy demand upon Canadian life assurance companies, which have responded with subscriptions totalling $51,500,000. This company was the largest individual subscriber among its fellows, and the second largest in the entire list, applying for $12,500,000, on account of which we have been allotted $7,800,000. While doing our share in this regard we have still been able to take advantage of a favorable market to purchase $1,814,000 of other government, provincial and municipal issues, and to lend $3,525,000 upon real estate mortgages. The demand for the latter has been much better than in 1918, with the result that we have invested in this way not only our principal repayments, but an additional amount, which gives us a material net increase in our mortgage loans. As we maintain a strong and aggressive loaning organization thruout the western provinces, it has been possible for us to take full and prompt advantage of any favorable change in the loan market and the service thus placed at the disposal of our clients is greatly appreciated and productive of much business.

Interest Collections.

Crop failures, total or partial, have naturally not been without effect upon interest collections, but these have been considerably better than might have been expected under the circumstances. In any instance where we think the payment of arrears is doubtful the amount has not been included in the asset described as "interest outstanding."

May I repeat the statement made last year that our farm loans, covering 1,500,000 acres, average about $7 per acre on our own valuation of $20 per acre. Mixed farming is on the increase amongst our borrowers, and must ultimately have a helpful effect upon their interest-paying capacity.

Mortgage Loans.

Our mortgage loans, city and farm, now number 8,400 for somewhat over $22,000,000 and add greatly to our earning capacity. That they constitute a very active portion of our assets is indicated by the important repayments which average almost ten per cent. of the principal each year. In other words experience during the last few years has shown us that we must annually put out three million of new loans to make a net increase of one million. During the war period the high prices obtained for his wheat has enabled the western farmer to greatly reduce his mortgage indebtedness, and it is perhaps fair to assume that as these prices decline the tendency will be for his borrowings to become more permanent. Another factor contributing to the large repayments is found in our readiness to allow returned soldiers desiring to borrow from the soldiers' settlement board to discharge their loans to this company, without notice or bonus. This action is in line with the general desire to facilitate the early re-establishment of homecoming soldiers.

In transactions involving such a large number of individuals and covering such an extended area there must necessarily be some casualties, but we continue to be able within reasonable time to dispose of all foreclosed properties without loss of either principal or interest.

Western Municipal Finances.

Embarrassment has come to a few western municipalities following a period of over-inflation during which large debenture issues were sold in undue anticipation of future development, but presumably under the supervision of their provincial governments. None of these towns and cities have applied to the holders of their debentures for relief and it would seem that this must be afforded in some measure to enable the municipalities to carry on. Every effort has been made, but without avail, to persuade the provincial governments to come to the rescue of their respective municipalities in view of the bearing which these delinquencies will have upon the general credit and borrowing power of the provinces themselves and their stronger municipalities. The future will doubtless demonstrate to them the shortsightedness of their present policy of aloofness and non-responsibility.

Interest Rate Increased.

The outstanding feature of the past five years in relation to your investments is the large increase in the holdings of federal and provincial government securities, with an improvement in the interest yield upon them from 3 1-2 per cent. to 5 3-4 per cent. Concurrently we have added to our city, county, township and school debentures while reducing very materially those of towns and villages and the bonds of corporations and public utilities, following a studied and fixed policy of confining ourselves to what may be regarded as the highest class of bonds and debentures.

That our program in this regard and in relation to mortgage loans has been right is amply proven by the gradual rise in our average net interest rate, which has this year reached the highest point in the company's history, namely 6.06 per cent. With this rate of earning upon our assets while our reserves are held on a 3 and 3 1-2 per cent. basis, you will be readily seized of our unequalled ability to produce surplus.

A very instructive chart has been prepared showing the tendency in our interest rate, commencing at 5.70 per cent. in 1889 and diminishing with some fluctuations to 4.85 per cent. in 1900, when it was deemed wise to put our reserves on a 3 and 3 1-2 per cent. basis. The drop in these years was probably due in large measure to high prices obtaining for securities and the very small proportion of mortgage loans on our books. Following a decision to invest more largely in the latter form of security the necessary organization was inaugurated and the curve of our yield rate has been steadily upward until, as I have said, it reaches this year 6.06 per cent. That our ledger assets are cared for at a cost of a trifle less than 1-3 of 1 per cent. is very satisfactory and has an important bearing on this net yield.

Policyholders Repay Loans.

Having in mind the insidious effect of the policy loan upon the permanency of the original insurance, there was instituted a systematic effort to stimulate repayments and to discourage new loans, with the desirable result that during the year the one item has offset the other, leaving the total loans of this nature at the same figure as a year ago, and virtually the same as five years ago.

At the last annual meeting you were good enough to authorize the creation of a Staff Savings and Pension Fund. You will be glad to know that a large portion of the staff have already become contributors to the fund, and we anticipate that practically all of the male members will do so.

Five Years' Progress.

As this is the sixth annual statement the present management has had the honor of presenting to you, perhaps you will permit a very brief review of the progress made in the five full years of its administration:

	1914	1919
New policies issued increased from	$ 15,000,000 to	$ 45,500,000
Total policies in force increased from	167,000,000 to	230,000,000
Income from all sources increased from	9,500,000 to	13,000,000
Total assets increased from	54,000,000 to	69,000,000
Surplus earned increased from	1,500,000 to	1,900,000
Total payment to policyholders increased from	2,200,000 to	6,347,000

This development has not been accomplished without the material strengthening of our organization, both in the field and in the home office, not without the laying aside of some of the old servants of the company who had given it faithful and valuable service, not without the adoption of new methods of stimulating our own forces and the interest of their constituents, but it has been brought about, I am happy to say, by the generous and vigorous team-work of the staff at large, by the kindly acquiescence of those who have stepped aside, by the bringing of trained salesmen to an aroused and receptive public and it has furthermore been brought about at a perceptibly decreased rate of cost which has enabled us to report a largely-increased surplus earning.

In recording this success, may I acknowledge my own obligation to my colleagues upon the directorate, to the officials, to the solicitors and medical referees, to the agency and loan managers, to each member of our forces in the home office and in the field, for the assistance which has made it possible.

Group Insurance Sold by Canada Life

This Company has anticipated the demand arising for Group Insurance, and its policies on the term group plan are available in attractive forms and at low cost, with the further advantage of having the gross premium reduced by dividends. It is believed that these dividends will reduce the cost to an exceptionally small outlay.

In addition to this attractive plan a new form of Group Insurance is issued which combines life insurance protection with a savings fund.

Group Insurance under this plan has four-fold benefits: life insurance for bereaved families of employes, a larger financial incentive to the continuation of employment, a reserve fund for emergencies, and an accumulation for future investment.

The real object of Group Insurance is to cover these four main contingencies, and this new plan will adjust itself to the special needs of the employer and be adapted to stimulate loyalty among employees, reduce the cost of labor turnover by inveking a desire for continuity of employment, and go far toward developing esprit de corps among the staff and cooperation between employer and employes.

FIRST MEETING PEACE LEAGUE

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The putting of the League of Nations into being, which will be one of the immediate consequences of the exchange of the ratifications of the Peace Treaty will occur in Paris on the morning of 10th January, the Supreme Council decided to-day.

This decision was cabled to President Wilson by Ambassador Wallace so that he might issue the formal notice of the meeting of the Council of the League.

The first meeting of the League will be presided over by Leon Bourgeois, representative of France in the Council.

Earl Curzon, British representative at the meeting, will also speak.

WILL VISIT THE STATES.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—Premier Clemenceau is said to intend, if he is elected President of the Republic, to cross the Atlantic to carry on in the United States a vigorous campaign on behalf of the League of Nations.

5-POUND PIGMY HIPPO RAISED ON BOTTLE

New York.—Mr. and Mrs. Pigmy Hippopotamus have an addition to the family in the Zoological Park in the Bronx. This was not an unexpected visit and it did not take Dr. Reed Blair, the park veterinanian, long to arrive. The doctor announced that the first and only pigmy hippopotamus ever born in captivity was healthy and weighed about five pounds. It will be brought up as a bottle baby.

The pigmy hippopotamus normally is one-fourteenth the size of the regular species, according to Dr. Nornaday. The animals hail from an out-of-the-way part of Liberia, in West Africa, and only five pigmy "hippos" have ever been taken into captivity.

GOVERNMENT OVERTHROWN.

(Canadian Press.)

BRUSSELS, Jan. 10. — Travellers from Germany, reaching here to-day, brought unconfirmed reports that the German Government had been overthrown. It was reported that the Socialists were the masters of the situation, and that a general strike had been declared throughout the territory not under Allied occupation.

OREGAN COLLEGE HENS SET NEW EGG RECORDS

CORVALLIS, Ore.—A dozen hens at the Oregon Agricultural College's farm at Salem, Ore., have set a new world record for egg production, James S. Dryden, professor at the college, has announced.

Each of these hens in one year laid more than 300 eggs, the best producing 330 and two others 323.

All these hens, according to Professor Dryden are of the strain that several years ago developed Lady McDuff, the first hen to have laid more than 300 eggs a year in a trap nest. Her record was 303.

RAIN ON A RIOT

LONDON, Eng.—There were several unpleasant incidents at Johannesburg in connection with the Nationalist celebrations to welcome General Hertzog on his return from Europe.

A Nationalist meeting at the town hall occasioned considerable excitement, thousands gathering in the street outside, singing "Rule, Britannia" and the National Anthem. Several flights occurred, and the windows of the Nationalist Club were broken. A heavy shower of rain put an end to a threatening situation.

General Hertzog, in his speech at the town hall, claimed that the cause for which he was fighting was the same as that for which his English friends were fighting, and sooner or later the English would recognize that their present attitude was damaging their cause.

SOMETHING CHEAP—RAGS

LONDON, Eng.—It was stated that in three months of this year the market price for rags, which rose to an unprecedented rate during the war, has now dropped $4 per 100 pounds.

Many a man's success is due to the fact that he went ahead first and made it right afterward.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

MONDAY, JANUARY 13TH, 1919.

PETERBOROUGH'S PROBLEMS.

The announcement of the intention of the committee on Civic Education and the Council of the Board of Trade to hold a special series of weekly meetings at which many of the problems that Peterborough is facing will be discussed should be of great interest. To the Board of Trade as a central body, representative of the whole community, the people are looking for leadership and inspiration along the lines of co-operative activity and the programme of the meetings to be held during January and February give promise of helpful discussion on many subjects that are of importance to Peterborough. From these meetings should be developed suggestions for civic growth and progress that can be put into effect by a combined effort of the members of the Board and the citizens generally. There is so much that could be done by means of a properly developed community spirit that the outcome of the Board's special meetings will be awaited with eagerness.

INSURANCE FOR VETERANS.

The Great War Veterans' Association have announced their intention of bringing pressure to bear upon the Dominion Government to put into force the recommendations of the Parliamentary Committee on Soldiers' Re-establishment in regard to insurance for returned men, and public support will undoubtedly be behind them in their demand. Many of the men who are back from the front are anxious to secure protection for their families in the form of life insurance but because of injuries sustained overseas the insurance companies refuse to accept their applications. Strong representations along this line were made to the Parliamentary Committee when it met and the committee recommended that the matter should be fully investigated at once with a view to working out a scheme that would be just and equitable. A similar recommendation was made a year ago by the G. W. V. A. representative on the Repatriation Committee; but neither suggestion has been acted upon by the government with the result that hundreds of veterans who are regarded as sub-standard risks, have found it impossible to secure insurance.

The Veterans now ask that a similar scheme of insurance to that granted the civil servants be inaugurated by the government, and the matter will be one of the big issues at the coming convention unless the government acts in the meantime.

DAYLIGHT SAVINGS.

As might have been expected agitation in regard to daylight saving is already beginning to make its appearance in the press—although the season of the new time is many months away. The Peterborough Council will undoubtedly have to deal with the question in the spring, as it is almost certain that the many people who appreciated the plan during the two summers it has been in operation will ask the Council to adopt daylight saving as a local measure for the warm weather months of 1920. Last year's Council by submitting a by-law to the people on New Year's Day asking for an expression of opinion on the subject could have spared this year's Council much trouble. A number of cities in Ontario, including Ottawa, voted on the question at the municipal elections and as there were large majorities in favor of daylight saving, these municipalities will adopt the scheme again this year. There is a possibility too that the American railways will operate on the new time this summer to accommodate the people of the many United States' cities which have decided to adopt daylight saving on their own account. In fact a number of the American railways have already announced their intention of so doing and if their example is followed by the other lines across the border the Canadian railways can be expected to fall in line. Cities and towns in Canada in such an event will do what they did last year and adopt daylight saving. As the Hamilton Herald puts it: "It doesn't matter so much whether we have 'summer' time or 'standard' time, but we should be saved the annoyance and loss of two time standards."

THE EXHIBITION.

At the banquet of the Peterboro Industrial Exhibition the other night, many complimentary things were said about the members of the Exhibition Board, expressions of commendation were used that have undoubtedly been earned by the progressive and business-like manner in which the Exhibition has been handled in recent years. Each year the Exhibition occupies a bigger place in the minds of the people; each year its importance and value to the community become more fully realized, so more and more people appreciate the fact that clean and healthy amusement is a distinct factor in the bringing about of a happier and more contented citizenship. The Peterboro Exhibition is a big asset to the city and to the district. It provides amusement; it gives manufacturers and business men a chance to get into touch with the public, it encourages by the spirit of friendly rivalry and competition it develops the farmer and the stock breeder to greater efforts; it furnishes an invaluable connecting link between the people of the city and their fellow citizens in the country. The importance of this last feature may not be fully appreciated but undoubtedly it is one of the most striking by products of the exhibition. Not only do city and country people mingle like one big fmily during the day of the annual fair, but the coming together of representative citizens of Peterboro and equally representative farmers on the board of management and the various committees, and their working alongside each other for months in preparation for the exhibition each year, cannot fail to bring about a better understanding, and a strengthening of regard and affection between the two. For all these reasons the continued growth of the Peterboro Exhibition is something upon which the people of the district are to be congratulated, and for which the men who are responsible for that growth deserve the thanks of their fellow-citizens. Plans for this year's exhibition, it is understood, are on a larger scale than ever, and the directors will be encouraged in their preparations by the thought that the people not only of the city but of the county are unitedly behind them in their efforts to make the exhibition an even greater asset than ever.

PROVING THEIR WORTHINESS.

Lord Milner faces a difficult task in Egypt, for there is a fanaticism in the opposition of the Nationalists to any sort of British protectorate or suzerainty which is matched only by the zeal of Sinn Fein in Ireland. It is evident that much of the opposition emanates from the younger men of the country who are not old enough to recall the reign of oppression and spoilation, of taxation, that left the tiller of the soil with barely enough to keep body and soul together, of forced labor, without pay, and all the evils of Turkish misrule that prevailed before the British came forty years ago.

The great need of Egypt is education, for the majority of the Egyptians are in a state of mental and moral childhood. The Egyptian has not had a fair chance. Long years of oppression and seclusion from the rest of the world, have dwarfed his faculties and stunted his reasoning powers. The first step in the upward path of the reformers should be the education and emancipation of the women of Egypt. Narrow-minded and ignorant mothers whose minds are influenced and hampered by the restrictive customs introduced by the Arab conquest, are largely responsible for the backwardness of the Egyptians, and if those who are clamoring so loudly for independence want to show their faith by their works they cannot do better than advocate the emancipation of their womanhood from the present thralldom.

So far the Egyptians have not given any proof that they are capable of self government, and, in fact, their inability to create a great commerce or even a single large industry or bank of their own, although many occupy secondary positions in all large institutions, is damning evidence of lack of enterprise and initiative. Yet in the face of this, the Nationalist party in Egypt demands complete and absolute independence from any and all foreign restraint and has declared positively that they will accept nothing less. A protectorate is a broad and elastic term which may run from something kin to vassalage to a status that is little different from that secured by free alliance and it is more to the latter than the former measure that the proposed protectorate over Egypt inclines. There is little fear that national characteristics and sentiments which have survived centuries of Turkish rule will succumb under the blight of such protection. The old system was little more than a military autocracy while the new will approximate that of a constitutional monarchy.

Lord Milner's Commission is pledged to endeavor to discover what is the Egyptian view, and to incorporate these views in so far as possible in the basic consitution of the country, and those who are agitating for independence are in danger of grasping the shadow for the substance Egypt has got to prove that she is capable of self-government and it is a poor advertisement for her when misguided people resort to blood and violence and her agitators inflame the passions of the populace —Montreal Star.

3-INCH STRIP OF LAND HOLDS UP SALE IN N. Y.

NEW YORK. — A 3-inch strip of land 50 feet long, owned by two infants, is holding up a sale of real estate in the Bronx according to a petition presented to the Supreme Court by the minors' guardian asking permission to sell the landd.

The land which is entirely enclosed by neighboring property having no frontage on any street resulted from a surplus in laying out in 1853 the village of Grove Hill now a part of New York city.

Unless the court permits the sale, the petition explained, a neighboring property holder would apply for a partition of the strip which would result in the infants being given an inch and a half of landd apiece. This it was stated would make their land worthless.

LAKEFIELD NEWS

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 12.—The fifth and last of the series of prayer meetings held this week was held in the Methodist Church on Friday evening.

In the unavoidable absence of Rev. S. F. Dixon, Rev. P. L. Jull, presided.

Mr. F. E. Waldon, kindly acted as organist.

There were th eusual opening exercises.

Rev. Mr. Ashton was the first speaker. He was decidedly under the weather as a result of a severe cold combined with neuralgia but in spite of that he gave his message in his earnest way. The meetings had been the source of inspiration and benefit to him and night by night he was more and more lifted ··· and last night was the climax. Dr. Archibold's inspired message frim his heart to our hearts touched everyone and no one could help but feel benefited by it.

Mr. Ashton took as his text for his short address "I was not disobedient to the Heavenly Vision". The vision which links us to our God, is ours. All are ordained who bear the name of Christ and Lakefield can be won for Christ if all the so-called Christians will obey the vision. The purpose of these meetings is to get the people together for their mutual benefit but the numbers are terribly few. Where are the men? Where are the children? Mr. Northey, who led in prayer last night spoke of the children and the rest of us had not forgotten, but neglected them. We must not let the children slip away from us. Life passes quickly, all too quickly and we are confronted by the apathy of so many toward the better things but surely after this week of exhortation and prayer those who have been privileged to be present will go out and by their lives lead others so that we may not be disobedient to the Heavenly vision. Let us win someone for the master and His service.

Rev. (Dr.) Archbold followed Mr. Ashton and spoke on the personal responsibility of each one of us in regard to our relations with God and our fellow men.

Faith is a living thing and if we as a church are to go forward it must be a personal matter to each one. As professing Christians we have not been there to our profession as the Apostle reminds us in his epistle to the Romans: "So that each one of us shall give an account of himself to God. The great difficulty is that there are so many people in our churches who are dead spiritually. We speak of the strides our Church has made in the last decade of China and Japan who have opened their doors and allowed our missionaries to enter and we are very complacent about our missionaries in these countries but the church has failed as a leavening influence because of our lack of individual responsibility. And that responsibility is absolutely necessary for uplifting our fellow-man.

Christian means Christ man or Christ woman and let us who call ourselves Christians live up to the meaning, the real meaning of the name we bear.

The clergy are only a phase of the Church there are the great masses of the people who constitute the great er part. Christ is like the vine, the great main stem, the source of life and we are the branches but oh, how many dead branches are hanging on the vine.

We deplore the lack of spirituality in our young people and why is it so? The family altar is practically cast out and parents excuse themselves by claiming lack of time for any religious teaching in the home. That is relegated to the Sunday School teacher. We must feel our personal responsibility to God for these young lives committed to our care.

The meeting to-night, which is supposed to be a union prayer meeting of four Protestant churches, contains a mere handful of people. After making allowances for all who could not come there ought to be a great many more present. Every one must make an account to God. This laxity and coldness is actually crucifying Christ afresh. The church calls louder today than ever in her history for service, renewed consecration. We must recognize and see God in all things. The power of God's Kingdom is extended throughout all the world and there is the insistent individual call to service.

We were guided and controlled in our destiny the great scourge which came to the world. God sent it to make us stop and think of our laxity and selfishness.

God knows us all and His spirit will put into our hearts our personal responsibility. There are far too many humbugs and hypocrites among us, and we must get the passion for right eousness, Godliness and spirituality that the spirit can give us. Each one who hangs back is hindering God's work.

The veneer is stripped off in the light that comes from the throne of God and we can see ourselves as we really are. Let us hear the personal call to service and see the vision and answer the call.

Rev. P. L. Jull made a few remarks before closing. He regretted very much the unavoilable absence of Mr. Dixon, who is doing a splendid work which can hardly be estimated here. His work calls him to different points in the Bay of Quinte district and he is doing splendidly what is required of him. The addresses had been so good that anything further seemed unnecessary as the hour for closing was at hand, but he called the attention of those present to a meeting held at the close of the service, of th banquet committee who have charge of the arrangements for the inter-church men's banquet to be held the last week in January in the basement of the Methodist church.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

SANDRA ASSERTS HER RIGHTS

CHAPTER XVII.

Who could the original of all these pictures be? I had deciphered a name on the back of one of those I found in the bureau drawer: 'Leola'. What an odd name! Did Everett always know women with odd names? I can't explain the motion that impelled me to say over and over:

"Leola and Sandra, Sandra and Leola."

Then it came to me. This Leola must have been Everett's wife, the first Mrs. Graham. But why had he not taken her pictures down. I would not stand it. I would ask him who she was, and if I was right, every single picture of her should be banished. It was bad enough to be the second Mrs. Graham without having to be reminded of it all the time by pictures of my predecessor.

I was sitting in the library when Everett came in. I had tried to read, and also to practice a little, but could do neithe.r All I could think of was that lovely pictured face. At first I thought I would ask Hetty. But he had warned me not to question the servants, so I made up my mind to wait up and ask him when he came in.

"What are you sitting up for?" he asked, I was so absorbed in my thoughts, I had not heard him. "I thought I told you to go to bed." He spoke exactly as he might have done to some ten-year old child who had displeased him.

"I couldn't go to sleep when you were out."

"Why?"

"I guess because I am lonely. The house is so quiet. I never have been alone, you know."

"Afraid of the dark?" The sneer was unmistakable.

"No—not of the dark."

"Go to bed at once, and remember, Sandra, I won't have you sitting up when I am out. Do not let it occur again." He opened the door into the hall: "Good-night."

Meekly I arose and went up-stairs. Not until I was in my room did I remember that I was going to ask who Leola was. I crept shivering into bed, wondering why Everett had wanted me for his wife, if he were going to treat me like a child.

But I was young and reacted quickly to pleasant influences. Some mail Everett received in the morning pleased him, and he was so nice all through breakfast that I felt quite happy and almost forgot my long lonely evening and the—pictures. That is, I did until he left the house and I was alone again.

Then I remembered. Slowly I went upstairs and into his room. Once more I took out the pictures and studied the face. There was something now that I had not noticed the night before —a strength of will, as denoted by the firm chin, as well as beauty.

"She wouldn't be afraid of him," I said to myself as I gazed. "She'd ask all the questions she wanted to, even if she did make him angry."

I heard someone in the hall and quickly tried to put the pictures away. But not quite quickly enough. Hetty came in before I had them hidden.

"Who is this, Hetty?" I asked, acting on impulse.

"Don't you know?" Her surprise was evident.

"No, or I shouldn't have asked you." Already I wished I had not spoken.

"Why, that's Mr. Graham's other wife."

So I had been right in my surmise! But how terrible is Everett to forget to put all of her pictures away. Whatever would people think to see that big oil portrait over the mantle in the drawing room and that one in the library? I would have them taken down immediately.

I called Richard and gave the order.

"Where shall I put them, Mrs. Graham?" he asked.

"Isn't there an attic in the house?"

"Yes, Madame."

"Very well, put them there."

I thought I heard Hetty gasp, but I paid no attention. And a little while afterward, when I went into the drawing room, the portrait was gone.

NOT A MEMBER OF THE SENATE

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 12.—For the first time in the history of France, the nation's premier is member of neither Senate nor Chamber of Deputies. This was the result of M. Clemenceau's refusal to be a candidate in the Var constituency, Rene Renoult being elected to fill the Premier's place in the Upper House of Parliament. M. Clemenceau will thus be unable to take part in the election of President of the Republic.

A DANGER SIGNAL—TENDER AND BLEEDING GUMS

Healthy teeth cannot live in diseased tissue. Gums tainted with Pyorrhea are dangerously diseased. For not only the teeth are affected, but Pyorrhea germs seep into the body, lower its vitality and cause many ills.

Pyorrhea begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the poisonous germs that breed in pockets about them.

Four out of five people over forty have this disease. But you need not have it. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection. And keep Pyorrhea away by using Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For The Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy, the teeth white and clean. If you have tender or bleeding gums, start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

35c and 60c tubes in Canada and U. S. If your druggist cannot supply you send to us direct and we will mail tube postpaid.

PETERBORO CITIZENS WHO ARE SUNNING THEMSELVES IN FLORIDA

CANADIANS PLAN FOR A WINTER'S REST AFTER FOUR YEARS TERRIFIC STRAIN DURING THE WAR.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 12.—Extreme cold prevailing throughout the north has been the result of thousands of northerners flocking into St. Petersburg and the rest of Florida, breaking all previous standing records for the number of tourists registering and at other resorts in the State. The heavy rush of tourist travel from the northern States Canada has resulted in through sleepers being added to all south bound trains out of New York, Washington, Detroit, Cincinnati and Chicago, for the ::Sunshine City." There are more Canadians winering here than ever before, including a large number from Peterborough.

Recent arrivals from Peterborough are Miss Pearl Burnham, Mrs. Edgar Burnham, Mrs. Staples, Miss Clara Seattie, Mrs. Pardee B. Wright and Mary Elizabeth Wright. Reservations have been made here for eight other Peterborough tourists who are due here on or before February 1. Practically half of the 300 Canadians in the city are from Toronto.

Mrs. Pardee B. Wright's father, who was spending the winter at St. Petersburg, passed away on Saturday. The body will be brought to Peterborough in the spring.

Much has been done here for the entertainment of the tourists this season, including free band concerts, which are given twice daily by the Royal Scottish Highlanders, who made such a great hit with the Canadians last season. The 'Kilties" opened their fifteenth week engagement here Sunday, January 11.

The game of lawn bowling, introduced here by Canadian visitors last season, has taken a great hold with the States' visitors and many new courts have been laid out as a result for the use of the tourists. There are also courts for horse shoe pitching, another old sport that has taken a strong hold with the older tourists. Other games enjoyed by the tourists are tennis, roque, checkers, chess, golfing, boating, motoring, target shooting and game shooting. Fishing is excellent this season, many large catches being reported.

Much literature descriptive of St. Petersburg and its surroundings, is being mailed into Canada by the Board of Trade here at the request of writers. This is another indication that Canadians are planning a winter rest after four years of terrific strain during the world war.

Sport clothes and summer dresses such as will be worn back north during the coming spring and summer months are much in evidence along the boulevrads and recreation pier here. The sport coats are of brilliant hues and are very attractive this season. Usually plain white silk or satin dresses are worn. There seems to be somewhat of a return to the pleated skirt. It is not known yet whether it will become as popular as it was twenty years ago.

The Canadians spending the season in the "Sunshine City," have formed into a social organization and have planned many unique picnics and excursions. One will be held this month under the towering palm trees at Passe-a-Grille island, where luncheons will be served, a decided contrast to conditions existing at this time back in the cold north.

St. Petersburg is prepared to care for 60,000 visitors this season. There are 15,000 here now. Many new hotels and apartment houses have been constructed, while others are under way.

RECOUNT A TIE

and from the top of the paper to the bottom. Mr. Hatton had argued that they should be allowed for Mr. McIntyre.

"I am forced to the conclusion that the men who marked these ballots didn't intend to vote for either candidate. I decided that they were properly so decided by the returning officer."

That left the total vote at 1473 for McIntyre and 1475 for Taylor, but there were eighteen ballots all properly marked but unitialed, eight for Taylor and ten for McIntyre.

"One half of them were in one polling subdivision", Judge Huycke said. "The returning officers should be very careful especially this man it he ever undertakes that responsibility again. There were five in another booth and the rest were distributed among other polls. This is a serious matter because it was argued that these ballots should not be counted at all."

No Evidence of Fraud.

His Honour referred to precedents citing the Lennox case and that of Queen's County N. S. decided at Ottawa in favour of the candidate who is now Sir Louis Davies of the Supreme Court. In those cases uninitialed ballots were allowed on the ground that there was no evidence of fraud, and Jugde Huycke said that in this case he could not find that there was any wilful fraud or misconduct. There was nothing to indicate that the returning officers who overlooked this detail had set themselves out to deprive the candidates of their votes.

"I do not see my way clear to disfranchise these eighteen electors, and there is no evidence of intent or that anything was done wilfully. Accordingly I have allowed them all. This brings the vote to a tie with 1483 for each candidate. I regret that it puts my firend Mr. Armstrong in an unpleasant position, but I am glad he has to do it instead of myself."

Judge Huycke decided not to make an order as to costs of the action, "because I have a great deal of sympathy for both men," he smiled.

City Clerk's Decision.

However, distasteful the casting of the deciding ballot may have been to City Clerk Armstrong he didn't delay in the performance, and it is probably not a breach of confidence to add that his statement with a few emendations necessitated by the recount had been prepared on New Year's night when the returns had indicated a tie which he would have had to settle on January 2nd and when he counted the returns as reported by the polling officials.

Mr. Armstrong's vote was given with the following explanation:—

"The two candidates for the office of Mayor having an equal number of votes it becomes my duty, under The Municipal Act, to give a vote for one of the candidates, so as to decide the election.

"This is a duty that a municipal clerk does not often have to perform The last time that it occurred in Peterborough, was I believe, about forty years ago, for the office of Councillor. In that case the Clerk voted for the oldest Councillor, or one who had held the position before This custom, of giving the casting vote for the one who had been longest in the Council, or who had held the position previously, has been followed in Ontario and in England. The latest case that I recall was in London, Ontario, where there was a tie for the Mayoralty a couple of years ago. There, as here the tie was upon a recount, and the City Clerk referred to this custom and voted in accordance with it.

In fact this custom has become a well defined and established one, which I must go against or follow. I follow it and vote for Mr. A. A. McIntyre, who is the older member of the Council by several years, and declare him elected Mayor."

Mr. Taylor Congratulates.

Ex-Ald. Taylor immediately crossed the room and shaking hands with Mayor McIntyre who had thus displaced him said: "I must congratulate Mayor McIntyre on winning out. I'm sure he will make good with the support of the Council and if I can give him any help I'll be glad to do so."

"We had a good clean fight anyway," the blushing Mayor replied, as he thanked Mr. Taylor and acknowledged the congratulations of Judge Huycke, Mr. Hall and Mr. Hatton.

"I thank you all for the fair and square way you have taken in this case", he said; "I'm not quite myself I've been under a strain this morning but I thank you all."

ONE GREAT ESSENTIAL TO A WOMAN'S HEALTH IS HER NERVES

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy as the day is long, instead of being sick and wretched. But how can any woman be healthy and happy when the whole nervous system is unstrung. The trouble is they pay more attention to their social and household duties than they do to their health. Is it any wonder then that they become irritable and nervous, have hot flushes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells, become weak and nervous, and everything in life becomes dark and gloomy.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the very remedy that nervous, tired-out, weary women need to restore them to the blessings of good health.

Mrs. P. H. Ryan, Sand Point, N.S., writes:—"I have been a great sufferer from nerve troubles. I was so weak and nervous I could not sleep at night and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without trembling. I had hot flushes and fainting spells. When I was on second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I began to feel better and kept on until I had used six boxes when I felt like a different person. I am never without them in the home and recommend them to all who suffer with their nerva."

FUNERAL OF LATE CLIFFORD SOWDEN

The funeral of Clifford Sowden, who passed away on 7th January, 1920, took place on 9th Janury from the family residence, 111 Gladstone Avenue. After a short service at the house, the body was conveyed to St. George's Church, Braidwood Avenue, where the deceased had spent much of his time as a member of the choir and Sunday School. The pallbearers were his chums and associates: H. Rew, L. Cunningam, Carl Smith, A. Rundle, H. Troop, and W. Lesurf, followed by the members of the Juvenile Lodge of the Sons of England, of which deceased was a valued member.

The services at the house, church, and graveside were conducted by Rev. James Price. At the church many availed themselves of the opportunity of paying their last respects to one whom they held so dear; and never before had the church held so many people for such an occasion.

At the conclusion of the service, the organist, Miss Beatrice Blake, played the Dead March in "Saul," during which the congregation remained standing as a last tribute to the memory of one who will never be forgotten. After the service the cortege left for the Little Lake Cemetery.

The late Clifford Sowden, although still only in his teens, was an indefatigable worker in the church, being a teacher in the Sunday School and a most faithful member of the choir and other societies. He will be remembered by a host of friends as a most ambitious and energetic boy, who was admired by all who knew him for his bright and sunny disposition and kindy regard for those with whom he came in contact.

The floral tributes were zbeautiful, and comprised, among others: Wreaths from the Sunday School, Sons of England and Sons of England Juvenjles; from the Wire Department of the Canadian General Electric Co., where Mr. Sowden, Sr., is employed; a star and anchor from the members of the choir, from the Ladies' Aid of St. George's Church; together with many other floral tributes from friends.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS TRY BITRO-PHOSPHATE

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals, it is a well-known fact that the lack of phosphorous in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition.

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorous may now be met by the use of Bitro-Phosphate, which can be obtained from any good druggist in convenient tablet form.

In many instances the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue soon produces a welcome change—nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy and the whole body loses its ugly hollows and abrupt angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing.

CAUTION:— White Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT.

"FORWARD MOVEMENT" INNOVATION AT KNOX CHURCH.

The Week of Prayer at Knox Church, during the week just closed, was the means of much good and of drawing many of the congregation together for the services. The various organisations of the church took part, and showed what a help they can be to the pastor of this or any congregation in his ministrations.

Carpet Bowling and Becoming Acquainted.

A carpet bowling tournament was inaugurated in connection with the Movement last week, and at the close of the meetings the men repaired to the Lecture Hall, and there threw the bowls to the "Kitty" with much vim and interest. Through this novel means, the men—and the women, too—became acquainted with each other, and thus added to their friendships.

The result of the tournament was decided on Friday evening last, when the prizes were distributed to the successful players, whose names follow:

Finals—

Tom Smith, Mr. Croft, H. Morrison, and Adam Gillespie (skip).

Consolation—

Runners-Up—

John Bradbury, Gordon Ego, Bill Smith, and Andrew McKenzie (skip).

The thanks of the committee and players are due Ald. Morrison and the Oddfellows for kindly loaning the carpet bowls.

The Lecture Room of Knox Church will be open for carpet bowling tonight (Monday) and on Thursday evening, from 8 o'clock.

It's difficult to find a man who is willing to hold a ladder while you climb to success.

The Revival took hold upon the Sunday School, and the attendance was the largest in eight years. The loving and enthusiastic response of the entire Sunday School to the pastor's challenge "The Sunday School for Christ" resulted in 96 pupils coming out and signing the following pledge.

DRINK MORE WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat and take Salts for Backache or Bladder trouble.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder sickness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

SMITH TOWNSHIP COUPLE CELEBRATE 25TH ANNIVERSARY

BRIDESMAID AND GROOMSMAN WERE PRESENT.

On Friday evening, Jan. 9th, the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McGregor were assembled at their home on con. 4, Smith township, to celebrate with them their silver wedding.

An interesting feature of the celebration was the presence of Mrs. B. W. Manning, Peterborough, and Mr. George Edminson, Smith township, the bridesmaid and groomsman of twenty-five years ago. One of the novelties of the bountiful repast which was served, was Lombard plums, which had been preserved by Mrs. McGregor when a bride. The toast to the bride and groom, which was proposed by Mr. T. H. Graham, was ably responded to by Mr. McGregor, who expressed in a few well chosen words their pleasure in having so many of their friends with them, and also their sorrow that there were so many who they would have liked to have had, who were unable to be present. Mr. and Mrs McGregor were both surprised and pleased with the beautiful and useful gifts which were presented to them during the evening.

After spending a very pleasant evening the guests departed, wishing Mr. and Mrs. McGreogr every happiness for the future.

PROFESSOR A. J. JOHNSTONE PREACHED STIRRING MESSAGE AT TRINITY CHURCH

THE FORTY-EIGHTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE CHURCH WAS OBSERVED YESTERDAY—THE MORNING SERVICE.

The forty-eighth anniversary of Trinity Methodist church was observed yesterday when the congregation had the pleasure of hearing Professor A. J. Johnstone, B.A., of Victoria University, at both services.

Trinity church, from its inception in 1872, to the present day, has had a steady growth. In 1884 it became an independent congregation, and in 1914 the old Charlotte street church had outlived its usefulness and the present Trinity church was begun. It was opened in 1916, so that the fourth anniversary of the opening of the new church was also observed.

Pastor Spoke.

Rev. F. E. Malott, the pastor, spoke briefly of the advance Trinity had made and how it had prospered and grown during the last four years. "We are honored to-day to have with us Rev. Johnstone of Victoria University," said Rev. Malott.

Rev. Malott spoke briefly on the anniversary offering which the congregation were asked to give in order to cover an overdraft which existed due to the increased cost of maintenance over last year. "The income of the church must be increased and we know you will come forward as liberally as you have in the past," said the pastor.

After the reading of the morning psalm, Messrs. Park, Fleming, Downey and Skitch, in a male quartette, sang "Remember Me."

Morning Text.

Rev. Johnstone's text was from John, 10, 10th verse, "I am come that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly"

This is a most important verse to all followers of Christ, said Rev. Johnstone. The speaker dwelt on the great turmoil and trouble in the world at the present time and how religion was needed. During the last of the [illegible] ing men of all countries have accepted Jesus Christ and his message. That he had some great message to give to the world is generally conceived, and evidence of it is abundant. Christ's spirit is everywhere. What an impoverished world this would be if all the high ideals and thoughts built up by the followers of Christ through years of service were taken away. We must understand why Jesus came amongst us. How profound and marvellously clear he was. Some men get credit for profundity and depth, but are really not thinkers at all. But not so with Jesus.

Time Element.

Rev. Johnstone referred to the time element. How some of us considered time everything. It would only be to prolong life's miseries if we lived for a long time, said the minister. The more adding of years to years is not the boon. Christ said the boon is here now. The boon is for you. It is a present blessing that Jesus pictured for men, not a future.

Now I think we can begin to understand what it is to know God. We only know God when we appropriate Him and apply Him and His principles. When we come to know God, what kind of a being is He? There is one outstanding thing and that is that He gives Himself and His power to us. We are to apply His principles and take God to us. We are to reproduce Him in our lives and to do this we must take Him to us and study the Bible and His teachings. We only know God when His spirit comes over us and then only can we reproduce Him.

Rev. Johnstone told of how, in the great Chicago theatre fire in 1907, a business man escaped from the burning building. The next day a friend congratulated him on his escape. "Do not congratulate me," he said, "for I left all I had in that building. He had trampled down innocent women and children in his mad rush to escape.

Unselfish Life.

This is life eternal to know Thee, the only true God. To put oneself side by side with the great unselfish God, that is life. To-day comes the call of the Cross, said Rev. Johnstone, and this really means the Forward Movement. It is either Christ or chaos. Canada is more fortunate than some countries, but chaos is everywhere. Rev. Johnstone spoke of the men's dissatisfaction over their jobs, how they hated to go to work. "There is no joy nor inspiration in their lives." Think of it, man against man, nation against nation. What is the solution? It is neither time for science, culture, politics or anything else, but is a time for a spiritual awakening. The time is ripe for the forces who believe in Christ to try Him out. There has never been such an opportunity to present the life that is in Christ as at the present time.

Young Men.

This is life eternal. "We are out to write the name of Christ across the very heavens, out to take the principles and life of Jesus and put them alongside of every man."

Rev. Johnstone dwelt on the need for young men to preach the Gospel and said that they were looking for five thousand young men to volunteer for Christ. In conclusion Rev. Johnstone said: "The Forward Movement will make for a purer, more righteous and better world."

Special music was given by the choir under the leadership of the organist and choirmaster, Mr. George H. King, and Mrs. King, soloist.

CAPTAIN ADAMS WAS TAKEN BY SURPRISE

IMPROVEMENT SO REMARKABLE AFTER TAKING TANLAC HE HARDLY KNOWS HIMSELF.

"For one whole year before I took Tanlac there was hardly a day that I didn't have a severe headache, and hardly a night that I got over an hour or two of sleep," said S. S. Adams when he called at the Owl Drug Store in Vancouver, B.C. Mr. Adams served as captain in the English Army, and at the time he made this statement he was registered at the St. Frances Hotel, 600 Cordova West, Vancouver. Mr. Adams further stated that he would leave for the Orient in a few days to accept a managing position with an English Farm in Japan.

"For the past year," continued Mr. Adams, "I had gastritis in its very worst form, and gas would press against my heart and make it palpitate so bad that I would get dizzy, and sometimes while I was eating I would get to feeling so dizzy that I would have to get up and leave the table without finishing. My appetite was almost completely gone, and even the smell of food would sometimes turn my stomach, and I had to be extremely careful about what I ate or as not to suffer from gas. My nerves were shattered, and the least little noise out of the ordinary would upset me completely.

"I tried medicine after medicine, but nothing would do me any good, and I was about to give up trying to find anything else when my attention was called to a testimonial in the paper about Tanlac. I decided to try it, and I want to say right here that it took me by surprise, and that it is simply remarkable how I have been restored to health. I have a splendid appetite, and no matter what or how much I eat, I never suffer from stomach trouble in any form. My nerves are quiet and steady, and I can sleep all night long. I am not troubled with headaches or dizzy spells any longer, and I feel so different in every way that I hardly know myself. I am leaving for the Orient in a few days, and before I go I feel that it is my duty to make this statement and let the people know that Tanlac is a great thing, and that it will do every bit of what they say it will."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. H. Ware Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowlers Corner by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

TRAVEL RESTRICTED TO WESTERN PROVINCE.

(Special to Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., January 12. — The head of the Provincial Health Board has notified the railways not to allow passengers to enter the province from Ontario unless successful vaccination certificate issued within the past seven years, is produced.

There are three cases of small pox here and more are suspected.

THE FUTURE PETERBORO.

The Committee on Civic Education and Council of the Board of Trade have arranged for special Thursday evening meetings to begin January 13th at 8 o'clock, in the Council room of the Board's chambers, to discuss City Development. Each Thursday evening is to be set aside for such discussions.

The main purpose of these addresses is to take up the major activities that will influence the future Peterborough; it is to bring forward and define specific objects that can be attained by co-operative work among the members of the Board and the people generally. The Board realizes, as the City's general [illegible] needs civic education and that it is "up to it" to point out and lead the essential activities of the city.

The discussions will be opened by Dr. Ernest V. Frederick, who travelled 50,000 miles as a medical officer with the British Forces in the British Orient, covering the entire period of the war. Aside from his medical and military duties Dr. Frederick made a Special study of trade and industry, from the British viewpoint, and his address on "Oriental Traffics and Discoveries" will bear upon the British East and the commercial opportunities of the nations composing the great Empire.

The following Thursday, the 22nd, will begin the discussion of topics of more direct local significance about industry, merchandising, employment and civic government. The addresses will not merely be entertaining, they will be pertinent, suggestive and stimulating to practical co-operation in making Peterborough grow.

George A. Gillespie, President of Peterborough Milk Products Limited, will present a studied and practical address on the development of industries within and by Peterborough. Mr. Gillespie's institution is itself one of Peterborough's fast growing and distinctive industries, which has developed a large export and domestic trade. It offers an excellent illustration of what can be done in the economic adaptation of industry by Peterborough men: Mr. Gillespie will doubtless apply his own experience in suggestive lines of industrial enterprise for Peterborough.

On this occasion William M. Pretty, C. E., of the Trent Canal Engineering Staff, will speak for a half hour upon the "Political Economy of Power" as affecting industrial and civic development. Mr. Pretty is eminently qualified to give the Board and the city something to think about —with a definite objective. His paper will be illustrated graphically.

On Thursday evening, 29th January, the mission of the Ontario Safety League will be explained by its executive chief, Mr. R. B. Morley of Toronto. It is likely that one of the motion picture theatres will be used by the Board to show several reels, illustrating accidents and injuries directly traceable to lack of thought and foresight which are becoming too common in this city's life. The Board desires the public's interest in these things and will probably arrange to enlist their interest in its efforts to make Peterborough distinctive in its development.

Their meetings are with one or two exceptions to be addressed by members of the Board and are open only to members and their invited guests.

The secret of success lies in doing well what you can do and cutting out what you cannot.

The Plague of Pimples

Body Covered With Them

The primary cause of pimples exists from the blood not being in good condition. When the blood becomes impure you will find that pimples will break out all over the body, but more particularly on the forehead, nose and chin, and although they are not dangerous trouble they are very unsightly. What you need when pimples or boils break out is a real good blood purifying medicine such as Burdock Blood Bitters.

This preparation has been on the market for over 40 years and is the most reliable remedy for all troubles arising from a bad condition of the blood. It removes all the impurities from the system and will leave a clear, healthy skin.

Mr. Emerson G. Goodwin, Cambridge, N.B., writes: "For nearly two years I suffered from boils and pimples on my face and neck, and nearly all of my body was covered with the pimples. I tried most everything, but got no relief. One day a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after using three bottles the pimples and boils had all left me and there is no sign of them returning. I can strongly recommend B.B.B. to anyone who is troubled with skin disease.

Voice Of The People

To the Editor of the Examiner,

Dear Sir,—Just a few lines in regard to the latest advance in the price of bread throughout this fair city of ours; which we are trying to make a greater Peterboro by helping along the great buy-at-home campaign.

We certainly have some splendid industries here and as the making of flour and food stuffs is not the least important among them I would like very much to know why bread is selling two cents a loaf higher here than in some of the Lake shore towns? The Bakers have given as their excuses for the present raise that it is in keeping with the recent advance in wheat which of course is quite a reasonable one but is not the advance in wheat general throughout the country or is it confined to Peterboro alone?

We read in our evening papers that Canadian money is not passable on trains running to the U.S.A. and it is beginning to look as though it will soon be down to the same level here as far as purchasing power is concerned in obtaining one of the chief necessities of life.

Thanking you Mr. Editor, if you decide to give this letter space in your people's column.

I beg to remain,
Respectfully yours,
F. McB.

13 SUPERSTITION DEFIED.

LONDON, Eng.—R. W. Bowers, founder of the London Thirteen Club, has just died. A remarkable dinner was held by the club on January 13, 1894. It was held in Room 13, there were 13 tables and 13 guests sat at each. Salt was spilt, ladders were walked under, and looking-glasses were smashed, but nothing untoward has ever been recorded of any of the participants.

MRS. SANFORD'S MESSAGE TO WORKING WOMEN

Laurel, Miss. — "Eight years ago I was suffering with pains and weakness caused by a female trouble. I had headaches, dizzy and faint spells, and was unable to do my work; pains in my sides. [illegible] Vegetable Compound was recommended to me and I took twenty bottles of it, and my health has been good ever since. I am able to run the machine and do dressmaking besides my housework. You are at liberty to publish my letter if it will help some poor suffering woman." —Mrs. J. C. Sanford, 1207 Second Ave., Laurel, Miss.

Thousands of women drag along from day to day in just such a miserable condition as was Mrs. Sanford, or suffering from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, nervousness, or "the blues," [illegible]

Such women should profit by Mrs. Sanford's experience and try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and find relief from their sufferings as she did.

New One Born Every Minute

Mail Order Man Need Not Worry About Keeping His Old Customers

His Field Not Restricted

Local Merchant, on Other Hand, Must Give Good Values and Service in Order to Hold His Trade

It has been said that there is a sucker born every minute. If this be true, there are 1,440 potential customers of the mail-order houses ushered into the world every 24 hours and the number reaches a total of 525,600 every year.

Of course, as Mark Twain remarked regarding reports of his death, these figures may be exaggerated, but they serve to illustrate the fact that the mail-order houses of the big cities always have new fields to exploit and are not hampered in their dealings by the necessity of pleasing all their old customers. If the mail-order buyer discovers that he has been "stung" and registers a vigorous kick, it means nothing in the young life of the mail-order man. Why should he worry as long as there are some 99,999,999 other persons in the United States to whom he may make his alluring appeals.

Ever Get Money Back?

Did anyone ever hear of a mail order house refunding a customer's money if the customer was not satisfied with his purchasing? Don't all speak at once, please. The big mail order houses in the cities expect to receive a large number of complaints from their customers. They know that much of the goods which they sell will not come up to the expectations of the buyers, whose ideas as to what they will receive have been formulated from the pretty pictures and alluring descrpitions given in the catalogues.

The mail order houses prepare for this contingency by maintaining large corps of clerks whose sole duty it is to answer the letters of irate customers. These clerks, or correspondents, as they are called, exercise all their powers of cajolery in an effort to appease the complaining customers, but if this is found to be impossible, after an exchange of letters the mail order man has no cause for worry. His living is not dependent upon the customer to whom he has already sold goods. "There are as good fish in the sea as have ever been caught" and he turns his attention toward the landing of the new fish.

Local Merchants Field Limited.

Compare the position of the mail order man with that of the retail merchant in the small city or town. The retail merchant has a certain limited territory from which he must draw his trade. All his business must be done day after day and year after year among the same people. The buyers to whom he can appeal for business number only a few thousand at the most and in some cases a few hundred. Unless he can make his customers his friends and bring them back to his store again, he cannot continue in business. The result is that he looks beyond the single sale which he may be making at the time. It is to his interest to please every one of his customers. It will profit him nothing to make a big profit off a customer on one sale if that customer is not satisfied with his purchase and refuses to come back to his store again.

From which man can the buyer expect to get the best value, the best service and the best prices in proportion to the quality of the goods sold? From the man who must please him and give him his money's worth in order to remain in business or from the man who figures that he may never hear from the buyer again and that it will make no great difference whether he pleases him or not?

Gets It While He Can.

The idea upon which the mail order man works is to get the money while the getting is good. If the customer is satisfied with the goods which he receives, all well and good. The mail order man knows that the customer is the kind of a man or woman who likes to take a chance or he wouldn't have sent in his order in the first place. Therefore he may figure that the customer is likely to take a second chance even if the first does not turn out to his liking. If the customer has enough spirit to make a kick, the trained correspondents in charge of the complaint department may be able to pacify him. If they are not, it doesn't matter much anyway, for there are millions of others who may be caught with the same bait—there is one born every minute, you know.

It is well for the consumer to remember these facts if he is ever tempted to take a chance on the offerings of the mail order house. The home merchant has something at stake in every sale that he makes. The mail order man has nothing at stake. The home merchant has everything at stake on the manner in which he treats his customers for he cannot get others to take their places. The mail order man has nothing at stake for it is to his interest to get all that he can out of each sale, knowing that he may never have another chance at that particular customer.

Which is the safest man to do business with?

LINDSAY CAN TIE UP THE GROUP BY WINNING HERE

The big game of the present season looks like the battle on Friday night when the Lindsay team will meet the Petes here in an Intermediate O. H. A. game, the result of which will have a big effect upon the group race.

The Lindsay team will be right at the heels of the Petes. They beat Cobourg on the other night, will undoubtedly repeat the dose in Lindsay to-night, and by winning here on Friday can tie up the group.

And don't let anyone make you believe that they haven't a chance to win in Peterborough. True, the green shirts beat them in Lindsay last Wednesday, but it was only by the smallest possible margin and after a gruelling battle that the Petes grabbed off the decision.

And if a certain youth named Murray had not given a super-clever display of goal-keeping, the verdict would have gone the other way.

The Lindsay gang have speed and experience, and playing on Brock Street Rink is not a new stunt to any of the squad.

The Petes will have to be at their best to beat them here, and Friday night's game will be a struggle from gong to gong which no hockey fan can afford to miss.

BOTH TEAMS TO PRACTICE TO-NIGHT

All intermediates O.H.A. players are requested to be at Brock Street rink for practice to-night at 7 o'clock

The Junior team is also asked to be out and ready to go on the ice at 7 o'clock. Both teams have important games this week and there should be no absentees.

CITY LEAGUE GAMES ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The City League double-headers this week will be on Wednesday night and two interesting battles may be expected.

The Belmont Club and the Business College clash in the 7.30 o'clock fixture while the two winners of last week the C.G.E. Tool Room and Canadian Woollens will meet in the second game which promises to be a hummer from start to finish.

ENORMOUS CROWDS AT CUP FIXTURES

CHELSEA DEFEATED BOLTON IN ONLY CLASH OF FIRST CLUBS.

LONDON, Jan. 12—The first round of the English Cup was staged throughout England on Saturday, and despite the snow and heavy rain in some localities, large crowds were the order.

A night of weirdness made many of the grounds regular quagmires, and at West Stanley, Lincoln, Darlington, and Sunderland the grounds were unplayable.

As was to be expected, the two Manchester clubs came through with nice wins. Liverpool got a draw at South Shields, and Birmingham had no trouble in putting Everton out.

Wolverhampton holding Blackburn to a draw was somewhat of a surprise, but Bury upheld the predictors by trouncing Stoke soundly.

The results:

English Cup—First Round.

Chelsea 1—Bolton 0.
Newcastle 2—Crystal Palace 0.
Sheffield U. 3—Southend 0.

LONDON, Jan. 12. — The games north of the Tweed were played on Saturday in playable weather. There were a few surprises in the matter of draws—Ayr United with Motherwell. Celtic and Morton, and Hearts and Third Lanark all going no higher than 1-1. Aberdeen were badly beaten by Dumbarton to the tune of 4-0. The games, otherwise, were closely contested, judging by the low scores.

The results were as follow:

SCOTTISH LEAGUE.

Ayl United 0—Motherwell 0.
Celtic 1—Morton 1.
Dumbarton 4—Aberdeen 0.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 12. — Most of the leading issues were higher at the stock market opening here to-day.

U. S. Steel opened at 107 up 1-4; Central Leather at 98 1-8 up 1-8; U.S. Rubber 134, up 3-4; Southern Pacific, at 102 off 1-4; U. R. Stores 93½ off ¼; Cuba Cane at 52 3-4 up ½, A.T. and T., at 79 off 1-4; Studebaker at 109, up 1-2; International Paper at 83, up 1-4; Baldwin at 120 3-4 up 1-2; Transcontinental at 31 3-4 up 1-4; Texas Co. at 217, up 1; and Republic Steel at 118, up 1 1-2.

Traders who went short of market just before Saturday's close on a report of a revolution in Germany, found it difficult to cover their contracts at the opening to-day.

Prices broke badly in the first half hour. Professionals seized upon Saturday's poor clearing house statement as a pretext for a general drive. American Woollen broke six points to 137; U. S. Rubber 4 to 130 1-2, and Republic 1 1-2 to 116 5-8; Steel Common held well. At its low of 106 1-4 it sold at Saturday's closing figure. Pan-American dropped 4 to 97, and Mexican Petroleum 8 to 201.

After a period of heavy selling in early trading, prices were steadier and showed some tendency towards recovery at the start of the second hour. Worthington Pump gained 3 to 92 1-8. Under the leadership of Baldwin, Equipments enjoyed a fair rally from early lows.

"WOLVES OF THE NIGHT," POWERFUL DRAMA

William Farnum followers — and their name is legion—are happy over another opportunity to see the "strong man of the films" in a new photo-play, "Wolves of the Night," shown for the first time to-day at the Allen Theatre.

As a mining engineer unable to locate copper on his holdings, he turns the land into a sheep ranch. After marrying he leaves for Chile—as the result of a plot—to investigate copper mines for his rivals. After being away from home for five years—most of the time his mind is a blank as the result of an explosion—he returns to find his wife married to one of the conspirators whose land has been taken over by the plotters, and is now in theqngo htmar fodaw rfthtm now one of the big bonanzas.

The sequel makes "Wolves of the Night" a great picture.

FAIR AND WARMER

Within six weeks after the spectacular first night of "Fair and Warmer" at the Harris Theatre in New York, Avery Hopwood's newest piece was known for a record-breaking success, with illimitable power to make all kinds of people laugh, and demands for it began to roll into the offices of Spaeth & Company, its sponsors. Its appearance at the Grand on Wednesday, 21st January, is in answer to this demand.

The New York reviewers, on the night of its first appearance, used up all their adjectives in praise of its hilarity. Later they called on their verbal stores for praise of its continuance, month after month, to absolutely capacity houses. Still later, they marshalled their vocabularies to say that "Fair and Warmer" had become a classic of farce as "Within the Law" had been of melodrama. Its success did actually and literally make a record. It will be presented here by an excellent cast of farceurs.

FIDDLERS THREE

"Fiddlers Three," a musical comedy or more politely termed an operetta, in two acts, with book and lyrics by William Cary Duncan and music by Alexander Johnstone, will begin an engagement at the Grand on Wednesday, 14th January.

It is another rare treat which John Cort has provided for theatregoers this season as a vehicle for the talents of Tavie Belge, the Belgian prima donna, who before the Huns overran her country, was for six years one of the stars of the Royal Opera House at Antwerp, and a cast of brilliant players, thoroughly well versed in music and in the art of comedy. The plot is novel and carried through with more continuity than the average librettist seems to deem necessary. It is in brief a story of the story of the competition of violin making in Cremona. The book is exceptionally bright, full of humour that depends on the lines for its appeal, and not on slapstick stuff, and is entirely up-to-date. The music is delightful; some is lilting and catchy, other numbers are more pretentious, and while light opera in every sense music lovers and those who look to the lighter form of entertainment for their amusement, will find it well worth their while.

VILLAGE BURIED BY AN AVALANCHE

(Canadian Press.)

BERNE, Jan. 12.— Porrachia village, in the Italian Alps, has been buried by an avalanche, and many persons are reported killed. Five children were killed at midnight in their home which was buried by an avalanche near Galtauer in the Vorarlberg mountain. The remainder of the family, although injured, was rescued by the neighbors. Heavy snow storms in the Alps have blocked railroads and highways, many villages being isolated.

DEPOSIT FIXED

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 13.—With the opening on Saturday of the period during which Germany must pay her debts to the Allies, it is announced that the Commission on Reparation must fix the amount due by Germany before May 1, 1921. In the meantime the Commission will see that Germany carries out her obligations. Until the amount of reparation payments has been fixed, Germany will have to deposit 20,000,000,000 marks in gold, or its equivalent in material, ships, securities and coal.

APPEAL TO CANADA.

Canadian Press:

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.—Canada is invited to join in giving relief to the starving millions of Central Europe, particularly Austria. The British Government invites Canada along two lines: First, with a view of immediate relief, Canada to send a cargo of wheat or flour; secondly, with a view to placing assistance more on a permanent basis, Canada, with the United States, co-operate in a scheme of credits. Both requests are now under consideration by the Cabinet. No doubt the Dominion Government will co-operate with Great Britain to the fullest extent of her power. The Dominion Government appeals to the Canadian people to assist with private subscriptions.

WHY THE FOREMAN CLAMOURS

AND WHY HIS PLEA FOR "EARLY COPY" IS IN YOUR INTEREST.

Our foreman is always clamoring [illegible] Advertiser.

The difference is that he, better than anyone else, knows what it means in his business. And as his business is to help your business through ads that have the sparkle of good display—well, you can see where your interest comes in.

The foreman with his helpers do their best to turn every piece of ad-copy into a money-puller, as far as type will do it.

Right here in the composing-room time is money— the kind of money good advertising pulls.

First, the foreman explains, the copy has to get the twice-over. Some body with an eye for turning manuscript into type must "lay it out." Which is printer's language for marking the styles and sizes of display type, estimating the body text, figuring the space that each section of the ad should have to play up its main points and still fit the space you've allowed for it.

Then, if the ad has several sections, it must be cut up and divided among compositors. Display lines are set up in type that matches their style of beauty. Body text goes to other men.

Meanwhile, if it is to have border or cuts, the assembler places these, either in the "form" or on a big brass "galley". As the different parts of the ad come to him in type he puts them together. Maybe, if the copy was hastily written and hard to estimate, changes have to be made in type sizes.

When it is all assembled and spaced for good display, a proof is taken. This and the original copy go to the proofreader.

It is up to him to correct all errors of composition. No casual customer ever studied an ad closer than does the proofreader.

From him the proof goes back to the copy desk for corrections. If there are many of these, still another proof is drawn and read.

Moreover, the foreman studies it to make sure that the whole effect is good—that it balances well and has the "punch". Sometimes, if there's time, he marks a whole section of it to be reset or respaced.

Not till he is satisfied with every item in this process does he give the ad his O.K. Not till then can it represent you and your business the way you want to be represented.

And every ad that comes into the office gets this attention—IF you give the foreman the necessary time to do good work.

HUNGARIAN PEACE TREATY.

Canadian Press:

PARIS, Jan. 13.—Serious consideration was given by the Supreme Council this morning to the plan for the appointment of a Committee of Ambassadors to complete details for presentation and signing of the Hungarian Peace Treaty and to carry through other unfinished business of the Peace Conference. The decision, however, was left to the heads of the Governments of the principal Powers. The necessity for the return home of Italian and British members of the Council was advanced as the reason that another organization should be created. It is thought that the Premiers now taking part in the conferences here will approve of the idea of creating a Committee of Ambassadors, as many questions likely to arise in future in connection with the execution of various peace treaties will be diplomatic questions as well as peace problems.

He returned shortly afterwards to London.

THE DECISION WILL BE GIVEN WEDNESDAY

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The Government to-day decided not to make known to the railwaymen until to-morrow its decision with regard to the men's wage demands, just developed in the recent conferences, after the men's representatives had rejected the Government's original proposals.

Sir Eric Geddes, Minister of Transport, saw a delegation of the men to-day, and informed them of the postponement.

Meanwhile the Minister is submitting the question to the full Cabinet for its decision. He returned last night from Paris, together with Sir Robert Horne, Minister of Labour, where the conferences were held with Premier Lloyd-George over the situation.

RANEY FAILS TO SECURE A SEAT

THE NEW ATTORNEY-GENERAL MAY HAVE TO RESIGN.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.—The Ottawa Morning Journal prints the following story this morning:

"That Hon. W. E. Raney will resign from the Drury Government as Attorney-General is the information from an authoritative source which has been given to the Journal. It is stated that his resignation will be announced by Premier Drury this week. The retirement of Mr. Raney from the Farmers' government is due to the inability to find a seat for him. It has been apparent for some time that there was difficulty securing him a riding and evidently the committee in charge has found that none of the elected United Farmers or Labor candidates were prepared to make the necessary sacrifice to give the new Ottorney-General a seat in the Cabinet.

NARROW ESCAPE LAST EVENING

DR. PULKINGHORN AND SHOCK CHARLOTTE STREET GATES.

Last night, in the blinding storm at twelve o'clock, Dr. J. F. Pulkinghorn had a narrow escape from serious injury, or possibly death, when in coming down the Grand Trunk tracks he was prevented from hearing an engine coming down the Grand Trunk tracks and unable to see the lowering gates. Fortunately, however, the south-west gate had been sufficiently lowered to impede his progress before he struck the track upon which the engine was approaching within a few feet of the crossing. The injury was confined to the complete destruction of the gate and minor injuries to the automobile. Last evening's accident was the second of the kind within ten days, Dr. M. McClelland having smashed the gate in identically the same manner last week.

INSTALLATION OF W.O.W. OFFICERS

MR. D. CINNAMON, OF LINDSAY, GAVE AN ADDRESS.

The first regular meeting of the Woodmen of the World for 1920, at which the annual installation of officers took place, was held last night in their rooms. The meeting was well attended and the programme well carried out, and the success of the first meeting augurs well for the success that will be met by the Woodmen of the World in 1920.

The new officers, who were installed by Past Council Commander Cinnamon of Lindsay, were:

P.C.C.—E. Lebarr.
C. C.—A. Graham.
Adv. Lieut.—Wm. Dummitt
Clerk—A A. Haskill.
Banker—E. Ivey.
Escort—A. Murray.
Watchman—Carroll Graham.
Sentry—W. J. Gowers.
Managers —W. H. Telford, C. S. Cummer, W. Timms.
Camp Physician—Dr. J. A. Morgan.
Helegate to H.C.—A. Graham.

After the installation of officers very instructive addresses were given by Past C. C. D. Cinnamon, of Lindsay and District Organzer J. W. Plowman, of Toronto.

Brother Cinnamon said that he was proud of the Peterborough Camp, which had stood fourth in the province in the amount of insurance written up during 1919. He dwelt on the great success they had met with during the past year, and said that more insurance had been written up during the year than in any other year in their history.

The district organizer, J. W. Plowman, who has been in the work for 20 years, spoke on many matters pertaining to the organization, and congratulated the members on the showing made in 1919 and urged them to make even a better one this year and to lead the province.

During the evening nine new applications for membership were taken in by Brother Plowman.

At the conclusion of the business of the evening a sumptuous banquet was given by the ladies, which was heartily enjoyed by all present.

INVOKE RUSSIAN CONSUL'S AID IN BEHALF OF BAHRI

RUSSIAN PRIEST WHO ADMINISTERED LAST RITES TO THE CONDEMNED PRISONERS REINFORCES APPEAL FOR REPRIEVE FROM MR. GORDON AND MR. ESSERY.

ALL SET AT THE JAIL

With the time set for the execution of Tom Konek and Michael Bahri scarcely twenty-four hours distant, their counsel, Mr. B. W. Essery, of Toronto, and Mr. G. N. Gordon, sent two long telegrams to Ottawa in a final application for a reprieve. Their appeals were reinforced by a telegram to the Russian Consul at Ottawa, invoking his aid upon the request of the Rev. J. Sechinsky, archpriest of the Russian Orthodox Church, Toronto, whose petition specified Bahri for clemency.

Mr. Gordon told The Examiner today he had little hope for success in this last effort to secure a stay of execution.

"It's like grasping at a straw," Mr. Gordon said, "and we cannot entertain much hope at this late date, but there is the possibility that something might be done, and Mr. Essery and myself felt that we owed it to our clients to use every means in their behalf. The Minister of Justice might consider further statements and evidence upon which we asked for the stay of the execution of these two prisoners."

Administered Sacraments.

Rev. Mr. Sechinsky visited Konek and Bahri at the jail yesterday and administered the last confession and communion of the Russian Church. He was with them again this morning and on both occasions was accompanied by the Rev. Canon Davidson, who has given much attention and care to the condemned men. Rev. Canon Davidson was appointed to represent Rev. Sechinsky to-morrow, and will be with the men in their last moments, if the application to Ottawa fails.

A Russian Holy Day.

When Chief Justice Mulock pronounced the sentence of death upon the five prisoners, and named the day of execution, he asked whether 14th January had any special significance in the Russian calendar, stating that he wished to avoid a holiday or holy day.

It has now turned out that to-morrow is the Russian New Year's Day and Feast of the Epinhany, as observed in the Russian Church. For that reason Rev. Mr. Sechinsky has to be present in Toronto to-morrow for the celebration of the Feast Day of his congregation. He therefore requested Rev. Canon Davidson to attend the two condemned men in the morning.

Believes Bahri Innocent

To The Examiner this morning, Rev. Mr. Sechinsky declared his belief in the innocence of Bahri, as far as the murder charge was concerned. So impressed was he after his first interview with the prisoners, that he immediately telegraphed to the Russian Consul at Ottawa to intercede on behalf of Bahri with the Department of Justice.

Visited by Counsel.

This morning Mr. Gordon and Mr. Essery visited Bahri and Konek in their cells.

"I was shocked by the appearance of both men and by the change they have undergone since I last saw them before going to Ottawa," Mr. Gordon said. "They have wasted away, and I am told that of late they have taken very little food."

Konek this morning broke down, and became hysterical while we were talking to him. He had shown a wonderful nerve up to the present, but he was a broken man this morning, and had apparently given way to despair. After making his confession and receiving the last communion of his Church, his spirit was shaken, and to us this morning he made a full statement.

Incriminates Zaluski

Konek told us that Bahri had nothing to do with plotting the expedition to Havelock. He declared that Bahri thought they were all going there to get work, until they neared Peterboro when the plot to rob the Bulgarian quarrymen was unfolded. According to his statement to-day he says Zaluski was the chief conspirator.

Rev. Father Sechinsky, the Russian priest, Mr. Essery, the guards and jailer Ray were present at this interview. I had dreaded meeting the men in the very shadow of the scaffold, and was distresse by the broken condition of Konek. Bahri on the other hand showed more composure than heretofore. We were with them about half an hour.

Their cells are on the ground floor on the north side of the corridor. They are separated by a number of cells, Bahri in fact being at one end of the corridor and Konek at the other. The cells are little narrow rooms hardly more than three feet wide. There is a table and chair in them, but no windows. The light en-

THE APPEAL COURT UPHOLDS DECISION

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 13.—Socialistic literature was rightfully admitted as evidence in R. B. Russels case by Justice Metcalfe against the objection of the defence that it had no connection with conspiracy charge, according to opinions expressed to-day by Chief Justice Perdue and Justice Fullerton, of the Court of Appeal during the argument to the contrary by Robert Cassidy, counsel for Russell. They declared such literature tended to show the intention of Russell and therefore was revalent to the case.

ONE BIG UNION MAY GET CONTROL

COBALT MINING INDUSTRY FACES A NEW DIFFICULTY.

Special to Examiner.

COBALT, Jan. 13. — Towards the latter part of January the miners of Cobalt, Kirkland Lake and Gowgan will meet to decide the future policy of the Miners' Union organization in the north in so far as these three districts are concerned.

As one of the leading officers of the Cobalt union put it there is the lamentable proposal that a decision will be reached to throw their lot in with the One Big Union.

For some time the One Big Union has tried hard to get a foothold in the mining camps of the north. Radicals of this ilk did get control in the Kirkland Lake Union, with disastrous results to the union and the mining industry of that area, the mines being closed down for a considerable time.

In the other unions the propagandists of the One Big Union did win over some followers but the saner and more conservative elements predominated.

Of late, however, there has been a decided change. The One Big Union Organization has been working unceasingly. They have already a union established here, having sent their organizer from among the lumbermen at Sudbury. He got hold of some of the Finlanders and through them was able to get practically all the Finlanders in the camp to join the One Big Union branch.

NEW ASSOCIATION FOR THE MERCHANTS

MERCHANTS ARE ASKED TO LOOK INTO THE MATTER.

The attention of the executive committee of the Mercantile Association was called this morning to an effort which is evidently being made to organise in Peterborough a merchants' or business protective association.

A circular announcing the new organisation is said to have been received by many of the merchants of the city with the name of a prominent and highly respected barrister conspicuously printed upon it.

It is learned that this gentleman knows nothing about the actual standing of the promoter or promoters of the enterprise. The idea evidently is to establish a new collection agency at ten dollars per membership.

The main purpose of organising the Mercantile Association is to keep such collection agencies out of Peterborough, and concentrate within the merchants themselves, through their own association, every activity that bears upon the protection and development of trade in Peterborough.

A Great Calamity

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR CLARKE DOES NOT WANT TO SEE POSITION ABOLISHED.

ADDRESS LAST NIGHT

TORONTO, Jan. 13.— "I can imagine no greater calamity to Toronto and the Province than to close Government House," said Lieutenant-Governor Lionel H. Clarke at the Rotarians' gathering at the King Edward last night. He added later that he accepted the position of Lieutenant-Governor because he thought it would be worth while to make Government House perform the task for which it was designed. His Honor was wildly applauded for his frank declaration, many of his audience remembering the agitation among U.F.O. members for the abolition of Government House.

"I do not want the position of Lieutenant-Governor unless I can use it for the functions for which it was created. And no man can keep the position unless he has a chance to perform the functions for which the position was designed," he added.

The Task Worth While.

Referring to the unrest of the times de declared, "I do not think any of you can appreciate what unrest is seething underneath. We saw it during six weeks' turmoil in Winnipeg. And there is nothing which would please the Soviets or the Red Bolshevists more than to abolish Government House and the office of the Lieutenant-Governor and all those things which our Canadians hold dear.

"You are sufficiently acquainted with me to know that I did not take the position through social or political ambition, but it was because we, as a family, appreciated what all this agitation meant. I took the position because I thought it would be worth while to make Government House perform the task for which it was designed." He referred to the splendid work of Sir John Hendrie in office, accomplished under the difficulties of war time, and said the great crowds which gathered at Government House on New Year's Day could not have been accommodated in any smaller place.

LAKEFIELD CEMETERY TRUSTEES INCREASE THE SCALE OF PRICES

LAKEFIELD NEWS OF INTEREST—SPECIAL SERVICES IN THE CHURCHES—THE MEMORIAL HALL—CURLING NEWS.

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 13.—A meeting of the Trustees of the Lakefield Cemetery was held on Tuesday of last week. Those present were Mr. H. C. Garbutt (chairman), Messrs. B. FitzGerald, A. R. FitzGerald, John Fairbairn, T. T. Milburn, and J. H. Sherin. The committee in charge of the building of the vault and chapel reported that it had been completed with the exception of the painting, and that Mr. J. Bottrell's bill for carpenter work amounted to $504.97, and the caretaker's bill for foundation and cement work, $165.38. On motion, the payments of the above accounts was ordered.

The Caretaker was ordered to collect all charges for opening graves or using vault at the time of burial.

The charges for grave digging were as follows: $5 for ordinary graves, $6 for a large, $3 for use of vault; children's graves, the charge to according to the size and the time for receiving pay for ent caretaking at the old rates, e per lot or $17.50 per half lot, was extended to the annual meeting on the first Monday in April. The investment of $1,200 cemetery funds in Victory Loan Bonds was confirmed.

It was decided to raise the price of burial lotes as follows: Half lots $20, quarter lots $15, and that only a half lot be sold to any one person. A notice of motion was given that at the next annual meeting, a motion would be introduced that lot owners who have not been looking after their lots or paying caretaking charges for twelve years, that steps be taken to have the lots revert back to the Trustees so that the same be re-sold to cover the expenses of upkeep.

Sunday Services.

On Sunday evening Rev. E. Macaulay gave a five-minute address on the Forward Movement. He had been a delegate to the Conference held in Peterborough last week in the interests of the Anglican Forward Movement, and found that the other places in the district were well organized and were ready to play an important part in the great campaign, but Lakefield is not organized at all. In order that we may get into line at once, a layman's meeting has been called for Wednesday evening, to the held in the School-room. As all Canada is linked up in the great movement, Lakefield does not want to remain outside. In the great war Lakefield did magnificently in giving men, money and service, and in the Victory Loan campaigns we have held our places with the best, and surely in this great hour we will not fall back.

About one-tenth part of the men of the Church were present at the service, and their part is to secure the other nine-tenth for Wednesday's meeting, so that we can organize at once.

Rev. Canon Davidson spoke on the great Forward Movement also, which is near and dear to the heart of every Christian worker. He explained briefly why we needed so much extra money, because Britain has turned over to us their work among the Indians and Eskimos in the Far North. This is our job anyway, and we should certainly be glad to assume it. It will leave the Church of the Motherland free to carry on greater work in the foreign field.

Our men who responded so readily to the country's call should be just as willing to answer the call of God through the Church. These men who have returned have had great experiences in their absence from their own land; some experiences were degrading, but in the greater part they were elevating. Mark the comradeship and the sacrifice, the brotherhood of the soldiers. The Forward Movement is linking up all the Christian bodies in a united effort to help the Church play her part in these troublous times in which we are living. The Church of England has her part to play, probably the greatest of all. In our young people's associations we play a prominent part in the social life of our communities, greater perhaps than others because of the lack of restrictions on amusements. This means that we play an important part in the national life of our country. Every man has his part in the Forward Movement, as it is essentially a matter of the laymen. The time is past when the clergyman should do it all; the laity have a big place to fill. All these young men can be of great assistance; they can enlist their comrades also. Lakefield has been greatly privileged to have as Rector Dr. Archbold, who is most energetic and a great asset to the Church. He and his splendid wife have been well-known to the speaker for years, and it is a great satisfaction to have them so near.

Memorial Hall.

Mr. F. J. Moore has learned that there exists some misapprehension on the minds of the people about his attitude in the building operations of the new Town Hall, and wishes to vindicate his position.

Before and during the recent election a number of stories were circulated, among which was one that Mr. Moore had made a bogus sale of his mill to his son in order that they might get the Town Hall contracts. The sale was absolutely bona fide, and Mr. Moore has no interest in the planing mill. Two letters appeared in last week's "News," urging an investigation into the cost, etc., of the Memorial Hall. Mr. Moore puts himself on record as in favour that a public meeting be called and the investigation be made fully. The records will show that Mr. Moore, with the other members of the Council, accepted Mr. Lillecrap's tender for the lumber, but as Mr. Lillecrap could not furnish the lumber as called for in the contract, it was cancelled and the contract awarded to Mr. Norman A. Moore, the next lowest tender, by the rest of the Council, Mr. Moore being out of town at the time. This matter can easily be proved by referring to the records.

RETURNED MEN SEEKING WORK

(Special to The Examiner.)

HAMILTON, Jan. 13.—According to the records of the local branch of the Ontario Labor Bureau there are 646 returned soldiers in this city seeking work. The Bureau had a good week in the matter of placements, securing jobs for 87 persons, of whom 76 were returned men.

FROM A CHILD WAS CONSTIPATED

According to the best medical authorities, fully three fourths of the people of the civilized world suffer in some form from costiveness or irregular action of the bowels. There is no doubt that many distressing diseases are caused by constipation. It gives rise to sick and bilious headaches, jaundice, heartburn, floating specks before the eyes, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness and the painful, troublesome piles. Therefore it is of supreme importance to health that the bowels be kept regular. Simple food, fruit, etc., should be used and rich food and stimulants of all kinds avoided. This with the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills to regulate and establish healthy action of the bowels cannot fail to give permanent relief in the most obstinate cases.

Mrs. Letitia Wainman, Orillia, Ont., writes: "From a child I was always very badly constipated and I can well remember when quite young my mother giving me senna tea nearly every morning and I got to dread it. After taking Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for a while I am not troubled with constipation any more."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

She Kept Her Locks Dark and Glossy, with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

Both of them are haggard looking. Their faces bear every line and mark of utter dejection. There is little possibility of intercourse between the two men."

Telegraphed for Bahri's Father

Mr. Gordon said that he had telegraphed to the Chief of Police of Montreal ot tell Bahri's father to come ot Peterboro. He is an alien and has been required to register and visit the police at regular intervals.

Mr. Gordon said he had received no reply from the father and didn't know whether he would be here or not. The old man had come from Sudbury during the trial and was present during the latter part of the proceedings.

Everything Ready.

Everything is ready at the jail for the execution of the two Russians early to-morrow morning. The scaffold has been raised. It is the old one used ten years ago when Henderson was hanged. Even the graves have been dug in the jail yard, the Examiner was told, the coroner has been notified to have a jury empanelled and ready, and a load of lime of sinister significance was unloaded in the jail yard this morning.

GIRL A PRISONER NEARLY 15 YEARS

MANHATTAN CHILD KEPT IN ROOM ALL HER LIFE UNABLE TO READ.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Kept a prisoner in her own home in the heart of Manhattan practically all of the fifteen years of her life, a girl was discovered in a bedroom at No. 101 Third Avenue, by the Children's Society. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Seres. Harriet can neither read nor write, and she is unable to stand alone. She is now a patient at Bellevue Hospital. The father is a laborer in the employ of the city.

Justice Levy in the children's court after hearing the facts, said it was the most unusual case that had come before him.

"Can you add and substract?" the justice asked.

The child lost her smile. She looked at him with lack-lustre eyes and shook her head. She did not know what he was talking about.

"What is the biggest word you know?" he next asked.

"Is that all you know?"

"Yes, that's all of it."

"Will you spell house for us?"

"C—a—t, cat; d—o—g, dog; r—a—t, rat; f—a—t, fat," said the little girl. And when she finished she had rehearsed the extent of her learning.

Thomas A. Burns, an agent for the Children's Society, told of finding the girl in the Third Avenue room. She was clad in a petticoat, bedroom slippers, and a dressing gown. She was inexpressibly unclean.

The agent said he had gone to the Seres home on account of the child's aunt. Harriet's mother, Burns testified, acted queerly. No attempt was made, he said, to conceal the fact that the girl had been held a prisoner in one room all her life.

George Seres said he had married the girl's mother 16 years ago. Their first baby, a girl, died in infancy, he said. Since that time he admitted his wife had been "kind of queer and nervous."

EXCAVATION FOR BRIDGE PIER WAS STOPPED YESTERDAY

Excavation for the eastern pier of the main arch of the Hunter street bridge was stopped yesterday afternoon by the contractor, Mr. Townsend, pending further instruction from the engineer, Mr .Frank Barber. Ald. Hamilton told the Council last night that the work was now below the level at which the Engineer had expected to strike bed rock, and recent soundings showed a soft material which the contratcor was afraid would come in on him.

"It seems we've got to go further and much farther east. There may even be the difficulty of getting bottom at all there. However, we can do nothing until Mr. Barber comes down."

The Engineer will be asked for an inventory of materials that may be needed for the rest of the work. Ald. Hamilton said it might as well be bought early. "Everything's going up and we shouldn't wait for higher prices."

Press For Post Office.

Ald. Phelan reminded Mayor McIntyre of his election promise to urge the Government to build the new Post Office and Customs House that had been promised to Peterborough. The Mayor replied that he would attend to this item of business as soon as possible.

"It will help provide work in the spring," said Ald. Gainey.

SUIT OVER "MIRACLE MAN."

George Loane Tucker Wants $40,000 and Name in Large Type.

NEW YORK.—George Loane Tucker, who directed the film "The Miracle Man," has field suit in the Supreme Court here against the Mayflower Photoplay Corporation, which produced the film, and the Famous Players-Lasky Company, which released it, for an injunction restraining them from breaking an agreement whereby his name was to appear on all advertising in type as large as that of the film and three times as large as the name of the producer. He also asks that the defendants be restrained from completing the film "Ladies Must Live," on which he was working at the time relations between him and the defendants were broken.

Mr. Tucker alleges that "The Miracle Man" earned $538,891 up to Nov. 29 last, and that of this sum $304,061 has been paid to the Mayflower Corporation, and his share is 15 per cent. on the first $100,000 gross and 20 per cent. on all in excess. He alleges that he has received only $12,500, and that $40,000 is due. He alleges that the Famous Players exploited the film in such a way as to give the benefit of the publicity to the Famous Players and its subsidiary, Paramount-Arteraft.

UNITED FARMERS HEARD MR. POWERS

GREATER PRODUCTION WAS URGED BY THE SPEAKER.

Last night at a meeting of the United Farmers of Peterborough, Mr. A. A. Powers, President of the United Farmers' Co-operative Company of Ontario, gave an address. Mr. Powers' home is at Orono, in Durham County, and he showed in his address that he had a good grasp, not only on farm matters and all matters pertaining to farm life, but on all public questions of the day.

Mr. Powers' address centred on "Rural Economics." Mr. Powers dwelt on the necessity of greater production to save the country from bankruptcy, and said that the farmers should organize with that end in view. "We desire no class favors," said Mr. Powers. "What we desire is the removal of the cleavage between city and country." The speaker produced figures to show the decline in rural population and pointed out that there were vacant houses on every concession, but that in the urban sections the government was forced to give housing grants.

The speaker stated that the policy of the Council of Agriculture, which is a federation made up of representatives of the different provincial organisations, advocates more direct and less indirect taxation, which he believed would be the cause of agreement between the manufacturing and agricultural interests. "If our Federal government had the moral courage to tax unearned values in the same way as the British government had taxed them, the indirect taxation that is driving people from the farms, could be wiped out." Mr. Powers gave figures to show that we had a vast unearned increment in the northwest in the hands of speculators.

Mr. Powers freely expressed a desire to have all classes unite to put the country on a better economic basis, and repudiated any desire on the part of the farmers for class legislation, stating that, on the other hand, the farmers' movement had grown out of the desire to get away from class legislation.

A NEW EPIDEMIC.

Special to the Examiner:

TORONTO, Jan. 13.—"That is all rot" was the way Mr. Gordon Bell, chairman of the Manitoba Board of Health, characterised the report from Winnipeg, that he had said that an epidemic of hiccoughs soon would sweep the Continent. "What I said in my address before the Sanitary Inspectors' Association at Winnipeg was that we had an epidemic of hiccoughs in Manitoba coincident with the sleeping sickness epidemic," he said today. "I further said that I believed the hiccoughs was a mild form of the sleeping sickness. In Winnipeg we had about eighty cases of persistent hiccoughs, lasting from forty-eight hours to five days, but the epidemic is dying out now."

Alkali in Soap Bad for the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Voice Of The People

Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—I am writing this article in haste, hoping that at this, the eleventh hour, something can be done for the condemned man, Michael Bahri. After reading in The Examiner last evening of his pitiful condition, I could not feel the least concern for Tom Kowek, as he is seemingly unfeeling and indifferent about his crime, but to petition for the disannulment of the death sentence for Michael Bahri is laid on my heart. For two reasons I present this earnest petition. The first reason is the love of God shed abroad in my heart for all who suffer. That love which first came to birth by having received from an offended God conscious pardon for sin, that pardon may, I say it here, did more for me than any just punishment could have possibly done. It revealed to me the true character of my God, that God is Love, and as love begets love it bound my heart to him as nothing else could do. This, as I have mentioned once before in these columns, is the power of the cross, the love that is there revealed of the heart of the Father. There is no power on earth or heaven greater than this, and if this power is unavailing to save from sin, there is no other way. My second reason for writing this is: I am a mother. I have two boys of my own on the verge of young manhood. I have no time to say more.—Yours truly,

Mrs. A. B.

AFRICAN SULTAN HAS PASSION FOR CLOCKS

MANY OF THE TIME-PIECES HAVE CEASED TO GO.

The passion for clocks and other mechanical contrivances is common to all unmechanical races, and every chief's palace in North Africa contains a collection of timepieces which might be called striking if so many had not ceased to go. Those in the Sultan's harem at Rabat are remarkable for the fact that while designed on current European models, they were proportioned in size to the imperial dignity, so a Dutch grandfather clock became a wardrobe, and the box clock of the European mantel a cupboard that had to set on the floor. At the end of this avenue of timepieces, an European double bed with a bright silk quilt covered with Nottingham lace, stood majestically on a carpeted platform.

But for the enchanting glimpses of sea and plain through the lattice of the gallery the apartment of the Sultan's ladies fell far below the Occidental ideas of elegance. The room itself was commonplace. On a gaudy modern Rabat carpet stood gilt armchairs of florid design and a table bearing a commercial bronze of the "art goods" variety. Divans with muslin covered cushions were arranged against the walls.

The Sultan's favorites among the ladies were apricot-tinted girls in their 'teens, round-faced, but with high cheek bones.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

TUESDAY, JANUARY 13TH, 1919.

MR. ARMSTRONG PUTS.

The duty that fell upon City Clerk Armstrong yesterday of having as returning officer to cast the vote that decided the tie between ex-Ald. McIntyre and ex-Ald. Taylor in the Mayoralty race and that made the former Mayor of Peterboro for 1920 was not a pleasant one. Mr. Armstrong would willingly have delegated the responsibility to some one else if that course had been feasible. The duty had to be faced however and Mr. Armstrong guided by the precedent and custom that had been established in previous cases of the same kind, not only in Canada but in the old country, determined to cast his vote for the candidate who had been longest in the council—so that his choice fell upon Mr. McIntyre. The result of course is adisappointment to ex-Ald. Taylor and those who supported him but they must feel that in taking the action he did the City Clerk had no other course if he wished to follow the example of many other returning officers in similar situations.

THE MILITIA RE-ORGANIZATION.

The order from Ottawa in regard to the re-organization of the Canadian militia is so vague in its tone that military officers are more or less at a loss to understand just what it signifies. For instance no indication is given as to what policy is to be followed in the naming of the units of the militia. The question as to whether the war record of Canada's fighting battalions overseas are to be perpetuated by the establishment of militia units bearing their number at home or whether on the other hand the old names of the militia are to be retained is not answered by the Ottawa statement, is the disbandment of the militia units as set forth in the general order to be permanent and in their place to be taken by battalions representing the overseas units? These questions are not satisfactorily answered by the Ottawa pronouncement and until a more detailed statement is given out there will be no definite answer. It is evident, however, that there is to be a complete cleaning of the slate and every militia unit is to be disbanded in order that re-organization can be commenced on a business-like basis, commanding officers are to be men who have seen overseas service and are to prepare new slates of officers, preferably of men who have seen active service—a feature that will be endorsed generally.

An explanation of the new order will be awaited with considerable interest.

STREET RAILWAY EXTENSION.

Citizens will undoubtedly agree with Mayor McIntyre's remarks at the inaugural meeting of the City Council in regard to street railway extensions in Peterboro. In pressing upon the Hydro-Electric Commission for an extended service the Council may rest assured that they will have the backing of the people generally. There are several sections of Peterboro in which street railway service is badly needed and applications to the Commission have so far been fruitless, however, the campaign should be continued until the Commission has been prodded into activity. As Mayor McIntyre pointed out in his address to the Council the Commission may urge that the consideration of extensions to the street railway system be left over until the power situation in the district is definitely dealt with, this of course is an important matter and one that will have to be seriously considered but the Mayor is quite right in his declaration that the cnsideration of the power question should not require the people of Peterboro to have to wait for necessary extensions to the street railway. There is no reason why the citizens should be inconvenienced by an inadequate system because the larger subject of the power supply for the district is under discussion. Mayor McIntyre can do much to make his term in the Chief Magistrate's chair memorable by seeing that the street railway is kept before the Council and through that body before the Hydro-Electric Commission. It is a subject in which the Council can expect the hearty support and co-operation of the Board of Trade, the Trades and Labor Council and other local bodies.

ENCOURAGING CLEAN SPORT.

A news despatch from Belleville announces a new and commendable feature in amateur sport in that city, the offering of two valuable prizes to be awarded to the two players of the Belleville intermediate O.H.A. team who in the opinion of a committee of representative citizen are "the cleanest, most sportsmanlike players on the team" during the season. It is an innovation that cannot be too enthusiastically acclaimed or too generally copied. In our sports Canadians have in recent years been inclined to wander away from the British traditions of sportsmanship and veer to the spirit of win-at-all-costs. Rough players in various lines of sport have rather been encouraged than condemned; the man who has an inclination to "mix it" in a mockey game is stimulated by the support of a section of the crowd at least, it is refreshing to read of the Belleville plan because it is a recognition of the fact that it is the game and not the result that really counts. The young man who can go through a strenuous game of hockey or lacrosse, keeping a tight rein on his temper, taking the jars and the jolts of the contest with unruffled mein and scorning to take an unfair advantage of an opponent is the real gainer. He emerges from the conflict, whatever may be the result of the game, a victor, the other player who does not hesitate to violate the rules of sportsmanship and fair play may win the temporary acclaim of the thoughtless among the spectators but he loses not only the respect of the fair-minded but depreciates his own character as well. That the clean player is in the long run the most valuable to his team is another feature that should not be lost sight of and the memory of the older fan will go out to such gallant spirits and noble gentlemen as the late Capt. George Richardson of Kingston than whom hockey never had a cleaner or more gentlemanly exponent, who played the game not only with consumate skill but as a man, and who in the greater game of war to which so many of Canada's athletes unhesitatingly offered themselves, carried on as he had in the ranks of his beloved homeland until a German machine gun bullet put an end to a career that was full of promise.

Belleville's awards for clean playing should be a stimulus to athletes every where as a tangibe evidence that sportsmanship is still appreciated by the majority of followers of athletic games.

CUTTING ELECTION EXPENSES.

One feature of the annual municipal elections which rarely comes to the notice of the public is the cost of these events. As the city is at present divided, this makes up a quite considerable item. There are twenty-five polling stations to be provided, for which the sum of $5 each is paid, making a total of $125. Then there must be twenty-five deputy returning officers at $7 each, twenty-five polling clerks at $3 each and twenty-five constables at $2 each, making a total outlay of $300 for this item. Forms and posters have to be prepared for twenty-five sub-divisions, and twenty-five separate books of ballot papers have to be printed, according to the number of sub-divisions in each ward. This printing all costs a large amount of money, so that the total cost of a municipal election to the ratepayers of the city cannot, at the most conservative estimate, be less than $700. This may not seem a very large sum of money for a municipality to spend, but when it is considered that there are many calls upon the civic purse, then every cent counts, just as it does in a private business.

This expense bill can easily be reduced to about one-third of its present amount by a change in the methods of holding elections in Kingston. In a city of this size, where there are not many long distances between polling stations, there is really no need for twenty-five sub-divisions, with a separate polling booth for each. In the majority of wards, a walk of a few minutes would take the electors to a central point at which all the voting in that ward could be done. In short, there is really no need for more than one polling station for each ward. That would eliminate eighteen polling clerks and eighteen polling constables, by having only one of each, located in a central place, for each ward. This alone would effect a saving of $216 on each election day.

Another item of expense which could be easily eliminated is the cost of hiring private property for one day to be used as a polling station. In some cases at the last election, property owners were paid $5 for the use of a coal shed at the back of their premises, with no outlay for heat or lighting. Why could not the polling take place, as it does in the elections in Great Britain, in the public schools, which are public property, and which could be used without a cent of cost to the electors? This item would mean a saving of $125 to the ratepayers. The question of distance is not one to be considered. The children have to walk the distance to school on every school day of the year, and it is surely not too much to ask their parents to walk that distance to record their votes on election day. The election is held during the school vacation, so that it would not be necessary to give the children an extra school holiday for that purpose.

Elimination of eighteen of the polling stations would also reduce the printing expenses considerably, for only seven sets of the necessary forms would be required, instead of twenty-five. This would also, to a certain extent, lessen the cost of an election. Another point worthy of notice is that it would be far easier to secure seven competent deputy returning officers than to secure twenty-five men capable of handling that position. The city clerk yearly has trouble with men who are not "on to their job," and by having to chose only seven he would be enabled to pick out the men who are most competent. The suggestion of having only one central polling station in each ward, then, has much to recommend it. Besides the saving in expense to the city, the candidates would also be glad of such a change, for it would enable them to concentrate on one polling booth, instead of having to spread their organizations over four, five or six. This is a matter with which the new city council might very profitably deal, in order to save a little money which might be spent in some more needy manner than in paying election bills which might be cut almost in three. We leave this suggestion with them in the hope that they will think it one worth taking up for their consideration.—Kingston Whig.

FIVE ACTIONS HE WAS HANDLING PASS TO MR. STRICKLAND.

As soon as Ald. Gordon became a member of the Council "bang went saxpence" to use an expression from a Scotch story, that may be appropriated on the strength of his affffiliation with the Caledonian Club. Because of his new connection with the Council Ald. Gordon has had to sacrifice litigation against the city which he had pending. Last night he notified the Council that five cases that had been begun by Gordon and O'Brien were now being handled by Mr. J. F. Strickland. The five plaintiffs in the actions against the city were Messrs. O'Brien, Laplante, Draffin, Dainton and Hiscox.
